<sup>13</sup>For this reason we also thank God without ceasing, because when you received the word of God which you heard from us, you welcomed it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which also effectively works in you who believe. <sup>14</sup>For you, brethren, became imitators of the churches of God which are in Judea in Christ Jesus. For you also suffered the same things from your own countrymen, just as they did from the Judeans, <sup>15</sup>who killed both the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they do not please God and are contrary to all men, <sup>16</sup>forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved, so as always to fill up the measure of their sins; but wrath has come upon them to the uttermost.

Longing to See Them

<sup>17</sup>But we, brethren, having been taken away from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavored more eagerly to see your face with great desire. <sup>18</sup>Therefore we wanted to come to you—even I, Paul, time and again—but Satan hindered us. <sup>19</sup>For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Is it not even you in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at His coming? <sup>20</sup>For you are our glory and joy.

Good News from Thessalonica

From Thessalonica the missionaries had gone to Berea (Acts 17:10–15). Silas and Timothy stayed there, while Paul went on to Athens. Anxious because of the severe persecution the Christians faced at Thessalonica, he asked Timothy to return to that city and encourage them (1 Thess. 3:2). Paul went on to Corinth, where Timothy later joined him with news of the faith and courage of the Thessalonians (Acts 18:1, 5).

How the missionary loved his converts! After such deep anxiety over them, their standing “fast in the Lord” (1 Thess. 3:8) gave him a new lease on life. Yet the faith of the Thessalonians still lacked full instruction because Paul’s stay with them had been cut short, so now he wrote, providing the needed instruction (4:1—5:24).

• 1 Thessalonians 3:1—5:28

Geography & Environment

Thessalonica (1 Thess. 1:1) was located about 200 miles north of Athens, on the main road leading from Rome to Byzantium (that is, Istanbul). As the capital of the province of Macedonia, the city had been Pompey’s headquarters during the civil war that he lost to Julius Caesar. It was a prosperous trading city, as well as the home of Paul’s coworkers, Aristarchus and Secundus (Acts 20:4).

ALONE IN THE CITY OF PHILOSOPHERS (1 THESS. 3:1)

In A.D. 50 Paul sent Timothy to minister in Thessalonica while he remained alone in Athens (1 Thess. 3:1–3). Paul was confronted by what was considered the city with the greatest academic tradition of the region. Here Paul met various philosophers (Acts 17:18). Here he met Athenians who spent much time discussing and debating “some new thing” (Acts 17:21). The city’s intellectual life had a long history prior to Paul’s visit.

The Greek city-state of Athens was composed of the city of Athens proper, along with the entire peninsula of Attica, more than 1,000 square miles. By the 7th century B.C. the Attic peninsula was unified under the control of Athens, and the Athenian monarchy had been replaced with a ruling class aristocracy.

All philosophy did not originate in the region; however, Athens did become the center of Greek philosophy in the 4th century B.C. Socrates (469–399 B.C.), Plato (428–347 B.C.), and Aristotle (384–322 B.C.) all made their greatest contributions while residing in Athens. During the Hellenistic period (beginning around 332 B.C.) Athens continued to house some of the most important philosophical schools in the Mediterranean world, including representatives of the Stoics, Cynics, Skeptics, and Epicureans.

Athens finally became subject to Rome in the early part of the 1st century B.C. Although Athenians lost their international political autonomy, the Romans were content to allow them local political rule. Roman senators sent their sons to study in Athens, which continued its preeminence in the field of philosophy and culture on into the 1st century A.D. In Paul’s time, discussions of philosophical matters flourished in the agora (or marketplace), and there certain Athenian philosophers discovered Paul and his “new doctrine” (Acts 17:17–19).

Concern for Their Faith

3:1 Therefore, when we could no longer endure it, we thought it good to be left in Athens alone, <sup>2</sup>and sent Timothy, our brother and minister of God, and our fellow laborer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you and encourage you concerning your faith, <sup>3</sup>that no one should be shaken by these afflictions; for you yourselves know that we are appointed to this. <sup>4</sup>For, in fact, we told you before when we were with you that we would suffer tribulation, just as it happened, and you know. <sup>5</sup>For this reason, when I could no longer endure it, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter had tempted you, and our labor might be in vain.

Encouraged by Timothy

<sup>6</sup>But now that Timothy has come to us from you, and brought us good news of your faith and love, and that you always have good remembrance of us, greatly desiring to see us, as we also to see you— <sup>7</sup>therefore, brethren, in all our affliction and distress we were comforted concerning you by your faith. <sup>8</sup>For now we live, if you stand fast in the Lord.

<sup>9</sup>For what thanks can we render to God for you, for all the joy with which we rejoice for your sake before our God, <sup>10</sup>night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face and perfect what is lacking in your faith?

Prayer for the Church

<sup>11</sup>Now may our God and Father Himself, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way to you. <sup>12</sup>And may the Lord make you increase and abound in love to one another and to all, just as we do to you, <sup>13</sup>so that He may establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all His saints.

Plea for Purity

4 <sup>1</sup>Finally then, brethren, we urge and exhort in the Lord Jesus that you should abound more and more, just as you received from us how you ought to walk and to please God; <sup>2</sup>for you know what commandments we gave you through the Lord Jesus.

<sup>3</sup>For this is the will of God, your sanctification: that you should abstain from sexual immorality; <sup>4</sup>that each of you should know how to possess his own vessel in sanctification and honor, <sup>5</sup>not in passion of lust, like the Gentiles who do not know God; <sup>6</sup>that no one should take advantage of and defraud his brother in this matter, because the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also forewarned you and testified. <sup>7</sup>For God did not call us to uncleanness, but in holiness. <sup>8</sup>Therefore he who rejects this does not reject man, but God, who has also given<sup>a</sup> us His Holy Spirit.

PICTURES OF THE END TIME (1 THESS. 4:16)

The “voice of an archangel” and the “trumpet of God” (1 Thess. 4:16) emphasize the divine authority behind Paul’s description of Jesus’ return. The images and pictures Paul uses for the end time overlap with those of other Jews of his time, though he omits most elements found in contemporary Jewish descriptions. What Paul does describe especially matches Jesus’ picture of the end time (trumpet, clouds, angels, times and seasons, sudden destruction).

Jewish readers familiar with the Old Testament recognized the importance of trumpets for gathering the assembly, sometimes to battle. Gentile readers probably knew the Roman use of trumpets to gather troops or to send signals in battle. Most relevant, Jewish tradition, as emphasized in a daily synagogue prayer, portrayed the gathering of Israel in the end time as accompanied by the sounding of a trumpet.

The highest archangel, according to Jewish tradition, was Michael (Dan. 10:13), who was also the special patron for Israel. Each nation had a guardian angel, but Michael was especially powerful, as the guardian of God’s chosen people. Jewish traditions sometimes gave Michael special prominence in the final battle, though, for Paul, Jesus fulfilled this function Himself (1 Thess. 4:16).

The “shout,” conjoined with the trumpet, may picture the battle cry offered by a commander. The Old Testament sometimes portrays God as a divine warrior, occasionally mentioning His battle cry (Is. 42:13).

Jesus’ teaching about the end time (Matt. 24) is probably the background for Paul’s own teaching, which he claimed was by “the word of the Lord” (1 Thess. 4:15). As Jesus described the coming Son of Man, He applied to Himself a variety of end-time descriptions that the Old Testament and Judaism normally reserved only for God (Matt. 24:30, 31). Similarly, Paul applies these same descriptions to the coming Christ.

A Brotherly and Orderly Life

<sup>9</sup>But concerning brotherly love you have no need that I should write to you, for you yourselves are taught by God to love one another; <sup>10</sup>and indeed you do so toward all the brethren who are in all Macedonia. But we urge you, brethren, that you increase more and more; <sup>11</sup>that you also aspire to lead a quiet life, to mind your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you, <sup>12</sup>that you may walk properly toward those who are outside, and that you may lack nothing.

The Comfort of Christ’s Coming

<sup>13</sup>But I do not want you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning those who have fallen asleep, lest you sorrow as others who have no hope. <sup>14</sup>For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so God will bring with Him those who sleep in Jesus.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>15</sup>For this we say to you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive and remain until the coming of the Lord will by no means precede those who are asleep. <sup>16</sup>For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first. <sup>17</sup>Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And thus we shall always be with the Lord. <sup>18</sup>Therefore comfort one another with these words.

The Day of the Lord

5 <sup>1</sup>But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, you have no need that I should write to you. <sup>2</sup>For you yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so comes as a thief in the night. <sup>3</sup>For when they say, “Peace and safety!” then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman. And they shall not escape. <sup>4</sup>But you, brethren, are not in darkness, so that this Day should overtake you as a thief. <sup>5</sup>You are all sons of light and sons of the day. We are not of the night nor of darkness. <sup>6</sup>Therefore let us not sleep, as others do, but let us watch and be sober. <sup>7</sup>For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk are drunk at night. <sup>8</sup>But let us who are of the day be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and as a helmet the hope of salvation. <sup>9</sup>For God did not appoint us to wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>10</sup>who died for us, that whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with Him.

<sup>11</sup>Therefore comfort each other and edify one another, just as you also are doing.

Various Exhortations

<sup>12</sup>And we urge you, brethren, to recognize those who labor among you, and are over you in the Lord and admonish you, <sup>13</sup>and to esteem them very highly in love for their work’s sake. Be at peace among yourselves.

Daily Life & Customs

Kisses were a common greeting for family, friends, and respected acquaintances. The “holy kiss” (1 Thess. 5:26) was not a romantic kiss on the lips or face. For example, in one form known today, as the parties shook hands they leaned forward repeatedly, bowing and repeating stylized formulas of greeting near the other person’s ear.

4:14 <sup>a</sup>Or those who through Jesus sleep

<sup>14</sup>Now we exhort you, brethren, warn those who are unruly, comfort the fainthearted, uphold the weak, be patient with all. <sup>15</sup>See that no one renders evil for evil to anyone, but always pursue what is good both for yourselves and for all.

Blessing and Admonition

<sup>23</sup>Now may the God of peace Himself sanctify you completely; and may your whole spirit, soul, and body be preserved blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>24</sup>He who calls you is faithful, who also will do it.

The Second Letter to the Thessalonians

It appears that several issues Paul addressed in 1 Thessalonians were still very much alive when the second Thessalonian letter was written: the suffering of Christians, idleness, and the Lord's return. Thus, Paul could have written this letter from Corinth a few months after writing 1 Thessalonians, probably late in A.D. 51.

While both letters are very concerned with the Second Coming of Christ, some scholars question whether Paul is the author of both. In 1 Thessalonians, Paul was so certain of the nearness of Christ's return that he anticipated both himself and some of the Thessalonians being alive to see it (1 Thess. 4:15). A somewhat different view is expressed in 2 Thessalonians. Several specific events, some involving "the man of sin," must transpire before the Lord's coming (2 Thess. 2:1–12). Those who are convinced that Paul's theology about the end of time could not have changed to this degree in only a few months conclude that 2 Thessalonians is a pseudonymous letter. Some later writer, writing sometime after Paul's death (A.D. 80–100), but using his name (2 Thess. 3:17), addressed mounting concerns about the delay in Christ's return.

Greeting

1 :1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy,

To the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

God's Final Judgment and Glory

<sup>3</sup>We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is fitting, because your faith grows exceedingly, and the love of every one of you all abounds toward each other, <sup>4</sup>so that we ourselves boast of you among the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that you endure, <sup>5</sup>which is manifest evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you also suffer; <sup>6</sup>since it is a righteous thing with God to repay with tribulation those who trouble you, <sup>7</sup>and to give you who are troubled rest with us when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with His mighty angels, <sup>8</sup>in flaming fire taking vengeance on those who do not know God, and on those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>9</sup>These shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of His power, <sup>10</sup>when He comes, in that Day, to be glorified in His saints and to be admired among all those who believe,<sup>a</sup> because our testimony among you was believed.

<sup>11</sup>Therefore we also pray always for you that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of His goodness and the work of faith with power, <sup>12</sup>that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and you in Him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Great Apostasy

2 <sup>1</sup>Now, brethren, concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to Him, we ask you, <sup>2</sup>not to be soon shaken in mind or troubled, either by spirit or by word or by letter, as if from us, as though the day of Christ<sup>a</sup> had come. <sup>3</sup>Let no one deceive you by any means; for that Day will not come unless the falling away comes first, and the man of sin<sup>a</sup> is revealed, the son of perdition, <sup>4</sup>who opposes and exalts himself above all that is called God or that is worshiped, so that he sits as God<sup>a</sup> in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God.

<sup>5</sup>Do you not remember that when I was still with you I told you these things? <sup>6</sup>And now you know what is restraining, that he may be

GALLIO RULES THE PROVINCE OF ACHAIA (ACTS 18:12)

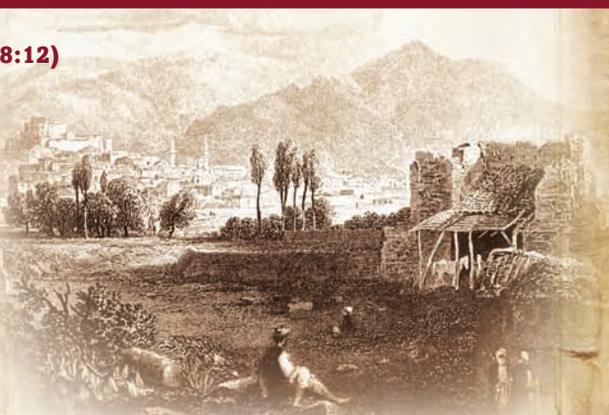

L. Iunius Gallio Annaeanus was the brother of the celebrated Latin writer and Stoic philosopher Seneca. Gallio held a number of important administrative posts within the Roman Empire, including that of proconsul of Achaia (southern Greece). Apparently, Paul visited Corinth, the capital of Achaia, during Gallio's term of office as proconsul (Acts 18:12).

Gallio is often mentioned in the writings of Seneca, as well as in those of Pliny the Elder. Moreover, a number of fragments from an inscription at Delphi dated to A.D. 52 mention Iunius Gallio. The text of the inscription, which has been interpreted as a letter from Emperor Claudius to Delphi, appears to concern the resettlement of Delphi.

Because of the mention of Gallio in the Delphi inscription and in Acts, scholars have supposed that Paul's first stay in Corinth must have occurred around A.D. 51–52, the date usually set for Gallio's term of office. The account of Paul before Gallio shows conflict between Paul and the Jews, as well as the hesitancy of Roman officials to become involved with religious quarrels.

Paul's Jewish opponents attempted to use legal means to silence his preaching. Their appeal to the Jewish Law of Moses failed, however, as Gallio, the Roman proconsul, refused to accept the Jewish charges, telling them to settle the matter themselves. His response is in accord with Roman legal tradition followed in Rome's conquered provinces.

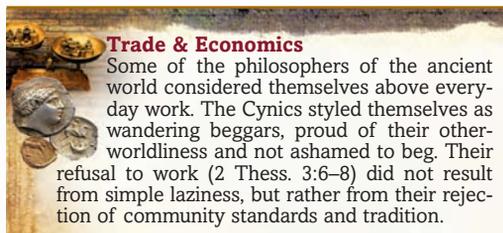

What Gallio thought of the Jews or of the Christians is not known. He did not allow Paul to defend himself, as Paul was able to do in other instances (Acts 24:10). Furthermore, he "took no notice" of the beating of Sosthenes, the synagogue ruler (Acts 18:17). Possibly Gallio was influenced by his brother Seneca, who criticized some Jewish customs, stating that the "vanquished" (meaning the Jews) had given laws to "their victors" (the Romans).

revealed in his own time. <sup>7</sup>For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only He<sup>a</sup> who now restrains will do so until He<sup>b</sup> is taken out of the way. <sup>8</sup>And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord will consume with the breath of His mouth and destroy with the brightness of His coming. <sup>9</sup>The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power, signs, and lying wonders, <sup>10</sup>and with all unrighteous deception among those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved. <sup>11</sup>And for this reason God will send them strong delusion, that they should believe the lie, <sup>12</sup>that they all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

Stand Fast

<sup>13</sup>But we are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved by the Lord, because God from the beginning chose you for salvation through sanctification by the Spirit and

Trade & Economics

Some of the philosophers of the ancient world considered themselves above everyday work. The Cynics styled themselves as wandering beggars, proud of their otherworldliness and not ashamed to beg. Their refusal to work (2 Thess. 3:6–8) did not result from simple laziness, but rather from their rejection of community standards and tradition.

belief in the truth, <sup>14</sup>to which He called you by our gospel, for the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>15</sup>Therefore, brethren, stand fast and hold the traditions which you were taught, whether by word or our epistle.

<sup>16</sup>Now may our Lord Jesus Christ Himself, and our God and Father, who has loved us and given us everlasting consolation and good hope by grace, <sup>17</sup>comfort your hearts and establish you in every good word and work.

Pray for Us

3 <sup>1</sup>Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run swiftly and be glorified, just as it is with you, <sup>2</sup>and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men; for not all have faith.

<sup>3</sup>But the Lord is faithful, who will establish you and guard you from the evil one. <sup>4</sup>And we have confidence in the Lord concerning you, both that you do and will do the things we command you.

<sup>5</sup>Now may the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God and into the patience of Christ.

Warning Against Idleness

<sup>6</sup>But we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you withdraw from every brother who walks disorderly and not according to the tradition which he<sup>a</sup> received from us. <sup>7</sup>For you yourselves know how you ought to follow us, for we were not disorderly among you; <sup>8</sup>nor did we eat anyone's bread free of charge, but worked with labor and toil night and day, that we might not be a burden to any of you, <sup>9</sup>not because we do not have authority, but to make ourselves an example of how you should follow us.

<sup>10</sup>For even when we were with you, we commanded you this: If anyone will not work, neither shall he eat. <sup>11</sup>For we hear that there are some who walk among you in a disorderly manner, not working at all, but are busybodies. <sup>12</sup>Now those who are such we command and exhort through our Lord Jesus Christ that they work in quietness and eat their own bread.

<sup>13</sup>But as for you, brethren, do not grow weary in doing good. <sup>14</sup>And if anyone does not obey our word in this epistle, note that person and do not keep company with him, that he may be ashamed. <sup>15</sup>Yet do not count him as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

Benediction

<sup>16</sup>Now may the Lord of peace Himself give you peace always in every way. The Lord be with you all.

<sup>17</sup>The salutation of Paul with my own hand, which is a sign in every epistle; so I write.

TRANSITION

Paul Before Gallio

The emperor Claudius Caesar (A.D. 41–54), while favorable toward the Jews early in his reign, later forbade their assembly. Suetonius, a Roman historian, indicates that Claudius “expelled from Rome the Jews, who were constantly rioting under the leadership of Chrestus.” Two Jewish refugees affected by this expulsion (which is dated in A.D. 49 by Orosius, a church historian) were Aquila and Priscilla. Luke records that when Paul stayed with them in Corinth, they “had recently come from Italy” because of Claudius’s edict (Acts 18:2, 3).

During a period of 18 months Paul established a flourishing Christian congregation (18:11). In A.D. 51 he was brought before Gallio, the Roman proconsul of Achaia (southern Greece). The archaeological remains of Gallio’s judgment hall have now been discovered. Perhaps more important, however, is an inscription found at Delphi that mentions Gallio and fixes his brief proconsulship over Achaia (about one year) in A.D. 51–52. The likelihood, then, that Paul founded the church in Corinth in A.D. 51 is one of the most certain points for establishing the chronology of Paul’s ministry.

After leaving Corinth, Paul accompanied Priscilla and Aquila to Ephesus. He left them there and sailed to Caesarea. He next greeted the church at Jerusalem before returning to his home base in Antioch.

18 :12 When Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul and brought him to the judgment seat, <sup>13</sup>saying, “This fellow persuades men to worship God contrary to the law.”

<sup>14</sup>And when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, “If it were a matter of wrongdoing or wicked crimes, O Jews, there would be reason why I should bear with you. <sup>15</sup>But if it is a question of words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves; for I do not want to be a judge of such matters.” <sup>16</sup>And he drove them from the judgment seat. <sup>17</sup>Then all the Greeks<sup>a</sup> took Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. But Gallio took no notice of these things.

Paul Returns to Antioch

<sup>18</sup>So Paul still remained a good while. Then he took leave of the brethren and sailed for Syria, and Priscilla and Aquila were with him. He had his hair cut off at Cenchrea, for he had taken a vow. <sup>19</sup>And he came to Ephesus, and left them there; but he himself entered the synagogue and reasoned with the Jews. <sup>20</sup>When they asked him to stay a longer time with them, he did not consent, <sup>21</sup>but took leave of them, saying, “I must by all means keep this coming feast in Jerusalem;<sup>a</sup> but I will return again to you, God willing.” And he sailed from Ephesus.

<sup>22</sup>And when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up and greeted the church, he went down to Antioch.

TRANSITION

Paul's Third Missionary Journey

On Paul's third missionary journey he visited the places in Galatia and Phrygia (Acts 18:23) which he had evangelized on his first journey. He also revisited Macedonia and Greece (20:1–3), evangelized on his second. But the focus of the third journey was Ephesus in western Asia Minor (19:1—20:1). Here the gospel dramatically overturned paganism and its magic (see “Commotion in Ephesus” at Acts 19:23). This journey concluded with Paul's fateful trip to Jerusalem (21:1–14).

Paul taught daily in Ephesus as he had done in Corinth. Ephesus was the political and religious center of the province of Asia, so visitors, as well as residents, heard and shared the gospel. After teaching for 3 months in the Jewish synagogue, Paul retreated to the school of Tyrannus (19:8, 9). Luke indicates a long ministry for Paul over a 2-year period (19:10), while his total stay in Ephesus lasted approximately 3 years (20:31), usually dated from A.D. 52 to 55. One result of this Asian ministry was the planting of the church at Colosse by Epaphras (see Col. 4:12).

• Acts 18:23—19:22

Acts

18 :23 After he had spent some time there, he departed and went over the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

Politics & Government

A judgment seat was a platform something like the outdoor stages used today for concerts or speakers. The courts conducted their business from such a platform. The judgment seat in Corinth has been excavated, and it is possible today to stand where Paul stood in A.D. 51, and face the deserted platform where Gallio sat to preside over the court (Acts 18:12).

Ministry of Apollos

<sup>24</sup>Now a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man and mighty in the Scriptures, came to Ephesus. <sup>25</sup>This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things of the Lord, though he knew only the baptism of John. <sup>26</sup>So he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. When Aquila and Priscilla heard him, they took him aside and explained to him the way of God more accurately. <sup>27</sup>And when he desired to cross to Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him; and when he arrived, he greatly helped those who had believed through grace; <sup>28</sup>for he vigorously refuted the Jews publicly, showing from the Scriptures that Jesus is the Christ.

Paul at Ephesus

19 <sup>1</sup>And it happened, while Apollos was at Corinth, that Paul, having passed through the upper regions, came to Ephesus. And finding some disciples <sup>2</sup>he said to them, “Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?”

So they said to him, “We have not so much as heard whether there is a Holy Spirit.”

<sup>3</sup>And he said to them, “Into what then were you baptized?”

So they said, “Into John's baptism.”

<sup>4</sup>Then Paul said, “John indeed baptized with a baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe on Him who would come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.”

<sup>5</sup>When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. <sup>6</sup>And when Paul had laid hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they spoke with tongues and prophesied. <sup>7</sup>Now the men were about twelve in all.

EARLY JEWISH MISSIONARIES (ACTS 19:13, 14)

Missionary work among the Jews in the Greco-Roman world took place in the everyday lives of the people. Jewish “missionaries” were active in the marketplace, competing for devotion to their God amidst various other persons who were advocating devotion to their own god. Such competition often occurred in displays of power over spiritual forces. The missionary whose god proved his or her power by signs of superiority over other gods could make a strong case for a person to change religious devotion.

These “missionaries,” both Jewish and non-Jewish, therefore were often wanderers, migrants who traveled from city to city to show the power of their deity. Their missionary work was also their livelihood. In response to their activity, the missionaries hoped to receive adequate compensation to keep their operations afloat. A century later, the Christian critic Celsus described such Jewish and non-Jewish missionary activity in a not-so-complimentary way: “There are many who, although of no name, are moved without scruples and on the slightest occasion, whether within or without the cultic places, gesturing like inspired persons, they beg and roam in cities and camps” (Origen, Contra Celsum 7.8–10).

Competitive missionary activity is the setting behind the “itinerant Jewish exorcists” and the “seven sons of Sceva” (Acts 19:13, 14). Impressed by the works of Paul, these missionaries sought to prove their God’s superiority over other gods in order to convert people to the synagogue, and they even appealed to “the name of the Lord Jesus” (19:13). Yet the evil spirit knew the difference between the Jewish missionaries and the Christian Paul, turning on the missionaries (19:15, 16).

This public display strengthened the credibility of the Christian missionaries in Ephesus. The name of Jesus was “magnified,” leading many to convert from pagan magical arts (19:17–19). The Jewish missionaries had inadvertently turned into missionaries for Christ and His church!

<sup>8</sup>And he went into the synagogue and spoke boldly for three months, reasoning and persuading concerning the things of the kingdom of God. <sup>9</sup>But when some were hardened and did not believe, but spoke evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them and withdrew the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. <sup>10</sup>And this continued for two years, so that all who dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

Miracles Glorify Christ

<sup>11</sup>Now God worked unusual miracles by the hands of Paul, <sup>12</sup>so that even handkerchiefs or aprons were brought from his body to the sick, and the diseases left them and the evil spirits went out of them. <sup>13</sup>Then some of the itinerant Jewish exorcists took it upon themselves to call the name of the Lord Jesus over those who had evil spirits, saying, “We<sup>a</sup> exorcise you by the Jesus whom Paul preaches.” <sup>14</sup>Also there were seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, who did so.

<sup>15</sup>And the evil spirit answered and said, “Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are you?”

Asia and Greece Revisited

On the third missionary journey (Acts 18:23—21:16), Paul visited the places in Galatia and Phrygia which he had evangelized on his first journey. He also revisited Macedonia and Greece, evangelized on his second journey. But the focus of the third journey was Ephesus in western Asia Minor, where he settled for more than two years. Here the gospel dramatically overturned paganism and its magic.

counted up the value of them, and it totaled fifty thousand pieces of silver.<sup>20</sup> So the word of the Lord grew mightily and prevailed.

<sup>21</sup>When these things were accomplished, Paul purposed in the Spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, "After I have been there, I must also see Rome."<sup>22</sup> So he sent into Macedonia two of those who ministered to him, Timothy and Erastus, but he himself stayed in Asia for a time.

The First Letter to the Corinthians

The apostle Paul is almost universally recognized as the author of 1 Corinthians. In the letter, probably written about A.D. 55 during the third missionary journey, he remarked, "I will tarry in Ephesus until Pentecost" (1 Cor. 16:8). Since he was planning his departure, he probably wrote 1 Corinthians during the last of his 3 years in Ephesus (Acts 20:31).

The Corinth which Paul knew had been founded as a Roman colony during the century before Christ. It was strategically located in the Roman province of Achaia on a narrow strip of land between the Aegean Sea and the Adriatic, with two adjoining ports. Corinth's location made it a center of the trade routes passing from east to west. Prosperity brought luxury and immorality. The expression "To live like a Corinthian" to one Athenian writer meant living in gross immorality.

The church which Paul had established in Corinth during his second missionary journey (Acts 18:1–17) was very diverse, including men and women, rich and poor. The report from Chloe's household informed Paul of divisions in the church; they were developing conflicting loyalties to different human teachers (1 Cor. 1:10–13). He wanted them to understand that salvation is not based on human wisdom or personalities, but on Christ crucified and the work of God in building His church.

Greeting

1:1 Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother,

<sup>2</sup>To the church of God which is at Corinth, to those who are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all who in every place call on the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours:

<sup>3</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Spiritual Gifts at Corinth

<sup>4</sup>I thank my God always concerning you for the grace of God which was given to you by Christ Jesus,<sup>5</sup> that you were enriched in everything by Him in all utterance and all knowledge,<sup>6</sup> even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you,<sup>7</sup> so that you come short in no gift, eagerly waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ,<sup>8</sup> who will also confirm you to the end, that you may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.<sup>9</sup> God is faithful, by whom you were called into the fellowship of His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

Sectarianism Is Sin

<sup>10</sup>Now I plead with you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.<sup>11</sup> For it has been declared to me concerning you, my brethren, by those of Chloe's household, that there are contentions among you.<sup>12</sup> Now I say this, that each of you says, "I am of Paul," or "I am of Apollos," or "I am of Cephas," or "I am of Christ."<sup>13</sup> Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul?

<sup>14</sup>I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius,<sup>15</sup> lest anyone should say that I had baptized in my own name.<sup>16</sup> Yes, I also baptized the household of Stephanas. Besides, I do not know whether I baptized any other.<sup>17</sup> For

The books burned by magic practitioners in Ephesus were worth "fifty thousand pieces of silver." (Acts 19:19)

Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the gospel, not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of no effect.

Christ the Power and Wisdom of God

<sup>18</sup>For the message of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. <sup>19</sup>For it is written:

*“I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,
And bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>20</sup>Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the disputer of this age? Has not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? <sup>21</sup>For since, in the wisdom of God, the world through wisdom did not know God, it pleased God through the foolishness of the message preached to save those who believe. <sup>22</sup>For Jews request a sign, and Greeks seek after wisdom; <sup>23</sup>but we preach Christ crucified, to the Jews a stumbling block and to the Greeks<sup>a</sup> foolishness, <sup>24</sup>but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. <sup>25</sup>Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

Glory Only in the Lord

<sup>26</sup>For you see your calling, brethren, that not many wise according to the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called. <sup>27</sup>But God has chosen the foolish things of the world to put to shame the wise, and God has chosen the weak things of the world to put to shame the things which are mighty; <sup>28</sup>and the base things of the world and the things which are despised God has chosen, and the things which are not, to bring to nothing the things that are, <sup>29</sup>that no flesh should glory in His presence. <sup>30</sup>But of Him you are in Christ Jesus, who became for us wisdom from God—and righteousness and sanctification and redemption—<sup>31</sup>that, as it is written, “He who glories, let him glory in the LORD.”<sup>a</sup>

Christ Crucified

2 <sup>1</sup>And I, brethren, when I came to you, did not come with excellence of speech or of wisdom declaring to you the testimony<sup>a</sup> of God. <sup>2</sup>For I determined not to know anything among you except Jesus Christ and Him crucified. <sup>3</sup>I was with you in weakness, in fear, and in much trembling. <sup>4</sup>And my speech and my preaching were not with persuasive words of human<sup>a</sup> wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, <sup>5</sup>that your faith should not be in the wisdom of men but in the power of God.

Spiritual Wisdom

<sup>6</sup>However, we speak wisdom among those who are mature, yet not the wisdom of this age, nor of the rulers of this age, who are coming to nothing. <sup>7</sup>But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, the hidden wisdom which God ordained before the ages for our glory, <sup>8</sup>which none of the rulers of this age knew; for had they known, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

<sup>9</sup>But as it is written:

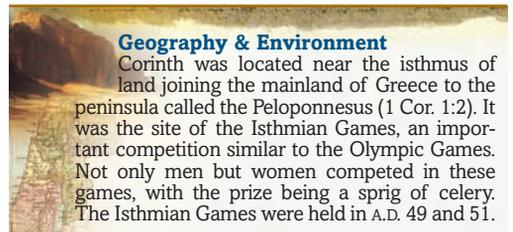

*“Eye has not seen, nor ear heard,
Nor have entered into the heart of man
The things which God has prepared for those who love Him.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>10</sup>But God has revealed them to us through His Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of God. <sup>11</sup>For what man knows the things of a man except the spirit of the man which is in him? Even so no one knows the things of God except the Spirit of God. <sup>12</sup>Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might know the things that have been freely given to us by God.

<sup>13</sup>These things we also speak, not in words which man’s wisdom teaches but which the Holy<sup>a</sup> Spirit teaches, comparing spiritual things with spiritual. <sup>14</sup>But the natural man does not receive the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him; nor can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. <sup>15</sup>But he who is spiritual judges all things, yet he himself is rightly judged by no one. <sup>16</sup>For “who has known the mind of the LORD that he may instruct Him?”<sup>a</sup> But we have the mind of Christ.

Sectarianism Is Carnal

3 <sup>1</sup>And I, brethren, could not speak to you as to spiritual people but as to carnal, as to babes in Christ. <sup>2</sup>I fed you with milk and not with solid food; for until now you were not able to receive it, and even now you are still not able; <sup>3</sup>for you are

Geography & Environment

Corinth was located near the isthmus of land joining the mainland of Greece to the peninsula called the Peloponnese (1 Cor. 1:2). It was the site of the Isthmian Games, an important competition similar to the Olympic Games. Not only men but women competed in these games, with the prize being a sprig of celery. The Isthmian Games were held in A.D. 49 and 51.

OF PAUL OR APOLLOS? PATRONAGE AT CORINTH (1 COR. 3:1–9)

Modern western societies teach their citizens that all persons should have equal access to the goods and services provided by the society. Despite all evidence to the contrary, it is supposedly not “who you know” but “what you know” that obtains for a person what is desired in life. We are taught that “equal rights” means “equal opportunity,” and equal rights are equally possessed by all.

The Greco-Roman world, however, did not operate under such an illusion, but according to a different principle: it was who you knew that really mattered. Access to the society’s goods and services arose from knowing the right person in the right place. Such a social system is called “patronage,” a system built on the presupposition of social inequality. The more powerful person in the relationship (the patron) had access to goods and services that the person of lower status (the client) needed or wanted.

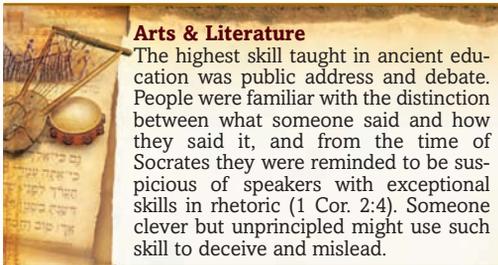

In return for a favor, a client granted the patron loyalty and honor that increased the patron’s status and influence. Possibly the Christians at Corinth reflected the patronage system when they expressed their loyalty to particular Christian leaders. Perhaps the Gentile Christians claimed to be “of Paul” (1 Cor. 3:4), considering themselves his disciples. The intellectuals of the Corinthian church may have supported the Alexandrian leader Apollos, who had ministered in Corinth (Acts 19:1). Rather, Paul preferred for himself and Apollos to be viewed only as ministers who served the church according to the gifts and abilities they had received from God (3:5).

still carnal. For where there are envy, strife, and divisions among you, are you not carnal and behaving like mere men? <sup>4</sup>For when one says, “I am of Paul,” and another, “I am of Apollos,” are you not carnal?

Watering, Working, Warning

<sup>5</sup>Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers through whom you believed, as the Lord gave to each one? <sup>6</sup>I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the increase. <sup>7</sup>So then neither he who plants is anything, nor he who waters, but God who gives the increase. <sup>8</sup>Now he who plants and he who waters are one, and each one will receive his own reward according to his own labor.

<sup>9</sup>For we are God’s fellow workers; you are God’s field, you are God’s building. <sup>10</sup>According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder I have laid the foundation, and another builds on it. But let each one take heed how he builds on it. <sup>11</sup>For no other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. <sup>12</sup>Now if anyone builds on this foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw, <sup>13</sup>each one’s work will become clear; for the Day will declare it, because it will be revealed by fire; and the fire will test each one’s work, of what sort it is. <sup>14</sup>If anyone’s work which he has built on it endures, he will receive a reward. <sup>15</sup>If anyone’s work is burned, he will suffer loss; but he himself will be saved, yet so as through fire.

Arts & Literature

The highest skill taught in ancient education was public address and debate. People were familiar with the distinction between what someone said and how they said it, and from the time of Socrates they were reminded to be suspicious of speakers with exceptional skills in rhetoric (1 Cor. 2:4). Someone clever but unprincipled might use such skill to deceive and mislead.

<sup>16</sup>Do you not know that you are the temple of God and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? <sup>17</sup>If anyone defiles the temple of God, God will destroy him. For the temple of God is holy, which temple you are.

Avoid Worldly Wisdom

Stewards of the Mysteries of God

4 <sup>1</sup>Let a man so consider us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. <sup>2</sup>Moreover it is required in stewards that one be found faithful. <sup>3</sup>But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you or by a human court.<sup>a</sup> In fact, I do not even judge myself. <sup>4</sup>For I know of nothing against myself, yet I am not justified by this; but He who judges me is the Lord. <sup>5</sup>Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord comes, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness and reveal the counsels of the hearts. Then each one’s praise will come from God.

Fools for Christ’s Sake

<sup>6</sup>Now these things, brethren, I have figuratively transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes, that you may learn in us not to think beyond what is written, that none of you may be puffed up on behalf of one against the other. <sup>7</sup>For who makes you differ from another? And what do you have that you did not receive? Now if you did indeed receive it, why do you boast as if you had not received it?

<sup>8</sup>You are already full! You are already rich! You have reigned as kings without us—and indeed I could wish you did reign, that we also might reign with you! <sup>9</sup>For I think that God has displayed us, the apostles, last, as men condemned to death; for we have been made a spectacle to the world, both to angels and to men. <sup>10</sup>We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are wise in Christ! We are weak, but you are strong! You are distinguished, but we are dishonored! <sup>11</sup>To the present hour we both hunger and thirst, and we are poorly clothed, and beaten, and homeless. <sup>12</sup>And we labor, working with our own hands. Being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we endure; <sup>13</sup>being defamed, we entreat. We have been made as the filth of the world, the offscouring of all things until now.

Paul's Paternal Care

<sup>14</sup>I do not write these things to shame you, but as my beloved children I warn you. <sup>15</sup>For though you might have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet you do not have many fathers; for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel. <sup>16</sup>Therefore I urge you, imitate me. <sup>17</sup>For this reason I have sent Timothy to you, who is my beloved and faithful son in the Lord, who will remind you of my ways in Christ, as I teach everywhere in every church.

<sup>18</sup>Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you. <sup>19</sup>But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord wills, and I will know, not the word of those who are puffed up, but the power. <sup>20</sup>For the kingdom of God is not in word but in power. <sup>21</sup>What do you want? Shall I come to you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of gentleness?

Paul's Authority and Epistle

Paul addressed three specific areas in which the Corinthians had rejected his authority: They had condoned incest by one of their members (1 Cor. 5:1–13), compromised their Christian witness by suing one another in the secular courts (6:1–11), and allowed some of their members to visit prostitutes (6:12–20). In an earlier letter (5:9), he had already written to the Corinthians dealing with some of these matters.

This “earlier letter” would necessarily have predated what is now known to us as 1 Corinthians. Some scholars believe it may be preserved in what is now known as 2 Corinthians (supposing that 2 Corinthians itself is made up of parts of several letters; see “The Second Letter to the Corinthians” at 2 Cor. 1:1). Others, though, point out that sexual immorality—the topic of the earlier letter (1 Cor. 5:9)—is addressed only in 2 Cor. 12:21. They conclude that this “earlier letter” was simply not preserved, perhaps being lost by the early church.

Immorality Defiles the Church

5:1 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and such sexual immorality as is not even named<sup>a</sup> among the Gentiles—that a man has his father's wife! <sup>2</sup>And you are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that

PATRONS, CLIENTS, AND PUFFED-UP CHRISTIANS (1 COR. 4:6)

In a patronage system, social power and status was not so much based on wealth, but on friendships. The greater the number and status of those friends who owed you honor, the more your influence increased in the society. Even a client's own status depended on the status and influence of the patron being honored. Having friends in high places helped “broker” situations into results that were desired.

Of course, this led to great social competition between clients of different patrons and between the patrons themselves. Who a person “belonged to” could determine how much access that person had to what the Greco-Roman world offered. This seems to be the background for the divisions in the church at Corinth. Rather than one church, the body of Christ, the Corinthians seemed to think of themselves as clients of specific Christian leaders, perhaps of those by whose ministry they had come to believe in Jesus Christ. Perhaps they even saw these leaders as special “brokers” to God.

Apparently, inner-church patronage systems led to competition, even jealousy and quarreling within the church. By allowing their conduct to mirror the surrounding social world, these puffed-up Corinthian Christians were in danger of fragmenting their fragile unity (1 Cor. 4:6). Paul saw these divisions as a sign of the spiritual immaturity of these believers. In his view, the patronage system belonged to the world, “this present evil age” (Gal. 1:4). Ultimately, for Paul, not patronage, but cooperation mattered in the church, for it was neither the planter nor the waterer, but God who provided “the increase” (1 Cor. 3:8).

he who has done this deed might be taken away from among you. <sup>3</sup>For I indeed, as absent in body but present in spirit, have already judged (as though I were present) him who has so done this deed. <sup>4</sup>In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when you are gathered together, along with my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>5</sup>deliver such a one to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>6</sup>Your glorying is not good. Do you not know that a little leaven leavens the whole lump? <sup>7</sup>Therefore purge out the old leaven, that you may be a new lump, since you truly are unleavened. For indeed Christ, our Passover, was sacrificed for us.<sup>a</sup> <sup>8</sup>Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, nor with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

Immorality Must Be Judged

<sup>9</sup>I wrote to you in my epistle not to keep company with sexually immoral people. <sup>10</sup>Yet I certainly did not mean with the sexually immoral people of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or idolaters, since then you would need to go out of the world. <sup>11</sup>But now I have written to you not to keep company with anyone named a brother, who is sexually immoral, or covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner—not even to eat with such a person.

<sup>12</sup>For what have I to do with judging those also who are outside? Do you not judge those who are inside? <sup>13</sup>But those who are outside God judges. Therefore “put away from yourselves the evil person.”<sup>a</sup>

Do Not Sue the Brethren

6 <sup>1</sup>Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unrighteous, and not before the saints? <sup>2</sup>Do you not know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world will be judged by you, are you unworthy to judge the smallest matters? <sup>3</sup>Do you not know that we shall judge angels? How much more, things that pertain to this life? <sup>4</sup>If then you have judgments concerning things pertaining to this life, do you appoint those who are least esteemed by the church to judge? <sup>5</sup>I say this to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you, not even one, who will be able to judge between his brethren? <sup>6</sup>But brother goes to law against brother, and that before unbelievers!

<sup>7</sup>Now therefore, it is already an utter failure for you that you go to law against one another. Why do you not rather accept wrong? Why do you not rather let yourselves be cheated? <sup>8</sup>No, you yourselves do wrong and cheat, and you do these things to your brethren! <sup>9</sup>Do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived. Neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor homosexuals,<sup>a</sup> nor sodomites, <sup>10</sup>nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners will inherit the kingdom of God. <sup>11</sup>And such were some of you. But you were washed, but you were sanctified, but you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus and by the Spirit of our God.

Glorify God in Body and Spirit

<sup>12</sup>All things are lawful for me, but all things are not helpful. All things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any. <sup>13</sup>Foods for the stomach and the stomach for foods, but God will destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for sexual immorality but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. <sup>14</sup>And God both raised up the Lord and will also raise us up by His power.

<sup>15</sup>Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them members of a harlot? Certainly not! <sup>16</sup>Or do you not know that he who is joined to a harlot is one body with her? For “the two,” He says, “shall become one flesh.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>17</sup>But he who is joined to the Lord is one spirit with Him.

<sup>18</sup>Flee sexual immorality. Every sin that a man does is outside the body, but he who commits sexual immorality sins against his own body. <sup>19</sup>Or do you not know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have from God, and you are not your own? <sup>20</sup>For you were bought at a price; therefore glorify God in your body<sup>a</sup> and in your spirit, which are God’s.

TRANSITION

Questions from the Corinthians

Paul's writing of 1 Corinthians was apparently prompted by the visit with him in Ephesus of a delegation from the Corinthian church. This delegation from "Chloe's household" (1 Cor. 1:11) may also have included Stephanas (the head of another important household), Fortunatus, and Achaicus (16:15–17). They seem to have brought not only an oral report (5:1), but perhaps also a formal letter.

Paul answered each of the questions raised in their letter to him, usually indicating his transition from topic to topic by the phrase "now concerning" (see 7:1, 25; 8:1; 12:1; 16:1, 12). His instructions to them covered Christian marriage and sexual practice (7:1–40). They might eat food that had been offered to idols, but they should do nothing that gave even the appearance of idol worship (8:1—11:1). Church worship should be conducted decently and with consideration for others (11:2–34). Spiritual gifts should be used for building up others (12:1–31) in true Christian love (13:1–13). Prophecy is better than tongues because it edifies (14:1–40). Because Christ has risen (15:1–11), we too will rise (15:12–34) with a new spiritual body (15:35–58).

• 1 Corinthians 7:1—15:58

*1 CorinthiansPrinciples of Marriage

7:1 Now concerning the things of which you wrote to me:

It is good for a man not to touch a woman. <sup>2</sup>Nevertheless, because of sexual immorality, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. <sup>3</sup>Let the husband render to his wife the affection due her, and likewise also the wife to her husband. <sup>4</sup>The wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband does. And likewise the husband does not have authority over his own body, but the wife does. <sup>5</sup>Do not deprive one another except with consent for a time, that you may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again so that Satan does not tempt you because of your lack of self-control. <sup>6</sup>But I say this as a concession, not as a commandment. <sup>7</sup>For I wish that all men were even as I myself. But each one has his own gift from God, one in this manner and another in that.

<sup>8</sup>But I say to the unmarried and to the widows: It is good for them if they remain even as I am; <sup>9</sup>but if they cannot exercise self-control, let them marry. For it is better to marry than to burn with passion.

Keep Your Marriage Vows

<sup>10</sup>Now to the married I command, yet not I but the Lord: A wife is not to depart from her husband. <sup>11</sup>But even if she does depart, let her remain unmarried or be reconciled to her husband. And a husband is not to divorce his wife.

<sup>12</sup>But to the rest I, not the Lord, say: If any brother has a wife who does not believe, and she is willing to live with him, let him not divorce her. <sup>13</sup>And a woman who has a husband who does not believe, if he is willing to live with her, let her not divorce him. <sup>14</sup>For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband; otherwise your children would be unclean, but now they are holy. <sup>15</sup>But if the unbeliever departs, let him depart; a brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases. But God has called us to peace. <sup>16</sup>For how do you know, O wife, whether you will save your husband? Or how do you know, O husband, whether you will save your wife?

Live as You Are Called

<sup>17</sup>But as God has distributed to each one, as the Lord has called each one, so let him walk. And so I ordain in all the churches. <sup>18</sup>Was anyone called while circumcised? Let him not become uncircumcised. Was anyone called while uncircumcised? Let him not be circumcised. <sup>19</sup>Circumcision is nothing and uncircumcision is nothing, but keeping the commandments of God is what matters. <sup>20</sup>Let each one remain in the same calling in which he was called. <sup>21</sup>Were you called while a slave? Do not be concerned about it; but if you can be made free, rather use it. <sup>22</sup>For he who is called in the Lord while a slave is the Lord's freedman. Likewise he who is called while free is Christ's slave. <sup>23</sup>You were bought at a price; do not become slaves of men. <sup>24</sup>Brethren, let each one remain with God in that state in which he was called.

To the Unmarried and Widows

<sup>25</sup>Now concerning virgins: I have no commandment from the Lord; yet I give judgment as one whom the Lord in His mercy has made trustworthy. <sup>26</sup>I suppose therefore that this is good because of the present distress—that it is good for a man to remain as he is; <sup>27</sup>Are you bound to a wife? Do not seek to be loosed. Are you loosed from a wife? Do not seek a wife. <sup>28</sup>But even if you do

Marriage & Family

Jewish people regarded marriage as the natural duty of men and women. In line with Jewish tradition, Paul suggested that a person should marry in order to avoid sexual immorality (1 Cor. 7:9). The apostle also understood marriage and celibacy to be gifts of God (7:7). When he advocated remaining single (7:8), he was conscious of people's usual expectation that adult men, and especially religious leaders, would marry.

DIVORCE AND REMARRIAGE AT CORINTH (1 COR. 7:15)

Jewish law permitted only the husband to initiate a divorce. Only under extreme circumstances could the wife request a court to compel a husband to divorce her. By contrast, Roman law viewed marriage as a matter of mutual consent, and so dissolved a marriage if either party requested it. Under Roman divorce, the children went to the father. Rapid remarriage was customary and society encouraged it (especially for young women), so the church congregation in Corinth probably included some new converts who had been remarried one or more times before their conversion.

Paul addressed the Christians who wanted to divorce spiritually incompatible spouses. Offering his own judgment, he contended that spiritual incompatibility did not provide adequate grounds for a divorce (1 Cor. 7:12–14). In addition, by giving the command of “the Lord” (1 Cor. 7:10, 11), he seemed to cite Jesus’ general prohibition of divorce (Mark 10:11, 12).

Ancient interpreters commonly qualified general principles, modifying or interpreting them to account for specific situations. In this manner Paul interprets Jesus’ general principle as needing to be qualified for those who are divorced against their will. In cases in which an unbelieving mate deserted the marriage, Paul declared, the believer was “not under bondage” (7:15).

In using the phrase “not under bondage,” Paul was echoing the exact language of ancient divorce contracts, which spoke of marriage as “binding” a woman to her husband and divorce as “loosing” or “freeing” a woman for remarriage. Such divorce terminology appears in Jewish texts, such as the Mishnah, and in actual 1st-century Jewish divorce contracts that have been recovered. Ancient readers would have understood “not under bondage” as Paul’s permission for an abandoned person to remarry.

marry, you have not sinned; and if a virgin marries, she has not sinned. Nevertheless such will have trouble in the flesh, but I would spare you.

<sup>29</sup>But this I say, brethren, the time is short, so that from now on even those who have wives should be as though they had none, <sup>30</sup>those who weep as though they did not weep, those who rejoice as though they did not rejoice, those who buy as though they did not possess, <sup>31</sup>and those who use this world as not misusing it. For the form of this world is passing away.

<sup>36</sup>But if any man thinks he is behaving improperly toward his virgin, if she is past the flower of youth, and thus it must be, let him do what he wishes. He does not sin; let them marry. <sup>37</sup>Nevertheless he who stands steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but has power over his own will, and has so determined in his heart that he will keep his virgin,<sup>a</sup> does well. <sup>38</sup>So then he who gives her<sup>a</sup> in marriage does well, but he who does not give her in marriage does better.

<sup>39</sup>A wife is bound by law as long as her husband lives; but if her husband dies, she is at liberty to be married to whom she wishes, only in the Lord. <sup>40</sup>But she is happier if she remains as she is, according to my judgment—and I think I also have the Spirit of God.

Be Sensitive to Conscience

8 <sup>1</sup>Now concerning things offered to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love edifies. <sup>2</sup>And if anyone thinks that he knows anything, he knows nothing yet as he ought to know. <sup>3</sup>But if anyone loves God, this one is known by Him.

<sup>4</sup>Therefore concerning the eating of things offered to idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no other God but one. <sup>5</sup>For even if there are so-called gods, whether in heaven or on earth (as there are many gods and many lords), <sup>6</sup>yet for us there is one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we for Him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and through whom we live.

<sup>7</sup>However, there is not in everyone that knowledge; for some, with consciousness of the idol, until now eat it as a thing offered to an idol; and their conscience, being weak, is defiled. <sup>8</sup>But food does not commend us to God; for neither if we eat are we the better, nor if we do not eat are we the worse.

conscience, you sin against Christ. <sup>13</sup>Therefore, if food makes my brother stumble, I will never again eat meat, lest I make my brother stumble.

A Pattern of Self-Denial

9 <sup>1</sup>Am I not an apostle? Am I not free? Have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? Are you not my work in the Lord? <sup>2</sup>If I am not an apostle to others, yet doubtless I am to you. For you are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord.

<sup>3</sup>My defense to those who examine me is this: <sup>4</sup>Do we have no right to eat and drink? <sup>5</sup>Do we have no right to take along a believing wife, as do also the other apostles, the brothers of the Lord, and Cephas? <sup>6</sup>Or is it only Barnabas and I who have no right to refrain from working? <sup>7</sup>Who ever goes to war at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard and does not eat of its fruit? Or who tends a flock and does not drink of the milk of the flock?

<sup>8</sup>Do I say these things as a mere man? Or does not the law say the same also? <sup>9</sup>For it is written in the law of Moses, “You shall not muzzle an ox while it treads out the grain.” <sup>a</sup> Is it oxen God is concerned about? <sup>10</sup>Or does He say it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written, that he who plows should plow in hope, and he who threshes in hope should be partaker of his hope. <sup>11</sup>If we have sown spiritual things for you, is it a great thing if we reap your material things? <sup>12</sup>If others are partakers of this right over you, are we not even more?

Nevertheless we have not used this right, but endure all things lest we hinder the gospel of Christ. <sup>13</sup>Do you not know that those who minister the holy things eat of the things of the temple, and those who serve at the altar partake of the offerings of the altar? <sup>14</sup>Even so the Lord has commanded that those who preach the gospel should live from the gospel.

<sup>15</sup>But I have used none of these things, nor have I written these things that it should be done so to me; for it would be better for me to die than that anyone should make my boasting void. <sup>16</sup>For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to boast of, for necessity is laid upon me; yes, woe is me if I do not preach the gospel! <sup>17</sup>For if I do this willingly, I have a reward; but if against my will, I have been entrusted with a stewardship. <sup>18</sup>What is my reward then? That when I preach the gospel, I may present the gospel of Christ<sup>a</sup> without charge, that I may not abuse my authority in the gospel.

Serving All Men

<sup>19</sup>For though I am free from all men, I have made myself a servant to all, that I might win the more; <sup>20</sup>and to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might win Jews; to those who are under the law, as under the law,<sup>a</sup> that I might win those who are under the law; <sup>21</sup>to those who are without law, as without law (not being without law toward God,<sup>a</sup> but under law toward Christ<sup>b</sup>), that I might win those who are without law; <sup>22</sup>to the weak I became as<sup>a</sup> weak, that I might win the weak. I have become all things to all men, that I might by all means save some. <sup>23</sup>Now this I do for the gospel's sake, that I may be partaker of it with you.

Striving for a Crown

<sup>24</sup>Do you not know that those who run in a race all run, but one receives the prize? Run in such a way that you may obtain it. <sup>25</sup>And everyone who competes for the prize is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a perishable crown, but we for an imperishable crown. <sup>26</sup>Therefore I run thus: not with uncertainty. Thus I fight: not as one who beats the air. <sup>27</sup>But I discipline my body and bring it into subjection, lest, when I have preached to others, I myself should become disqualified.

Arch through which runners entered the Olympic grounds to race.

RUNNING IN THE OLYMPICS (1 Cor. 9:24–27)

Foot racing was the most important event at the famous Olympic Games of Greece. The Olympic Games were held every 4 years in Olympia, a plain located about 125 miles west of Athens, and 75 miles west of Corinth. It was the main shrine of the Greek god Zeus.

Paul's Corinthian readers would have been well familiar with runners in the Games (1 Cor. 9:24). The athletic contests at Olympia were founded in 776 B.C. and held continuously for more than a thousand years. They did not cease until A.D. 393 when the Roman emperor Theodosius abolished them because they were pagan.

The Corinthians were also familiar with the crown that was the winning prize (1 Cor. 9:25). Statues show the athletes completely naked, but probably they had some covering. The prize for the winner was a crown made of laurel leaves, or an imitation crown made of golden leaves. With this crown went great fame, if not a stipend of money from the city.

Athletic events were very popular, and thus a good illustration for preaching. Paul wanted his readers to understand that the need to train and the desire to win applies to spiritual life as it does to athletic contests. Like a runner Paul disciplined his own body (1 Cor. 9:27). His prize would be imperishable (1 Cor. 9:25), and thus of much greater value than the athlete's prize of leaves.

Old Testament Examples

10 <sup>1</sup>Moreover, brethren, I do not want you to be unaware that all our fathers were under the cloud, all passed through the sea, <sup>2</sup>all were baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea, <sup>3</sup>all ate the same spiritual food, <sup>4</sup>and all drank the same spiritual drink. For they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them, and that Rock was Christ. <sup>5</sup>But with most of them God was not well pleased, for their bodies were scattered in the wilderness.

<sup>6</sup>Now these things became our examples, to the intent that we should not lust after evil things as they also lusted. <sup>7</sup>And do not become idolaters as were some of them. As it is written, "The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play." <sup>a</sup> <sup>8</sup>Nor let us commit sexual immorality, as some of them did, and in one day twenty-three thousand fell; <sup>9</sup>nor let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed by serpents; <sup>10</sup>nor complain, as some of them also complained, and were destroyed by the destroyer. <sup>11</sup>Now all<sup>c</sup> these things happened to them as examples, and they were written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the ages have come.

Cults & Supernatural

Meat was eaten frequently in connection with religious sacrifices. Birds were sacrificed often; oxen on special occasions. Leftover meat was kept by the priests and worshipers. What they did not use themselves would be sold in the marketplace, with or without information that it had been sacrificed. Paul warned against eating this meat in a pagan temple, but allowed it to be eaten in a household (1 Cor. 8:10; 10:25).

<sup>12</sup>Therefore let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he fall. <sup>13</sup>No temptation has overtaken you except such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not allow you to be tempted beyond what you are able, but with the temptation will also make the way of escape, that you may be able to bear it.

Flee from Idolatry

<sup>14</sup>Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry. <sup>15</sup>I speak as to wise men; judge for yourselves what I say. <sup>16</sup>The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? <sup>17</sup>For we, though many, are one bread and one body; for we all partake of that one bread.

<sup>18</sup>Observe Israel after the flesh: Are not those who eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar? <sup>19</sup>What am I saying then? That an idol is anything, or what is offered to idols is anything? <sup>20</sup>Rather, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice they sacrifice to demons and not to God, and I do not want you to have fellowship with demons. <sup>21</sup>You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons; you cannot partake of the Lord's table and of the table of demons. <sup>22</sup>Or do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than He?

COVERING A WOMAN'S HEAD (1 COR. 11:5, 6)

Proper conduct in worship is expressed in different ways in different times and places. Paul was concerned that the conduct of women at the church in Corinth was not following the then current customs for public worship (1 Cor. 11:5, 6). Accepted social custom called for Jewish and Christian women to cover their hair.

Customs varied somewhat. Lower-class women in much of the Mediterranean world covered their heads, especially in the eastern Mediterranean. Far to the east, conservative women veiled even their faces; in most other places, they simply wore a shawl that covered their hair. Many ancient texts inform us why married women needed to cover their heads: hair was the crown of the woman's beauty, and for a wife to expose this to the public gaze was to act promiscuous. Thus uncovered hair could symbolize seductiveness.

Not all women in Corinth were this conservative, however. Upper-class women were especially prone to showing off their hairstyles, requiring them to keep their heads uncovered. Because the Corinthian churches met in well-to-do members' homes, affluent and poorer women came into contact with one another, producing a clash of different views concerning covering their heads. To one group, uncovered heads represented progressive freedom; to the other, ostentation and seduction.

Paul thus faced a serious conflict in the church that had to be addressed gently. Arraying a variety of arguments—some traditionally Jewish, some more in keeping with Greco-Roman moralists' tastes—he acknowledged the Corinthian women's freedom but called on them to use it responsibly for the sake of others who might stumble. Those who might still be contentious about this issue should bow to custom: other Christian churches did not allow women to worship with uncovered heads; neither should the Corinthians (11:16).

but not all things edify. <sup>24</sup>Let no one seek his own, but each one the other's well-being

<sup>27</sup>If any of those who do not believe invites you to dinner, and you desire to go, eat whatever is set before you, asking no question for conscience' sake. <sup>28</sup>But if anyone says to you, "This was offered to idols," do not eat it for the sake of the one who told you, and for conscience' sake; <sup>a</sup> for "the earth is the LORD's, and all its fullness." <sup>b</sup> <sup>29</sup>"Conscience," I say, not your own, but that of the other. For why is my liberty judged by another man's conscience? <sup>30</sup>But if I partake with thanks, why am I evil spoken of for the food over which I give thanks?

<sup>31</sup>Therefore, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God. <sup>32</sup>Give no offense, either to the Jews or to the Greeks or to the church of God, <sup>33</sup>just as I also please all men in all things, not seeking my own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

Head Coverings

<sup>2</sup>Now I praise you, brethren, that you remember me in all things and keep the traditions just as I delivered them to you. <sup>3</sup>But I want you to know that the head of every man is Christ, the head of woman is man, and the head of Christ is God. <sup>4</sup>Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonors his head. <sup>5</sup>But every woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonors her head, for that is one and the same as if her head were shaved. <sup>6</sup>For if a woman is not covered, let her also be shorn. But if it is shameful for a woman to be shorn or shaved, let her be covered. <sup>7</sup>For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, since he is the image and glory of God; but woman is the glory of man. <sup>8</sup>For man is not from woman, but woman from man. <sup>9</sup>Nor was man created for the woman, but woman for the man. <sup>10</sup>For this reason the woman ought to have a symbol of authority on her head, because of the angels. <sup>11</sup>Nevertheless, neither is man independent of woman, nor woman independent of man, in the Lord. <sup>12</sup>For as woman came from man, even so man also comes through woman; but all things are from God.

<sup>13</sup>Judge among yourselves. Is it proper for a woman to pray to God with her head uncovered? <sup>14</sup>Does not even nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a dishonor to him? <sup>15</sup>But if a woman has long hair, it is a glory to her; for her hair is given to her for a covering. <sup>16</sup>But if anyone seems to be contentious, we have no such custom, nor do the churches of God.

Conduct at the Lord's Supper

<sup>17</sup>Now in giving these instructions I do not praise you, since you come together not for the better but for the worse. <sup>18</sup>For first of all, when you come together as a church, I hear that there are divisions among you, and in part I believe it. <sup>19</sup>For there must also be factions among you, that those who are approved may be recognized among you. <sup>20</sup>Therefore when you come together in one place, it is not to eat the Lord's Supper. <sup>21</sup>For in eating, each one takes his own supper ahead of others; and one is hungry and another is drunk. <sup>22</sup>What! Do you not have houses to eat and drink in? Or do you despise the church of God and shame those who have nothing? What shall I say to you? Shall I praise you in this? I do not praise you.

Institution of the Lord's Supper

<sup>23</sup>For I received from the Lord that which I also delivered to you: that the Lord Jesus on the same night in which He was betrayed took bread; <sup>24</sup>and when He had given thanks, He broke it and said, "Take, eat;<sup>a</sup> this is My body which is broken<sup>b</sup> for you; do this in remembrance of Me." <sup>25</sup>In the same manner He also took the cup after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood. This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me."

<sup>26</sup>For as often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death till He comes.

Examine Yourself

<sup>27</sup>Therefore whoever eats this bread or drinks this cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of the body and blood<sup>c</sup> of the Lord. <sup>28</sup>But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread and drink of the cup. <sup>29</sup>For he who eats and drinks in an unworthy manner<sup>d</sup> eats and drinks judgment to himself, not discerning the Lord's<sup>b</sup> body. <sup>30</sup>For this reason many are weak and sick among you, and many sleep. <sup>31</sup>For if we would judge ourselves, we would not be judged. <sup>32</sup>But when we are judged, we are chastened by the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world.

<sup>33</sup>Therefore, my brethren, when you come together to eat, wait for one another. <sup>34</sup>But if any one is hungry, let him eat at home, lest you come together for judgment. And the rest I will set in order when I come.

Spiritual Gifts: Unity in Diversity

12 <sup>1</sup>Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I do not want you to be ignorant: <sup>2</sup>You know that<sup>a</sup> you were Gentiles, carried away to these dumb idols, however you were led. <sup>3</sup>Therefore I make known to you that no one speaking by the Spirit of God calls Jesus accursed, and no one can say that Jesus is Lord except by the Holy Spirit.

<sup>4</sup>There are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. <sup>5</sup>There are differences of ministries, but the same Lord. <sup>6</sup>And there are diversities of activities, but it is the same God who works all in all. <sup>7</sup>But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to each one for the profit of all: <sup>8</sup>for to one is given the word of wisdom through the Spirit, to another the word of knowledge through the same Spirit, <sup>9</sup>to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healings by the same<sup>a</sup> Spirit, <sup>10</sup>to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another discerning of spirits, to another different kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues. <sup>11</sup>But one and the same Spirit works all these things, distributing to each one individually as He wills.

Unity and Diversity in One Body

IN A MIRROR OR FACE TO FACE (1 COR. 13:12)

Ancient people often made mirrors from bronze, and the bronze of Corinth was especially famous as the best bronze of the ancient Mediterranean world. Some Corinthian bronze had even been imported to Jerusalem for use in the temple. Nevertheless, the best of ancient mirrors provided only an imperfect reflection, leading some philosophers to use the analogy of an imperfect mirror to depict mortals' imperfect attempts to understand the deity.

Paul apparently uses the same analogy. The present, partial state of our knowledge of God compares to seeing "in a mirror, dimly" (1 Cor. 13:12). This contrasts with the full knowledge of God available when Christ returns, which will be like seeing "face to face."

Jewish traditions likewise contrasted Moses' face-to-face revelation of God with the partial revelation seen by most other prophets (Num. 12:8; Deut. 34:10). In the present, God's people receive spiritual gifts that partly reveal God, but in the future, such gifts will be unnecessary because believers will know God face to face, as Moses did.

Paul anticipated this future age when he would know God directly (1 Cor. 13:12; see Jer. 31:31–34), and his expectation influenced his ideas about spiritual gifts. The gifts which the Corinthians valued so highly were only for this life, and in the future age there would be no more need for the gifts of prophecies, tongues, or knowledge (13:8–10). The reflection of the dim mirror would become a face-to-face view.

many, are one body, so also is Christ. <sup>13</sup>For by one Spirit we were all baptized into one body—whether Jews or Greeks, whether slaves or free—and have all been made to drink into<sup>a</sup> one Spirit. <sup>14</sup>For in fact the body is not one member but many.

<sup>15</sup>If the foot should say, "Because I am not a hand, I am not of the body," is it therefore not of the body? <sup>16</sup>And if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I am not of the body," is it therefore not of the body? <sup>17</sup>If the whole body were an eye, where would be the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where would be the smelling? <sup>18</sup>But now God has set the members, each one of them, in the body just as He pleased. <sup>19</sup>And if they were all one member, where would the body be?

<sup>20</sup>But now indeed there are many members, yet one body. <sup>21</sup>And the eye cannot say to the hand, "I have no need of you"; nor again the head to the feet, "I have no need of you." <sup>22</sup>No, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be weaker are necessary. <sup>23</sup>And those members of the body which we think to be less honorable, on these we bestow greater honor; and our unrepresentable parts have greater modesty, <sup>24</sup>but our representable parts have no need. But God composed the body, having given greater honor to that part which lacks it, <sup>25</sup>that there should be no schism in the body, but that the members should have the same care for one another. <sup>26</sup>And if one member suffers, all the members suffer with it; or if one member is honored, all the members rejoice with it.

<sup>27</sup>Now you are the body of Christ, and members individually. <sup>28</sup>And God has appointed these in the church: first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, administrations, varieties of tongues. <sup>29</sup>Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Are all workers of miracles? <sup>30</sup>Do all have gifts of healings? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret? <sup>31</sup>But earnestly desire the best<sup>a</sup> gifts. And yet I show you a more excellent way.

The Greatest Gift

13 <sup>1</sup>Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal. <sup>2</sup>And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. <sup>3</sup>And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned,<sup>a</sup> but have not love, it profits me nothing.

<sup>8</sup>Love never fails. But whether there are prophecies, they will fail; whether there are tongues, they will cease; whether there is knowledge, it will vanish away. <sup>9</sup>For we know in part and we prophesy in part. <sup>10</sup>But when that which is perfect has come, then that which is in part will be done away.

<sup>11</sup>When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things. <sup>12</sup>For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I shall know just as I also am known.

ASK AT HOME, NOT AT CHURCH (1 COR. 14:34, 35)

Although specific conditions varied from one part of the ancient Mediterranean to another, the Roman world valued the quietness and subordination of wives. Some writers even longed for earlier days when Roman matrons had been even more quiet and submissive. Paul appears to be respecting the culture of his time when he says, “Let your women keep silent in the churches” (1 Cor. 14:34).

The specific sort of quietness Paul intends is debated. It is doubtful that he calls for absolute silence of women in church, because he permitted prayer and prophecy under appropriate conditions (1 Cor. 11:4, 5). Suggestions as to what Paul was prohibiting women from doing include teaching Scripture or judging prophecy (14:29). But the only clue in his letter points to the asking of questions (14:35). Possibly Paul exhorted the women to ask their questions privately rather than publicly.

In ancient lecture settings, including Jewish teachers who expounded Torah, the Law, hearers learned more by asking questions than by simply listening. Yet, as Plutarch wrote in On Lectures, it was considered rude for the unlearned to ask questions because their questioning slowed everyone else down. Women were on the whole far less educated than men (although exceptions existed) and prone to ask less educated questions. An additional problem for a place like Corinth may have been the cultural impropriety of women asking questions in what was normally a male-dominated lecture setting.

What is striking in view of 1st-century culture is not Paul’s limitation of the Corinthian women but his concern for their learning. Only rarely did ancient writers exhort husbands to take an interest in their wives’ education (Greek men were on average more than a decade older than their wives). When writers did suggest instructing wives, they sometimes added words like, “For if left to themselves, women produce only base passion and folly.” Paul’s concern that husbands take an interest in their wives’ learning was among the more progressive voices of his day.

Prophecy and Tongues

14 <sup>1</sup>Pursue love, and desire spiritual gifts, but especially that you may prophesy. <sup>2</sup>For he who speaks in a tongue does not speak to men but to God, for no one understands him; however, in the spirit he speaks mysteries. <sup>3</sup>But he who prophesies speaks edification and exhortation and comfort to men. <sup>4</sup>He who speaks in a tongue edifies himself, but he who prophesies edifies the church. <sup>5</sup>I wish you all spoke with tongues, but even more that you prophesied; for<sup>a</sup> he who prophesies is greater than he who speaks with tongues, unless indeed he interprets, that the church may receive edification.

Tongues Must Be Interpreted

<sup>6</sup>But now, brethren, if I come to you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you unless I speak to you either by revelation, by knowledge, by prophesying, or by teaching? <sup>7</sup>Even things without life, whether flute or harp, when they make a sound, unless they make a distinction in the sounds, how will it be known what is piped or played? <sup>8</sup>For if the trumpet makes an uncertain sound, who will prepare for battle? <sup>9</sup>So likewise you, unless you utter by the tongue words easy to understand, how will it be known what is spoken? For you will be speaking into the air. <sup>10</sup>There are, it may be, so many kinds of languages in the world, and none of them is without significance. <sup>11</sup>Therefore, if I do not know the meaning of the language, I shall be a foreigner to him who speaks, and he who speaks will be a foreigner to me. <sup>12</sup>Even so you, since you are zealous for spiritual gifts, let it be for the edification of the church that you seek to excel.

<sup>13</sup>Therefore let him who speaks in a tongue pray that he may interpret. <sup>14</sup>For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prays, but my understanding is unfruitful. <sup>15</sup>What is the conclusion then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will also pray with the understanding. I will sing with the spirit, and I will also sing with the understanding. <sup>16</sup>Otherwise, if you bless with the spirit, how will he who occupies the place of the uninformed say “Amen” at your giving of thanks, since he does not understand what you say? <sup>17</sup>For you indeed give thanks well, but the other is not edified.

<sup>18</sup>I thank my God I speak with tongues more than you all; <sup>19</sup>yet in the church I would rather speak five words with my understanding, that I may teach others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

Tongues a Sign to Unbelievers

<sup>20</sup>Brethren, do not be children in understanding; however, in malice be babes, but in understanding be mature.

<sup>21</sup>In the law it is written:

“With men of other tongues and other lips
I will speak to this people;
And yet, for all that, they will not hear Me,”<sup>a</sup>

says the Lord.

<sup>22</sup>Therefore tongues are for a sign, not to those who believe but to unbelievers; but prophesying is not for unbelievers but for those who believe. <sup>23</sup>Therefore if the whole church comes together in one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those who are uninformed or unbelievers, will they not say that you are out of your mind? <sup>24</sup>But if all prophesy, and an unbeliever or an uninformed person comes in, he is convinced by all, he is convicted by all. <sup>25</sup>And thus<sup>a</sup> the secrets of his heart are revealed; and so, falling down on his face, he will worship God and report that God is truly among you.

Order in Church Meetings

<sup>26</sup>How is it then, brethren? Whenever you come together, each of you has a psalm, has a teaching, has a tongue, has a revelation, has an interpretation. Let all things be done for edification. <sup>27</sup>If anyone speaks in a tongue, let there be two or at the most three, each in turn, and let one interpret. <sup>28</sup>But if there is no interpreter, let him keep silent in church, and let him speak to himself and to God. <sup>29</sup>Let two or three prophets speak, and let the others judge. <sup>30</sup>But if anything is revealed to another who sits by, let the first keep silent. <sup>31</sup>For you can all prophesy one by one, that all may learn and all may be encouraged. <sup>32</sup>And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets. <sup>33</sup>For God is not the author of confusion but of peace, as in all the churches of the saints.

<sup>34</sup>Let your<sup>a</sup> women keep silent in the churches, for they are not permitted to speak; but they are to be submissive, as the law also says. <sup>35</sup>And if they want to learn something, let them ask their own husbands at home; for it is shameful for women to speak in church.

<sup>36</sup>Or did the word of God come originally from you? Or was it you only that it reached? <sup>37</sup>If anyone thinks himself to be a prophet or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things which I write to you are the commandments of the Lord. <sup>38</sup>But if anyone is ignorant, let him be ignorant. <sup>a</sup>

The Risen Christ, Faith's Reality

15 <sup>1</sup>Moreover, brethren, I declare to you the gospel which I preached to you, which also you received and in which you stand, <sup>2</sup>by which also you are saved, if you hold fast that word which I preached to you—unless you believed in vain.

<sup>3</sup>For I delivered to you first of all that which I also received: that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures, <sup>4</sup>and that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the Scriptures, <sup>5</sup>and that He was seen by Cephas, then by the twelve. <sup>6</sup>After that He was seen by over five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain to the present, but some have fallen asleep. <sup>7</sup>After that He was seen by James, then by all the apostles. <sup>8</sup>Then last of all He was seen by me also, as by one born out of due time.

<sup>9</sup>For I am the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. <sup>10</sup>But by the grace of God I am what I am, and His grace toward me was not in vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. <sup>11</sup>Therefore, whether it was I or they, so we preach and so you believed.

The Risen Christ, Our Hope

<sup>12</sup>Now if Christ is preached that He has been raised from the dead, how do some among you say that there is no resurrection of the dead? <sup>13</sup>But if there is no resurrection of the dead, then Christ is not risen. <sup>14</sup>And if Christ is not risen, then our preaching is empty and your faith is also empty. <sup>15</sup>Yes, and we are found false witnesses of God, because we have testified of God that He raised up Christ, whom He did not raise up—if in fact the dead do not rise. <sup>16</sup>For if the dead do not rise, then Christ is not risen. <sup>17</sup>And if Christ is not risen, your faith is futile; you are still in your sins! <sup>18</sup>Then also those who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. <sup>19</sup>If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men the most pitiable.

The Last Enemy Destroyed

<sup>20</sup>But now Christ is risen from the dead, and has become the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep. <sup>21</sup>For since by man came death, by Man also came the resurrection of the dead. <sup>22</sup>For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ all shall be made alive. <sup>23</sup>But each one in his own order: Christ the firstfruits, afterward those who are Christ's at His coming. <sup>24</sup>Then comes the end, when He delivers the kingdom to God the Father, when He puts an end to all rule and all authority and power. <sup>25</sup>For He must reign till He has put all enemies under His feet. <sup>26</sup>The last enemy that will

Culture & Society

Public contests to entertain people with the spectacle of death were extremely popular in the Roman world. Throughout the empire Romans built stadiums where professional gladiators, prisoners, and slaves fought wild animals and each other to the death for sport. Paul's figure of speech "fought with beasts" (1 Cor. 15:32) probably describes his human enemies as wild animals, not claiming that he actually fought in the arena.

14:38 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text reads if anyone does not recognize this, he is not recognized.

EVIDENCE FOR DATING NEW TESTAMENT EVENTS

A number of events recorded in the New Testament can be dated with reasonable certainty. The evidence that allows us to determine specific dates comes from a variety of sources.

EVENT	DATE	EVIDENCE SOURCE	NEW TESTAMENT CONNECTION	REFERENCE
Reign of Augustus Caesar	27 B.C.–A.D. 14	Roman history	Reigned during NT times	Luke 2:1
Death of Herod the Great	4 B.C.	An eclipse of the moon mentioned by Josephus	Jesus was born before Herod died	Matt. 2:19
15th year of Tiberius Caesar	A.D. 26 or 28	Possible definitions of when his rule began	Date is cited by Luke	Luke 3:1
Passover during Passion Week	A.D. 30 or 33	Astronomical calculation of the phases of the moon	Last Supper and crucifixion of Jesus	Luke 22:15; John 19:14
Death of Herod Agrippa I	A.D. 44	Josephus	Event is described in Acts	Acts 12:20–23
Famine	A.D. 44–48	Ancient writers	Famine relief sent from Antioch to Jerusalem	Acts 11:28–30
Edict of Claudius	A.D. 49	Orosius, writing in A.D. 416–417	Aquila and Priscilla left Rome for Corinth	Acts 18:1, 2; 1 Cor. 16:19

be destroyed is death. <sup>27</sup>For “He has put all things under His feet.” <sup>a</sup> But when He says “all things are put under Him,” it is evident that He who put all things under Him is excepted. <sup>28</sup>Now when all things are made subject to Him, then the Son Himself will also be subject to Him who put all things under Him, that God may be all in all.

Effects of Denying the Resurrection

<sup>29</sup>Otherwise, what will they do who are baptized for the dead, if the dead do not rise at all? Why then are they baptized for the dead? <sup>30</sup>And why do we stand in jeopardy every hour? <sup>31</sup>I affirm, by the boasting in you which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily. <sup>32</sup>If, in the manner of men, I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantage is it to me? If the dead do not rise, “Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!” <sup>a</sup>

A Glorious Body

<sup>35</sup>But someone will say, “How are the dead raised up? And with what body do they come?” <sup>36</sup>Foolish one, what you sow is not made alive unless it dies. <sup>37</sup>And what you sow, you do not sow that body that shall be, but mere grain—perhaps wheat or some other grain.<sup>38</sup> But God gives it a body as He pleases, and to each seed its own body.

<sup>40</sup>There are also celestial bodies and terrestrial bodies; but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. <sup>41</sup>There is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differs from another star in glory.

<sup>46</sup>However, the spiritual is not first, but the natural, and afterward the spiritual. <sup>47</sup>The first man was of the earth, made of dust; the second Man is the Lord<sup>a</sup> from heaven. <sup>48</sup>As was the man of dust, so also are those who are made of dust; and as is the heavenly Man, so also are those who are heavenly. <sup>49</sup>And as we have borne the image of the man of dust, we shall also bear<sup>a</sup> the image of the heavenly Man.

Our Final Victory

O Hades, where is your victory?<sup>b</sup>*”

<sup>56</sup>The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law. <sup>57</sup>But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

15:39 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text omit of flesh. 15:45 <sup>a</sup>Genesis 2:7

<sup>58</sup>Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your labor is not in vain in the Lord.

Paul's Future Plans

As is typical of his letters, Paul concluded with final instructions and greetings. He also related future plans for himself and his missionary companions, which included receiving the Corinthians' gift for Jerusalem (1 Cor. 16:1–3). Paul had organized a collection from the Gentile churches to help the poor believers in Jerusalem. The collection was widespread, being contributed by churches from at least Galatia, Macedonia, and Achaia (see Rom. 15:26, 27; 2 Cor. 9:1, 2).

Future plans also included a visit of Paul to Corinth. He would continue his ministry in Ephesus until the Day of Pentecost (16:8), in late spring of A.D. 55. His original plans had been to travel at that time from Ephesus straight to Corinth, and he was apparently criticized for deciding to pass through Macedonia first (16:5, 6; 2 Cor. 1:15–17). From Ephesus Paul did send Timothy to Macedonia along with Erastus, the commissioner of public works for Corinth (Acts 19:22; Rom. 16:23). That trip probably included Timothy's visit to the Corinthian church (1 Cor. 4:17; 16:10).

Collection for the Saints

16 :1 Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given orders to the churches of Galatia, so you must do also: <sup>2</sup>On the first day of the week let each one of you lay something aside, storing up as he may prosper, that there be no collections when I come. <sup>3</sup>And when I come, whomever you approve by your letters I will send to bear your gift to Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>But if it is fitting that I go also, they will go with me.

Personal Plans

<sup>5</sup>Now I will come to you when I pass through Macedonia (for I am passing through Macedonia). <sup>6</sup>And it may be that I will remain, or even spend the winter with you, that you may send me on my journey, wherever I go. <sup>7</sup>For I do not wish to see you now on the way; but I hope to stay a while with you, if the Lord permits.

<sup>8</sup>But I will tarry in Ephesus until Pentecost. <sup>9</sup>For a great and effective door has opened to me, and there are many adversaries.

<sup>10</sup>And if Timothy comes, see that he may be with you without fear; for he does the work of the Lord, as I also do.<sup>11</sup> Therefore let no one despise him. But send him on his journey in peace, that he may come to me; for I am waiting for him with the brethren.

<sup>12</sup> Now concerning our brother Apollos, I strongly urged him to come to you with the brethren, but he was quite unwilling to come at this time; however, he will come when he has a convenient time.

Final Exhortations

<sup>15</sup> I urge you, brethren—you know the household of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have devoted themselves to the ministry of the saints—<sup>16</sup> that you also submit to such, and to everyone who works and labors with us.

<sup>17</sup> I am glad about the coming of Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus, for what was lacking on your part they supplied. <sup>18</sup> For they refreshed my spirit and yours. Therefore acknowledge such men.

Greetings and a Solemn Farewell

Commotion in Ephesus

Paul’s work in Ephesus during his third missionary journey (C.A.D. 54) began to turn the allegiance of some from paganism to Christ. When the success of the gospel threatened the trade of silversmiths in Ephesus, money motivated an attack against Paul. A civil disturbance was instigated by Demetrius, a silversmith who manufactured devotional shrines for the worship of Diana (the Greek goddess Artemis).

“Diana of the Ephesians” (Acts 19:34) was the mother goddess of Asia. Her temple in Ephesus was one of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world, and people came from all parts of the Roman world to worship her. A legend told of an “image which fell down from Zeus” that was kept in Diana’s temple (19:35). The “image” may have been a meteorite similar to others that were venerated at various places in the ancient world, most notably the “image of the Great Mother” brought to Rome from Pessinus.

The Riot at Ephesus

19:23 And about that time there arose a great commotion about the Way. <sup>24</sup> For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Diana,<sup>a</sup> brought no small profit to the craftsmen. <sup>25</sup> He called them together with the workers of similar occupation, and said: “Men, you know that we have our prosperity by this trade. <sup>26</sup> Moreover you see and hear that not only at Ephesus, but throughout almost all Asia, this Paul has persuaded and turned away many people, saying that they are not gods which are made with hands. <sup>27</sup> So not only is this trade of ours in danger of falling into disrepute, but also the temple of the great goddess Diana may be despised and her magnificence destroyed,<sup>a</sup> whom all Asia and the world worship.”

<sup>28</sup> Now when they heard this, they were full of wrath and cried out, saying, “Great is Diana of the Ephesians!” <sup>29</sup> So the whole city was filled with confusion, and rushed into the theater with one accord, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, Macedonians, Paul’s travel companions. <sup>30</sup> And when Paul wanted to go in to the people, the disciples would not allow him. <sup>31</sup> Then some of the officials of Asia, who were his friends, sent to him pleading that he would not venture into the theater. <sup>32</sup> Some therefore cried one thing and some another, for the assembly was confused, and most of them did not know why they had come together. <sup>33</sup> And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander motioned with his hand, and wanted to make his defense to the people. <sup>34</sup> But when they found out that he was a Jew, all with one voice cried out for about two hours, “Great is Diana of the Ephesians!”

<sup>35</sup> And when the city clerk had quieted the crowd, he said: “Men of Ephesus, what man is there who does not know that the city of the Ephesians is temple guardian of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Zeus? <sup>36</sup> Therefore, since these things cannot be denied, you ought to be quiet and do nothing rashly. <sup>37</sup> For you have brought these men here who are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of your<sup>a</sup>

PAUL VERSUS THE GODDESS DIANA (ACTS 19:24–28)

The Ephesian silversmith Demetrius incited a riot against Paul for preaching in Ephesus that gods “made with hands” are not really gods (Acts 19:26). Ephesus had as many as a quarter million inhabitants, making it the largest city in the province of Asia. Its size was reason enough for Paul to found a church in Ephesus, but another significant factor was religion: Ephesus was the cult center for the worship of Artemis or Diana.

Artemis was a very popular Greek goddess. In Greek religion she was the virgin goddess of the hunt and the moon, and the daughter of the Greek god Zeus. In Roman religion she was identified as the goddess Diana.

Part of what made Artemis important to Ephesus was her temple. It was the largest temple in Asia Minor (modern Turkey). The top of the platform it was built on (that would be the floor of the temple) was 168 feet, 9 inches wide by 365 feet, 9 inches long. The columns were 6 feet in diameter and almost 58 feet tall. By comparison, the floor of the Parthenon at Athens was only about two-thirds the size of the temple at Ephesus, and the Parthenon’s columns were only a little more than 34 feet high.

The temple of Artemis was one of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world. Its size and magnificence made it an attraction for tourists and pilgrims. For Ephesus, it was a place for worship, but also a treasury and a storehouse.

Paul took on a sizeable opponent in Diana or Artemis. She had become the guardian deity of Ephesus. She influenced the politics, culture, and economy of the city. The people of Ephesus were prepared to defend Artemis against any who would threaten her, and Paul’s gospel threatened to destroy the profit of the craftsmen who made silver shrines of the goddess.

goddess.<sup>38</sup>Therefore, if Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen have a case against anyone, the courts are open and there are proconsuls. Let them bring charges against one another.<sup>39</sup>But if you have any other inquiry to make, it shall be determined in the lawful assembly.<sup>40</sup>For we are in danger of being called in question for today’s uproar, there being no reason which we may give to account for this disorderly gathering.<sup>41</sup>And when he had said these things, he dismissed the assembly.

The Second Letter to the Corinthians

The letter of 2 Corinthians was written perhaps 6 months to a year after Paul wrote 1 Corinthians, possibly in A.D. 55 at the end of his long ministry in Ephesus (Acts 20:31). The Corinthian church required Paul’s continual care. Shortly after his founding mission in Corinth, he sent a letter instructing the church “not to keep company with sexually immoral people” (1 Cor. 5:9). Later, a delegation from Corinth came to Ephesus asking for Paul’s guidance; they returned, possibly carrying the letter of 1 Corinthians with them (1 Cor. 16:17–19). Timothy visited Corinth (1 Cor. 4:17; 16:10, 11) and probably returned to Paul in Ephesus with news of opposition to Paul and continued division in the church.

Such unchristian practices in Corinth required correction. Paul made a “sorrowful” visit (2 Cor. 1:23–2:1), which did not resolve these problems. He then sent a “severe” letter delivered to the Corinthians by Titus (2 Cor. 2:3–5). When finally Paul was reconciled to the church, he wrote to them both to celebrate their restored relationship and to have them prepare for yet another visit (2 Cor. 1:13–16).

Scholars disagree over whether 2 Corinthians is a single letter, or was compiled from several shorter letters. Some think there were four letters: Paul’s “earlier” letter (1 Cor. 5:9); 1 Corinthians; the “severe” letter (2 Cor. 2:3); and 2 Corinthians. In this case, 1 Corinthians would have been the second letter Paul wrote to the Corinthian church; and 2 Corinthians, at least the fourth. Thus, one option is to accept that 2 Corinthians was originally written as it now appears in the New Testament, and suppose that the “earlier” letter against sexual immorality and the “severe” letter have been lost.

An alternative is to suppose that the “earlier” letter, warning against sexual immorality, is part of 2 Corinthians (see “Paul’s Authority and Epistle” at 1 Cor. 5:1). Similarly, the four final chapters (2 Cor. 10–13) are considered to be the so-called “severe” letter, the letter written “out of much affliction and anguish” (2 Cor. 2:4). Those favoring this option point to a marked contrast: the positive relationship between Paul and the Corinthians evidenced in the early chapters of 2 Corinthians versus Paul’s harsh attacks on some in Corinth in 2 Cor. 10–13.

2 Corinthians

Greeting

1 :1 Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

To the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints who are in all Achaia:

Comfort in Suffering

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, <sup>4</sup>who comforts us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort those who are in any trouble, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. <sup>5</sup>For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also abounds through Christ. <sup>6</sup>Now if we are afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effective for enduring the same sufferings which we also suffer. Or if we are comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation. <sup>7</sup>And our hope for you is steadfast, because we know that as you are partakers of the sufferings, so also you will partake of the consolation.

Delivered from Suffering

<sup>8</sup>For we do not want you to be ignorant, brethren, of our trouble which came to us in Asia: that we were burdened beyond measure, above strength, so that we despaired even of life. <sup>9</sup>Yes, we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves but in God who raises the dead, <sup>10</sup>who delivered us from so great a death, and does<sup>a</sup> deliver us; in whom we trust that He will still deliver us, <sup>11</sup>you also helping together in prayer for us, that thanks may be given by many persons on our<sup>a</sup> behalf for the gift granted to us through many.

Paul's Sincerity

<sup>12</sup>For our boasting is this: the testimony of our conscience that we conducted ourselves in the world in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom but by the grace of God, and more abundantly toward you. <sup>13</sup>For we are not writing any other things to you than what you read or understand. Now I trust you will understand, even to the end <sup>14</sup>(as also you have understood us in part), that we are your boast as you also are ours, in the day of the Lord Jesus.

Sparing the Church

<sup>15</sup>And in this confidence I intended to come to you before, that you might have a second benefit— <sup>16</sup>to pass by way of you to Macedonia, to come again from Macedonia to you, and be helped by you on my way to Judea. <sup>17</sup>Therefore, when I was planning this, did I do it lightly? Or the things I plan, do I plan according to the flesh, that with me there should be Yes, Yes, and No, No? <sup>18</sup>But as God is faithful, our word to you was not Yes and No. <sup>19</sup>For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us—by me, Silvanus, and Timothy—was not Yes and No, but in Him was Yes. <sup>20</sup>For all the promises of God in Him are Yes, and in Him Amen, to the glory of God through us. <sup>21</sup>Now He who establishes us with you in Christ and has anointed us is God, <sup>22</sup>who also has sealed us and given us the Spirit in our hearts as a guarantee.

<sup>23</sup>Moreover I call God as witness against my soul, that to spare you I came no more to Corinth. <sup>24</sup>Not that we have dominion over your faith, but are fellow workers for your joy; for by faith you stand.

2 <sup>1</sup>But I determined this within myself, that I would not come again to you in sorrow. <sup>2</sup>For if I make you sorrowful, then who is he who makes me glad but the one who is made sorrowful by me?

Forgive the Offender

<sup>3</sup>And I wrote this very thing to you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow over those from whom I ought to have joy, having confidence in you all that my joy is the joy of you all. <sup>4</sup>For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote to you, with many tears, not that you should be grieved, but that you might know the love which I have so abundantly for you.

<sup>5</sup>But if anyone has caused grief, he has not grieved me, but all of you to some extent—not to be too severe. <sup>6</sup>This punishment which was inflicted by the majority is sufficient for such a man, <sup>7</sup>so that, on the contrary, you ought rather to forgive and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one be swallowed up with too much sorrow. <sup>8</sup>Therefore I urge you to reaffirm your love to him. <sup>9</sup>For to this end I also wrote, that I might put you to the test, whether you are obedient in all things. <sup>10</sup>Now whom you forgive anything, I also forgive. For if indeed I have forgiven anything, I have forgiven that one<sup>a</sup> for your sakes in the presence of Christ, <sup>11</sup>lest Satan should take advantage of us; for we are not ignorant of his devices.

Architecture & Building

The Greek goddess Artemis was Diana to the Romans (Acts 19:34). Her temple at Ephesus was one of the largest Greek temples, with columns 58 feet high standing on a platform 169 by 366 feet.

Surviving copies of the statue of Diana of Ephesus are decorated with what appear to be numerous breasts, but which also could represent grapes, olives, or eggs.

TRANSITION

Paul Seeks a Report from Titus

Instead of leaving Ephesus and visiting Corinth on the way to Macedonia, Paul went to Troas (see 2 Cor. 1:8, 16). Having previously sent Titus to Corinth with the letter commanding punishment of the offender

(2:3–8), Paul was anxious to meet Titus in Troas to receive word from Corinth. Not finding him there, Paul left Troas for Macedonia, possibly to meet Titus as he returned.

It seems strange that in ch. 7 Paul returns to discussing his and Titus's travels without any renewed introduction (7:5–16). That sudden change of topic to Paul's travel plans and his sending of Titus to Corinth might suggest that the portion of 2 Corinthians in 2:14–7:4 is part of another letter, and was inserted (after 2:13) by a later editor who compiled 2 Corinthians as it now appears in the New Testament. This brief letter (2:14–7:4), describing Paul's view of an apostle's ministry, would have been written between his writing of 1 Corinthians and his "sorrowful visit" to Corinth (see "The Second Letter to the Corinthians" at 2 Cor. 1:1).

2 Corinthians

Triumph in Christ

2:12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened to me by the Lord, <sup>13</sup>I had no rest in my spirit, because I did not find Titus my brother; but taking my leave of them, I departed for Macedonia.

<sup>14</sup>Now thanks be to God who always leads us in triumph in Christ, and through us diffuses the fragrance of His knowledge in every place. <sup>15</sup>For we are to God the fragrance of Christ among those who are being saved and among those who are perishing. <sup>16</sup>To the one we are the aroma of death leading to death, and to the other the aroma of life leading to life. And who is sufficient for these things? <sup>17</sup>For we are not, as so many,<sup>a</sup> peddling the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as from God, we speak in the sight of God in Christ.

Christ's Epistle

3 <sup>1</sup>Do we begin again to commend ourselves? Or do we need, as some others, epistles of commendation to you or letters of commendation from you? <sup>2</sup>You are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read by all men; <sup>3</sup>clearly you are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink but by the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of flesh, that is, of the heart.

The Spirit, Not the Letter

<sup>4</sup>And we have such trust through Christ toward God. <sup>5</sup>Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think of anything as being from ourselves, but our sufficiency is from God, <sup>6</sup>who also made us sufficient as ministers of the new covenant, not of the letter but of the Spirit;<sup>a</sup> for the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.

Glory of the New Covenant

<sup>7</sup>But if the ministry of death, written and engraved on stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not look steadily at the face of Moses because of the glory of his countenance, which glory was passing away, <sup>8</sup>how will the ministry of the Spirit not be more glorious? <sup>9</sup>For if the ministry of condemnation had glory, the ministry of righteousness exceeds much more in glory. <sup>10</sup>For even what was made glorious had no glory in this respect, because of the glory that excels. <sup>11</sup>For if what is passing away was glorious, what remains is much more glorious.

<sup>12</sup>Therefore, since we have such hope, we use great boldness of speech— <sup>13</sup>unlike Moses, who put a veil over his face so that the children of Israel could not look steadily at the end of what was passing away. <sup>14</sup>But their minds were blinded. For until this day the same veil remains unlifted in the reading of the Old Testament, because the veil is taken away in Christ. <sup>15</sup>But even to this day, when Moses is read, a veil lies on their heart. <sup>16</sup>Nevertheless when one turns to the Lord, the veil is taken away. <sup>17</sup>Now the Lord is the Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. <sup>18</sup>But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, just as by the Spirit of the Lord.

The Light of Christ's Gospel

4 <sup>1</sup>Therefore, since we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we do not lose heart. <sup>2</sup>But we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup>But even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing, <sup>4</sup>whose minds the god of this age has blinded, who do not believe, lest the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine on them. <sup>5</sup>For we do not

Politics & Government

The triumph was a tradition of the Roman state. A general who had won an important victory in war was entitled to ride in a splendid chariot with his troops marching fully armed, leading prisoners and booty captured in the fighting. During the celebration, which could last several days, important prisoners were executed. Paul pictured the spread of the gospel as a parade of victory (2 Cor. 2:14).

LETTERS OF COMMENDATION (2 COR. 3:1–3)

Western culture has a long history of personal references. Without phones or faxes, the typical recommendations in the Greco-Roman world took the form of letters. The writer of the letter often requested, on the basis of his or her previous relationship with the recipient, that the recipient welcome, provide hospitality for, and cooperate with the person being commended.

Usually the commended person also delivered the letter. The writer, who was well known to and respected by the letter's recipient, would thus presuppose a face-to-face encounter between the one he was commending and the recipient. Someone who lacked a letter of commendation could appear to be a vagrant out to take advantage of the hospitality of others.

The letters could be quite short. After an initial greeting, the sender would identify the commended person, providing a brief background introduction. A specific request and the purpose of the recommendation was followed by a statement of appreciation. In closing, the sender would often provide a "blessing," a wish for the well-being of the recipient.

Early Christians wrote these letters to form a support network among the widely dispersed churches. One group of "brethren" wrote a letter of commendation for the Alexandrian Jewish Christian named Apollos, "exhorting the disciples to receive him" (Acts 18:27). The apostle Paul recommended Epaphroditus to the Philippian church, including a commendation within his broader letter (Phil. 2:25–30).

Paul saw no need to provide "letters of commendation" on his behalf to the church at Corinth (2 Cor. 3:1). Recommendations served to introduce strangers who lacked credibility. Paul, on the other hand, had started the Corinthian church—he was, in a sense, their Christian father (see 1 Cor. 4:15).

Nor did Paul need commendation from the Corinthian believers themselves. Their own lives authenticated his mission, proving his apostolic authority better than any letter could. They were a commendation "written not with ink but by the Spirit of the living God" (2 Cor. 3:3). What better commendation could one get!

preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord, and ourselves your bondservants for Jesus' sake. <sup>6</sup>For it is the God who commanded light to shine out of darkness, who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

Cast Down but Unconquered

<sup>7</sup>But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellence of the power may be of God and not of us. <sup>8</sup>We are hard-pressed on every side, yet not crushed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; <sup>9</sup>persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed—<sup>10</sup>always carrying about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our body. <sup>11</sup>For we who live are always delivered to death for Jesus' sake, that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our mortal flesh. <sup>12</sup>So then death is working in us, but life in you.

<sup>13</sup>And since we have the same spirit of faith, according to what is written, "I believed and therefore I spoke," <sup>a</sup> we also believe and therefore speak, <sup>14</sup>knowing that He who raised up the Lord

Jesus will also raise us up with Jesus, and will present us with you. <sup>15</sup>For all things are for your sakes, that grace, having spread through the many, may cause thanksgiving to abound to the glory of God.

Seeing the Invisible

<sup>16</sup>Therefore we do not lose heart. Even though our outward man is perishing, yet the inward man is being renewed day by day. <sup>17</sup>For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, is working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory, <sup>18</sup>while we do not look at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen. For the things which are seen are temporary, but the things which are not seen are eternal.

Assurance of the Resurrection

5 <sup>1</sup>For we know that if our earthly house, this tent, is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. <sup>2</sup>For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed with our habitation which is from heaven, <sup>3</sup>if indeed, having been clothed, we shall not be found naked. <sup>4</sup>For we who are in this tent groan, being burdened, not because we want to be unclothed, but further clothed, that mortality may be swallowed up by life. <sup>5</sup>Now He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who also has given us the Spirit as a guarantee.

<sup>6</sup>So we are always confident, knowing that while we are at home in the body we are absent from the Lord. <sup>7</sup>For we walk by faith, not by

Science & Technology

"Earthen vessels" (2 Cor. 4:7) were manufactured from clay and hardened by fire. In its natural state, clay was seldom fit for use in making pottery. Several stages of preparation included mixing the clay with water, adding straw, sand, shells, or pulverized potsherds to it, and kneading it with the hands or feet to remove air bubbles. Paul emphasized the weakness of our humanity by comparing Christians to common clay pots.

sight. <sup>8</sup>We are confident, yes, well pleased rather to be absent from the body and to be present with the Lord.

The Judgment Seat of Christ

<sup>9</sup>Therefore we make it our aim, whether present or absent, to be well pleasing to Him. <sup>10</sup>For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad. <sup>11</sup>Knowing, therefore, the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are well known to God, and I also trust are well known in your consciences.

Be Reconciled to God

<sup>12</sup>For we do not commend ourselves again to you, but give you opportunity to boast on our behalf, that you may have an answer for those who boast in appearance and not in heart. <sup>13</sup>For if we are beside ourselves, it is for God; or if we are of sound mind, it is for you. <sup>14</sup>For the love of Christ compels us, because we judge thus: that if One died for all, then all died; <sup>15</sup>and He died for all, that those who live should live no longer for themselves, but for Him who died for them and rose again.

<sup>16</sup>Therefore, from now on, we regard no one according to the flesh. Even though we have known Christ according to the flesh, yet now we know Him thus no longer. <sup>17</sup>Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new. <sup>18</sup>Now all things are of God, who has reconciled us to Himself through Jesus Christ, and has given us the ministry of reconciliation, <sup>19</sup>that is, that God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not imputing their trespasses to them, and has committed to us the word of reconciliation.

<sup>20</sup>Now then, we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God were pleading through us: we implore you on Christ's behalf, be reconciled to God. <sup>21</sup>For He made Him who knew no sin to be sin for us, that we might become the righteousness of God in Him.

Marks of the Ministry

6 <sup>1</sup>We then, as workers together with Him also plead with you not to receive the grace of God in vain. <sup>2</sup>For He says:

*"In an acceptable time I have heard you,
And in the day of salvation I have helped you."* <sup>a</sup>

Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.

Be Holy

<sup>11</sup>O Corinthians! We have spoken openly to you, our heart is wide open. <sup>12</sup>You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted by your own affections. <sup>13</sup>Now in return for the same (I speak as to children), you also be open.

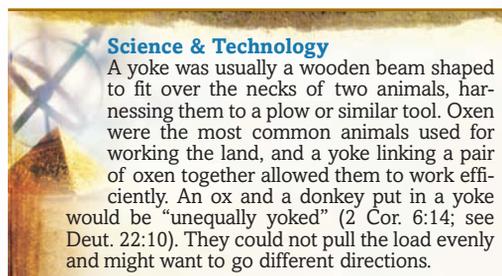

<sup>14</sup>Do not be unequally yoked together with unbelievers. For what fellowship has righteousness with lawlessness? And what communion has light with darkness? <sup>15</sup>And what accord has Christ with Belial? Or what part has a believer with an unbeliever? <sup>16</sup>And what agreement has the temple of God with idols? For you<sup>a</sup> are the temple of the living God. As God has said:

*"I will dwell in them
And walk among them.
I will be their God,
And they shall be My people."* <sup>b</sup>

*"Come out from among them
And be separate, says the Lord.
Do not touch what is unclean,
And I will receive you."* <sup>a</sup>

Science & Technology

A yoke was usually a wooden beam shaped to fit over the necks of two animals, harnessing them to a plow or similar tool. Oxen were the most common animals used for working the land, and a yoke linking a pair of oxen together allowed them to work efficiently. An ox and a donkey put in a yoke would be "unequally yoked" (2 Cor. 6:14; see Deut. 22:10). They could not pull the load evenly and might want to go different directions.

Says the LORD Almighty.”<sup>a</sup>*

7<sup>1</sup>Therefore, having these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

The Corinthians' Repentance

<sup>2</sup>Open your hearts to us. We have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, we have cheated no one. <sup>3</sup>I do not say this to condemn; for I have said before that you are in our hearts, to die together and to live together. <sup>4</sup>Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my boasting on your behalf. I am filled with comfort. I am exceedingly joyful in all our tribulation.

<sup>5</sup>For indeed, when we came to Macedonia, our bodies had no rest, but we were troubled on every side. Outside were conflicts, inside were fears. <sup>6</sup>Nevertheless God, who comforts the downcast, comforted us by the coming of Titus, <sup>7</sup>and not only by his coming, but also by the consolation with which he was comforted in you, when he told us of your earnest desire, your mourning, your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced even more.

<sup>8</sup>For even if I made you sorry with my letter, I do not regret it; though I did regret it. For I perceive that the same epistle made you sorry, though only for a while. <sup>9</sup>Now I rejoice, not that you were made sorry, but that your sorrow led to repentance. For you were made sorry in a godly manner, that you might suffer loss from us in nothing. <sup>10</sup>For godly sorrow produces repentance leading to salvation, not to be regretted; but the sorrow of the world produces death. <sup>11</sup>For observe this very thing, that you sorrowed in a godly manner: What diligence it produced in you, what clearing of yourselves, what indignation, what fear, what vehement desire, what zeal, what vindication! In all things you proved yourselves to be clear in this matter. <sup>12</sup>Therefore, although I wrote to you, I did not do it for the sake of him who had done the wrong, nor for the sake of him who suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear to you.

The Joy of Titus

<sup>13</sup>Therefore we have been comforted in your comfort. And we rejoiced exceedingly more for the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all. <sup>14</sup>For if in anything I have boasted to him about you, I am not ashamed. But as we spoke all things to you in truth, even so our boasting to Titus was found true. <sup>15</sup>And his affections are greater for you as he remembers the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling you received him. <sup>16</sup>Therefore I rejoice that I have confidence in you in everything.

TRANSITION

The Offering for Jerusalem's Christians

On his third missionary journey Paul raised an offering to relieve the poverty of the Christians in Jerusalem and to demonstrate the unity of the Jewish and Gentile churches (see 1 Cor. 16:1–4; Rom. 15:25–28). Corinth was in Achaia, just south of Macedonia from which Paul was writing. The Christians in Corinth, a great commercial center, were better off financially than those in Macedonia and Jerusalem, yet Paul encouraged the Corinthians to participate in this offering by praising the generosity of the Macedonians (2 Cor. 8:1–4).

The apparent repetition of instructions regarding the offering (compare 8:1–6 with 9:1–5) suggests that 2 Cor. 9 may be part of a brief letter that Paul wrote to the Corinthians just in advance of his third and final visit with them. If so, a previous letter, written after the tensions between Paul and the Corinthians had been relieved, could have consisted of 2 Cor. 1:3–2:13 and 7:5–8:24. See “The Second Letter to the Corinthians” at 2 Cor. 1:1.

8:1 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia: <sup>2</sup>that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded in the riches of their liberality. <sup>3</sup>For I bear witness that according to their ability, yes, and beyond their ability, they were

PAUL'S COLLECTION FOR JERUSALEM (2 COR. 8:16–24)

Paul's letters addressed the specific issues that arose within the congregations he had planted. One issue, however, that Paul consistently addressed was of his own making: a financial offering for the church in Jerusalem.

This collection for the Jerusalem church seems to have originated at the so-called "Jerusalem Council" (Acts 15; Gal. 2:1–10). While the apostles and elders of the council agreed that Paul could pursue his mission to the Gentiles, they asked that he "remember the poor" (Gal. 2:10), indirectly referring to an offering for the Jerusalem church. The collection, therefore, stood at the very foundation of Paul's missionary work.

The offering remained a cornerstone in Paul's ministry. He mentioned the collection in writing to churches at Corinth (1 Cor. 16:1–4) and at Rome (Rom. 15:25–27). He praised churches in Macedonia and Achaia for their generosity in giving (Rom. 15:26; 2 Cor. 8:1–4).

Why would Jerusalem ask for such an offering, and why would Paul keep the offering central to his mission among the Gentiles, the non-Jews? Possibly because he saw his ministry as fulfilling the promises of the Jewish Scriptures, the Old Testament. In the resurrection of Jesus Christ, as Paul believed, the end time had already begun, and through Jesus, God had begun to fulfill the end time promises found in the Scriptures. Among these eschatological promises, especially those in the Book of Isaiah, Jerusalem bore special prominence. Isaiah looks toward a new age centered in Jerusalem, where God unites both Jew and Gentile in worship to Him (Is. 66:18–21).

No wonder the collection was central to Paul's mission; it was Paul's mission. The offering brought the wealth of the Gentiles to Jerusalem, signaling the fulfillment of God's plan for Israel through Jesus. Paul finally returned to Jerusalem with the offering and delivered it to the church there around A.D. 57 (Acts 21:15–17; 24:17).

freely willing, <sup>4</sup>imploring us with much urgency that we would receive<sup>a</sup> the gift and the fellowship of the ministering to the saints. <sup>5</sup>And not only as we had hoped, but they first gave themselves to the Lord, and then to us by the will of God. <sup>6</sup>So we urged Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also complete this grace in you as well. <sup>7</sup>But as you abound in everything—in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in all diligence, and in your love for us—see that you abound in this grace also.

Christ Our Pattern

<sup>8</sup>I speak not by commandment, but I am testing the sincerity of your love by the diligence of others. <sup>9</sup>For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor, that you through His poverty might become rich.

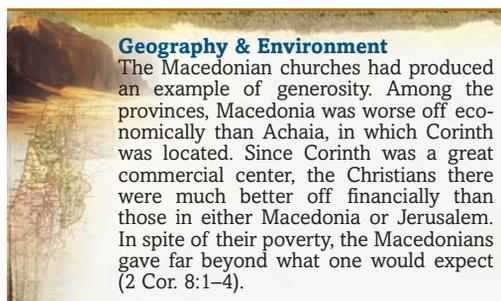

<sup>10</sup>And in this I give advice: It is to your advantage not only to be doing what you began and were desiring to do a year ago; <sup>11</sup>but now you also must complete the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to desire it, so there also may be a completion out of what you have. <sup>12</sup>For if there is first a willing mind, it is accepted according to what one has, and not according to what he does not have.

<sup>13</sup>For I do not mean that others should be eased and you burdened; <sup>14</sup>but by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may supply their lack, that their abundance also may supply your lack—that there may be equality. <sup>15</sup>As it is written, "He who gathered much had nothing left over, and he who gathered little had no lack."<sup>a</sup>

Collection for the Judean Saints

<sup>16</sup>But thanks be to God who puts<sup>a</sup> the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. <sup>17</sup>For he not only accepted the exhortation, but being more diligent, he went to you of his own accord. <sup>18</sup>And we have sent with him the brother whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches, <sup>19</sup>and not only that, but who was also chosen by the churches to travel with us with this gift, which is administered by us to the glory of the Lord Himself and to show your ready mind, <sup>20</sup>avoiding this: that anyone should blame us in this lavish gift which is administered by us—<sup>21</sup>providing honorable things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

<sup>22</sup>And we have sent with them our brother whom we have often proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, because of the great confidence which we have in you. <sup>23</sup>If anyone inquires about Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker concerning you. Or if our brethren are inquired about, they are messengers of the churches, the glory of Christ. <sup>24</sup>Therefore show to them, and<sup>a</sup> before the churches, the proof of your love and of our boasting on your behalf.

Geography & Environment

The Macedonian churches had produced an example of generosity. Among the provinces, Macedonia was worse off economically than Achaia, in which Corinth was located. Since Corinth was a great commercial center, the Christians there were much better off financially than those in either Macedonia or Jerusalem. In spite of their poverty, the Macedonians gave far beyond what one would expect (2 Cor. 8:1–4).

Administering the Gift

9<sup>1</sup>Now concerning the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you; <sup>2</sup>for I know your willingness, about which I boast of you to the Macedonians, that Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal has stirred up the majority. <sup>3</sup>Yet I have sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this respect, that, as I said, you may be ready; <sup>4</sup>lest if some Macedonians come with me and find you unprepared, we (not to mention you!) should be ashamed of this confident boasting.<sup>a</sup> <sup>5</sup>Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren to go to you ahead of time, and prepare your generous gift beforehand, which you had previously promised, that it may be ready as a matter of generosity and not as a grudging obligation.

The Cheerful Giver

<sup>6</sup>But this I say: He who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and he who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. <sup>7</sup>So let each one give as he purposes in his heart, not grudgingly or of necessity; for God loves a cheerful giver. <sup>8</sup>And God is able to make all grace abound toward you, that you, always having all sufficiency in all things, may have an abundance for every good work. <sup>9</sup>As it is written:

*“He has dispersed abroad,
He has given to the poor;
His righteousness endures forever.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>10</sup>Now may<sup>a</sup> He who supplies seed to the sower, and bread for food, supply and multiply the seed you have sown and increase the fruits of your righteousness, <sup>11</sup>while you are enriched in everything for all liberality, which causes thanksgiving through us to God. <sup>12</sup>For the administration of this service not only supplies the needs of the saints, but also is abounding through many thanksgivings to God, <sup>13</sup>while, through the proof of this ministry, they glorify God for the obedience of your confession to the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal sharing with them and all men, <sup>14</sup>and by their prayer for you, who long for you because of the exceeding grace of God in you. <sup>15</sup>Thanks be to God for His indescribable gift!

Paul's Third Visit to Corinth

In the final chapters of 2 Corinthians Paul defends himself against false teachers who had come to Corinth and claimed authority greater than his. They mistook the “gentleness of Christ” (2 Cor. 10:1) in Paul’s life for weakness, claiming that he was braver in his letters than he would be in a face-to-face encounter (10:10). In response Paul argues that the authority they claim is based on comparing themselves with each other and not on having the commendation of God (10:18).

Paul wrote this defense of his apostolic authority in advance of his third visit to Corinth (12:14; 13:1), and thus after his “sorrowful” visit (see 1:23—2:1). Paul’s uncharacteristic personal boasts (12:1) and his harsh condemnations of his opponents are in stark contrast to his warm regard for the Corinthians in other parts of 2 Corinthians (see 7:8–11, 16). Possibly these chapters were written soon after the “sorrowful” visit while emotions were still high on both sides, whereas the earlier chapters were written later once Paul and the Corinthians had been reconciled (see “The Offering for Jerusalem’s Christians” at 2 Cor. 8:1).

Still, 2 Corinthians could have been written by Paul as it now appears in the New Testament. The apostle could have made reconciliation with some of the Corinthians while yet dealing with other opponents in the church.

The Spiritual War

10<sup>1</sup> Now I, Paul, myself am pleading with you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ—who in presence am lowly among you, but being absent am bold toward you. <sup>2</sup>But I beg you that when I am present I may not be bold with that confidence by which I intend to be bold against some, who think of us as if we walked according to the flesh. <sup>3</sup>For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh. <sup>4</sup>For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds, <sup>5</sup>casting down arguments and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ, <sup>6</sup>and being ready to punish all disobedience when your obedience is fulfilled.

Reality of Paul's Authority

<sup>7</sup>Do you look at things according to the outward appearance? If anyone is convinced in himself that he is Christ's, let him again consider this in himself, that just as he is Christ's, even so we are Christ's.<sup>a</sup> <sup>8</sup>For even if I should boast somewhat more about our authority, which the Lord gave us<sup>a</sup> for edification and not for your destruction, I shall not be ashamed—<sup>9</sup>lest I seem to terrify you by letters. <sup>10</sup>“For his letters,” they say, “are weighty and powerful, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.” <sup>11</sup>Let such a person consider this, that what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such we will also be in deed when we are present.

Limits of Paul's Authority

<sup>12</sup>For we dare not class ourselves or compare ourselves with those who commend themselves. But they, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise. <sup>13</sup>We, however, will not boast beyond measure, but within the limits of the sphere which God appointed us—a sphere which especially includes you. <sup>14</sup>For we are not overextending ourselves (as though our authority did not extend to you), for it was to you that we came with the gospel of Christ; <sup>15</sup>not boasting of things beyond measure, that is, in other men's labors, but having hope, that as your faith is increased, we shall be greatly enlarged by you in our sphere, <sup>16</sup>to preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's sphere of accomplishment.

Concern for Their Faithfulness

11 <sup>1</sup>Oh, that you would bear with me in a little folly—and indeed you do bear with me. <sup>2</sup>For I am jealous for you with godly jealousy. For I have betrothed you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ. <sup>3</sup>But I fear, lest somehow, as the serpent deceived Eve by his craftiness, so your minds may be corrupted from the simplicity<sup>a</sup> that is in Christ. <sup>4</sup>For if he who comes preaches another Jesus whom we have not preached, or if you receive a different spirit which you have not received, or a different gospel which you have not accepted—you may well put up with it!

Paul and False Apostles

<sup>5</sup>For I consider that I am not at all inferior to the most eminent apostles. <sup>6</sup>Even though I am untrained in speech, yet I am not in knowledge. But we have been thoroughly manifested<sup>a</sup> among you in all things.

<sup>7</sup>Did I commit sin in humbling myself that you might be exalted, because I preached the gospel of God to you free of charge? <sup>8</sup>I robbed other churches, taking wages from them to minister to you. <sup>9</sup>And when I was present with you, and in need, I was a burden to no one, for what I lacked the brethren who came from Macedonia supplied. And in everything I kept myself from being burdensome to you, and so I will keep myself. <sup>10</sup>As the truth of Christ is in me, no one shall stop me from this boasting in the regions of Achaia. <sup>11</sup>Why? Because I do not love you? God knows!

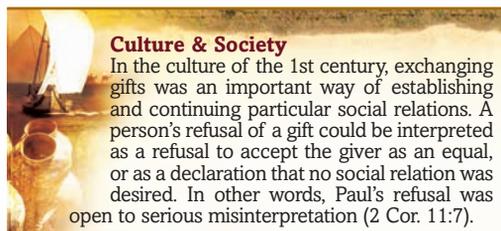

<sup>12</sup>But what I do, I will also continue to do, that I may cut off the opportunity from those who desire an opportunity to be regarded just as we are in the things of which they boast. <sup>13</sup>For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into apostles of Christ. <sup>14</sup>And no wonder! For Satan himself transforms himself into an angel of light. <sup>15</sup>Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also transform themselves into ministers of righteousness, whose end will be according to their works.

Reluctant Boasting

<sup>16</sup>I say again, let no one think me a fool. If otherwise, at least receive me as a fool, that I also may boast a little. <sup>17</sup>What I speak, I speak not according to the Lord, but as it were, foolishly, in this confidence of boasting. <sup>18</sup>Seeing that many boast according to the flesh, I also will boast. <sup>19</sup>For you put up with fools gladly, since you your-selves are wise! <sup>20</sup>For you put up with it if one brings you into bondage, if one devours you, if one takes from you, if one exalts himself, if one strikes you on the face. <sup>21</sup>To our shame I say that we were too weak for that! But in whatever anyone is bold—I speak foolishly—I am bold also.

Suffering for Christ

<sup>22</sup>Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? So am I. <sup>23</sup>Are they ministers of Christ?—I speak as a fool—I am more; in labors more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequently, in deaths often. <sup>24</sup>From the Jews five

Culture & Society

In the culture of the 1st century, exchanging gifts was an important way of establishing and continuing particular social relations. A person's refusal of a gift could be interpreted as a refusal to accept the giver as an equal, or as a declaration that no social relation was desired. In other words, Paul's refusal was open to serious misinterpretation (2 Cor. 11:7).

times I received forty stripes minus one.<sup>25</sup> Three times I was beaten with rods; once I was stoned; three times I was shipwrecked; a night and a day I have been in the deep;<sup>26</sup> in journeys often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of my own countrymen, in perils of the Gentiles, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren;<sup>27</sup> in weariness and toil, in sleeplessness often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness—<sup>28</sup> besides the other things, what comes upon me daily: my deep concern for all the churches.<sup>29</sup> Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is made to stumble, and I do not burn with indignation?<sup>2</sup>

<sup>30</sup>If I must boast, I will boast in the things which concern my infirmity.<sup>31</sup> The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is blessed forever, knows that I am not lying.<sup>32</sup> In Damascus the governor, under Aretas the king, was guarding the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desiring to arrest me;<sup>33</sup> but I was let down in a basket through a window in the wall, and escaped from his hands.

The Vision of Paradise

12 <sup>1</sup>It is doubtless<sup>a</sup> not profitable for me to boast. I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord: <sup>2</sup>I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago—whether in the body I do not know, or whether out of the body I do not know, God knows—such a one was caught up to the third heaven. <sup>3</sup>And I know such a man—whether in the body or out of the body I do not know, God knows—<sup>4</sup>how he was caught up into Paradise and heard inexpressible words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. <sup>5</sup>Of such a one I will boast; yet of myself I will not boast, except in my infirmities. <sup>6</sup>For though I might desire to boast, I will not be a fool; for I will speak the truth. But I refrain, lest anyone should think of me above what he sees me to be or hears from me.

The Thorn in the Flesh

<sup>7</sup>And lest I should be exalted above measure by the abundance of the revelations, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, a messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I be exalted above measure.<sup>8</sup> Concerning this thing I pleaded with the Lord three times that it might depart from me. <sup>9</sup>And He said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for My strength is made perfect in weakness.” Therefore most gladly I will rather boast in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. <sup>10</sup>Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in needs, in persecutions, in distresses, for Christ’s sake. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

Signs of an Apostle

<sup>11</sup>I have become a fool in boasting;<sup>a</sup> you have compelled me. For I ought to have been commended by you; for in nothing was I behind the most eminent apostles, though I am nothing. <sup>12</sup>Truly the signs of an apostle were accomplished among you with all perseverance, in signs and wonders and mighty deeds. <sup>13</sup>For what is it in which you were inferior to other churches, except that I myself was not burdensome to you? Forgive me this wrong!

Daily Life & Customs

Travel was a frequent activity in the Roman world, although it was dangerous. There were many robbers (Luke 10:30; 2 Cor. 11:26), who stole not only possessions but sometimes the travelers themselves, selling them or using them as slaves. Augustus stationed the army along the roads to put down this menace, and earned the people’s gratitude for improving the security of their daily lives.

Love for the Church

<sup>14</sup>Now for the third time I am ready to come to you. And I will not be burdensome to you; for I do not seek yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children. <sup>15</sup>And I will very gladly spend and be spent for your souls; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I am loved.

<sup>16</sup>But be that as it may, I did not burden you. Nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you by

HOW IMMORAL WAS CORINTH? (2 COR. 12:21)

Corinth was a large Greek city on the northeast coast of the Peloponnesus, the peninsula that forms the south part of Greece. Paul wrote at least two letters (1 and 2 Corinthians) to the Christians there. He was aware of the undesirable behavior of some in the church, behavior which he names as “uncleanness, fornication, and lewdness” (2 Cor. 12:21). Such behavior might be expected in a city that had been characterized as sexually immoral.

Actually, history had witnessed two Corinths. The “Greek Corinth” was well known from classical antiquity as a major power in the Greek world. The Romans destroyed that city in 146 B.C., and not until about a century later did they rebuild “Roman Corinth” in 44 B.C. Within a half century, Corinth had regained its economic pre-eminence in the Aegean world, as well as its leadership of the Isthmian Games. The new Roman Corinth, like the old Greek city, was a prosperous commercial center.

This prosperity resulted in jealousy of a rival Greek city. Athens could look back on its past as a glorious age. But it could not match the commercial and financial success of Corinth. Jealousy may explain why it was often Athenians who made slanderous remarks concerning Corinth’s character, identifying Greek Corinth with fornication. Aristophanes was an Athenian writer of comedy, producing plays between 425 and 388 B.C. He used the phrase “to Corinthianize” or “to live like a Corinthian” as an expression of immoral conduct. Plato (427–347 B.C.), the great philosopher of Athens, used the phrase “a Corinthian girl” to refer to a prostitute.

Roman Corinth also was associated with immoral behavior. The novelist Apuleius, writing a humorous work called Metamorphoses in the 2nd century A.D., tells of sexual misconduct in Corinth. But Apuleius was partly educated in Athens, and it was possibly there that he heard of Corinth’s reputation.

Such characterizations could reflect that Corinth really was more immoral than other Greek cities. On the other hand, the immoral reputation of Corinth could have been enhanced by Athenian authors who were antagonistic towards the city. In reality then, Corinth, though immoral, was possibly no more corrupt than any other contemporary Greek trading city.

cunning! <sup>17</sup>Did I take advantage of you by any of those whom I sent to you? <sup>18</sup>I urged Titus, and sent our brother with him. Did Titus take advantage of you? Did we not walk in the same spirit? Did we not walk in the same steps?

<sup>19</sup>Again, do you think<sup>a</sup> that we excuse ourselves to you? We speak before God in Christ. But we do all things, beloved, for your edification. <sup>20</sup>For I fear lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I wish, and that I shall be found by you such as you do not wish; lest there be contentions, jealousies, outbursts of wrath, selfish ambitions, backbitings, whisperings, conceits, tumults; <sup>21</sup>lest, when I come again, my God will humble me among you, and I shall mourn for many who have sinned before and have not repented of the uncleanness, fornication, and lewdness which they have practiced.

Coming with Authority

13 <sup>1</sup>This will be the third time I am coming to you. “By the mouth of two or three witnesses every word shall be established.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>2</sup>I have told you before, and foretell as if I were present the second time, and now being absent I write<sup>a</sup> to those who have sinned before, and to all the rest, that if I come again I will not spare—<sup>3</sup>since you seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, who is not weak toward you, but mighty in you. <sup>4</sup>For though He was crucified in weakness, yet He lives by the power of God. For we also are weak in Him, but we shall live with Him by the power of God toward you.

<sup>5</sup>Examine yourselves as to whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves. Do you not know yourselves, that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you are disqualified. <sup>6</sup>But I trust that you will know that we are not disqualified.

Paul Prefers Gentleness

<sup>7</sup>Now I<sup>a</sup> pray to God that you do no evil, not that we should appear approved, but that you should do what is honorable, though we may seem disqualified. <sup>8</sup>For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. <sup>9</sup>For we are glad when we are weak and you are strong. And this also we pray, that you may be made complete. <sup>10</sup>Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the authority which the Lord has given me for edification and not for destruction.

Greetings and Benediction

<sup>11</sup>Finally, brethren, farewell. Become complete. Be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace will be with you.

<sup>14</sup>The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all. Amen.

TRANSITION

Paul's Trip Through Macedonia

After leaving Ephesus, Paul sailed across to Macedonia, possibly in the winter of A.D. 55–56, and later went to Greece. Most of the 3-month stay in Greece (Acts 20:3) was probably spent in Corinth with Gaius, the city's treasurer. From Gaius's large house, Paul wrote the letter to the Romans (Rom. 16:23). This was Paul's third and final visit to Corinth, after which he returned to Macedonia and sailed from Philippi to Troas en route to Jerusalem.

Acts

Journey to Greece

20:2 Now when he had gone over that region and encouraged them with many words, he came to Greece <sup>3</sup>and stayed three months.

TRANSITION

The Letter to the Romans

From the earliest time, no one has questioned that the author of this epistle was Paul. Paul probably wrote Romans from Corinth. Gaius, who was Paul's host at the time of writing (Rom. 16:23), had been one of the prominent converts of his ministry in Corinth (1 Cor. 1:14). Phoebe, who delivered the epistle, was a member of the church in Cenchræa, a harbor town near Corinth (16:1, 2).

The letter is to be dated toward the latter part of Paul's missionary work when he was engaged in the collection of a fund for the church in Jerusalem. When Paul wrote to the Corinthians while traveling from Ephesus to Corinth, the collection was still incomplete (2 Cor. 8:1–7). At the time he wrote to the Romans, this collection seems to have been completed (15:26–28). Therefore, it is likely that Paul wrote the epistle to the Romans from Corinth when he stayed there for 3 months in A.D. 56 at the end of his third missionary journey, before he traveled to Jerusalem (15:25; Acts 20:2, 3).

Greeting

1:1 Paul, a bondservant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated to the gospel of God <sup>2</sup>which He promised before through His prophets in the Holy Scriptures, <sup>3</sup>concerning His Son Jesus Christ our Lord, who was born of the seed of David according to the flesh, <sup>4</sup>and declared to be the Son of God with power according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead. <sup>5</sup>Through Him we have received grace and apostleship for obedience to the faith among all nations for His name, <sup>6</sup>among whom you also are the called of Jesus Christ;

<sup>7</sup>To all who are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints:

Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Desire to Visit Rome

<sup>8</sup>First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world. <sup>9</sup>For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of His Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers, <sup>10</sup>making request if, by some means, now at last I may find a way in the will of God to come to you. <sup>11</sup>For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, so that you may be established— <sup>12</sup>that is, that I may be encouraged together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me.

<sup>13</sup>Now I do not want you to be unaware, brethren, that I often planned to come to you (but was hindered until now), that I might have some fruit among you also, just as among the other Gentiles. <sup>14</sup>I am a debtor both to Greeks and to barbarians, both to wise and to unwise. <sup>15</sup>So, as much as is in me, I am ready to preach the gospel to you who are in Rome also.

The Just Live by Faith

<sup>16</sup>For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, <sup>a</sup>for it is the power of God to salvation for everyone who believes, for the Jew first and also for the Greek. <sup>17</sup>For in it the righteousness of God is revealed from faith to faith; as it is written, "The just shall live by faith." <sup>a</sup>

God's Wrath on Unrighteousness

VILE PASSIONS AND UNNATURAL LUSTS (ROM. 1:27)

Greek culture rarely frowned upon, and indeed frequently promoted, male homosexual intercourse. Many well-to-do males lusted after boys and had sex with them. Because most males did not marry much before age 30, younger men had three primary opportunities for sex: with slaves, with prostitutes (respectable high-class ones or other people's slaves), or with each other. Close male bonds in many parts of Greek society made sex with other males a frequent option.

By the 1st century, many upper-class Roman males had adopted Greek values toward homosexual behavior, exhibiting such conduct at fashionable parties. At the same time, Roman society as a whole was far less disposed to such practices than Greek society had been (especially that of Athens). Some Roman philosophers, like Seneca, spoke against homosexual practice. Some philosophers regarded sex with members of a person's own gender as "against nature."

Jewish society opposed homosexual behavior even more. Literature from early Jewish sources gives indication of Jewish adulterers, Jewish fornicators, and Jewish males committing sexual sins, but homosexual behavior is treated in Jewish writings as a distinctively Gentile sin. Jewish writers also viewed homosexual behavior as "against nature," and as a sin which warranted God's judgment.

As Paul discussed how God judges Jews and Gentiles, he made a point that Jewish Christian readers who looked down on Gentiles would quickly grasp. First he addressed sins that his readers would agree are sinful as a prelude to mentioning other sins that they themselves possibly did not condemn. If they agreed that homosexual practices were "vile passions" (Rom. 1:26, 27), how could they approve of other "such things" (Rom. 1:29–32)? Thus he prepared his readers for the realization that "all have sinned" (Rom. 3:23).

<sup>24</sup>Therefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, in the lusts of their hearts, to dishonor their bodies among themselves, <sup>25</sup>who exchanged the truth of God for the lie, and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen.

God's Righteous Judgment

2 <sup>1</sup>Therefore you are inexcusable, O man, whoever you are who judge, for in whatever you judge another you condemn yourself; for you who judge practice the same things. <sup>2</sup>But we know that the judgment of God is according to truth against those who practice such things.

<sup>3</sup>And do you think this, O man, you who judge those practicing such things, and doing the same, that you will escape the judgment of God?

<sup>12</sup>For as many as have sinned without law will also perish without law, and as many as have sinned in the law will be judged by the law <sup>13</sup>(for not the hearers of the law are just in the sight of God, but the doers of the law will be justified; <sup>14</sup>for when Gentiles, who do not have the law, by nature do the things in the law, these, although not having the law, are a law to themselves, <sup>15</sup>who show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and between themselves their thoughts accusing or else excusing them) <sup>16</sup>in the day when God will judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.

The Jews Guilty as the Gentiles

<sup>17</sup>Indeed<sup>a</sup> you are called a Jew, and rest on the law, and make your boast in God, <sup>18</sup>and know His will, and approve the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law, <sup>19</sup>and are confident that you yourself are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, <sup>20</sup>an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having the form of knowledge and truth in the law. <sup>21</sup>You, therefore, who teach another, do you not teach yourself? You who preach that a man should not steal, do you steal? <sup>22</sup>You who say, “Do not commit adultery,” do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples? <sup>23</sup>You who make your boast in the law, do you dishonor God through breaking the law? <sup>24</sup>For “the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you,”<sup>a</sup> as it is written.

Circumcision of No Avail

<sup>25</sup>For circumcision is indeed profitable if you keep the law; but if you are a breaker of the law, your circumcision has become uncircumcision. <sup>26</sup>Therefore, if an uncircumcised man keeps the righteous requirements of the law, will not his uncircumcision be counted as circumcision? <sup>27</sup>And will not the physically uncircumcised, if he fulfills the law, judge you who, even with your written code and circumcision, are a transgressor of the law? <sup>28</sup>For he is not a Jew who is one outwardly, nor is circumcision that which is outward in the flesh; <sup>29</sup>but he is a Jew who is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the Spirit, not in the letter; whose praise is not from men but from God.

God's Judgment Defended

3 <sup>1</sup>What advantage then has the Jew, or what is the profit of circumcision? <sup>2</sup>Much in every way! Chiefly because to them were committed the oracles of God. <sup>3</sup>For what if some did not believe? Will their unbelief make the faithfulness of God without effect? <sup>4</sup>Certainly not! Indeed, let God be true but every man a liar. As it is written:

*“That You may be justified in Your words,
And may overcome when You are judged.”<sup>a</sup>*

Architecture & Building

Temples were public buildings used not only for religion but also as treasuries. Thus the Parthenon in Athens safeguarded the gold and silver of the Athenians, although in one emergency it was coined and used to finance a war. To call people temple robbers (Rom. 2:22) was to describe them as openly disregarding universal standards of religion and morality.

<sup>5</sup>But if our unrighteousness demonstrates the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unjust who inflicts wrath? (I speak as a man.) <sup>6</sup>Certainly not! For then how will God judge the world?

<sup>7</sup>For if the truth of God has increased through my lie to His glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner? <sup>8</sup>And why not say, “Let us do evil that good may come?”—as we are slanderously reported and as some affirm that we say. Their condemnation is just.

All Have Sinned

<sup>9</sup>What then? Are we better than they? Not at all. For we have previously charged both Jews and Greeks that they are all under sin.

<sup>10</sup>As it is written:

- “There is none righteous, no, not one;
11 There is none who understands;
There is none who seeks after God.
12 They have all turned aside;
They have together become unprofitable;
There is none who does good, no,
not one.”<sup>a</sup>*
- 13 “Their throat is an open tomb;
With their tongues they have practiced deceit”;<sup>a</sup>*
- “The poison of asps is under their lips”;<sup>b</sup>*
- 14 “Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.”<sup>a</sup>*
- 15 “Their feet are swift to shed blood;
16 Destruction and misery are in their ways;
17 And the way of peace they have not known.”<sup>a</sup>*
- 18 “There is no fear of God before their eyes.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>19</sup>Now we know that whatever the law says, it says to those who are under the law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God. <sup>20</sup>Therefore by the deeds of the law no flesh will be justified in His sight, for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

God's Righteousness Through Faith

<sup>21</sup>But now the righteousness of God apart from the law is revealed, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets, <sup>22</sup>even the righteousness of God, through faith in Jesus Christ, to all and on all<sup>c</sup> who believe. For there is no difference; <sup>23</sup>for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, <sup>24</sup>being justified freely by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus, <sup>25</sup>whom

3:17 <sup>a</sup>Isaiah 59:7, 8 3:18 <sup>a</sup>Psalms 36:1 3:22 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits and on all.

God set forth as a propitiation by His blood, through faith, to demonstrate His righteousness, because in His forbearance God had passed over the sins that were previously committed, <sup>26</sup>to demonstrate at the present time His righteousness, that He might be just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus.

Boasting Excluded

<sup>27</sup>Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? Of works? No, but by the law of faith. <sup>28</sup>Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith apart from the deeds of the law. <sup>29</sup>Or is He the God of the Jews only? Is He not also the God of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also, <sup>30</sup>since there is one God who will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through faith. <sup>31</sup>Do we then make void the law through faith? Certainly not! On the contrary, we establish the law.

Abraham Justified by Faith

4 <sup>1</sup>What then shall we say that Abraham our father has found according to the flesh?<sup>a</sup> <sup>2</sup>For if Abraham was justified by works, he has something to boast about, but not before God. <sup>3</sup>For what does the Scripture say? “Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>4</sup>Now to him who works, the wages are not counted as grace but as debt.

David Celebrates the Same Truth

<sup>5</sup>But to him who does not work but believes on Him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is accounted for righteousness, <sup>6</sup>just as David also describes the blessedness of the man to whom God imputes righteousness apart from works:

- <sup>7</sup> “*Blessed are those whose lawless deeds are forgiven,
And whose sins are covered;
8 Blessed is the man to whom the LORD shall not impute sin.*”<sup>a</sup>

Abraham Justified Before Circumcision

<sup>9</sup>Does this blessedness then come upon the circumcised only, or upon the uncircumcised also? For we say that faith was accounted to Abraham for righteousness. <sup>10</sup>How then was it accounted? While he was circumcised, or uncircumcised? Not while circumcised, but while uncircumcised. <sup>11</sup>And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while still uncircumcised, that he might be the father of all those who believe, though they are uncircumcised, that righteousness might be imputed to them also, <sup>12</sup>and the father of circumcision to those who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of the faith which our father Abraham had while still uncircumcised.

The Promise Granted Through Faith

<sup>13</sup>For the promise that he would be the heir of the world was not to Abraham or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. <sup>14</sup>For if those who are of the law are heirs, faith is made void and the promise made of no effect, <sup>15</sup>because the law brings about wrath; for where there is no law there is no transgression.

<sup>16</sup>Therefore it is of faith that it might be according to grace, so that the promise might be sure to all the seed, not only to those who are of the law, but also to those who are of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all <sup>17</sup>(as it is written, “I have made you a father of many nations”<sup>a</sup>) in the presence of Him whom he believed—God, who gives life to the dead and calls those things which do not exist as though they did; <sup>18</sup>who, contrary to hope, in hope believed, so that he became the father of many nations, according to what was spoken, “So shall your descendants be.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>19</sup>And not being weak in faith, he did not consider his own body, already dead (since he was about a hundred years old), and the deadness of Sarah’s womb. <sup>20</sup>He did not waver at the promise of God through unbelief, but was strengthened in faith, giving glory to God, <sup>21</sup>and being fully convinced that what He had promised He was also able to perform. <sup>22</sup>And therefore “it was accounted to him for righteousness.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>23</sup>Now it was not written for his sake alone that it was imputed to him, <sup>24</sup>but also for us. It shall be imputed to us who believe in Him who raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead, <sup>25</sup>who was delivered up because of our offenses, and was raised because of our justification.

Faith Triumphs in Trouble

5 <sup>1</sup>Therefore, having been justified by faith, we have<sup>a</sup> peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>2</sup>through whom also we have access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. <sup>3</sup>And not only that, but we also glory in tribulations, knowing that tribulation produces perseverance; <sup>4</sup>and perseverance, character; and character, hope. <sup>5</sup>Now hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out in our hearts by the Holy Spirit who was given to us.

Christ in Our Place

<sup>6</sup>For when we were still without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. <sup>7</sup>For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet perhaps for a good man someone would even dare to die. <sup>8</sup>But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. <sup>9</sup>Much more then, having now been justified by His blood, we shall be saved from wrath through Him. <sup>10</sup>For if when we were enemies we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son, much more, having been reconciled, we shall be saved by His life. <sup>11</sup>And not only that, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation.

Death in Adam, Life in Christ

<sup>12</sup>Therefore, just as through one man sin entered the world, and death through sin, and thus death spread to all men, because all sinned—<sup>13</sup>(For until the law sin was in the world, but sin is not imputed when there is no law. <sup>14</sup>Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those who had not sinned according to the likeness of the transgression of Adam, who is a type of Him who was to come. <sup>15</sup>But the free gift is not like the offense. For if by the one man's offense many died, much more the grace of God and the gift by the grace of the one Man, Jesus Christ, abounded to many. <sup>16</sup>And the gift is not like that which came through the one who sinned. For the judgment which came from one offense resulted in condemnation, but the free gift which came from many offenses resulted in justification. <sup>17</sup>For if by the one man's offense death reigned through the one, much more those who receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness will reign in life through the One, Jesus Christ.)

<sup>18</sup>Therefore, as through one man's offense judgment came to all men, resulting in condemnation, even so through one Man's righteous act the free gift came to all men, resulting in justification of life. <sup>19</sup>For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so also by one Man's obedience many will be made righteous.

<sup>20</sup>Moreover the law entered that the offense might abound. But where sin abounded, grace abounded much more, <sup>21</sup>so that as sin reigned in death, even so grace might reign through righteousness to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Dead to Sin, Alive to God

6 <sup>1</sup>What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin that grace may abound? <sup>2</sup>Certainly not! How shall we who died to sin live any longer in it? <sup>3</sup>Or do you not know that as many of us as were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into His death? <sup>4</sup>Therefore we were buried with Him through baptism into death, that just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

<sup>5</sup>For if we have been united together in the likeness of His death, certainly we also shall be in the likeness of His resurrection, <sup>6</sup>knowing this, that our old man was crucified with Him, that the body of sin might be done away with, that we should no longer be slaves of sin. <sup>7</sup>For he who has died has been freed from sin. <sup>8</sup>Now if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with Him, <sup>9</sup>knowing that Christ, having been raised from the dead, dies no more. Death no longer has dominion over Him. <sup>10</sup>For the death that He died, He died to sin once for all; but the life that He lives, He lives to God. <sup>11</sup>Likewise you also, reckon yourselves to be dead indeed to sin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

<sup>12</sup>Therefore do not let sin reign in your mortal body, that you should obey it in its lusts.

The Giving of the Law

5:1 <sup>a</sup>Another ancient reading is, let us have peace.

<sup>13</sup>And do not present your members as instruments of unrighteousness to sin, but present yourselves to God as being alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness to God. <sup>14</sup>For sin shall not have dominion over you, for you are not under law but under grace.

From Slaves of Sin to Slaves of God

<sup>15</sup>What then? Shall we sin because we are not under law but under grace? Certainly not! <sup>16</sup>Do you not know that to whom you present yourselves slaves to obey, you are that one's slaves whom you obey, whether of sin leading to death, or of obedience leading to righteousness? <sup>17</sup>But God be thanked that though you were slaves of sin, yet you obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine to which you were delivered. <sup>18</sup>And having been set free from sin, you became slaves of righteousness. <sup>19</sup>I speak in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh. For just as you presented your members as slaves of uncleanness, and of lawlessness leading to more lawlessness, so now present your members as slaves of righteousness for holiness.

<sup>20</sup>For when you were slaves of sin, you were free in regard to righteousness. <sup>21</sup>What fruit did you have then in the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. <sup>22</sup>But now having been set free from sin, and having become slaves of God, you have your fruit to holiness, and the end, everlasting life. <sup>23</sup>For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Freed from the Law

7 <sup>1</sup>Or do you not know, brethren (for I speak to those who know the law), that the law has dominion over a man as long as he lives? <sup>2</sup>For the woman who has a husband is bound by the law to her husband as long as he lives. But if the husband dies, she is released from the law of her husband. <sup>3</sup>So then if, while her husband lives, she marries another man, she will be called an adulteress; but if her husband dies, she is free from that law, so that she is no adulteress, though she has married another man. <sup>4</sup>Therefore, my brethren, you also have become dead to the law through the body of Christ, that you may be married to another—to Him who was raised from the dead, that we should bear fruit to God. <sup>5</sup>For when we were in the flesh, the sinful passions which were aroused by the law were at work in our members to bear fruit to death. <sup>6</sup>But now we have been delivered from the law, having died to what we were held by, so that we should serve in the newness of the Spirit and not in the oldness of the letter.

Sin's Advantage in the Law

<sup>7</sup>What shall we say then? Is the law sin? Certainly not! On the contrary, I would not have known sin except through the law. For I would not have known covetousness unless the law had said, "You shall not covet." <sup>8</sup>But sin, taking opportunity by the commandment, produced in me all manner of evil desire. For apart from the law sin was dead. <sup>9</sup>I was alive once without the law, but when the commandment came, sin revived and I died. <sup>10</sup>And the commandment, which was to bring life, I found to bring death. <sup>11</sup>For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it killed me. <sup>12</sup>Therefore the law is holy, and the commandment holy and just and good.

Law Cannot Save from Sin

<sup>13</sup>Has then what is good become death to me? Certainly not! But sin, that it might appear sin, was producing death in me through what is good, so that sin through the commandment might become exceedingly sinful. <sup>14</sup>For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am carnal, sold under sin. <sup>15</sup>For what I am doing, I do not understand. For what I will to do, that I do not practice; but what I hate, that I do. <sup>16</sup>If, then, I do what I will not to do, I agree with the law that it is good. <sup>17</sup>But now, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells in me. <sup>18</sup>For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh) nothing good dwells; for to will is present with me, but how to perform what is good I do not find. <sup>19</sup>For the good that I will to do, I do not do; but the evil I will not to do, that I practice. <sup>20</sup>Now if I do what I will not to do, it is no longer I who do it, but sin that dwells in me.

<sup>21</sup>I find then a law, that evil is present with me, the one who wills to do good. <sup>22</sup>For I delight in the law of God according to the inward man. <sup>23</sup>But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members. <sup>24</sup>O wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? <sup>25</sup>I thank God—through Jesus Christ our Lord!

So then, with the mind I myself serve the law of God, but with the flesh the law of sin.

Free from Indwelling Sin

8 <sup>1</sup>There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus,<sup>a</sup> who do not walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit. <sup>2</sup>For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has made me free from the law of sin and death. <sup>3</sup>For what the law could not do in that it was weak through the flesh, God did by sending

WARRING WITH THE EVIL IMPULSE WITHIN (ROM. 7:21–23)

When Paul wrote about living life under the law of God (Rom. 7), perhaps he was describing, from his new Christian perspective, his own genuine experience under the law. The Church Fathers were divided (as are modern readers) on whether Paul wrote of his present experience or of his preconversion experience. Whichever, he agonized over the battle to do God's will, saying, "Evil is present with me" (Rom. 7:21).

Jewish people commonly believed that a child was born with a yetzer hara, an evil impulse. When a Jewish boy entered adulthood, he would accept responsibility for the commandments (a custom which later evolved into bar mitzvah, the religious rite of passage). According to Jewish belief, once a boy accepted the commandments, he found in God's law strength to overcome his evil impulse. After this, two impulses—good and evil—would battle within him, in a struggle similar to Paul's description.

Philosophers also discussed a struggle, one between human reason and human passion. In the philosophers' view, a person overcame passions by depending on reason. Jewish teachers felt that one overcame the evil impulse by learning Torah, the Law. For Paul, however, the battle appeared futile, because mere knowledge without transformation of character could not bring victory. Any solution to the struggle depending on human effort, whether on a person's reason or on knowledge of Torah, was inadequate.

Victory was possible, Paul realized, through God's Spirit (8:2–4). Interestingly, one strand of Jewish tradition emphasized that in the end time, when the Messiah came, God would publicly slay the evil impulse. For Paul, the Messiah's work of delivering from sin was an accomplished act of history (Rom. 6:5, 11), and the gift of the Spirit was the foretaste of future glory (8:23).

His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, on account of sin: He condemned sin in the flesh, <sup>4</sup>that the righteous requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us who do not walk according to the flesh but according to the Spirit. <sup>5</sup>For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit, the things of the Spirit. <sup>6</sup>For to be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. <sup>7</sup>Because the carnal mind is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, nor indeed can be. <sup>8</sup>So then, those who are in the flesh cannot please God.

<sup>9</sup>But you are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God dwells in you. Now if anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ, he is not His. <sup>10</sup>And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin, but the Spirit is life because of righteousness. <sup>11</sup>But if the Spirit of Him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, He who raised Christ from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through His Spirit who dwells in you.

Sonship Through the Spirit

<sup>12</sup>Therefore, brethren, we are debtors—not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh. <sup>13</sup>For if you live according to the flesh you will die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. <sup>14</sup>For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God. <sup>15</sup>For you did not receive the spirit of bondage again to fear, but you received the Spirit of adoption by whom we cry out, "Abba, Father." <sup>16</sup>The Spirit Himself bears witness with our spirit that we are children of God, <sup>17</sup>and if children, then heirs— heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ, if indeed we suffer with Him, that we may also be glorified together.

From Suffering to Glory

<sup>18</sup>For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. <sup>19</sup>For the earnest expectation of the creation eagerly waits for the revealing of the sons of God. <sup>20</sup>For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of Him who subjected it in hope; <sup>21</sup>because the creation itself also will be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God. <sup>22</sup>For we know that the whole creation groans and labors with birth pangs together until now. <sup>23</sup>Not only that, but we also who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, eagerly waiting for the adoption, the redemption of our body. <sup>24</sup>For we were saved in this hope, but hope that is seen is not hope; for why does one still hope for what he sees? <sup>25</sup>But if we hope for what we do not see, we eagerly wait for it with perseverance.

<sup>26</sup>Likewise the Spirit also helps in our weaknesses. For we do not know what we should pray for as we ought, but the Spirit Himself makes intercession for us<sup>a</sup> with groanings which cannot be uttered. <sup>27</sup>Now He who searches the hearts knows what the mind of the Spirit is, because He makes intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

<sup>28</sup>And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose. <sup>29</sup>For whom He foreknew, He also predestined to be conformed to the image of His Son, that He might be the firstborn among many brethren. <sup>30</sup>Moreover whom He predestined, these He also called; whom He called, these He also justified; and whom He justified, these He also glorified.

God's Everlasting Love

<sup>31</sup>What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? <sup>32</sup>He who did not spare His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall He not with Him also freely give us all things? <sup>33</sup>Who shall bring a charge against God's elect? It is God who justifies. <sup>34</sup>Who is he who condemns? It is Christ who died, and furthermore is also risen, who is even at the right hand of God, who also makes intercession for us. <sup>35</sup>Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? <sup>36</sup>As it is written:

*"For Your sake we are killed all day long;
We are accounted as sheep for the slaughter."*<sup>a</sup>

<sup>37</sup>Yet in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us. <sup>38</sup>For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities nor powers, nor things present nor things to come, <sup>39</sup>nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Israel's Rejection of Christ

9 I tell the truth in Christ, I am not lying, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Spirit, <sup>2</sup>that I have great sorrow and continual grief in my heart. <sup>3</sup>For I could wish that I myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my countrymen<sup>a</sup> according to the flesh, <sup>4</sup>who are Israelites, to whom pertain the adoption, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the law, the service of God, and the promises; <sup>5</sup>of whom are the fathers and from whom, according to the flesh, Christ came, who is over all, the eternally blessed God. Amen.

Israel's Rejection and God's Purpose

<sup>6</sup>But it is not that the word of God has taken no effect. For they are not all Israel who are of Israel, <sup>7</sup>nor are they all children because they are the seed of Abraham; but, "In Isaac your seed shall be called."<sup>a</sup> <sup>8</sup>That is, those who are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God; but the children of the promise are counted as the seed. <sup>9</sup>For this is the word of promise: "At this time I will come and Sarah shall have a son."<sup>a</sup>

<sup>10</sup>And not only this, but when Rebecca also had conceived by one man, even by our father Isaac <sup>11</sup>(for the children not yet being born, nor having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works but of Him who calls), <sup>12</sup>it was said to her, "The older shall serve the younger."<sup>a</sup> <sup>13</sup>As it is written, "Jacob I have loved, but Esau I have hated."<sup>a</sup>

Israel's Rejection and God's Justice

<sup>14</sup>What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? Certainly not! <sup>15</sup>For He says to Moses, "I will have mercy on whomever I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whomever I will have compassion."<sup>a</sup> <sup>16</sup>So then it is not of him who wills, nor of him who runs, but of God who shows mercy. <sup>17</sup>For the Scripture says to the Pharaoh, "For this very purpose I have raised you up, that I may show My power in you, and that My name may be declared in all the earth."<sup>a</sup> <sup>18</sup>Therefore He has mercy on whom He wills, and whom He wills He hardens.

<sup>19</sup>You will say to me then, "Why does He still find fault? For who has resisted His will?" <sup>20</sup>But indeed, O man, who are you to reply against God? Will the thing formed say to him who formed it, "Why have you made me like this?" <sup>21</sup>Does not the potter have power over the clay, from the same lump to make one vessel for honor and another for dishonor?

<sup>25</sup>As He says also in Hosea:

*"I will call them My people, who were not My people,
And her beloved, who was not beloved."*<sup>a</sup>

<sup>26</sup> *"And it shall come to pass in the place where it was said to them,
'You are not My people,'
There they shall be called sons of the living

*"Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea,
The remnant will be saved.*

8:36 <sup>a</sup>Psalms 44:22 9:3 <sup>a</sup>Or relatives 9:7 <sup>a</sup>Genesis 21:12

<sup>28</sup> For He will finish the work and cut it short in righteousness, Because the LORD will make a short work upon the earth.”<sup>a</sup>

We would have become like Sodom,
And we would have been made like Gomorrah.”<sup>b</sup>

Present Condition of Israel

<sup>30</sup>What shall we say then? That Gentiles, who did not pursue righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness of faith; <sup>31</sup>but Israel, pursuing the law of righteousness, has not attained to the law of righteousness.<sup>a</sup> <sup>32</sup>Why? Because they did not seek it by faith, but as it were, by the works of the law.<sup>a</sup> For they stumbled at that stumbling stone. <sup>33</sup>As it is written:

“Behold, I lay in Zion a stumbling stone and rock of offense,
And whoever believes on Him will not be put to shame.”<sup>a</sup>

Israel Needs the Gospel

10 <sup>1</sup>Brethren, my heart’s desire and prayer to God for Israel<sup>a</sup> is that they may be saved. <sup>2</sup>For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. <sup>3</sup>For they being ignorant of God’s righteousness, and seeking to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted to the righteousness of God. <sup>4</sup>For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes.

<sup>5</sup>For Moses writes about the righteousness which is of the law, “The man who does those things shall live by them.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>6</sup>But the righteousness of faith speaks in this way, “Do not say in your heart, ‘Who will ascend into heaven?’”<sup>a</sup> (that is, to bring Christ down from above)<sup>7</sup> or, “‘Who will descend into the abyss?’”<sup>a</sup> (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead).<sup>8</sup> But what does it say? “The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart”<sup>a</sup> (that is, the word of faith which we preach);<sup>9</sup> that if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. <sup>10</sup>For with the heart one believes unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. <sup>11</sup>For the Scripture says, “Whoever believes on Him will not be put to shame.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>12</sup>For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek, for the same Lord over all is rich to all who call upon Him. <sup>13</sup>For “whoever calls on the name of the LORD shall be saved.”<sup>a</sup>

Israel Rejects the Gospel

<sup>14</sup>How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? <sup>15</sup>And how shall they preach unless they are sent? As it is written:

“*How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the gospel of peace,<sup>a</sup>
Who bring glad tidings of good things!*”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>16</sup>But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Isaiah says, “LORD, who has believed our report?”<sup>a</sup> <sup>17</sup>So then faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

“*Their sound has gone out to all the earth,
And their words to the ends of the world.*”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>19</sup>But I say, did Israel not know? First Moses says:

“*I will provoke you to jealousy by those who are not a nation,
I will move you to anger by a foolish nation.*”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>20</sup>But Isaiah is very bold and says:

“*I was found by those who did not seek Me;
I was made manifest to those who did not ask for Me.*”<sup>a</sup>

Science & Technology

Pottery is one of the oldest and most widely known technologies. The raw material is clay, which is abundant and has no economic value until it is formed into a vessel and dried or fired. The same store of clay is easily transformed into whatever shape the potter intends, or that the client may have specified (Rom. 9:21). Some pottery is so cheap it is thrown away after one use.

<sup>21</sup>But to Israel he says:

*“All day long I have stretched out My hands
To a disobedient and contrary people.”<sup>a</sup>*

Israel's Rejection Not Total

11 <sup>1</sup>I say then, has God cast away His people? Certainly not! For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. <sup>2</sup>God has not cast away His people whom He foreknew. Or do you not know what the Scripture says of Elijah, how he pleads with God against Israel, saying, <sup>3</sup>“LORD, they have killed Your prophets and torn down Your altars, and I alone am left, and they seek my life”?<sup>a</sup> <sup>4</sup>But what does the divine response say to him? “I have reserved for Myself seven thousand men who have not bowed the knee to Baal.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>5</sup>Even so then, at this present time there is a remnant according to the election of grace. <sup>6</sup>And if by grace, then it is no longer of works; otherwise grace is no longer grace.<sup>a</sup> But if it is of works, it is no longer grace; otherwise work is no longer work.

<sup>7</sup>What then? Israel has not obtained what it seeks; but the elect have obtained it, and the rest were blinded. <sup>8</sup>Just as it is written:

*“God has given them a spirit of stupor,
Eyes that they should not see
And ears that they should not hear,
To this very day.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>9</sup>And David says:

A stumbling block and a recompense to them.*

And bow down their back always.”<sup>a</sup>*

Israel's Rejection Not Final

<sup>11</sup>I say then, have they stumbled that they should fall? Certainly not! But through their fall, to provoke them to jealousy, salvation has come to the Gentiles. <sup>12</sup>Now if their fall is riches for the world, and their failure riches for the Gentiles, how much more their fullness!

<sup>13</sup>For I speak to you Gentiles; inasmuch as I am an apostle to the Gentiles, I magnify my ministry, <sup>14</sup>if by any means I may provoke to jealousy those who are my flesh and save some of them. <sup>15</sup>For if their being cast away is the reconciling of the world, what will their acceptance be but life from the dead?

<sup>16</sup>For if the firstfruit is holy, the lump is also holy; and if the root is holy, so are the branches. <sup>17</sup>And if some of the branches were broken off, and you, being a wild olive tree, were grafted in among them, and with them became a partaker of the root and fatness of the olive tree, <sup>18</sup>do not boast against the branches. But if you do boast, remember that you do not support the root, but the root supports you.

<sup>19</sup>You will say then, “Branches were broken off that I might be grafted in.” <sup>20</sup>Well said. Because of unbelief they were broken off, and you stand by faith. Do not be haughty, but fear. <sup>21</sup>For if God did not spare the natural branches, He may not spare you either. <sup>22</sup>Therefore consider the goodness and severity of God: on those who fell, severity; but toward you, goodness,<sup>a</sup> if you continue in His goodness. Otherwise you also will be cut off. <sup>23</sup>And they also, if they do not continue in unbelief, will be grafted in, for God is able to graft them in again. <sup>24</sup>For if you were cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and were grafted contrary to nature into a cultivated olive tree, how much more will these, who are natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

<sup>25</sup>For I do not desire, brethren, that you should be ignorant of this mystery, lest you should be wise in your own opinion, that blindness in part has happened to Israel until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. <sup>26</sup>And so all Israel will be saved,<sup>a</sup> as it is written:

*“The Deliverer will come out of Zion,
And He will turn away ungodliness from Jacob;*

<sup>27</sup> *For this is My covenant with them,
When I take away their sins.”<sup>a</sup>*

And it shall be repaid to him?”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>36</sup>For of Him and through Him and to Him
are all things, to whom be glory forever. Amen.

Living Sacrifices to God

12 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service. <sup>2</sup>And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God.

Serve God with Spiritual Gifts

<sup>3</sup>For I say, through the grace given to me, to everyone who is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think soberly, as God has dealt to each one a measure of faith. <sup>4</sup>For as we have many members in one body, but all the members do not have the same function, <sup>5</sup>so we, being many, are one body in Christ, and individually members of one another. <sup>6</sup>Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, let us use them: if prophecy, let us prophesy in proportion to our faith; <sup>7</sup>or ministry, let us use it in our ministering; he who teaches, in teaching; <sup>8</sup>he who exhorts, in exhortation; he who gives, with liberality; he who leads, with diligence; he who shows mercy, with cheerfulness.

Behave Like a Christian

mind toward one another. Do not set your mind on high things, but associate with the humble. Do not be wise in your own opinion.

*“If your enemy is hungry, feed him;
If he is thirsty, give him a drink;
For in so doing you will heap coals of fire

Submit to Government

13 <sup>1</sup>Let every soul be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and the authorities that exist are appointed by God. <sup>2</sup>Therefore whoever resists the authority resists the ordinance of God, and those who resist will bring judgment on themselves. <sup>3</sup>For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to evil. Do you want to be unafraid of the authority? Do what is good, and you will have praise from the same. <sup>4</sup>For he is God’s minister to you for good. But if you do evil, be afraid; for he does not bear the sword in vain; for he is God’s minister, an avenger to execute wrath on him who practices evil. <sup>5</sup>Therefore you must be subject, not only because of wrath but also for conscience’ sake. <sup>6</sup>For because of this you also pay taxes, for they are God’s ministers attending continually to this very thing. <sup>7</sup>Render therefore to all their due: taxes to whom taxes are due, customs to whom customs, fear to whom fear, honor to whom honor.

Love Your Neighbor

<sup>8</sup>Owe no one anything except to love one another, for he who loves another has fulfilled the law. <sup>9</sup>For the commandments, “You shall not commit adultery;” “You shall not murder;” “You shall not steal;” “You shall not bear false witness;”<sup>a</sup> “You shall not covet;”<sup>b</sup> and if there is any other commandment, are all summed up in this saying, namely, “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.”<sup>c</sup> <sup>10</sup>Love does no harm to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfillment of the law.

Politics & Government

The governing authorities in Palestine were the emperor of Rome and those approved or appointed by him (Rom. 13:1). Augustus was the first emperor of Rome, and he ruled in peace for more than 40 years. Most of the regions familiar to Paul were ruled by a Roman provincial governor, or by the family of the Herods. In Jerusalem, the Jewish governing authorities had a temple police and could collect some taxes.

THE ROMAN EMPIRE RULES PALESTINE

The people of Rome developed the last civilization of the ancient world in the West, and had a significant impact upon Palestine during the New Testament era. During the apostle Paul's ministry, the Romans were the "governing authorities" (Rom. 13:1) to whom he urged Christians to submit.

Put on Christ

<sup>11</sup>And do this, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep; for now our salvation is nearer than when we first believed. <sup>12</sup>The night is far spent, the day is at hand. Therefore let us cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light. <sup>13</sup>Let us walk properly, as in the day, not in revelry and drunkenness, not in lewdness and lust, not in strife and envy. <sup>14</sup>But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill its lusts.

The Law of Liberty

<sup>5</sup>One person esteems one day above another; another esteems every day alike. Let each be fully convinced in his own mind. <sup>6</sup>He who observes the day, observes it to the Lord;<sup>a</sup> and he who does not observe the day, to the Lord he does not observe it. He who eats, eats to the Lord, for he gives God thanks; and he who does not eat, to the Lord he does not eat, and gives God thanks. <sup>7</sup>For none of us lives to himself, and no one dies to himself. <sup>8</sup>For if we live, we live to the Lord; and if we die, we die to the Lord. Therefore, whether we live or die, we are the Lord's. <sup>9</sup>For to this end Christ died and rose<sup>a</sup> and lived again, that He might be Lord of both the dead and the living. <sup>10</sup>But why do you judge your brother? Or why do you show contempt for your brother? For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.<sup>a</sup> <sup>11</sup>For it is written:

*"As I live, says the LORD,
Every knee shall bow to Me,
And every tongue shall confess to God."*<sup>a</sup>

<sup>12</sup>So then each of us shall give account of himself to God. <sup>13</sup>Therefore let us not judge one another anymore, but rather resolve this, not to put a stumbling block or a cause to fall in our brother's way.

Culture & Society

The Romans obtained many of their slaves through warfare. In addition, some criminals and pirates engaged in the business of capturing people and selling them as slaves. Slaves could be bought in markets without their origin being known, while children of slaves were slaves from birth. Paul did not discuss the abolition of slavery, but did speak to masters and slaves on how to live within that culture's institutions (Rom. 14:4).

The Law of Love

<sup>14</sup>I know and am convinced by the Lord Jesus that there is nothing unclean of itself; but to him who considers anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. <sup>15</sup>Yet if your brother is grieved because of your food, you are no longer walking in love. Do not destroy with your food the one for whom Christ died. <sup>16</sup>Therefore do not let your good be spoken of as evil; <sup>17</sup>for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. <sup>18</sup>For he who serves Christ in these things<sup>a</sup> is acceptable to God and approved by men.

<sup>19</sup>Therefore let us pursue the things which make for peace and the things by which one may edify another. <sup>20</sup>Do not destroy the work of God for the sake of food. All things indeed are pure, but it is evil for the man who eats with offense. <sup>21</sup>It is good neither to eat meat nor drink wine nor do anything by which your brother stumbles or is offended or is made weak.<sup>a</sup> <sup>22</sup>Do you have faith?<sup>a</sup> Have it to yourself before God. Happy is he who does not condemn himself in what he approves. <sup>23</sup>But he who doubts is condemned if he eats, because he does not eat from faith; for whatever is not from faith is sin.<sup>a</sup>

Bearing Others' Burdens

15 <sup>1</sup>We then who are strong ought to bear with the scruples of the weak, and not to please ourselves. <sup>2</sup>Let each of us please his neighbor for his good, leading to edification. <sup>3</sup>For even Christ did not please himself; but as it is written, “The reproaches of those who reproached You fell on Me.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>4</sup>For whatever things were written before were written for our learning, that we through the patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope. <sup>5</sup>Now may the God of patience and comfort grant you to be like-minded toward one another, according to Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>that you may with one mind and one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Glorify God Together

<sup>7</sup>Therefore receive one another, just as Christ also received us,<sup>a</sup> to the glory of God. <sup>8</sup>Now I say that Jesus Christ has become a servant to the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made to the fathers, <sup>9</sup>and that the Gentiles might glorify God for His mercy, as it is written:

“For this reason I will confess to You among the Gentiles, And sing to Your name.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>10</sup>And again he says:

“*Praise the LORD, all you Gentiles!
Laud Him, all you peoples!*”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>12</sup>And again, Isaiah says:

“*There shall be a root of Jesse;
And He who shall rise to reign over the Gentiles,
In Him the Gentiles shall hope.*”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Now may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that you may abound in hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.

TRANSITION

Paul's Ministry to the Gentiles

Having ministered in the eastern Mediterranean area for many years, Paul planned to take the gospel farther west to Spain and to visit the Romans on his way (Rom. 15:24). Even though Paul had never been to Rome, many Roman Christians who had labored with Paul elsewhere knew him. Among them were Priscilla and Aquila (Acts 18:2, 3), as well as Rufus and his mother (Rom. 16:13). Paul hoped that Rome could serve as the home base for his missions in the West, as Antioch had in the East, and may have written this letter in order to solicit support from the Roman church for his mission.

That Paul sent so many greetings (16:3–15) and apparently knew so many people in a city he had yet to visit strikes some scholars as odd. He also seems to have written a conclusion to the letter already in Rom. 15:30–33. Since many of the people who receive personal greetings in ch. 16 are associated with Ephesus elsewhere in the New Testament, some scholars suggest that Paul had two copies of the letter made. One copy, ending at 15:33, was sent to the church at Rome. Paul then added a personal postscript to the other copy and had it delivered to the church at Ephesus.

SERVANT OF THE CHURCH AT CENCHREA (ROM. 16:1, 2)

Located on the prosperous isthmus of Corinth, Cenchrea was a port city, 7 miles east of Corinth. Much of Corinth's wealth came from this town, which by Paul's time hosted many foreign religions and was more religiously tolerant than some other less cosmopolitan locations. Phoebe, a woman of the church at Cenchrea, delivered Paul's letter to the Roman Christians (Rom. 16:1).

Paul calls Phoebe a "servant of the church" (16:1). By "servant" Paul could have meant a "minister" of the gospel, as he described himself, Apollos (1 Cor. 3:5), and Timothy (1 Thess. 3:2), or the more particular office of "deacon." The word "deacon" might describe Phoebe as the owner of the home in which the church met. Paul also calls her a "helper" (Rom. 16:2), which in Greek generally referred to "patrons" who hosted religious associations, like churches, in their homes. Women patrons, although in the minority, did exist in ancient times.

The phrase "servant of the church" may well correspond to the Jewish title chazzan, the person in charge of the synagogue building. (Like churches, synagogues without adequate resources to build special structures typically began in homes.) Jewish synagogues highly respected the office of chazzan, which was usually filled by men.

Though women's roles had improved in much of Greco-Roman society, 1st-century cultural prejudices still restricted opportunities for the average woman. Paul, though, did not hesitate to support women's roles to his Roman readers. He commends various ministries of many women, including Phoebe, Priscilla (16:3), Mary (16:6), and Junia, whom he calls an apostle (16:7).

to admonish one another.<sup>a</sup> <sup>15</sup>Nevertheless, brethren, I have written more boldly to you on some points, as reminding you, because of the grace given to me by God, <sup>16</sup>that I might be a minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering of the Gentiles might be acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. <sup>17</sup>Therefore I have reason to glory in Christ Jesus in the things which pertain to God. <sup>18</sup>For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ has not accomplished through me, in word and deed, to make the Gentiles obedient— <sup>19</sup>in mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God, so that from Jerusalem and round about to Illyricum I have fully preached the gospel of Christ. <sup>20</sup>And so I have made it my aim to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build on another man's foundation, <sup>21</sup>but as it is written:

*"To whom He was not announced, they shall see;
And those who have not heard shall understand."*<sup>a</sup>

Plan to Visit Rome

<sup>22</sup>For this reason I also have been much hindered from coming to you. <sup>23</sup>But now no longer having a place in these parts, and having a great desire these many years to come to you, <sup>24</sup>when ever I journey to Spain, I shall come to you.<sup>a</sup> For I hope to see you on my journey, and to be helped on my way there by you, if first I may enjoy your company for a while. <sup>25</sup>But now I am going to Jerusalem to minister to the saints. <sup>26</sup>For it pleased those from Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints who are in Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup>It pleased them indeed, and they are their debtors. For if the Gentiles have been partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister to them in material things. <sup>28</sup>Therefore, when I have performed this and have sealed to them this fruit, I shall go by way of you to Spain. <sup>29</sup>But I know that when I come to you, I shall come in the fullness of the blessing of the gospel<sup>c</sup> of Christ.

<sup>30</sup>Now I beg you, brethren, through the Lord Jesus Christ, and through the love of the Spirit, that you strive together with me in prayers to God for me, <sup>31</sup>that I may be delivered from those in Judea who do not believe, and that my service for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints, <sup>32</sup>that I may come to you with joy by the will of God, and may be refreshed together with you. <sup>33</sup>Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

worthy of the saints, and assist her in whatever business she has need of you; for indeed she has been a helper of many and of myself also.

Greeting Roman Saints

<sup>3</sup>Greet Priscilla and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ Jesus, <sup>4</sup>who risked their own necks for my life, to whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles. <sup>5</sup>Likewise greet the church that is in their house.

Greet my beloved Epaenetus, who is the firstfruits of Achaia<sup>a</sup> to Christ. <sup>6</sup>Greet Mary, who labored much for us. <sup>7</sup>Greet Andronicus and Junia, my countrymen and my fellow prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also were in Christ before me.

Avoid Divisive Persons

<sup>17</sup>Now I urge you, brethren, note those who cause divisions and offenses, contrary to the doctrine which you learned, and avoid them. <sup>18</sup>For those who are such do not serve our Lord Jesus<sup>a</sup> Christ, but their own belly, and by smooth words and flattering speech deceive the hearts of the simple. <sup>19</sup>For your obedience has become known to all. Therefore I am glad on your behalf; but I want you to be wise in what is good, and simple concerning evil. <sup>20</sup>And the God of peace will crush Satan under your feet shortly.

“Tertius” and “Quartus” are the Latin words for “third” and “fourth” and were names given to slaves (Rom. 16:22, 23). Tertius, Paul’s secretary for the Book of Romans, is a good example of the wide range of jobs that slaves had in the Roman world. Persons born as slaves could be educated for jobs requiring literacy, or educated adults could be enslaved through conquest in war.

En Route to Jerusalem

The account of Paul’s travels to Jerusalem at the end of his third missionary journey (Acts 20:3b–21:16) is one of three segments in the Book of Acts known as the “we” passages (also 16:10–18; 27:1–28:16). These accounts appear to relate firsthand reports of events at which the author of Acts was personally present.

Scholars differ over the significance the “we” passages have concerning the authorship of Acts as a whole. Since Paul was known to have had an associate named Luke (Philem. 1:24; Col. 4:14; 2 Tim. 4:11), these firsthand accounts might support the traditional view that Luke wrote Acts. Other scholars suggest that the “we” passages may represent a source used by the author of Acts. In this case, the author of the source for the “we” passages need not have been the author of the entire book.

At Tyre Paul heard the first Spirit-inspired prediction of trouble facing him at Jerusalem (Acts 21:4). But Paul was undeterred. His destination was Jerusalem, hoping to be there by the Day of Pentecost in A.D. 57. After that, he planned to visit Rome (see 19:21).

• Acts 20:3b–21:16

Acts

20:3b And when the Jews plotted against him as he was about to sail to Syria, he decided to return through Macedonia. <sup>4</sup>And Sopater of Berea accompanied him to Asia—also Aristarchus and Secundus of the Thessalonians, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy, and Tychicus and Trophimus of Asia. <sup>5</sup>These men, going ahead, waited for us at Troas. <sup>6</sup>But we sailed away from Philippi after the Days of Unleavened Bread, and in five days joined them at Troas, where we stayed seven days.

Ministering at Troas

<sup>7</sup>Now on the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul, ready to depart the next day, spoke to them and continued his message until midnight. <sup>8</sup>There were many lamps in the upper room where they<sup>a</sup> were gathered together. <sup>9</sup>And in a window sat a certain young man named Eutychus, who was sinking into a deep sleep. He was overcome by sleep; and as Paul continued speaking, he fell down from the third story and was taken up dead. <sup>10</sup>But Paul went down, fell on him, and embracing him said, “Do not trouble yourselves, for his life is in him.” <sup>11</sup>Now when he had come up, had broken bread and eaten, and talked a long while, even till daybreak, he departed. <sup>12</sup>And they brought the young man in alive, and they were not a little comforted.

From Troas to Miletus

<sup>13</sup>Then we went ahead to the ship and sailed to Assos, there intending to take Paul on board; for so he had given orders, intending himself to go on foot. <sup>14</sup>And when he met us at Assos, we took him on board and came to Mitylene. <sup>15</sup>We sailed from there, and the next day came opposite Chios. The following day we arrived at Samos and stayed at Trogyllium. The next day we came to Miletus. <sup>16</sup>For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he would not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hurrying to be at Jerusalem, if possible, on the Day of Pentecost.

The Ephesian Elders Exhorted

<sup>17</sup>From Miletus he sent to Ephesus and called for the elders of the church. <sup>18</sup>And when they had come to him, he said to them: “You know, from the first day that I came to Asia, in what manner I always lived among you, <sup>19</sup>serv- ing the Lord with all humility, with many tears and trials which happened to me by the plotting of the Jews; <sup>20</sup>how I kept back nothing that was helpful, but proclaimed it to you, and taught you publicly and from house to house, <sup>21</sup>testifying to Jews, and also to Greeks, repentance toward God and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>22</sup>And see, now I go bound in the spirit to Jerusalem, not knowing the things that will happen to me there, <sup>23</sup>except that the Holy Spirit testifies in every city, saying that chains and tribulations await me. <sup>24</sup>But none of these things move me; nor do I count my life dear to myself,<sup>a</sup> so that I may finish my race with joy, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God.

<sup>25</sup>“And indeed, now I know that you all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, will see my face no more. <sup>26</sup>Therefore I testify to you this day that I am innocent of the blood of all men. <sup>27</sup>For I have not shunned to declare to you the whole counsel of God. <sup>28</sup>Therefore take heed to yourselves and to all the flock, among which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the church of God<sup>a</sup> which He purchased with His own blood. <sup>29</sup>For I know this, that after my departure savage wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock. <sup>30</sup>Also from among yourselves men will rise up, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after themselves. <sup>31</sup>Therefore watch, and remember that for three years I did not cease to warn every- one night and day with tears.

<sup>32</sup>“So now, brethren, I commend you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and give you an inheritance among all those who are sanctified. <sup>33</sup>I have coveted no one’s silver or gold or apparel. <sup>34</sup>Yes,<sup>a</sup> you yourselves know that these hands have provided for my necessities, and for those who were with me. <sup>35</sup>I have shown you in every way, by laboring like this, that you must support the weak. And remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that He said, ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’”

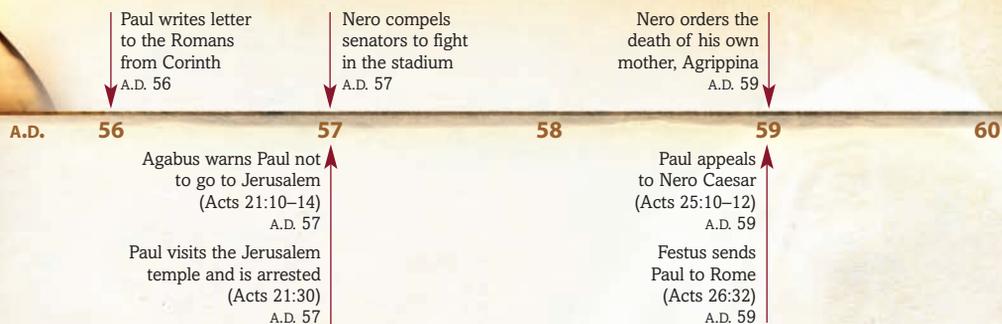

<sup>36</sup>And when he had said these things, he knelt down and prayed with them all. <sup>37</sup>Then they all wept freely, and fell on Paul’s neck and kissed him, <sup>38</sup>sorrowing most of all for the words which he spoke, that they would see his face no more. And they accompanied him to the ship.

Warnings on the Journey to Jerusalem

21 <sup>1</sup>Now it came to pass, that when we had departed from them and set sail, running a straight course we came to Cos, the following day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara. <sup>2</sup>And finding a ship sailing over to Phoenicia, we went aboard and set sail. <sup>3</sup>When we had sighted Cyprus, we passed it on the left, sailed to Syria, and landed at Tyre; for there the ship was to unload her cargo. <sup>4</sup>And finding disciples,<sup>a</sup> we stayed there seven days. They told Paul through the Spirit not to go up to Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup>When we had come to the end of those days, we departed and went on our way; and they all accompanied us, with wives and children, till we were out of the city. And we knelt down on the shore and prayed. <sup>6</sup>When we had taken our leave of one another, we boarded the ship, and they returned home.

<sup>7</sup>And when we had finished our voyage from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, greeted the brethren, and stayed with them one day. <sup>8</sup>On the next day we who were Paul's companions<sup>a</sup> departed and came to Caesarea, and entered the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him. <sup>9</sup>Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied. <sup>10</sup>And as we stayed many days, a certain prophet named Agabus came down from Judea. <sup>11</sup>When he had come to us, he took Paul's belt, bound his own hands and feet, and said, "Thus says the Holy Spirit, 'So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man who owns this belt, and deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.'

<sup>12</sup>Now when we heard these things, both we and those from that place pleaded with him not to go up to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup>Then Paul answered, "What do you mean by weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus."

<sup>14</sup>So when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, "The will of the Lord be done."

Paul Urged to Make Peace

<sup>15</sup>And after those days we packed and went up to Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>Also some of the disciples from Caesarea went with us and brought with them a certain Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we were to lodge.

THE GOSPEL FROM JERUSALEM TO ROME

Acts presents Rome as the guardian of law and order, a situation which often worked to the advantage of Paul and the gospel. Christians were expected to observe Roman law and not to get involved in disorderly, suspicious, or treasonous activity. The Romans, for their part, recognized Christianity as a legal and valid religion with the right to exist.

Paul's Roman citizenship granted him certain privileges as well as protection from Jewish fanaticism. His defense before the Roman governors Felix and Festus, as well as his specific appeal to plead his case before Caesar (Acts 25:10–12) are examples of Roman civil and legal law protecting Christianity.

God used Paul's imprisonment to bring him to Rome, the heart of the world.

The final chapters of Acts portray Paul as a witness for Jesus Christ on trial for the gospel. He defends himself before a Jerusalem crowd (Acts 22:1–21), before Felix (24:10–21), and before King Agrippa (26:1–32). He was not found guilty of any crime by the Romans, but they kept him in prison to satisfy the Jews. In the view of the author of Acts, God used Paul's imprisonment to bring him to Rome, the heart of the world, and to make him a witness there.

Paul's appearance in Rome was ironic, because he came as a prisoner and not as a missionary (Acts 28:19, 20). In a Roman house he was held in confinement awaiting a trial that apparently never took place.

Paul Arrested in the Temple

After arriving in Jerusalem, Paul went to James, the brother of Jesus, and to the elders telling them about his work among the Gentiles. The leaders of the church rejoiced over the conversion of Gentiles, but they were worried about Jewish hostility. Rumors were circulating that Paul had taught Jews living outside of Palestine not to keep the Jewish law. To avoid a dispute, Paul was urged to join with four men who had taken a Nazirite vow. By accompanying them to the temple and paying the expenses of the sacrificial offerings, Paul would demonstrate that as a Jew he was keeping the law, despite his witnessing to Gentiles.

Paul was also accused of profaning the temple by bringing a Gentile into its inner courts. Gentiles were allowed in the outer court, called appropriately the Court of the Gentiles, but they were forbidden to come into the Court of Women or the Court of Israel. Signs warned that Gentiles entering these courts would be put to death.

Though Paul had not brought Gentiles into the temple, accusations of such led to an attack against him. The mob stopped beating Paul only because the Roman soldiers intervened to save his life.

Acts

21:17 And when we had come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly. <sup>18</sup>On the following day Paul went in with us to James, and all the elders were present. <sup>19</sup>When he had greeted them, he told in detail those things which God had done among the Gentiles through his ministry. <sup>20</sup>And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord. And they said to him, “You see, brother, how many myriads of Jews there are who have believed, and they are all zealous for the law; <sup>21</sup>but they have been informed about you that you teach all the Jews who are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children nor to walk according to the customs. <sup>22</sup>What then? The assembly must certainly meet, for they will<sup>a</sup> hear that you have come. <sup>23</sup>Therefore do what we tell you: We have four men who have taken a vow. <sup>24</sup>Take them and be purified with them, and pay their expenses so that they may shave their heads, and that all may know that those things of which they were informed concerning you are nothing, but that you yourself also walk orderly and keep the law. <sup>25</sup>But concerning the Gentiles who believe, we have written and decided that they should observe no such thing, except<sup>a</sup> that they should keep themselves from things offered to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from sexual immorality.”

Arrested in the Temple

<sup>26</sup>Then Paul took the men, and the next day, having been purified with them, entered the temple to announce the expiration of the days of purification, at which time an offering should be made for each one of them.

<sup>27</sup>Now when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews from Asia, seeing him in the temple, stirred up the whole crowd and laid hands on him, <sup>28</sup>crying out, “Men of Israel, help! This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against the people, the law, and this place; and furthermore he also brought Greeks into the temple and has defiled this holy place.” <sup>29</sup>(For they had previously<sup>a</sup> seen Trophimus the Ephesian with him in the city, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

<sup>30</sup>And all the city was disturbed; and the people ran together, seized Paul, and dragged him out of the temple; and immediately the doors were shut. <sup>31</sup>Now as they were seeking to kill him, news came to the commander of the garrison that all Jerusalem was in an uproar. <sup>32</sup>He immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down to them. And when they saw the commander and the soldiers, they stopped beating Paul. <sup>33</sup>Then the commander came near and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains; and he asked who he was and what he had done. <sup>34</sup>And some among the multitude cried one thing and some another.

So when he could not ascertain the truth because of the tumult, he commanded him to be taken into the barracks. <sup>35</sup>When he reached the stairs, he had to be carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the mob. <sup>36</sup>For the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, “Away with him!”

Addressing the Jerusalem Mob

<sup>37</sup>Then as Paul was about to be led into the barracks, he said to the commander, “May I speak to you?”

Culture & Society

Tensions in Judea grew worse and worse during the decades leading up to the war between Judea and Rome. The historian Josephus describes a new kind of assassin called sicarii, who would approach a target in daytime in a crowded place, stab the victim with daggers, and then disappear into the crowd (Acts 21:38). The Latin word sica means “dagger” and sicarii means “dagger men.”

RABBI GAMALIEL, PAUL'S TEACHER (ACTS 22:3)

Gamaliel was a leading Pharisee and a member of the Jewish Sanhedrin in the New Testament period. As a rabbi, he was well known for his ability to interpret the Torah, having the respect of “all the people” (Acts 5:34). According to one tradition, he was the disciple of the famous rabbi Hillel, whose rabbinical school he represented. Yet another tradition knew Gamaliel to be Hillel's grandson.

Later Jewish sources applauded Gamaliel for upholding the purity of the Law (Torah) and for maintaining its dietary regulations. In other matters, though, he is reported to have held liberal views concerning divorce, keeping the Sabbath, and accepting the Targums (Jewish commentary upon the Torah). This more liberal side of Gamaliel is consistent with his counseling of the Sanhedrin, as Luke relates in Acts. When the Sanhedrin would have killed Peter and some of the apostles, Gamaliel rose to urge a wait-and-see attitude (Acts 5:33–35). The council should let God take care of misguided radicals like the apostles, Gamaliel advised (5:38, 39).

Paul claimed to have been a disciple of Gamaliel, “brought up” or instructed at the rabbi's feet (Acts 22:3). In one sense, though, Paul the disciple did not follow in his teacher's steps. While Gamaliel had urged restraint in dealing with Jesus' followers, Paul persecuted them zealously until his conversion.

He replied, “Can you speak Greek?<sup>38</sup> Are you not the Egyptian who some time ago stirred up a rebellion and led the four thousand assassins out into the wilderness?”

<sup>39</sup>But Paul said, “I am a Jew from Tarsus, in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city; and I implore you, permit me to speak to the people.”

<sup>40</sup>So when he had given him permission, Paul stood on the stairs and motioned with his hand to the people. And when there was a great silence, he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, saying,

22 <sup>1</sup>“Brethren and fathers, hear my defense before you now.” <sup>2</sup>And when they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, they kept all the more silent.

Then he said: <sup>3</sup>“I am indeed a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, taught according to the strictness of our fathers' law, and was zealous toward God as you all are today. <sup>4</sup>I persecuted this Way to the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women, <sup>5</sup>as also the high priest bears me witness, and all the council of the elders, from whom I also received letters to the brethren, and went to Damascus to bring in chains even those who were there to Jerusalem to be punished.

<sup>6</sup>“Now it happened, as I journeyed and came near Damascus at about noon, suddenly a great light from heaven shone around me. <sup>7</sup>And I fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to me, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?’ <sup>8</sup>So I answered, ‘Who are You, Lord?’ And He said to me, ‘I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom you are persecuting.’

<sup>9</sup>“And those who were with me indeed saw the light and were afraid,<sup>a</sup> but they did not hear the voice of Him who spoke to me. <sup>10</sup>So I said, ‘What shall I do, Lord?’ And the Lord said to me, ‘Arise and go into Damascus, and there you will be told all things which are appointed for you to do.’ <sup>11</sup>And since I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of those who were with me, I came into Damascus.

<sup>12</sup>“Then a certain Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good testimony with all the Jews who dwelt there, <sup>13</sup>came to me; and he stood and said to me, ‘Brother Saul, receive your sight.’ And at that same hour I looked up at him. <sup>14</sup>Then he said, ‘The God of our fathers has chosen you that you should know His will, and see the Just One, and hear the voice of His mouth. <sup>15</sup>For you will be His witness to all men of what you have seen and heard. <sup>16</sup>And now why are you waiting? Arise and be baptized, and wash away your sins, calling on the name of the Lord.’

<sup>17</sup>“Now it happened, when I returned to Jerusalem and was praying in the temple, that I was in a trance <sup>18</sup>and saw Him saying to me, ‘Make haste and get out of Jerusalem quickly, for they will not receive your testimony concerning Me.’ <sup>19</sup>So I said, ‘Lord, they know that in every synagogue I imprisoned and beat those who believe on You. <sup>20</sup>And when the blood of Your martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by consenting to his death,<sup>a</sup> and guarding the clothes of those who were killing him.’ <sup>21</sup>Then He said to me, ‘Depart, for I will send you far from here to the Gentiles.’”

Paul's Roman Citizenship

by, “Is it lawful for you to scourge a man who is a Roman, and uncondemned?”

<sup>26</sup>When the centurion heard that, he went and told the commander, saying, “Take care what you do, for this man is a Roman.”

He said, “Yes.”

And Paul said, “But I was born a citizen.”

<sup>29</sup>Then immediately those who were about to examine him withdrew from him; and the commander was also afraid after he found out that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

The Sanhedrin Divided

<sup>30</sup>The next day, because he wanted to know for certain why he was accused by the Jews, he released him from his bonds, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down and set him before them.

23 <sup>1</sup>Then Paul, looking earnestly at the council, said, “Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.”

<sup>2</sup>And the high priest Ananias commanded those who stood by him to strike him on the mouth.

<sup>3</sup>Then Paul said to him, “God will strike you, you whitewashed wall! For you sit to judge me according to the law, and do you command me to be struck contrary to the law?”

<sup>4</sup>And those who stood by said, “Do you revile God’s high priest?”

<sup>5</sup>Then Paul said, “I did not know, brethren, that he was the high priest; for it is written, ‘You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.’”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>6</sup>But when Paul perceived that one part were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, “Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee; concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am being judged!”

<sup>7</sup>And when he had said this, a dissension arose between the Pharisees and the Sadducees; and the assembly was divided. <sup>8</sup>For Sadducees say that there is no resurrection—and no angel or spirit; but the Pharisees confess both. <sup>9</sup>Then there arose a loud outcry. And the scribes of the Pharisees’ party arose and protested, saying, “We find no evil in this man; but if a spirit or an angel has spoken to him, let us not fight against God.”<sup>a</sup> and bring him into the barracks.

The Plot Against Paul

<sup>11</sup>But the following night the Lord stood by him and said, “Be of good cheer, Paul; for as you have testified for Me in Jerusalem, so you must also bear witness at Rome.”

<sup>12</sup>And when it was day, some of the Jews banded together and bound themselves under an oath, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. <sup>13</sup>Now there were more than forty who had formed this conspiracy. <sup>14</sup>They came to the chief priests and elders, and said, “We have bound ourselves under a great oath that we will eat nothing until we have killed Paul. <sup>15</sup>Now you, therefore, together with the council, suggest to the commander that he be brought down to you tomorrow,” as though you were more to make further inquiries concerning him; but we are ready to kill him before he comes near.”

<sup>19</sup>Then the commander took him by the hand, went aside, and asked privately, “What is it that you have to tell me?”

BEFORE THE GOVERNOR AT CAESAREA (ACTS 23:23, 24)

The seaport of Caesarea on the Mediterranean coast was first founded as a trading station by the Sidonian king Strato in the 4th century B.C. It was subsequently occupied by the Ptolemies and Hasmoneans, among others, and eventually made into a fortified port city with an expanded harbor. But it is Herod the Great (37–4 B.C.) who is known as the builder of the city.

Caesarea was in a ruined state when Herod began building operations in 22 B.C. His dream was to have an international port built in a Roman provincial style that would challenge Egypt's Alexandria as the leading trading center in the eastern Mediterranean. The city was completed in about a dozen years according to the Jewish historian Josephus (our primary source of information about Herod's Caesarea). It was an engineering wonder, with many unique features. The builders used a siltation system and made use of hydraulic concrete (poured into the sea as liquid but hardened underwater). The harbor complex was the most elaborate of its day.

After Herod's time, the Roman procurators made Caesarea the official seat of rule. During Jesus' time Pontius Pilate governed Judea from Caesarea, and archaeologists have discovered a fragment of an inscription bearing Pilate's name at the theater there. Antonius Felix was the procurator (or governor) ruling at Caesarea between A.D. 52 and 59, which explains why Paul the prisoner was taken there to stand before him (Acts 23:23, 24).

<sup>20</sup>And he said, "The Jews have agreed to ask that you bring Paul down to the council tomorrow, as though they were going to inquire more fully about him. <sup>21</sup>But do not yield to them, for more than forty of them lie in wait for him, men who have bound themselves by an oath that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him; and now they are ready, waiting for the promise from you."

<sup>22</sup>So the commander let the young man depart, and commanded him, "Tell no one that you have revealed these things to me."

Paul Escorted to Caesarea

Citizens of Rome had special privileges including freedom from punishment until they had been tried and convicted. Because Paul had appealed for protection and a legal hearing under his rights as a Roman citizen, he was conducted by a military contingent to the governor's residence in the port city of Caesarea. Paul received an initial hearing before the Roman governor Antonius Felix within a week of arriving (Acts 24:1), but Felix declined to issue a ruling in the case. Even 2 years later (24:27), probably in July of A.D. 59, Paul's case still awaited adjudication. Felix was succeeded as governor by Porcius Festus at that time.

Greetings.

<sup>27</sup> This man was seized by the Jews and was about to be killed by them. Coming with the troops I rescued him, having learned that he was a Roman. <sup>28</sup>And when I wanted to know the reason they accused him, I brought him before their council. <sup>29</sup>I found out that he was accused concerning questions of their law, but had nothing charged against him deserving of death or chains.

WHEN DID FESTUS TAKE OFFICE? (ACTS 24:27)

Luke comments in Acts on a transfer of power that occurred while Paul was held in prison. The Roman procurator (or governor) of Judea, Antonius Felix, was replaced by Porcius Festus (Acts 24:27). The new procurator faced a situation left by Felix: Paul had been detained in prison while Felix dealt with other matters (Acts 24:24–26). Now Festus would need to hear Paul's case and decide whether to grant him passage to Rome for trial. The Jewish historian Josephus had a high regard for Festus, whom he contrasted with Felix, Festus's predecessor.

Just when Festus succeeded Felix as procurator is not exactly known. Both Josephus and Luke claim that he followed Felix. Josephus further says that Festus died 4 years before the Jewish war against Rome, which began in A.D. 66, thus making it A.D. 62 when Festus was succeeded by the next procurator, Albinus. But when Festus first took office and judged Paul's case is not as easy to determine.

One later source, Jerome's Latin version of Eusebius, claims that Festus took office in the emperor Nero's 2nd year, that is, A.D. 56. Complicating this date, though, is Josephus's statement that the previous procurator, Felix, received support from his brother Pallas when Felix left office and returned to Rome. Pallas lost his own position as financial secretary in A.D. 55, making it questionable whether he could have helped his brother after that time. Festus, then, would have taken office by A.D. 55.

The information regarding when Felix left office and Festus took over simply prevents any definite date from being established. Pallas is described as extremely wealthy by two Roman historians, Tacitus and Dio Cassius, so even after he was no longer financial secretary his wealth would have allowed him to help his brother Felix. It is also known that Felix was in office in A.D. 53 and ruled for "many years" (Acts 24:10), and Josephus writes considerably of Felix's time in office. While a specific year remains unsettled, most scholars suggest that Festus succeeded Felix around A.D. 59, ruling until his death in A.D. 62.

certain orator named Tertullus. These gave evidence to the governor against Paul.

<sup>2</sup>And when he was called upon, Tertullus began his accusation, saying: "Seeing that through you we enjoy great peace, and prosperity is being brought to this nation by your foresight, <sup>3</sup>we accept it always and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness. <sup>4</sup>Nevertheless, not to be tedious to you any further, I beg you to hear, by your courtesy, a few words from us. <sup>5</sup>For we have found this man a plague, a creator of dissension among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes. <sup>6</sup>He even tried to profane the temple, and we seized him,<sup>a</sup> and wanted to judge him according to our law. <sup>7</sup>But the commander Lysias came by and with great violence took him out of our hands, <sup>8</sup>commanding his accusers to come to you. By examining him yourself you may ascertain all these things of which we accuse him." <sup>9</sup>And the Jews also assented,<sup>a</sup> maintaining that these things were so.

The Defense Before Felix

<sup>10</sup>Then Paul, after the governor had nodded to him to speak, answered: "Inasmuch as I know that you have been for many years a judge of this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself, <sup>11</sup>because you may ascertain that it is no more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem to worship. <sup>12</sup>And they neither found me in the temple disputing with anyone nor inciting the crowd, either in the synagogues or in the city. <sup>13</sup>Nor can they prove the things of which they now accuse me. <sup>14</sup>But this I confess to you, that according to the Way which they call a sect, so I worship the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the Law and in the Prophets. <sup>15</sup>I have hope in God, which they themselves also accept, that there will be a resurrection of the dead,<sup>a</sup> both of the just and the unjust. <sup>16</sup>This being so, I myself always strive to have a conscience without offense toward God and men.

<sup>17</sup>"Now after many years I came to bring alms and offerings to my nation, <sup>18</sup>in the midst of which some Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with a mob nor with tumult. <sup>19</sup>They ought to have been here before you to object if they had anything against me. <sup>20</sup>Or else let those who are here themselves say if they found any wrongdoing<sup>a</sup> in me while I stood before the council, <sup>21</sup>unless it is for this one statement which I cried out, standing among them, 'Concerning the resurrection of the dead I am being judged by you this day.'"

Felix Procrastinates

<sup>22</sup>But when Felix heard these things, having more accurate knowledge of the Way, he adjourned the proceedings and said, "When Lysias the commander comes down, I will make a decision on your case." <sup>23</sup>So he commanded the centurion to keep Paul and to let him have liberty, and told him not to forbid any of his friends to provide for or visit him.

24:6 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text ends the sentence here and omits the rest of verse 6, all of verse 7, and the first clause of verse 8. 24:9 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text read joined the attack. 24:15 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits of the dead. 24:20 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text read say what wrongdoing they found.

<sup>25</sup>Now as he reasoned about righteousness, self-control, and the judgment to come, Felix was afraid and answered, “Go away for now; when I have a convenient time I will call for you.” <sup>26</sup>Meanwhile he also hoped that money would be given him by Paul, that he might release him.<sup>a</sup> Therefore he sent for him more often and conversed with him.

The Letter to the Philippians

Paul’s immediate purpose for writing a letter to the Philippians was to thank them for a gift they had sent him (Phil. 4:14–18). Their messenger, Epaphroditus, had recovered from a serious illness and could carry this letter as he returned to Philippi (2:25–30). Paul’s authorship of the letter to the Philippians has never been seriously questioned. There has been frequent and vigorous debate, however, over the date as well as the place of writing.

One view is that Paul wrote Philippians from Rome between A.D. 61 and 63. Paul was in prison (Phil. 1:12–14), and references to the “palace guard” (1:13) and “Caesar’s household” (4:22) might suggest imprisonment in Rome. If so, this letter would have been written sometime after Paul was first placed under Roman guard (Acts 28:16).

Other scholars believe that Philippians was written earlier, either around A.D. 54 or 55 during Paul’s ministry in Ephesus (Acts 19), or about A.D. 57–59 during his imprisonment at Caesarea (Acts 24–26). The terms “Caesar’s household” and “palace guard,” important evidence for a Roman imprisonment, could instead refer to Roman authorities in provincial cities like Ephesus or Caesarea. The location of Ephesus is favored because of hints that frequent travels were made between the prison and Philippi (Phil. 1:26; 2:19, 23–26; 4:18), suggesting that Paul was nearer to Philippi than imprisonment in Rome would allow.

That Paul wrote this letter from either Ephesus or Caesarea can be questioned. The Book of Acts does not mention Paul’s ever being in prison in Ephesus, although Paul did write from Ephesus about some threat that he faced in Asia, the Roman province of which Ephesus was the chief city (2 Cor. 1:8–11). The Book of Acts does refer to a Caesarean imprisonment, but Caesarea was much farther from Philippi than was either Ephesus or Rome.

Wherever Paul was imprisoned, the Philippians supported him (Phil. 1:7). In one of his most personal letters, Paul is concerned, yet confident, that God will bring the Philippians’ faith to maturity (2:15).

Philippians

Greeting

1:1 Paul and Timothy, bondservants of Jesus Christ,

To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are in Philippi, with the bishops<sup>a</sup> and deacons:

Thankfulness and Prayer

<sup>3</sup>I thank my God upon every remembrance of you, <sup>4</sup>always in every prayer of mine making request for you all with joy, <sup>5</sup>for your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now, <sup>6</sup>being confident of this very thing, that He who has begun a good work in you will complete it until the day of Jesus Christ; <sup>7</sup>just as it is right for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart, inasmuch as both in my chains and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel, you all are partakers with me of grace. <sup>8</sup>For God is my witness, how greatly I long for you all with the affection of Jesus Christ.

<sup>9</sup>And this I pray, that your love may abound still more and more in knowledge and all discernment, <sup>10</sup>that you may approve the things that are excellent, that you may be sincere and without offense till the day of Christ, <sup>11</sup>being filled with the fruits of righteousness which are by Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

Christ Is Preached

<sup>12</sup>But I want you to know, brethren, that the things which happened to me have actually turned out for the furtherance of the gospel, <sup>13</sup>so that it has become evident to the whole palace guard, and to all the rest, that my chains are in Christ; <sup>14</sup>and most of the brethren in the Lord, having become confident by my chains, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

<sup>15</sup>Some indeed preach Christ even from envy and strife, and some also from goodwill: <sup>16</sup>The former<sup>a</sup> preach Christ from selfish ambition, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my chains; <sup>17</sup>but the latter out of love, knowing that I am appointed for the defense of the gospel. <sup>18</sup>What then? Only that in every way, whether in pretense or in truth, Christ is preached; and in this I rejoice, yes, and will rejoice.

To Live Is Christ

<sup>19</sup>For I know that this will turn out for my deliverance through your prayer and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, <sup>20</sup>according to my earnest expectation and hope that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ will be magnified in my body, whether by life or by death. <sup>21</sup>For to me, to live is Christ, and to die is gain. <sup>22</sup>But if I live on in the flesh, this will mean fruit from my labor; yet what I shall choose I cannot tell. <sup>23</sup>For<sup>a</sup> I am hard-pressed between the two, having a desire to depart and be with Christ, which is far better. <sup>24</sup>Nevertheless to remain in the flesh is more needful for you. <sup>25</sup>And being confident of this, I know that I shall remain and continue with you all for your progress and joy of faith, <sup>26</sup>that your rejoicing for me may be more abundant in Jesus Christ by my coming to you again.

Striving and Suffering for Christ

<sup>27</sup>Only let your conduct be worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of your affairs, that you stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel, <sup>28</sup>and not in any way terrified by your adversaries, which is to them a proof of perdition, but to you of salvation,<sup>a</sup> and that from God. <sup>29</sup>For to you it has been granted on behalf of Christ, not only to believe in Him, but also to suffer for His sake, <sup>30</sup>having the same conflict which you saw in me and now hear is in me.

Unity Through Humility

2 <sup>1</sup>Therefore if there is any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any affection and mercy, <sup>2</sup>fulfill my joy by being like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. <sup>3</sup>Let nothing be done through selfish ambition or conceit, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than himself. <sup>4</sup>Let each of you look out not only for his own interests, but also for the interests of others.

The Humbled and Exalted Christ

<sup>5</sup>Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>who, being in the form of God, did not consider it robbery to be equal with God, <sup>7</sup>but made Himself of no reputation, taking the form of a bondservant, and coming in the likeness of men. <sup>8</sup>And being found in appearance as a man, He humbled Himself and became obedient to the point of death, even the death of the cross. <sup>9</sup>Therefore God also has highly exalted Him and given Him the name which is above every name, <sup>10</sup>that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those in heaven, and of those on earth, and of those under the earth, <sup>11</sup>and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Light Bearers

<sup>12</sup>Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; <sup>13</sup>for it is God who works in you both to will and to do for His good pleasure.

<sup>14</sup>Do all things without complaining and disputing, <sup>15</sup>that you may become blameless and harmless, children of God without fault in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom you shine as lights in the world, <sup>16</sup>holding fast the word of life, so that I may rejoice in the day of Christ that I have not run in vain or labored in vain.

<sup>17</sup>Yes, and if I am being poured out as a drink offering on the sacrifice and service of your faith, I am glad and rejoice with you all. <sup>18</sup>For the same reason you also be glad and rejoice with me.

Timothy Commended

<sup>19</sup>But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you shortly, that I also may be encouraged when I know your state. <sup>20</sup>For I have no one like-minded, who will sincerely care for your state. <sup>21</sup>For all seek their own, not the things which are of Christ Jesus. <sup>22</sup>But you know his proven character, that as a son with his father he served with me in the gospel. <sup>23</sup>Therefore I hope to send him at once, as soon as I see how it goes with me. <sup>24</sup>But I trust in the Lord that I myself shall also come shortly.

Epaphroditus Praised

<sup>25</sup>Yet I considered it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow worker, and fellow soldier, but your messenger and the one who ministered to my need; <sup>26</sup>since he was longing for

PAUL'S PEDIGREE AS A PHARISEE (PHIL. 3:4-6)

Much has been written about the Pharisees in the time of Jesus, yet remarkably little was written by them. First-hand writings exist from only two persons who identified themselves with the Pharisees: Josephus, the first-century Jewish historian and apologist, and Paul of Tarsus, also known as the apostle Paul. Neither Josephus nor Paul resembles the Pharisees written about elsewhere!

Paul recognized that his time as a Pharisee established for him a pedigree within Judaism that was quite impressive. His own summary of his pre-Christian life (Phil. 3:4-6), therefore, gives us insight into the convictions of at least some Pharisees. For one thing, to be a Pharisee meant for Paul that he interpreted the Law, the Jewish Torah in a certain way (3:5). Josephus also writes that Pharisees had their own interpretation of the Law.

Another conviction that Paul links to his pedigree as a Pharisee is zeal. "Zeal" characterizes those within Judaism who used violence against other Jews for violating the Torah. These Pharisees lived by their particular interpretations, and they were zealous to preserve the traditions of the fathers (Gal. 1:14) and Israel's integrity. The Pharisee Saul demonstrated his own zeal for Judaism by "persecuting the church" (Phil. 3:6).

Another example of such zeal appeared during the Maccabean war (166-160 B.C.), 200 years before Paul's time. The war broke out when the priest Mattathias "burned with zeal" and killed a fellow Jew who was sacrificing to Greek gods in violation of the Torah (1 Macc. 2:23-26). Mattathias cried out, "Let every one who is zealous for the law and supports the covenant come out with me!" (1 Macc. 2:27).

Reflecting on his time as a Pharisee, Paul counted himself amongst the most intense followers of the Law, zealous to the point of using violence to protect Israel from Torah desecration. No wonder he persecuted the church. In the view of the Pharisees, the first Christians, as a Jewish group that was lax in the observance of the Law, represented the defilement of Israel! Saul the Pharisee had lived out his commitment to Israel through the Law; Paul the apostle would live it out through Jesus Christ (Phil. 3:7-9).

you all, and was distressed because you had heard that he was sick. <sup>27</sup>For indeed he was sick almost unto death; but God had mercy on him, and not only on him but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow. <sup>28</sup>Therefore I sent him the more eagerly, that when you see him again you may rejoice, and I may be less sorrowful. <sup>29</sup>Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness, and hold such men in esteem; <sup>30</sup>because for the work of Christ he came close to death, not regarding his life, to supply what was lacking in your service toward me.

All for Christ

3 Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. For me to write the same things to you is not tedious, but for you it is safe.

<sup>2</sup>Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the mutilation! <sup>3</sup>For we are the circumcision, who worship God in the Spirit,<sup>4</sup> rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh, <sup>4</sup>though I also might have confidence in the flesh. If anyone else thinks he may have confidence in the flesh, I more so: <sup>5</sup>circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews; concerning the law, a Pharisee; <sup>6</sup>concerning zeal, persecuting the church; concerning the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.

<sup>7</sup>But what things were gain to me, these I have counted loss for Christ. <sup>8</sup>Yet indeed I also count all things loss for the excellence of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them as rubbish, that I may gain Christ <sup>9</sup>and be found in Him, not having my own righteousness, which is from the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is from God by faith; <sup>10</sup>that I may know Him and the power of His resurrection, and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to His death, <sup>11</sup>if, by any means, I may attain to the resurrection from the dead.

Pressing Toward the Goal

<sup>12</sup>Not that I have already attained, or am already perfected; but I press on, that I may lay hold of that for which Christ Jesus has also laid hold of me. <sup>13</sup>Brethren, I do not count myself to have apprehended; but one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward to those things which are ahead, <sup>14</sup>I press toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>Therefore let us, as many as are mature, have this mind; and if in anything you think otherwise, God will reveal even this to you. <sup>16</sup>Nevertheless, to the degree that we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule,<sup>a</sup> let us be of the same mind.

Religion & Worship

Every morning and evening an animal sacrifice accompanied by a drink offering was presented at the temple. For this the priests took somewhat more than a quart of wine and poured it out on the ground at the base of the altar. Paul likens his own life to the animal sacrifice and libation that were familiar practices in the ancient world (Phil. 2:17).

WOMEN LEADERS IN THE PHILIPPIAN CHURCH (PHIL. 4:2, 3)

Paul's letters provide insight into the social makeup of the small early Christian communities in the Greco-Roman world. In his letter to the Philippian church, the first two persons he mentions by name are women: Euodia and Syntyche (Phil. 4:2). When Paul describes them as "these women who labored with me in the gospel" and includes them in the category of "fellow workers" (4:3), he indicates that they joined with him as equal partners in his missionary and teaching activity.

The exact nature of their leadership roles in the church at Philippi is not certain. The authority of both women in the church was sufficient, however, for Paul to encourage them to seek harmony with one another (4:2). He even called on someone addressed as "true companion" to "help these women" (4:3). Perhaps he was concerned that competition between them for the Philippians' loyalty and affection might fracture the young Philippian church. Perhaps the church met in the houses of these two women; competition between them, then, would have been a temptation.

Paul was concerned that Euodia and Syntyche "be of the same mind in the Lord" (4:2). His concern could not have run too deep, though. Along with Clement, he believed that both Euodia's and Syntyche's names were "in the Book of Life" (4:3). Nevertheless, both women needed to seek the mind of Christ, not their own.

Women played important leadership roles in Paul's churches, two examples being Phoebe in the church at Cenchræa (Rom. 16:1) and Priscilla in Ephesus (1 Cor. 16:19). Particularly in Macedonia, where women often assumed prominent roles in religious cults, it would be natural to find female leaders in a church. Paul supported women's roles in the Christian communities and instructed believers: "there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus" (Gal. 3:28).

Our Citizenship in Heaven

<sup>17</sup>Brethren, join in following my example, and note those who so walk, as you have us for a pattern. <sup>18</sup>For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ: <sup>19</sup>whose end is destruction, whose god is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame—who set their mind on earthly things. <sup>20</sup>For our citizenship is in heaven, from which we also eagerly wait for the Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>21</sup>who will transform our lowly body that it may be conformed to His glorious body, according to the working by which He is able even to subdue all things to Himself.

4 <sup>1</sup>Therefore, my beloved and longed-for brethren, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, beloved.

Be United, Joyful, and in Prayer

<sup>2</sup>I implore Euodia and I implore Syntyche to be of the same mind in the Lord. <sup>3</sup>And<sup>a</sup> I urge you also, true companion, help these women who labored with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the Book of Life.

<sup>6</sup>Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God; <sup>7</sup>and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

Meditate on These Things

<sup>8</sup>Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue and if there is anything praiseworthy—meditate on these things. <sup>9</sup>The things which you learned and received and heard and saw in me, these do, and the God of peace will be with you.

Philippian Generosity

<sup>10</sup>But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly that now at last your care for me has flourished again; though you surely did care, but you lacked opportunity. <sup>11</sup>Not that I speak in regard to need, for I have learned in whatever state I am, to be content: <sup>12</sup>I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound. Everywhere and in all things I have learned both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need. <sup>13</sup>I can do all things through Christ<sup>a</sup> who strengthens me.

<sup>14</sup>Nevertheless you have done well that you shared in my distress. <sup>15</sup>Now you Philippians know also that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church shared with me concerning giving and receiving but you only. <sup>16</sup>For even in Thessalonica you sent aid once and again for my necessities. <sup>17</sup>Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit that abounds to your account. <sup>18</sup>Indeed I have all and abound. I am full, having received from Epaphroditus the things sent from you, a sweet-smelling aroma, an acceptable sacrifice, well pleasing to God. <sup>19</sup>And my God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus. <sup>20</sup>Now to our God and Father be glory forever and ever. Amen.

Greeting and Blessing

Paul Appeals to Caesar

Felix was succeeded as governor by Porcius Festus in the summer of A.D. 59 or 60. Like his predecessor Felix, Festus wanted to please the Jewish leadership, so he asked Paul to stand trial in Jerusalem. Paul, though, refused and used his prerogative as a Roman citizen to appeal, over the jurisdiction of the governor, to the emperor.

After Paul's appeal, Festus decided to present the problem to King Agrippa II. He and Bernice were children of Herod Agrippa I, who died at Caesarea (Acts 12:23). The king apparently welcomed the opportunity to hear Paul. Paul was equally pleased to bear witness before such a distinguished audience and a relatively friendly king. Both Festus and Agrippa II concurred that Paul's appeal to Caesar had removed the case from their legal jurisdiction (25:12; 26:32).

Paul Before Festus

25:1 Now when Festus had come to the province, after three days he went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup>Then the high priest<sup>a</sup> and the chief men of the Jews informed him against Paul; and they petitioned him, <sup>3</sup>asking a favor against him, that he would summon him to Jerusalem—while they lay in ambush along the road to kill him. <sup>4</sup>But Festus answered that Paul should be kept at Caesarea, and that he himself was going there shortly. <sup>5</sup>"Therefore," he said, "let those who have authority among you go down with me and accuse this man, to see if there is any fault in him."

<sup>6</sup>And when he had remained among them more than ten days, he went down to Caesarea. And the next day, sitting on the judgment seat, he

Politics & Government

In A.D. 54 the Roman Senate conferred the powers of emperor on Nero, who was the Caesar at the time Paul stood trial (Acts 25:10). Nero's mother Agrippina seems to have poisoned her husband Claudius so that her son could become emperor in his place. Nero was proud, cruel, and in the end a victim of delusions. He executed members of his own family. His enemies forced him to commit suicide in A.D. 68.

commanded Paul to be brought. <sup>7</sup>When he had come, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood about and laid many serious complaints against Paul, which they could not prove, <sup>8</sup>while he answered for himself, "Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar have I offended in anything at all."

<sup>9</sup>But Festus, wanting to do the Jews a favor, answered Paul and said, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and there be judged before me concerning these things?"

<sup>10</sup>So Paul said, "I stand at Caesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged. To the Jews I have done no wrong, as you very well know. <sup>11</sup>For if I am an offender, or have committed anything deserving of death, I do not object to dying; but if there is nothing in these things of which these men accuse me, no one can deliver me to them. I appeal to Caesar."

<sup>12</sup>Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, "You have appealed to Caesar? To Caesar you shall go!"

Paul Before Agrippa

<sup>22</sup>Then Agrippa said to Festus, "I also would like to hear the man myself."

"Tomorrow," he said, "you shall hear him."

AGRIPPA, PAUL'S JUDGE (ACTS 25:23)

Marcus Julius Agrippa was the Roman name of Agrippa II, the last of the Herodian dynasty of five Roman-appointed kings in Palestine. He and his father, Agrippa I, were descended from the Jewish-born Herod the Great, ruler of Judea at the time of Christ's birth (Matt. 2:1).

The writings of the Jewish historian Josephus (A.D. 37–100) provide the most information about Agrippa. Since he was too young to receive the throne of Judea in A.D. 44 when his father died, the Romans appointed a governor. Agrippa himself was given other territories to rule, notably in Galilee.

At the beginning of the Jewish revolt in A.D. 66 Agrippa came to Jerusalem to quell the disorder. Unsuccessful in this venture, he became an ardent Roman sympathizer. Josephus (The Wars of the Jews 2:345) attributes a speech to Agrippa in which he warned that the Romans were much too strong for the Jews to resist, and thus they should side with them. After the revolt in A.D. 70 the Romans gave Agrippa additional territory in reward for his loyalty.

In A.D. 59 the apostle Paul stood trial before Agrippa, who was considered an expert on Jewish affairs, and was interested in Paul's case (Acts 25:13–26:32). The king was accompanied at the trial by his sister Bernice (25:13, 23). Rumors about Agrippa, who apparently never married, having an incestuous relationship with Bernice were denied by Josephus while supported by the Roman writer Juvenal. Paul's judge was a Jewish king, a Roman sympathizer, and a man of questionable moral reputation. As Paul defended his Christian faith, he appealed to Agrippa's Jewish background, challenging even him to become a believing Jew (26:2, 3, 26, 27).

<sup>23</sup>So the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice had come with great pomp, and had entered the auditorium with the commanders and the prominent men of the city, at Festus' command Paul was brought in. <sup>24</sup>And Festus said: "King Agrippa and all the men who are here present with us, you see this man about whom the whole assembly of the Jews petitioned me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying out that he was not fit to live any longer. <sup>25</sup>But when I found that he had committed nothing deserving of death, and that he himself had appealed to Augustus, I decided to send him. <sup>26</sup>I have nothing certain to write to my lord concerning him. Therefore I have brought him out before you, and especially before you, King Agrippa, so that after the examination has taken place I may have something to write. <sup>27</sup>For it seems to me unreasonable to send a prisoner and not to specify the charges against him."

Paul's Early Life

26 <sup>1</sup>Then Agrippa said to Paul, "You are permitted to speak for yourself."

So Paul stretched out his hand and answered for himself: <sup>2</sup>"I think myself happy, King Agrippa, because today I shall answer for myself before you concerning all the things of which I am accused by the Jews, <sup>3</sup>especially because you are expert in all customs and questions which have to do with the Jews. Therefore I beg you to hear me patiently.

<sup>4</sup>"My manner of life from my youth, which was spent from the beginning among my own nation at Jerusalem, all the Jews know. <sup>5</sup>They knew me from the first, if they were willing to testify, that according to the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. <sup>6</sup>And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made by God to our fathers. <sup>7</sup>To this promise our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to attain. For this hope's sake, King Agrippa, I am accused by the Jews. <sup>8</sup>Why should it be thought incredible by you that God raises the dead?

<sup>9</sup>"Indeed, I myself thought I must do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. <sup>10</sup>This I also did in Jerusalem, and many of the saints I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I cast my vote against them. <sup>11</sup>And I punished them often in every synagogue and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly enraged against them, I persecuted them even to foreign cities.

Paul Recounts His Conversion

<sup>12</sup>"While thus occupied, as I journeyed to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests, <sup>13</sup>at midday, O king, along the road I saw a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, shining around me and those who journeyed with me. <sup>14</sup>And when we all had fallen to the ground, I heard a voice speaking to me and saying in the Hebrew language, 'Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads.' <sup>15</sup>So I said, 'Who are You, Lord?' And He said, 'I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. <sup>16</sup>But rise and stand on your feet; for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to make you a minister and a witness both of the things which you have seen and of the things which I will yet reveal to you. <sup>17</sup>I will deliver you from the Jewish people, as well as from the Gentiles, to whom I now<sup>a</sup> send you, <sup>18</sup>to open their eyes, in order to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who are sanctified by faith in Me.'

Paul's Post-Conversion Life

<sup>19</sup>“Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, <sup>20</sup>but declared first to those in Damascus and in Jerusalem, and throughout all the region of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent, turn to God, and do works befitting repentance. <sup>21</sup>For these reasons the Jews seized me in the temple and tried to kill me. <sup>22</sup>Therefore, having obtained help from God, to this day I stand, witnessing both to small and great, saying no other things than those which the prophets and Moses said would come— <sup>23</sup>that the Christ would suffer, that He would be the first to rise from the dead, and would proclaim light to the Jewish people and to the Gentiles.”

Agrippa Parries Paul's Challenge

<sup>24</sup>Now as he thus made his defense, Festus said with a loud voice, “Paul, you are beside yourself! Much learning is driving you mad!”

<sup>25</sup>But he said, “I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speak the words of truth and reason. <sup>26</sup>For the king, before whom I also speak freely, knows these things; for I am convinced that none of these things escapes his attention, since this thing was not done in a corner. <sup>27</sup>King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you do believe.”

<sup>29</sup>And Paul said, “I would to God that not only you, but also all who hear me today, might become both almost and altogether such as I am, except for these chains.”

<sup>30</sup>When he had said these things, the king stood up, as well as the governor and Bernice and those who sat with them; <sup>31</sup>and when they had gone aside, they talked among themselves, saying, “This man is doing nothing deserving of death or chains.”

TRANSITION

The Voyage to Rome

All the participants in the trial at Caesarea, even Agrippa, agreed that Paul was innocent. Christianity was not a crime before a Roman court, and Paul should rightfully have been set free (Acts 26:32). Instead, after having spent approximately 2 years in Roman custody in Caesarea, Paul was sent by ship to Rome (c. A.D. 59 or 60).

The voyage to Rome did not turn out to be a pleasure cruise. Contrary winds had delayed the grain ship until fall weather made sailing dangerous (Acts 27:7, 8). It was already late September or early October, the time when the fast on the Day of Atonement was observed (27:9). This late season, plus Paul's God-given foresight, led to his bold prediction: “this voyage will end with disaster” (27:9, 10). After departing the island of Crete late in the fall, his party was shipwrecked on Malta during a storm.

Paul spent the 3 winter months ministering on the island of Malta. According to Pliny the Elder, the seas could open up for safe sailing as early as February, though weather conditions could delay a voyage until sometime in March. So it was possibly in the spring of A.D. 60 that Paul's journey finally reached Italy. Appii Forum, 43 miles from Rome, and Three Inns, 33 miles from Rome (Acts 28:15), were well-known stopping places on the main highway from southern Italy to Rome.

• Acts 27:1—28:15

On to Rome

In Jerusalem following his third missionary journey, Paul struggled with Jews who accused him of profaning the temple (Acts 21:26–34). He was placed in Roman custody in Caesarea for two years, but, after appealing to the emperor, was sent by ship to Rome. During this fourth journey (Acts 27:1—28:16), Paul's party departed from the island of Crete only to be shipwrecked on Malta by a great storm. Three months later he finally arrived at the imperial city.

THE NATIVES OF MALTA (ACTS 28:1, 2)

Late in the autumn of A.D. 59 a ship carrying the apostle Paul to Rome was shipwrecked on a small island. About 60 miles south of Sicily lies the island of Malta, and on the northern part of Malta is the site traditionally called “St. Paul’s Bay.” Some scholars believe that St. Paul’s Bay fits the description of Acts 27:39 which mentions “a bay with a beach,” meaning a bay with a beach suitable to run aground a ship.

Before 700 B.C. Malta was a Phoenician trading colony. Diodorus Siculus, who between 60 to 30 B.C. wrote a world history, described Malta as the place where traders stopped off for trade with Spain. The island was also located on the shipping route from Rome to Egypt.

Phoenician culture and language existed on Malta long after the Romans took control of the island in 218 B.C. The Maltese people spoke Punic, a Phoenician language of ancient Carthage. Luke refers to them as “natives” (Acts 28:2, 4), but he does not mean they were primitive or uncivilized. The Greek word barbaros, which is translated “native,” was used by Greeks for foreigners, meaning those who were not Greek. Luke calls the Maltese people barbaros only because they were of Phoenician descent and did not speak Greek.

The Maltese natives were a religious people. One of their beliefs was that someone guilty of murder, or some such crime, who escaped a tragic death (such as Paul did at sea) would soon face some other form of death. So they concluded that a Phoenician deity had caused Paul’s viper attack. Luke expresses their idea in Greek thought: the goddess Justice will not allow a “guilty” Paul to live (Acts 28:4).

When Paul survived, the natives’ pagan beliefs led them to mistake Paul himself for a god (28:6). But the writer Luke credits the safety of Paul and those with him to another deity: God is the true protector who had a mission for Paul to fulfill (Acts 27:21–26).

Acts

The Voyage Begins

27:1 And when it was decided that we should sail to Italy, they delivered Paul and some other prisoners to one named Julius, a centurion of the Augustan Regiment. <sup>2</sup>So, entering a ship of Adramyttium, we put to sea, meaning to sail along the coasts of Asia. Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, was with us. <sup>3</sup>And the next day we landed at Sidon. And Julius treated Paul kindly and gave him liberty to go to his friends and receive care. <sup>4</sup>When we had put to sea from there, we sailed under the shelter of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. <sup>5</sup>And when we had sailed over the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. <sup>6</sup>There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship sailing to Italy, and he put us on board.

<sup>7</sup>When we had sailed slowly many days, and arrived with difficulty off Cnidus, the wind not permitting us to proceed, we sailed under the shelter of Crete off Salmone. <sup>8</sup>Passing it with difficulty, we came to a place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea.

Paul’s Warning Ignored

<sup>9</sup>Now when much time had been spent, and sailing was now dangerous because the Fast was already over, Paul advised them, <sup>10</sup>saying, “Men,

I perceive that this voyage will end with disaster and much loss, not only of the cargo and ship, but also our lives.” <sup>11</sup>Nevertheless the centurion was more persuaded by the helmsman and the owner of the ship than by the things spoken by Paul. <sup>12</sup>And because the harbor was not suitable to winter in, the majority advised to set sail from there also, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, a harbor of Crete opening toward the southwest and northwest, and winter there.

In the Tempest

Trade & Economics

Merchant ships in the 1st century were made of wood and powered by sail. They were mostly from 50 to 120 feet long, and thus could carry 200 to 300 tons of cargo. Passengers also traveled on cargo ships (Acts 27:6). The weather was dangerous after mid-September, and except for emergencies, the sea was closed to shipping between November 12 and March 10.

aground on the Syrtis<sup>a</sup> Sands, they struck sail and so were driven. <sup>18</sup>And because we were exceedingly tempest-tossed, the next day they lightened the ship. <sup>19</sup>On the third day we threw the ship's tackle overboard with our own hands. <sup>20</sup>Now when neither sun nor stars appeared for many days, and no small tempest beat on us, all hope that we would be saved was finally given up.

<sup>21</sup>But after long abstinence from food, then Paul stood in the midst of them and said, "Men, you should have listened to me, and not have sailed from Crete and incurred this disaster and loss. <sup>22</sup>And now I urge you to take heart, for there will be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. <sup>23</sup>For there stood by me this night an angel of the God to whom I belong and whom I serve, <sup>24</sup>saying, 'Do not be afraid, Paul; you must be brought before Caesar; and indeed God has granted you all those who sail with you.' <sup>25</sup>Therefore take heart, men, for I believe God that it will be just as it was told me. <sup>26</sup>However, we must run aground on a certain island."

<sup>27</sup>Now when the fourteenth night had come, as we were driven up and down in the Adriatic Sea, about midnight the sailors sensed that they were drawing near some land. <sup>28</sup>And they took soundings and found it to be twenty fathoms; and when they had gone a little farther, they took soundings again and found it to be fifteen fathoms. <sup>29</sup>Then, fearing lest we should run aground on the rocks, they dropped four anchors from the stern, and prayed for day to come. <sup>30</sup>And as the sailors were seeking to escape from the ship, when they had let down the skiff into the sea, under pretense of putting out anchors from the prow, <sup>31</sup>Paul said to the centurion and the soldiers, "Unless these men stay in the ship, you cannot be saved." <sup>32</sup>Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the skiff and let it fall off.

<sup>33</sup>And as day was about to dawn, Paul explored them all to take food, saying, "Today is the fourteenth day you have waited and continued without food, and eaten nothing. <sup>34</sup>Therefore I urge you to take nourishment, for this is for your survival, since not a hair will fall from the head of any of you." <sup>35</sup>And when he had said these things, he took bread and gave thanks to God in the presence of them all; and when he had broken it he began to eat. <sup>36</sup>Then they were all encouraged, and also took food themselves. <sup>37</sup>And in all we were two hundred and seventy-six persons on the ship. <sup>38</sup>So when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship and threw out the wheat into the sea.

Shipwrecked on Malta

<sup>39</sup>When it was day, they did not recognize the land; but they observed a bay with a beach, onto which they planned to run the ship if possible.

<sup>40</sup>And they let go the anchors and left them in the sea, meanwhile loosing the rudder ropes; and they hoisted the mainsail to the wind and made for shore. <sup>41</sup>But striking a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the prow stuck fast and remained immovable, but the stern was being broken up by the violence of the waves.

<sup>42</sup>And the soldiers' plan was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim away and escape. <sup>43</sup>But the centurion, wanting to save Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that those who could swim should jump overboard first and get to land, <sup>44</sup>and the rest, some on boards and some on parts of the ship. And so it was that they all escaped safely to land.

Paul's Ministry on Malta

28 <sup>1</sup>Now when they had escaped, they then found out that the island was called Malta. <sup>2</sup>And the natives showed us unusual kindness; for they kindled a fire and made us all welcome, because of the rain that was falling and because of the cold. <sup>3</sup>But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks and laid them on the fire, a viper came out because of the heat, and fastened on his hand. <sup>4</sup>So when the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said to one another, "No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he has escaped the sea, yet justice does not allow to live." <sup>5</sup>But he shook off the creature into the fire and suffered no harm. <sup>6</sup>However, they were expecting that he would swell up or suddenly fall down dead. But after they had looked for a long time and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds and said that he was a god.

<sup>7</sup>In that region there was an estate of the leading citizen of the island, whose name was Publius, who received us and entertained us courteously for three days. <sup>8</sup>And it happened that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and dysentery. Paul went in to him and prayed, and he laid his hands on him and healed him. <sup>9</sup>So when this was done, the rest of those on the island who had diseases also came and were healed. <sup>10</sup>They also honored us in many ways; and when we departed, they provided such things as were necessary.

Arrival at Rome

<sup>11</sup>After three months we sailed in an Alexandrian ship whose figurehead was the Twin Brothers, which had wintered at the island. <sup>12</sup>And landing at Syracuse, we stayed three days. <sup>13</sup>From there we circled round and reached Rhegium. And after one day the south wind blew; and the next day we came to Puteoli,

<sup>14</sup>where we found brethren, and were invited to stay with them seven days. And so we went toward Rome. <sup>15</sup>And from there, when the brethren heard about us, they came to meet us as far as Appii Forum and Three Inns. When Paul saw them, he thanked God and took courage.

Imprisonment in Rome

According to the Book of Acts, Paul spent 2 years under house arrest in Rome (Acts 28:16, 30). Acts is silent, however, regarding what happened to him at the end of that time, in late A.D. 62 or early 63. Some scholars argue that Luke intended the prophecy of Paul's martyrdom (Acts 20:24, 38) to inform the reader about his fate. Paul's execution under Nero sometime between the summers of A.D. 62 and 64 would also fit with two developments in Roman history of this period. First, Nero reinstated laws against treason in early 62, and Paul's execution may have been ordered based on such a charge (though Paul claims innocence of such; see Acts 25:8). Second, Nero married Poppaea in the spring of A.D. 62. Her strong support of the Jews may have negatively influenced the disposition of Paul's case.

Other scholars have suggested that Paul, after 2 years of imprisonment, was released about A.D. 63. He then carried on further missionary work in Macedonia (see 1 Tim. 1:3) and, according to some early Christian traditions, possibly also in Spain (see Rom. 15:28). Details of the end of Paul's life are unknown. Apparently he was subsequently rearrested and imprisoned, and Tertullian describes Paul's execution by beheading. Eusebius, the church historian, dates Paul's death in A.D. 67.

• Acts 28:16–31

Acts

28:16 Now when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard; but Paul was permitted to dwell by himself with the soldier who guarded him.

Paul's Ministry at Rome

<sup>17</sup>And it came to pass after three days that Paul called the leaders of the Jews together. So when they had come together, he said to them: "Men and brethren, though I have done nothing against our people or the customs of our fathers, yet I was delivered as a prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans, <sup>18</sup>who, when they had examined me, wanted to let me go, because there was no cause for putting me to death. <sup>19</sup>But when the Jews<sup>a</sup> spoke against it, I was compelled to appeal to Caesar, not that I had anything of which to accuse my nation. <sup>20</sup>For this reason therefore I have called for you, to see you and speak with you, because for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain."

<sup>21</sup>Then they said to him, "We neither received letters from Judea concerning you, nor have any of the brethren who came reported or spoken any evil of you. <sup>22</sup>But we desire to hear from you what you think; for concerning this sect, we know that it is spoken against everywhere."

<sup>23</sup>So when they had appointed him a day, many came to him at his lodging, to whom he explained and solemnly testified of the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus from both the Law of Moses and the Prophets, from morning till evening. <sup>24</sup>And some were persuaded by the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. <sup>25</sup>So when they did not agree among themselves, they departed after Paul had said one word: "The Holy Spirit spoke rightly through Isaiah the prophet to our<sup>a</sup> fathers, <sup>26</sup>saying,

'Go to this people and say:

'Hearing you will hear, and shall not understand;

And seeing you will see, and not perceive;

Their ears are hard of hearing,

And their eyes they have closed,

Lest they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears,

Lest they should understand with their hearts and turn,

So that I should heal them.' ' <sup>a</sup>

<sup>28</sup>"Therefore let it be known to you that the salvation of God has been sent to the Gentiles, and they will hear it!" <sup>29</sup>And when he had said these words, the Jews departed and had a great dispute among themselves.<sup>a</sup>

MORE THAN A SLAVE (PHILEM. 1:16)

Roman law in some respects treated slaves as persons but also viewed them economically as property. While slaves could hold property and buy their freedom, they also could be beaten and interrogated under torture. In the rare case where a head of a household was murdered by one of his slaves, all of his slaves would be executed. Thus, the term “beloved brother” (Philem. 1:16), as Paul calls Onesimus, indicated something more than a slave.

Onesimus was probably a household slave, the only type of slave addressed in Paul’s letters, which were written to urban congregations. Household slaves had greater opportunities for social advancement than did free peasants, and, in prominent households, often became powerful. Indeed, some noble women even married slaves of Caesar, thereby becoming slaves, to increase their social status! By saving money on the side, household slaves often purchased their freedom, and, with help from their former slaveholders, sometimes attained social prominence and wealth.

Slaveholders would send their trusted slaves, especially the more educated ones, on errands, often with money. Occasionally a slave chose to escape rather than return home, dangerous as such a venture was. Such may be the situation faced by Onesimus.

Roman law required Paul to return Onesimus to his master Philemon, or else face severe punishment. Paul does not advise Philemon to receive back Onesimus as a slave; he invites Philemon to embrace him as a brother. The letter to Philemon took the form of a “letter of recommendation,” in which a person of equal or higher status asked a favor for a person of lower status.

Escaped slaves, once recaptured, normally received severe punishment. One option for the slave was to seek out an advocate who would beseech the slaveowner on the slave’s behalf. In one situation, a close parallel to Paul’s letter, a Roman writer requested clemency for an escaped slave. Paul, however, asks not merely for clemency, but for Onesimus’s freedom.

<sup>30</sup>Then Paul dwelt two whole years in his own rented house, and received all who came to him, <sup>31</sup>preaching the kingdom of God and teaching the things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ with all confidence, no one forbidding him.

both the capture of the runaway slave Onesimus, as well as Paul’s own hopes to visit Philemon in the near future (Philem. 1:22). Nevertheless, the chance that Paul wrote from his Caesarean imprisonment (see “Paul Escorted to Caesarea” at Acts 23:23) has been considered, although Caesarea is even farther from Colosse than Rome.

The Letter to Philemon

Philemon probably lived in the Lycus Valley where Colosse and Laodicea were located (see Col. 4:15). He was a close friend of Paul, indebted to him spiritually, and a helper in his ministry (Philem. 1:1, 19). Onesimus, Philemon’s slave, had run away and been converted by Paul. Paul offers two reasons for writing this letter to Philemon: (1) an appeal for him to receive Onesimus as a brother in Christ (1:10–17), and (2) a request for him to prepare a guest room for Paul’s coming visit (1:22).

The letters to Philemon and to the Colossians were possibly written by Paul at the same time, about A.D. 62, during his imprisonment at Rome (Acts 28:16–31). Paul described himself both as a prisoner (Philem. 1:1, 9, 23) and as being aged (1:9). Many of the people mentioned in Philemon are also mentioned in Colossians: Archippus (Col. 4:17), Onesimus (Col. 4:9), Epaphras (Col. 1:7; 4:12), Mark, Aristarchus (Col. 4:10), Demas, and Luke (Col. 4:14). Onesimus and Tychicus (Col. 4:7–9) were the bearers of these letters.

An earlier imprisonment, either in Ephesus around A.D. 54 or 55 or in Caesarea, has also been suggested as the time of Paul’s writing (see “The Letter to the Philippians” at Phil. 1:1). Ephesus is closer to Colosse than is Rome, thus the close proximity of Ephesus would make more likely

Philemon Greeting

1 :1 Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother,

To Philemon our beloved friend and fellow laborer, <sup>2</sup>to the beloved<sup>a</sup> Apphia, Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the church in your house:

<sup>3</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Philemon’s Love and Faith

<sup>4</sup>I thank my God, making mention of you always in my prayers, <sup>5</sup>hearing of your love and faith which you have toward the Lord Jesus and toward all the saints, <sup>6</sup>that the sharing of your faith may become effective by the acknowledgment of every good thing which is in you<sup>a</sup> in Christ Jesus. <sup>7</sup>For we have<sup>a</sup> great joy<sup>b</sup> and consolation in your love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed by you, brother.

The Plea for Onesimus

<sup>8</sup>Therefore, though I might be very bold in Christ to command you what is fitting, <sup>9</sup>yet for love's sake I rather appeal to you—being such a one as Paul, the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ—<sup>10</sup>I appeal to you for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten while in my chains, <sup>11</sup>who once was unprofitable to you, but now is profitable to you and to me.

<sup>12</sup>I am sending him back.<sup>a</sup> You therefore receive him, that is, my own heart, <sup>13</sup>whom I wished to keep with me, that on your behalf he might minister to me in my chains for the gospel. <sup>14</sup>But without your consent I wanted to do nothing, that your good deed might not be by compulsion, as it were, but voluntary.

<sup>15</sup>For perhaps he departed for a while for this purpose, that you might receive him forever, <sup>16</sup>no longer as a slave but more than a slave—a beloved brother, especially to me but how much more to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord.

Philemon's Obedience Encouraged

<sup>17</sup>If then you count me as a partner, receive him as you would me. <sup>18</sup>But if he has wronged you or owes anything, put that on my account. <sup>19</sup>I, Paul, am writing with my own hand. I will repay—not to mention to you that you owe me even your own self besides. <sup>20</sup>Yes, brother, let me have joy from you in the Lord; refresh my heart in the Lord.

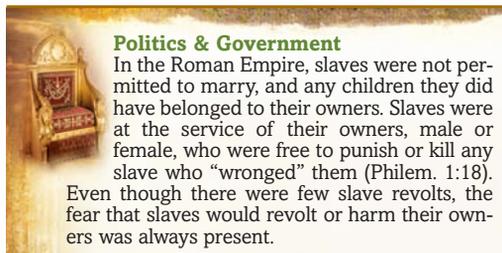

<sup>21</sup>Having confidence in your obedience, I write to you, knowing that you will do even more than I say. <sup>22</sup>But, meanwhile, also prepare a guest room for me, for I trust that through your prayers I shall be granted to you.

Farewell

1:12 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text reads back to you in person, that is, my own heart.
Col. 1:2 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Politics & Government

In the Roman Empire, slaves were not permitted to marry, and any children they did have belonged to their owners. Slaves were at the service of their owners, male or female, who were free to punish or kill any slave who “wronged” them (Philem. 1:18).

Even though there were few slave revolts, the fear that slaves would revolt or harm their owners was always present.

The Letter to the Colossians

The Book of Colossians is closely related to the books of Ephesians and Philemon. Colossians was probably written before Ephesians, with which it shares main ideas and a general outline. Ephesians seems to expand some of the key ideas of Colossians.

Paul wrote this epistle from prison, as he did Philippians and Philemon. Some scholars believe this was during a first imprisonment in Rome (see “Imprisonment in Rome” at Acts 28:16). Colossians could then have been written about A.D. 62, not long before Paul's release. Yet others would place the writing of this letter during an Ephesian imprisonment around A.D. 54 or 55 (see “The Letter to the Philippians” at Phil. 1:1, and “The Letter to Philemon” at Philem. 1:1).

The significant difference of the Greek vocabulary and style in Colossians from that of other Pauline letters raises a question whether Paul actually wrote Colossians. Some scholars argue that the theology of the letter and the understanding and organization of the church are more developed than in letters Paul himself wrote. This may indicate that Colossians was written by one of Paul's associates in the decade following his death (perhaps between A.D. 70–75).

Colosse was located on the south bank of the Lycus River near Laodicea and Hierapolis in western Asia Minor, about 100 miles east of Ephesus on the important trade route between Ephesus and the Euphrates Valley. Paul had never visited Colosse, but the gospel had been preached there, as well as in Laodicea and Hierapolis, while he was in Ephesus.

This letter deals primarily with doctrinal heresy that possibly mixed Judaism with some early form of Gnosticism. Jesus was super-human, but not truly God. He was greater than human beings, but not great enough to be the Savior. Those who believe in Christ must go through angels to get to the deeper levels of spirituality. Paul built a positive case for the Christian truth in order to show the Colossians the futility of ideas such as these.

• Colossians 1:1—4:18

Colossians

Greeting

1 :1 Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.<sup>a</sup>

Their Faith in Christ

<sup>3</sup>We give thanks to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, <sup>4</sup>since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of your love for all the saints; <sup>5</sup>because of the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, of which you heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel, <sup>6</sup>which has come to you, as it has also in all the world, and is bringing forth fruit,<sup>a</sup> as it is also among you since the day you heard and knew the grace of God in truth; <sup>7</sup>as you also learned from Epaphras, our dear fellow servant, who is a faithful minister of Christ on your behalf, <sup>8</sup>who also declared to us your love in the Spirit.

Preeminence of Christ

<sup>9</sup>For this reason we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to ask that you may be filled with the knowledge of His will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding; <sup>10</sup>that you may walk worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing Him, being fruitful in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God; <sup>11</sup>strengthened with all might, according to His glorious power, for all patience and longsuffering with joy; <sup>12</sup>giving thanks to the Father who has qualified us to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in the light. <sup>13</sup>He has delivered us from the power of darkness and conveyed us into the kingdom of the Son of His love, <sup>14</sup>in whom we have redemption through His blood,<sup>a</sup> the forgiveness of sins.

<sup>15</sup>He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. <sup>16</sup>For by Him all things were created that are in heaven and that are on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers. All things were created through Him and for Him. <sup>17</sup>And He is before all things, and in Him all things consist. <sup>18</sup>And He is the head of the body, the church, who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in all things He may have the preeminence.

Reconciled in Christ

<sup>19</sup>For it pleased the Father that in Him all the fullness should dwell, <sup>20</sup>and by Him to reconcile all things to Himself, by Him, whether things on earth or things in heaven, having made peace through the blood of His cross.

Religion & Worship

Among the most popular religions of the ancient world were the so-called mystery religions. Details of the initiations, rituals, and doctrines of these religions were kept secret from outsiders. Standard elements were purification, fasting, sacrifice, and ceremonial banquets. Early Christianity showed similarities to the mystery religions, including the idea of “mystery” (Col. 1:25–27).

<sup>21</sup>And you, who once were alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now He has reconciled <sup>22</sup>in the body of His flesh through death, to present you holy, and blameless, and above reproach in His sight— <sup>23</sup>if indeed you continue in the faith, grounded and steadfast, and are not moved away from the hope of the gospel which you heard, which was preached to every creature under heaven, of which I, Paul, became a minister.

Sacrificial Service for Christ

<sup>24</sup>I now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up in my flesh what is lacking in the afflictions of Christ, for the sake of His body, which is the church, <sup>25</sup>of which I became a minister according to the stewardship from God which was given to me for you, to fulfill the word of God, <sup>26</sup>the mystery which has been hidden from ages and from generations, but now has been revealed to His saints. <sup>27</sup>To them God willed to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles: which<sup>a</sup> is Christ in you, the hope of glory. <sup>28</sup>Him we preach, warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus. <sup>29</sup>To this end I also labor, striving according to His working which works in me mightily.

Not Philosophy but Christ

2 <sup>1</sup>For I want you to know what a great conflict I have for you and those in Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh, <sup>2</sup>that their hearts may be encouraged, being knit together in love, and attaining to all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the knowledge of the mystery of God, both of the Father and<sup>a</sup> of Christ, <sup>3</sup>in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

<sup>4</sup>Now this I say lest anyone should deceive you with persuasive words. <sup>5</sup>For though I am absent in the flesh, yet I am with you in spirit, rejoicing to see your good order and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

<sup>6</sup>As you therefore have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in Him, <sup>7</sup>rooted and built up in Him and established in the faith, as you have been taught, abounding in it<sup>a</sup> with thanksgiving.

<sup>8</sup>Beware lest anyone cheat you through philosophy and empty deceit, according to the tradition of men, according to the basic principles of the world, and not according to Christ. <sup>9</sup>For in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily;

FAMILY VALUES IN THE HOUSEHOLD (COL. 3:18, 19)

Romans in the 1st century felt that religions from the East, such as Judaism, Christianity, and the worship of Isis, undermined traditional Roman family values. Because religious groups were sometimes expelled from Rome, members of persecuted minority religions often adopted traditional “household codes” to prove that they would uphold traditional Roman values. Philosophers from the time of Aristotle onward detailed these “household codes,” which showed the male head of the household how to rule his wife, children, and slaves.

The structure of these traditional codes was adopted in Christian letters, including wives, husbands (and fathers), children, slaves, and slaveholders (Col. 3:18—4:1). The Christian adaptation balanced commands for those who were socially inferior (wives, children, bond-servants) with responsibilities for the socially superior (husbands, fathers, masters).

The Christian codes, such as one in Eph. 5, differ considerably from traditional household codes. They address wives, children, and slaves themselves, and not just the male head of the household. They do not tell the husband how to “rule” his wife, but how to love her (Eph. 5:25). Although traditional Greek and Roman values demanded the wife’s quiet obedience, the Christian code defines “submission” primarily in terms of respect (Eph. 5:33). The wife’s submission was based on the broader Christian virtue of servanthood, which applied to all Christians—husbands as well as wives (Eph. 5:21).

<sup>10</sup>and you are complete in Him, who is the head of all principality and power.

Not Legalism but Christ

<sup>11</sup>In Him you were also circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, by putting off the body of the sins<sup>a</sup> of the flesh, by the circumcision of Christ, <sup>12</sup>buried with Him in baptism, in which you also were raised with Him through faith in the working of God, who raised Him from the dead. <sup>13</sup>And you, being dead in your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, He has made alive together with Him, having forgiven you all trespasses, <sup>14</sup>having wiped out the handwriting of requirements that was against us, which was contrary to us. And He has taken it out of the way, having nailed it to the cross. <sup>15</sup>Having disarmed principalities and powers, He made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them in it.

<sup>16</sup>So let no one judge you in food or in drink, or regarding a festival or a new moon or sabbaths, <sup>17</sup>which are a shadow of things to come, but the substance is of Christ. <sup>18</sup>Let no one cheat you of your reward, taking delight in false humility and worship of angels, intruding into those things which he has not<sup>a</sup> seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, <sup>19</sup>and not holding fast to the Head, from whom all the body, nourished and knit together by joints and ligaments, grows with the increase that is from God.

false humility, and neglect of the body, but are of no value against the indulgence of the flesh.

Not Carnality but Christ

<sup>5</sup>Therefore put to death your members which are on the earth: fornication, uncleanness, passion, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry. <sup>6</sup>Because of these things the wrath of God is coming upon the sons of disobedience, <sup>7</sup>in which you yourselves once walked when you lived in them.

CITIES IN THE LYCUS VALLEY (COL. 4:12, 13)

Near the end of Paul's letter to the Colossians is a comment concerning a Christian named Epaphras. Apparently, Epaphras had worked fervently for the cause of Christians in Colosse, as well as for those in Laodicea and Hierapolis (Col. 4:12, 13). These three cities—Colosse, Laodicea, Hierapolis—were the largest cities in the Lycus Valley of Anatolian Phrygia.

All three cities were situated near the Lycus River: Colosse being about 11 miles southeast of Laodicea and 15 miles southeast of Hierapolis. Their locations positioned them on a major trade route from the Orient to the Aegean coast, and all were prosperous in the textile industry. Colosse, in particular, was known primarily for its purple wool.

The city of Colosse had been a major center for at least 5 centuries before Paul's time. However, it was eventually overshadowed in influence by Laodicea. The Colosse addressed in Paul's letter, now part of the Roman province of Asia Minor, was a smaller, less important city, while Laodicea had become the most prominent city in the Lycus Valley. At the letter's close, the Colossians are urged to forward the writing to the church in Laodicea, and also to read what was sent to Laodicea (Col. 4:16).

In the early A.D. 60s an earthquake rocked this area of Anatolia. Laodicea, though destroyed by the natural disaster, was able to rebuild. The threat of such earthquakes, however, may have caused the local population of Colosse to relocate to the nearby town of Chonaz.

Character of the New Man

<sup>12</sup>Therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, put on tender mercies, kindness, humility, meekness, longsuffering; <sup>13</sup>bearing with one another, and forgiving one another, if anyone has a complaint against another; even as Christ forgave you, so you also must do. <sup>14</sup>But above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfection. <sup>15</sup>And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also you were called in one body; and be thankful. <sup>16</sup>Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. <sup>17</sup>And whatever you do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through Him.

The Christian Home

Health & Medicine

The range of medical tools that have been recovered by archaeologists, especially from the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum, show that physicians, such as Luke (Col. 4:14), performed many kinds of physical procedures. The equipment for childbirth and delivery is quite modern in its appearance, although made of bronze rather than steel.

God. <sup>23</sup>And whatever you do, do it heartily, as to the Lord and not to men, <sup>24</sup>knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance; for<sup>a</sup> you serve the Lord Christ. <sup>25</sup>But he who does wrong will be repaid for what he has done, and there is no partiality.

4 <sup>1</sup>Masters, give your bondservants what is just and fair, knowing that you also have a Master in heaven.

Christian Graces

<sup>2</sup>Continue earnestly in prayer, being vigilant in it with thanksgiving; <sup>3</sup>meanwhile praying also for us, that God would open to us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in chains, <sup>4</sup>that I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

<sup>5</sup>Walk in wisdom toward those who are outside, redeeming the time. <sup>6</sup>Let your speech always be with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how you ought to answer each one.

Final Greetings

<sup>7</sup>Tychicus, a beloved brother, faithful minister, and fellow servant in the Lord, will tell you all the news about me. <sup>8</sup>I am sending him to you for this very purpose, that he<sup>a</sup> may know your circumstances and comfort your hearts, <sup>9</sup>with Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will make known to you all things which are happening here.

<sup>10</sup>Aristarchus my fellow prisoner greets you, with Mark the cousin of Barnabas (about whom you received instructions: if he comes to you, welcome him), <sup>11</sup>and Jesus who is called Justus. These are my only fellow workers for the kingdom of God who are of the circumcision; they have proved to be a comfort to me.

<sup>12</sup>Epaphras, who is one of you, a bondservant of Christ, greets you, always laboring fervently for you in prayers, that you may stand perfect and complete<sup>e</sup> in all the will of God. <sup>13</sup>For I bear him witness that he has a great zeal<sup>a</sup> for you, and those who are in Laodicea, and those in Hierapolis. <sup>14</sup>Luke the beloved physician and Demas greet you. <sup>15</sup>Greet the brethren who are in Laodicea, and Nymphas and the church that is in his<sup>a</sup> house.

Closing Exhortations and Blessing

<sup>16</sup>Now when this epistle is read among you, see that it is read also in the church of the Laodiceans, and that you likewise read the epistle from Laodicea. <sup>17</sup>And say to Archippus, “Take heed to the ministry which you have received in the Lord, that you may fulfill it.”

Eph. 1:10 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text omit both. 1:14 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text reads which.

The Letter to the Ephesians

Although the first verse in most manuscripts of this letter reads “To the saints who are in Ephesus,” other early copies lack the words “in Ephesus.” The letter also does not follow Paul’s usual practice of including personal greetings to many friends in the city to which he wrote. One 2nd-century writer even cites this letter by the title “To the Laodiceans.” It may be that Paul sent copies of this letter to a number of churches in the region, either supplying the name of each city in the opening greeting or leaving the destination out if the copy was to circulate to several churches.

Ephesians is closely related to Colossians. No other two letters are so similar as these, either in outline and outlook, or in general theme. Half of the verses in Ephesians contain expressions identical to those in Colossians. It is as though Paul wrote Colossians first to meet some special needs of the church there, and then felt that a letter to be circulated among all the churches in Asia Minor ought to elaborate on some of the Colossian themes. The similarities could suggest that both letters were written at about the same time, being composed during Paul’s Caesarean or Roman imprisonments (see “The Letter to the Colossians” at Col. 1:1).

As is the case with Colossians, there are doubts whether Paul actually wrote the letter to the Ephesians. Like Colossians, the language and theological development in Ephesians is more elaborate than that found in Paul’s earlier letters. The tremendous similarities between these two letters leads some to conclude that Ephesians was actually based on Colossians. Some have even suggested that Ephesians may have been written as a kind of introduction to Paul’s theology by an associate who was collecting Paul’s letters in the years after his death.

Ephesus was a chief city of the west coast of Asia Minor, situated at the mouth of the Cayster River. Paul visited the city on the return part of his second missionary journey, staying only briefly (Acts 18:19–21). He returned on his third journey to spend more than two years strengthening the church (Acts 19). The letter to the Ephesians was also intended to strengthen them, making them more conscious of their oneness in Christ.

• Ephesians 1:1—6:24

Ephesians

Greeting

1 :1 Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God,

To the saints who are in Ephesus, and faithful in Christ Jesus:

Redemption in Christ

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ, <sup>4</sup>just as He chose us in Him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before Him in love, <sup>5</sup>having predestined us to adoption as sons by Jesus Christ to Himself, according to the good pleasure of His will, <sup>6</sup>to the praise of the glory of His grace, by which He made us accepted in the Beloved.

<sup>7</sup>In Him we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace <sup>8</sup>which He made to abound toward us in all wisdom and prudence, <sup>9</sup>having made known to us the mystery of His will, according to His good pleasure which He purposed in Himself, <sup>10</sup>that in the dispensation of the fullness of the times He might gather together in one all things in Christ, both<sup>a</sup> which are in heaven and which are on earth—in Him. <sup>11</sup>In Him also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestined according to the purpose of Him who works all things according to the counsel of His will, <sup>12</sup>that we who first trusted in Christ should be to the praise of His glory.

<sup>13</sup>In Him you also trusted, after you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation; in whom also, having believed, you were sealed with the Holy Spirit of promise, <sup>14</sup>who<sup>a</sup> is the guarantee of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, to the praise of His glory.

Prayer for Spiritual Wisdom

<sup>15</sup>Therefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints, <sup>16</sup>do not cease to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers: <sup>17</sup>that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him, <sup>18</sup>the eyes of your understanding<sup>a</sup> being enlightened; that you may know what is the hope of His calling, what are the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints, <sup>19</sup>and what is the exceeding greatness of His power toward us who believe, according to the working of His mighty power <sup>20</sup>which He worked in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His right hand in the heavenly places, <sup>21</sup>far above all principality and power and might and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this age but also in that which is to come.

<sup>22</sup>And He put all things under His feet, and gave Him to be head over all things to the church, <sup>23</sup>which is His body, the fullness of Him who fills all in all.

By Grace Through Faith

2 <sup>1</sup>And you He made alive, who were dead in trespasses and sins, <sup>2</sup>in which you once walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit who now works in the sons of disobedience, <sup>3</sup>among whom also we all once conducted ourselves in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, just as the others.

<sup>4</sup>But God, who is rich in mercy, because of His great love with which He loved us, <sup>5</sup>even when we were dead in trespasses, made us alive together with Christ (by grace you have been saved), <sup>6</sup>and raised us up together, and made us sit together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, <sup>7</sup>that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. <sup>8</sup>For by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the

Architecture & Building

The temple built by Herod the Great was standing throughout the New Testament period up to the fall of Jerusalem in A.D. 70. In the temple area there was a wall about four and a half feet high that only Jews could go beyond (Eph. 2:14). There were warning notices carved in the wall, one of which was discovered almost intact in 1871.

gift of God, <sup>9</sup>not of works, lest anyone should boast. <sup>10</sup>For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand that we should walk in them.

Brought Near by His Blood

<sup>11</sup>Therefore remember that you, once Gentiles in the flesh—who are called Uncircumcision by what is called the Circumcision made in the flesh by hands—<sup>12</sup>that at that time you were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. <sup>13</sup>But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ.

Christ Our Peace

<sup>14</sup>For He Himself is our peace, who has made both one, and has broken down the middle wall of separation, <sup>15</sup>having abolished in His flesh the enmity, that is, the law of commandments contained in ordinances, so as to create in Himself one new man from the two, thus making peace, <sup>16</sup>and that He might reconcile them both to God in one body through the cross, thereby putting to death the enmity. <sup>17</sup>And He came and preached peace to you who were afar off and to those who were near. <sup>18</sup>For through Him we both have access by one Spirit to the Father.

Christ Our Cornerstone

<sup>19</sup>Now, therefore, you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, <sup>20</sup>having been built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone, <sup>21</sup>in whom the whole building, being fitted together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord, <sup>22</sup>in whom you also are being built together for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit.

The Mystery Revealed

3 <sup>1</sup>For this reason I, Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus for you Gentiles—<sup>2</sup>if indeed you have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which was given to me for you, <sup>3</sup>how that by revelation He made known to me the mystery (as I have briefly written already, <sup>4</sup>by which, when you read, you may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ), <sup>5</sup>which in other ages was not made known to the sons of men, as it has now been revealed by the Spirit to His holy apostles and prophets: <sup>6</sup>that the Gentiles should be fellow heirs, of the same body, and partakers of His promise in Christ through the gospel, <sup>7</sup>of

WRITERS OF THE EARLY CHURCH

The “Apostolic Fathers” were a group of writers of the early Christian church who are thought to have been affiliated with the apostles or with their disciples. One of the fathers, Ignatius, was familiar with Paul’s letters, especially the letter to the Ephesians, and himself wrote to the church “in Ephesus” (Eph. 1:1).

Writer/Writings	Date	Description
Clement	died A.D. 96	Bishop of Rome. His first letter mentions the deaths of Peter and Paul.
Ignatius	A.D. 35–107	Bishop of Antioch, executed at Rome. He wrote seven letters to the churches.
Papias	A.D. 60–130	A friend of Polycarp. He discusses how Matthew and Mark wrote their Gospels.
Polycarp	A.D. 69–155	An important church leader executed because he would not renounce Christ. He had probably met the apostle John.
Didache	1st century	The Didache (“Teaching”) describes the “two ways” of life and death, and tells about worship and order in the church.
Barnabas	1st century	The Letter of Barnabas (not the apostle Barnabas) is about Judaism and Christianity.
Diognetus	2nd century	An anonymous letter of Christian instruction written to Diognetus, who is otherwise unknown.
Hermas	2nd century	Hermas wrote The Shepherd , a book of instruction that was highly regarded in the early church.

which I became a minister according to the gift of the grace of God given to me by the effective working of His power.

Purpose of the Mystery

<sup>8</sup>To me, who am less than the least of all the saints, this grace was given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, <sup>9</sup>and to make all see what is the fellowship<sup>a</sup> of the mystery, which from the beginning of the ages has been hidden in God who created all things through Jesus Christ;<sup>b</sup> <sup>10</sup>to the intent that now the manifold wisdom of God might be made known by the church to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places, <sup>11</sup>according to the eternal purpose which He accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord, <sup>12</sup>in whom we have boldness and access with confidence through faith in Him. <sup>13</sup>Therefore I ask that you do not lose heart at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

Appreciation of the Mystery

<sup>14</sup>For this reason I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,<sup>a</sup> <sup>15</sup>from whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, <sup>16</sup>that He would grant you, according to the riches of

His glory, to be strengthened with might through His Spirit in the inner man, <sup>17</sup>that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; that you, being rooted and grounded in love, <sup>18</sup>may be able to comprehend with all the saints what is the width and length and depth and height— <sup>19</sup>to know the love of Christ which passes knowledge; that you may be filled with all the fullness of God.

<sup>20</sup>Now to Him who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, <sup>21</sup>to Him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus to all generations, forever and ever. Amen.

Walk in Unity

4 <sup>1</sup>I, therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you to walk worthy of the calling with which you were called, <sup>2</sup>with all lowliness and gentleness, with longsuffering, bearing with one another in love, <sup>3</sup>endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. <sup>4</sup>There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called in one hope of your calling; <sup>5</sup>one Lord, one faith, one baptism; <sup>6</sup>one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you<sup>a</sup> all.

Spiritual Gifts

3:9 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text read stewardship (dispensation). <sup>b</sup>NU-Text omits through Jesus Christ. 3:14 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits of our Lord Jesus Christ. 4:6 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits you; M-Text reads us.

*“When He ascended on high,
He led captivity captive,
And gave gifts to men.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>9</sup>(Now this, “He ascended”—what does it mean but that He also first<sup>a</sup> descended into the lower parts of the earth? <sup>10</sup>He who descended is also the One who ascended far above all the heavens, that He might fill all things.)

<sup>11</sup>And He Himself gave some to be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, <sup>12</sup>for the equipping of the saints for the work of ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ, <sup>13</sup>till we all come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ; <sup>14</sup>that we should no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, in the cunning craftiness of deceitful plotting, <sup>15</sup>but, speaking the truth in love, may grow up in all things into Him who is the head—Christ—<sup>16</sup>from whom the whole body, joined and knit together by what every joint supplies, according to the effective working by which every part does its share, causes growth of the body for the edifying of itself in love.

The New Man

<sup>17</sup>This I say, therefore, and testify in the Lord, that you should no longer walk as the rest of <sup>a</sup> the Gentiles walk, in the futility of their mind, <sup>18</sup>having their understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God, because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart; <sup>19</sup>who, being past feeling, have given themselves over to lewdness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

<sup>20</sup>But you have not so learned Christ, <sup>21</sup>if indeed you have heard Him and have been taught by Him, as the truth is in Jesus: <sup>22</sup>that you put off, concerning your former conduct, the old man which grows corrupt according to the deceitful lusts, <sup>23</sup>and be renewed in the spirit of your mind, <sup>24</sup>and that you put on the new man which was created according to God, in true righteousness and holiness.

Do Not Grieve the Spirit

<sup>25</sup>Therefore, putting away lying, “Let each one of you speak truth with his neighbor;”<sup>a</sup> for we are members of one another. <sup>26</sup>“Be angry, and do not sin”:<sup>a</sup> do not let the sun go down on your wrath, <sup>27</sup>nor give place to the devil. <sup>28</sup>Let him who stole steal no longer, but rather let him labor, working with his hands what is good, that he may have something to give him who has need. <sup>29</sup>Let no corrupt word proceed out of your mouth, but what is good for necessary edification, that it may impart grace to the hearers. <sup>30</sup>And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. <sup>31</sup>Let all bitterness, wrath, anger, clamor, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice. <sup>32</sup>And be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God in Christ forgave you.

Walk in Love

5 <sup>1</sup>Therefore be imitators of God as dear children. <sup>2</sup>And walk in love, as Christ also has loved us and given Himself for us, an offering

WIVES SUBMITTING TO HUSBANDS (EPH. 5:22)

The nature of marriage in Asia Minor was very different from marriage today. In the Greek culture that was dominant in and around Ephesus, husbands were on average 12 or more years older than their wives, were usually more educated, and held much higher social status, than their wives. In one traditional Greek formulation, men used prostitutes for pleasure and wives only to bear them legitimate children.

In most of the Greco-Roman world, marital practices placed women at a disadvantage. Marriage contracts forbade a woman to leave the marital home without her husband's permission. In parts of the eastern Mediterranean a wife not wearing a shawl over her hair in public could be divorced for unfaithfulness, and a woman not divorced or widowed was under the legal control of her father or husband.

Paul's command "Wives, submit to your own husbands" (Eph. 5:22) is at least partly related to concern for Christian witness within the surrounding culture, and is quite mild in comparison to the rest of his culture. What is significant is that Paul modified the culture's values, calling on all believers to submit (5:21), and allowing the husband-wife relationship to be affected by the God-human relationship. Wives were to submit "as to the Lord" (Eph. 5:22), and husbands were to love their wives "as Christ also loved the church" (5:25). While Romans and Greeks supposed that husbands would love their wives, Paul listed such as a command.

Walk in Light

<sup>8</sup>For you were once darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Walk as children of light <sup>9</sup>(for the fruit of the Spirit<sup>a</sup> is in all goodness, righteousness, and truth), <sup>10</sup>finding out what is acceptable to the Lord. <sup>11</sup>And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather expose them. <sup>12</sup>For it is shameful even to speak of those things which are done by them in secret. <sup>13</sup>But all things that are exposed are made manifest by the light, for whatever makes manifest is light. <sup>14</sup>Therefore He says:

"Awake, you who sleep,
Arise from the dead,
And Christ will give you light."

Walk in Wisdom

<sup>15</sup>See then that you walk circumspectly, not as fools but as wise, <sup>16</sup>redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

<sup>17</sup>Therefore do not be unwise, but understand what the will of the Lord is. <sup>18</sup>And do not be drunk with wine, in which is dissipation; but be filled with the Spirit, <sup>19</sup>speaking to one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord, <sup>20</sup>giving thanks always for all things to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>21</sup>submitting to one another in the fear of God.<sup>a</sup>

Marriage—Christ and the Church

<sup>22</sup>Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord. <sup>23</sup>For the husband is head of the wife, as also Christ is head of the church; and He is the Savior of the body. <sup>24</sup>Therefore, just as the church is subject to Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in everything.

<sup>25</sup>Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ also loved the church and gave Himself for her, <sup>26</sup>that He might sanctify and cleanse her with the washing of water by the word, <sup>27</sup>that He might present her to Himself a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but that she should be holy and without blemish. <sup>28</sup>So husbands ought to love their own wives as their own bodies; he who loves his wife loves himself. <sup>29</sup>For no one ever hated his own flesh, but nourishes and cherishes it, just as the Lord does the church. <sup>30</sup>For we are members of His body,<sup>a</sup> of His flesh and of His bones. <sup>31</sup>"For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh."<sup>a</sup> <sup>32</sup>This is a great mystery, but I speak concerning Christ and the church. <sup>33</sup>Nevertheless let each one of you in particular so love his own wife as himself, and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

Children and Parents

6 <sup>1</sup>Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. <sup>2</sup>"Honor your father and mother," which is the first commandment with promise: <sup>3</sup>"that it may be well with you and you may live long on the earth."<sup>a</sup>

BONDSERVANTS, BE OBEDIENT! (EPH. 6:5–9)

Paul had no reason to address the issue of slavery per se in his letters to churches. He touched on the behavior of different groups within the churches, discussing how slaves should respond to their situation, but he did not write concerning whether or not slavery itself should be abolished. His advice to slaves was to “be obedient,” serving as if doing the will of God (Eph. 6:5, 6).

Advocating revolt was not a practical solution. Individual slaves often escaped and some small groups revolted, but all three earlier, full-scale slave wars which occurred in the Roman world, seeking to liberate more slaves, had ended in violent defeat. In view of the persecution Christians faced as a small sect sometimes viewed as socially subversive, it was far more important to urge all Christians to work for the time being within the social system that already existed.

Some philosophers (especially the Stoics) affirmed the theoretical equality of masters and servants. What these philosophers meant by equality was probably that slaves were personally equal in humanity, rather than that all slaves should be freed. Nevertheless, some did question whether slavery should exist, and long before Paul’s time Aristotle (384–322 B.C.) had complained of philosophers who suggested that slavery was against nature, by which they meant that it was immoral.

Paul explains his position somewhat more fully than did the philosophers. After calling on slaves to serve their masters, he calls on masters to “serve” their slaves—“do the same things to them” (Eph. 6:9). Such advice was hardly conventional in the traditional household codes, which instructed masters how to rule their slaves. Instead, Paul advises Christian masters to serve Christ by acting differently than pagan masters. Their “Master in heaven” (6:9) would judge both them and their slaves on the same basis. We can imagine that, had the question been put to him, Paul would have regarded slavery itself as contrary to God’s will.

<sup>4</sup>And you, fathers, do not provoke your children to wrath, but bring them up in the training and admonition of the Lord.

Bondservants and Masters

<sup>5</sup>Bondservants, be obedient to those who are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in sincerity of heart, as to Christ; <sup>6</sup>not with eyeservice, as men-pleasers, but as bondservants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart, <sup>7</sup>with goodwill doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men, <sup>8</sup>knowing that whatever good anyone does, he will receive the same from the Lord, whether he is a slave or free.

<sup>9</sup>And you, masters, do the same things to them, giving up threatening, knowing that your own Master also<sup>a</sup> is in heaven, and there is no partiality with Him.

The Whole Armor of God

be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked one. <sup>17</sup>And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God; <sup>18</sup>praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, being watchful to this end with all perseverance and supplication for all the saints— <sup>19</sup>and for me, that utterance may be given to me, that I may open my mouth boldly to make known the mystery of the gospel, <sup>20</sup>for which I am an ambassador in chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

A Gracious Greeting

<sup>21</sup>But that you also may know my affairs and how I am doing, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, will make all things known to you; <sup>22</sup>whom I have sent to you for this very purpose, that you may know our affairs, and that he may comfort your hearts.

<sup>23</sup>Peace to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>24</sup>Grace be with all those who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

6:12 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text reads rulers of this darkness.

Science & Technology

The Roman shield as depicted on the Trajan column of A.D. 113 was a curved rectangle, like part of the side of a cylinder. It covered from the shoulders to the middle of the thighs and was decorated with stylized lightning bolts. Julius Caesar described how a group of soldiers could interlock their shields like roof tiles and march together protected that way (Eph. 6:16).

TRANSITION

The First Letter to Timothy

The letters of 1 and 2 Timothy and Titus constitute a subgroup among the letters of Paul. They are addressed not to churches, but to pastors, Paul's younger colleagues in ministry. Therefore, since the 18th century, these three letters, sharing similar characteristics and contents, have been called the Pastoral Epistles. They presume a time after the close of the Book of Acts and near the end of Paul's life.

The first verse of each letter identifies Paul as the author. Some scholars, however, dispute this claim, since the differences in language and style between these letters and Paul's other letters seem very great. These three short books contain more than 300 words found in no other book that names Paul as its author. Moreover, if Paul was martyred around A.D. 64 at the end of his Roman imprisonment (see "Imprisonment in Rome" at Acts 28:16), he would not have had opportunity to write these letters. In that case, an editor or compiler could have produced these letters in the last quarter of the 1st century or first quarter of the 2nd century.

Yet Paul's authorship of the Pastoral Epistles is accepted by those who argue that Paul was released from his Roman imprisonment in late A.D. 62 or early A.D. 63. The only specific historical reference (1 Tim. 1:3) hints at a period of further travel and ministry, during which Paul had stationed Timothy at Ephesus. The letter known as 1 Timothy could then have been written about A.D. 65, in order to provide pastoral care and guidance to a young church leader.

Timothy, a native of Lystra in Asia Minor, was the son of a Jewish mother and Gentile father (Acts 16:1, 2). He was a convert of the apostle Paul, who had evangelized Lystra on his first missionary journey. Timothy joined Paul and Silas on the second missionary journey and traveled with them to Greece. Paul sent him to visit the Thessalonian and Corinthian churches (see 1 Cor. 4:17; 1 Thess. 3:2). In the letter, Timothy is warned against false teaching and given guidance on how to handle it.

• 1 Timothy 1:1—6:21

*1 TimothyGreeting

1:1 Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the commandment of God our Savior and the Lord Jesus Christ, our hope,

<sup>2</sup>To Timothy, a true son in the faith:

Grace, mercy, and peace from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

No Other Doctrine

<sup>3</sup>As I urged you when I went into Macedonia—remain in Ephesus that you may charge some that they teach no other doctrine, <sup>4</sup>nor give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which cause disputes rather than godly edification which is in faith. <sup>5</sup>Now the purpose of the commandment is love from a pure heart, from a good conscience, and from sincere faith, <sup>6</sup>from which some, having strayed, have turned aside to idle talk, <sup>7</sup>desiring to be teachers of the law, understanding neither what they say nor the things which they affirm.

<sup>8</sup>But we know that the law is good if one uses it lawfully, <sup>9</sup>knowing this: that the law is not made for a righteous person, but for the lawless and insubordinate, for the ungodly and for sinners, for the unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, <sup>10</sup>for fornicators, for sodomites, for kidnappers, for liars, for perjurers, and if there is any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine, <sup>11</sup>according to the glorious gospel of the blessed God which was committed to my trust.

Glorify to God for His Grace

<sup>12</sup>And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord who has enabled me, because He counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry, <sup>13</sup>although I was formerly a blasphemer, a persecutor, and an insolent man; but I obtained mercy because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. <sup>14</sup>And the grace of our Lord was exceedingly abundant, with faith and love which are in Christ Jesus. <sup>15</sup>This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief. <sup>16</sup>However, for this reason I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might show all longsuffering, as a pattern to those who are going to believe on Him for everlasting life. <sup>17</sup>Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, to God who alone is wise, <sup>a</sup>be honor and glory forever and ever. Amen.

Fight the Good Fight

<sup>18</sup>This charge I commit to you, son Timothy, according to the prophecies previously made concerning you, that by them you may wage the good warfare, <sup>19</sup>having faith and a good conscience, which some having rejected, concerning the faith have suffered shipwreck, <sup>20</sup>of whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I delivered to Satan that they may learn not to blaspheme.

Pray for All Men

LEARN QUIETLY BUT DO NOT TEACH (1 TIM. 2:11, 12)

Although exceptions existed in antiquity, women were generally far less educated than men. Jewish women were far less likely to be trained in the law. Although they heard it taught in the synagogue, they were not accepted as students for study under Jewish teachers. There is evidence of only one woman fully trained as a rabbi in early Judaism, and most male rabbis refused to heed her. In such a context, the admonition for women to “learn in silence” (1 Tim. 2:11) might prove more striking for its emphasis on learning than for an emphasis on doing so quietly, which was considered the appropriate way for all novices to learn.

Understanding the situation addressed in the letter of 1 Timothy helps explain the instruction not to “permit a woman to teach” (2:12). Men rarely respected and still less often promoted women’s leadership. Minority sects like Christianity were sometimes accused of subverting the traditional Roman social order, which supported male dominance. If female authority was allowed in the church, opposition may have increased against the small Christian community.

More significant was the local situation in the church. False teachers had apparently found support in homes headed by widows (1 Tim. 1:6, 7; 5:13–15). False teaching was apparently still a problem for “gullible women” when the letter of 2 Timothy was written (2 Tim. 3:6, 7). So the instructions for a woman to “learn” but not to “teach” may be aimed at keeping the women, who in this congregation had proved particularly susceptible to false teaching, from spreading it.

are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and reverence. <sup>3</sup>For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, <sup>4</sup>who desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. <sup>5</sup>For there is one God and one Mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup>who gave Himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time, <sup>7</sup>for which I was appointed a preacher and an apostle—I am speaking the truth in Christ<sup>a</sup> and not lying—a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

Men and Women in the Church

<sup>8</sup>I desire therefore that the men pray everywhere, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting; <sup>9</sup>in like manner also, that the women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with propriety and moderation, not with braided hair or gold or pearls or costly clothing, <sup>10</sup>but, which is proper for women professing godliness, with good works. <sup>11</sup>Let a woman learn in silence with all submission. <sup>12</sup>And I do not permit a woman to teach or to have authority over a man, but to be in silence. <sup>13</sup>For Adam was formed first, then Eve. <sup>14</sup>And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived, fell into transgression. <sup>15</sup>Nevertheless she will be saved in childbearing if they continue in faith, love, and holiness, with self-control.

Qualifications of Overseers

<sup>6</sup>not a novice, lest being puffed up with pride he fall into the same condemnation as the devil. <sup>7</sup>Moreover he must have a good testimony among those who are outside, lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.

Qualifications of Deacons

The Great Mystery

<sup>14</sup>These things I write to you, though I hope to come to you shortly; <sup>15</sup>but if I am delayed, I write so that you may know how you ought to conduct yourself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth. <sup>16</sup>And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness:

Religion & Worship

The Jewish people had the duty to offer sacrifices to God in the temple regularly on behalf of the Roman emperor (1 Tim. 2:2).

In A.D. 66, Eleazar, the son of the high priest Ananias, ended this traditional observance. According to the contemporary historian Josephus, Eleazar’s affront to the Romans was the beginning of the war that ended in A.D. 70 with the destruction of Jerusalem and the temple.

HUSBAND OF ONE WIFE (1 TIM. 3:2, 12)

One of the qualifications for being a bishop or deacon in the early church was to be the “husband of one wife” (1 Tim. 3:2, 12). Just what this qualification means concerning the marital history of a man desiring to become a church leader is debated.

One interpretation understands the meaning to be the “husband of only one wife in a lifetime.” A widower would thus be prohibited from remarrying and serving as a bishop. Yet few people in the ancient world thought it praiseworthy for widowers to remain single.

Another interpretation is the “husband of one living wife.” A widower could thus remarry and be a bishop, but a divorced man could not. No one in the ancient world, however, regarded a validly divorced husband as still married to his previous wife.

Yet a third interpretation is the “husband of one wife at a time.” In this case, only a man involved in polygamy would be prohibited from service as a bishop. But polygamy was not practiced either in Ephesus (1 Tim. 1:3) or in Crete (Titus 1:5), where the letters of 1 Timothy and Titus were written.

More likely, “husband of one wife” carries a similar meaning to “wife of one husband” (1 Tim. 5:9), and addresses the more pervasive issue of being faithful in a marriage. Greek men apparently used the phrase “wife of one husband” to mean “a wife so faithful and loving that I never needed to divorce her.” So a “husband of one wife” could refer to “a committed and faithful husband.”

Husbands faithful to their current wives were needed to lead the church in Ephesus. False teachers were forbidding marriage (1 Tim. 4:3) and apparently manipulating some of the widows (2 Tim. 3:6, 7). Since the false teachers were taking advantage of unstable families, stable heads of households were desired to occupy positions of prominence and leadership in the church.

The Great Apostasy

4 <sup>1</sup>Now the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons, <sup>2</sup>speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their own conscience seared with a hot iron, <sup>3</sup>forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from foods which God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. <sup>4</sup>For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be refused if it is received with thanksgiving; <sup>5</sup>for it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

A Good Servant of Jesus Christ

<sup>6</sup>If you instruct the brethren in these things, you will be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished in the words of faith and of the good doctrine which you have carefully followed. <sup>7</sup>But reject profane and old wives’ fables, and exercise yourself toward godliness. <sup>8</sup>For bodily exercise profits a little, but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come. <sup>9</sup>This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance. <sup>10</sup>For to this end we both labor and suffer reproach,<sup>a</sup> because we trust in the living God, who is the Savior of all men, especially of those who believe. <sup>11</sup>These things command and teach.

Take Heed to Your Ministry

Treatment of Church Members

Honor True Widows

WIDOWS IN THE HOUSEHOLD (1 TIM. 5:8)

The fundamental social institution of the Greco-Roman world was the household. The ancient household included far more people than the modern nuclear family of a husband, wife, and two and one-third children. Everyone involved in the “family business” under the rule of a male administrator, called the “father,” was part of the household. Thus the Greco-Roman household consisted of relatives plus various dependents: the father’s wife, his slaves, children, as well as clients—those who gave the father honor and influence in exchange for material favors.

Households, particularly the fathers, ranked themselves socially in terms of honor, prestige, and influence. The more honor a father received, the more prestige and influence he gathered. Wealth, therefore, was not important to accumulate in order to gain more wealth. Wealth was important so that a father might parade his honor. Wealth enabled a father to lavish gifts on his dependents, thereby making more people honor their father as their benefactor.

One household member who especially needed protection was the widow. In New Testament times, widows had virtually no means of supporting themselves. The early church felt responsible to care for Christian widows, but problems arose in ministering to their needs. As new structures and guidelines had to be developed, the church eventually distinguished between widows who really needed support and those who should be commended to the care of their household (1 Tim. 5:3–5, 8). A Christian father who did not provide for a widow of his household was deemed “worse than an unbeliever” (5:8). Even in non-Christian households of the Greco-Roman world, the head of the household supported poor widows.

<sup>9</sup>Do not let a widow under sixty years old be taken into the number, and not unless she has been the wife of one man, <sup>10</sup>well reported for good works: if she has brought up children, if she has lodged strangers, if she has washed the saints’ feet, if she has relieved the afflicted, if she has diligently followed every good work.

<sup>11</sup>But refuse the younger widows; for when they have begun to grow wanton against Christ, they desire to marry, <sup>12</sup>having condemnation because they have cast off their first faith. <sup>13</sup>And besides they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house, and not only idle but also gossips and busybodies, saying things which they ought not. <sup>14</sup>Therefore I desire that the younger widows marry, bear children, manage the house, give no opportunity to the adversary to speak reproachfully. <sup>15</sup>For some have already turned aside after Satan. <sup>16</sup>If any believing man or<sup>a</sup> woman has widows, let them relieve them, and do not let the church be burdened, that it may relieve those who are really widows.

Honor the Elders

out the grain,”<sup>a</sup> and, “The laborer is worthy of his wages.”<sup>b</sup> <sup>19</sup>Do not receive an accusation against an elder except from two or three witnesses. <sup>20</sup>Those who are sinning rebuke in the presence of all, that the rest also may fear.

<sup>23</sup>No longer drink only water, but use a little wine for your stomach’s sake and your frequent infirmities.

Honor Masters

6 <sup>1</sup>Let as many bondservants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honor, so that the name of God and His doctrine may not be blasphemed. <sup>2</sup>And those who have believing masters, let them not despise them because they are brethren, but rather serve them because those who are benefited are believers and beloved. Teach and exhort these things.

Error and Greed

<sup>3</sup>If anyone teaches otherwise and does not consent to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which accords with godliness, <sup>4</sup>he is proud, knowing nothing, but is obsessed with disputes and arguments over words, from which come envy, strife, reviling, evil suspicions, <sup>5</sup>useless wranglings<sup>a</sup> of men of corrupt minds and destitute of the truth, who suppose that godliness is a means of gain. From such withdraw yourself.<sup>b</sup>

The Good Confession

<sup>11</sup>But you, O man of God, flee these things and pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, gentleness. <sup>12</sup>Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, to which you were also called and have confessed the good confession in the presence of many witnesses. <sup>13</sup>I urge you in the sight of God who gives life to all things, and before Christ Jesus who witnessed the good confession before Pontius Pilate, <sup>14</sup>that you keep this commandment without spot, blameless until our Lord Jesus Christ's appearing, <sup>15</sup>which He will manifest in His own time, He who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings and Lord of lords, <sup>16</sup>who alone has immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light, whom no man has seen or can see, to whom be honor and everlasting power. Amen.

Instructions to the Rich

Cults & Supernatural

The Gnostics proclaimed a kind of “knowledge” which could help certain spiritual people to escape from the deception and futility of a world dominated by an evil god. Gnostic ideas were already circulating in the 1st century, but it is not known how close their followers were to Christianity or Judaism. Certainly, the early church faced human speculations that were “falsely called knowledge” (1 Tim. 6:20).

Guard the Faith

<sup>20</sup>O Timothy! Guard what was committed to your trust, avoiding the profane and idle babblings and contradictions of what is falsely called knowledge— <sup>21</sup>by professing it some have strayed concerning the faith.

Grace be with you. Amen.

The Letter to Titus

Considerable doubts have been raised about whether Paul actually wrote this letter to Titus (see “The First Letter to Timothy” at 1 Tim. 1:1). Those who accept Paul’s authorship believe the letter to Titus was probably written shortly after 1 Timothy, but before the apostle’s rearrest and imprisonment in A.D. 66. Paul had left Titus in Crete to oversee the work on that island (Titus 1:5).

Little is known about Titus (he is never mentioned in Acts). He was an uncircumcised Greek who was apparently converted to Christianity under Paul’s ministry (Gal. 2:1). He played an important role in Paul’s relationship with the Corinthian church (2 Cor. 7:6, 7; 8:16; 12:18).

The letter was written to encourage Titus in his task of organizing, instructing, and appointing leaders for the churches of Crete (Titus 1:5). It was also intended to help him stop the false teachers who threatened church authority, unity, and morality (1:10–16; 3:9–11).

Greeting

1 :1 Paul, a bondservant of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God’s elect and the acknowledgment of the truth which accords with godliness, <sup>2</sup>in hope of eternal life which God, who cannot lie, promised before time began, <sup>3</sup>but has in due time manifested His word through preaching, which was committed to me according to the commandment of God our Savior;

<sup>4</sup>To Titus, a true son in our common faith:

AN ANCIENT PROPHET FROM CRETE (TITUS 1:12)

Crete is a large southern Aegean island with a very ancient past going back as early as 6000 B.C. The earliest civilization in European history was found at Crete, dating as early as the 3rd millennium B.C. The small states that were built around palaces and flourishing sea-trading routes have been named the Minoan civilization, reminiscent of King Minos of Greek legend. The Minoan period experienced its high point from about 2000 B.C. (when the first palace was built) until around 1400 B.C.

When the Minoan civilization ended, Cretan culture declined, until dominated mostly by traders and soldiers. Decline is possibly reflected in the description of Cretans as “liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons” (Titus 1:12; also quoted in Acts 17:28), which comes from Epimenides, a Cretan poet of about 600 B.C. Cretans were described in a similar manner (as liars and gluttons) in the writings of various authors, such as Greek poet Callimachus (c. 305–240 B.C.), Roman historian Livy (59 B.C.–A.D. 17), and Greek philosopher Plutarch (c. A.D. 46–120).

In New Testament times there was a substantial Jewish population on this Roman-controlled island. Some of these Cretan Jews apparently took on similar characteristics to those named by Epimenides, and the quote from Epimenides illustrates the charge that these members of the Jewish community were insubordinate. Titus was appointed to Crete partly to stop the Judaizing tendencies of this group called “those of the circumcision” (Titus 1:10).

be blameless, as a steward of God, not self-willed, not quick-tempered, not given to wine, not violent, not greedy for money,<sup>8</sup> but hospitable, a lover of what is good, sober-minded, just, holy, self-controlled,<sup>9</sup> holding fast the faithful word as he has been taught, that he may be able, by sound doctrine, both to exhort and convict those who contradict.

The Elders' Task

Qualities of a Sound Church

pattern of good works; in doctrine showing integrity, reverence, incorruptibility,<sup>a</sup> sound speech that cannot be condemned, that one who is an opponent may be ashamed, having nothing evil to say of you.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>9</sup>Exhort bondservants to be obedient to their own masters, to be well pleasing in all things, not answering back,<sup>10</sup> not pilfering, but showing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Savior in all things.

Trained by Saving Grace

<sup>11</sup>For the grace of God that brings salvation has appeared to all men,<sup>12</sup> teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in the present age,<sup>13</sup> looking for the blessed hope and glorious appearing of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ,<sup>14</sup> who gave Himself for us, that He might redeem us from every lawless deed and purify for Himself His own special people, zealous for good works.

<sup>15</sup>Speak these things, exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no one despise you.

Graces of the Heirs of Grace

3 <sup>1</sup>Remind them to be subject to rulers and authorities, to obey, to be ready for every good work,<sup>2</sup> to speak evil of no one, to be peaceable, gentle, showing all humility to all men.<sup>3</sup> For we ourselves were also once foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful and hating one another.<sup>4</sup> But when the kindness and the love of God our Savior toward man appeared,<sup>5</sup> not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us, through the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit,<sup>6</sup> whom He poured out on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Savior,<sup>7</sup> that having been justified by His grace we should become heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

2:7 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits incorruptibility.

<sup>8</sup>This is a faithful saying, and these things I want you to affirm constantly, that those who have believed in God should be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable to men.

Avoid Dissension

<sup>9</sup>But avoid foolish disputes, genealogies, contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and useless. <sup>10</sup>Reject a divisive man after the first and second admonition, <sup>11</sup>knowing that such a person is warped and sinning, being self-condemned.

Final Messages

<sup>12</sup>When I send Artemas to you, or Tychicus, be diligent to come to me at Nicopolis, for I have decided to spend the winter there. <sup>13</sup>Send Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey with haste, that they may lack nothing. <sup>14</sup>And let our people also learn to maintain good works, to meet urgent needs, that they may not be unfruitful.

Farewell

<sup>15</sup>All who are with me greet you. Greet those who love us in the faith.

Grace be with you all. Amen.

The Second Letter to Timothy

As with the other Pastoral Epistles, the letter of 2 Timothy is often not considered to be an original letter of Paul's (see "The First Letter to Timothy" at 1 Tim. 1:1). Those who do accept Paul's authorship believe that 2 Timothy was probably written in A.D. 67, after Paul had been rearrested. Companions who were recently with him had departed (2 Tim. 4:10), leaving him alone—"Only Luke is with me" (4:11). Presumably, Timothy was still in Ephesus (4:19), where Paul had left Priscilla and Aquila at the end of his second journey (Acts 18:18, 19), and where he had stationed Timothy to oversee the work in Asia Minor (see 1 Tim. 1:3).

The letter of 2 Timothy describes Paul as a prisoner in Rome at the time of writing (2 Tim. 1:16, 17). The apostle had already endured a "first defense" (4:16) and had been delivered (4:17). Presumably that was a preliminary hearing; he now faced formal trial. Paul expected a negative verdict and the death sentence. He had reached the end of his course in this life; death was imminent (4:6).

The primary object of this letter was to strengthen Timothy so that he would endure in the face of opposition from false teachers. He is encouraged to carry on the gospel ministry and to train others who will take up that ministry after he is gone.

• 2 Timothy 1:1—4:22

2 Timothy

Greeting

1:1 Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ<sup>a</sup> by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

<sup>2</sup>To Timothy, a beloved son:

Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Timothy's Faith and Heritage

<sup>3</sup>I thank God, whom I serve with a pure conscience, as my forefathers did, as without ceasing I remember you in my prayers night and day, <sup>4</sup>greatly desiring to see you, being mindful of your tears, that I may be filled with joy, <sup>5</sup>when I call to remembrance the genuine faith that is in you, which dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice, and I am persuaded is in you also. <sup>6</sup>Therefore I remind you to stir up the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands. <sup>7</sup>For God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power and of love and of a sound mind.

THE WHO'S WHO OF BANQUETING (2 TIM. 2:20, 21)

The Greco-Roman society developed intricate social customs and rituals in order to rank people as honorable or shameful, socially superior or inferior. One of these rituals was the banquet. As a formal dinner party, the banquet helped mark people in their proper “rank” within the society.

As the host, the head of the household, called the “father,” occupied the social pinnacle at the banquet. People would not usually attend the banquet given by someone of lesser social standing than themselves. Various arrangements of the banquet ranked the participants socially, such as the seating or reclining assignments. The closer an attendee was to the host, the more status or honor that one possessed at the banquet.

In a spacious “great house” (2 Tim. 2:20) of an extremely wealthy household, a banquet could involve many, many people, all indebted to the father or head of household. Not only access to the host, but also food and serving dishes would mark “who’s who” at the banquet. Those possessing sufficient honor or status would eat from platters of precious metals; the common freemen would eat from earthenware with wooden utensils.

The banquet and its social code possibly provide the background for the imagery of vessels in the letter of 2 Timothy (2 Tim. 2:20, 21). Within the “great house” of God the Father, moral purity is the distinguishing mark of a vessel “for honor”; implied, though not stated, is that impurity marks a vessel “for dishonor.” Thus in the visible church are people of various kinds—some for good, others regrettably unworthy.

Not Ashamed of the Gospel

<sup>8</sup>Therefore do not be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me His prisoner, but share with me in the sufferings for the gospel according to the power of God, <sup>9</sup>who has saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace which was given to us in Christ Jesus before time began, <sup>10</sup>but has now been revealed by the appearing of our Savior Jesus Christ, who has abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel, <sup>11</sup>to which I was appointed a preacher, an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.<sup>a</sup> <sup>12</sup>For this reason I also suffer these things; nevertheless I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep what I have committed to Him until that Day.

Be Loyal to the Faith

<sup>13</sup>Hold fast the pattern of sound words which you have heard from me, in faith and love which are in Christ Jesus. <sup>14</sup>That good thing which was committed to you, keep by the Holy Spirit who dwells in us.

<sup>15</sup>This you know, that all those in Asia have turned away from me, among whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes. <sup>16</sup>The Lord grant mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain; <sup>17</sup>but when he arrived in Rome, he sought me out very zealously and found me. <sup>18</sup>The Lord grant to him that he may find mercy from the Lord in that Day—and you know very well how many ways he ministered to me<sup>a</sup> at Ephesus.

Be Strong in Grace

2 <sup>1</sup>You therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. <sup>2</sup>And the things that you have heard from me among many witnesses, commit these to faithful men who will be able to teach others also. <sup>3</sup>You therefore must endure<sup>a</sup> hardship as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup>No one engaged in warfare entangles himself with the affairs of this life, that he may please him who enlisted him as a soldier. <sup>5</sup>And also if anyone competes in athletics, he is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules. <sup>6</sup>The hardworking farmer must be first to partake of the crops. <sup>7</sup>Consider what I say, and may<sup>a</sup> the Lord give you understanding in all things.

<sup>8</sup>Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David, was raised from the dead according to my gospel, <sup>9</sup>for which I suffer trouble as an evildoer, even to the point of chains; but the word of God is not chained. <sup>10</sup>Therefore I endure all things for the sake of the elect, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

For if we died with Him,
We shall also live with Him.

<sup>12</sup> If we endure,
We shall also reign with Him.

If we deny Him,
He also will deny us.

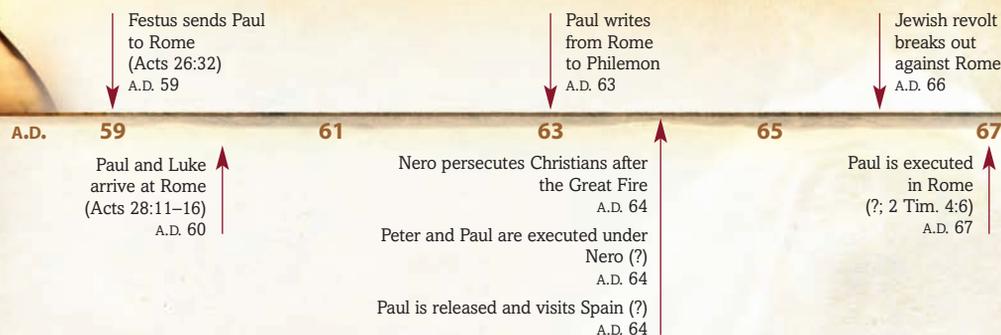

<sup>13</sup> If we are faithless,
He remains faithful;
He cannot deny Himself.

Approved and Disapproved Workers

<sup>14</sup>Remind them of these things, charging them before the Lord not to strive about words to no profit, to the ruin of the hearers. <sup>15</sup>Be diligent to present yourself approved to God, a worker who does not need to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. <sup>16</sup>But shun profane and idle babblings, for they will increase to more ungodliness.

THE END OF PAUL'S LIFE

<sup>17</sup>And their message will spread like cancer. Hymenaeus and Philetus are of this sort, <sup>18</sup>who have strayed concerning the truth, saying that the resurrection is already past; and they overthrow the faith of some. <sup>19</sup>Nevertheless the solid foundation of God stands, having this seal: “The Lord knows those who are His,” and, “Let everyone who names the name of Christ<sup>a</sup> depart from iniquity.”

<sup>20</sup>But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and silver, but also of wood and clay, some for honor and some for dishonor. <sup>21</sup>Therefore if anyone cleanses himself from the latter, he will be a vessel for honor, sanctified and useful for the Master, prepared for every good work. <sup>22</sup>Flee also youthful lusts; but pursue righteousness, faith, love, peace with those who call on the Lord out of a pure heart. <sup>23</sup>But avoid foolish and ignorant disputes, knowing that they generate strife. <sup>24</sup>And a servant of the Lord must not quarrel but be gentle to all, able to teach, patient, <sup>25</sup>in humility correcting those who are in opposition, if God perhaps will grant them repentance, so that they may know the truth, <sup>26</sup>and that they may come to their senses and escape the snare of the devil, having been taken captive by him to do his will.

Perilous Times and Perilous Men

3 <sup>1</sup>But know this, that in the last days perilous times will come: <sup>2</sup>For men will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, <sup>3</sup>unloving, unforgiving, slanderers, without self-control, brutal, despisers of good, <sup>4</sup>traitors, headstrong, haughty, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, <sup>5</sup>having a form of godliness but denying its power. And from such people turn away! <sup>6</sup>For of this sort are those who creep into households and make captives of gullible women loaded down with sins, led away by various lusts, <sup>7</sup>always learning and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. <sup>8</sup>Now as Jannes and Jambres resisted Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, disapproved concerning the faith; <sup>9</sup>but they will progress no further, for their folly will be manifest to all, as theirs also was.

The Man of God and the Word of God

<sup>10</sup>But you have carefully followed my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, love, perseverance, <sup>11</sup>persecutions, afflictions, which happened to me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra—what persecutions I endured. And out of them all the Lord delivered me. <sup>12</sup>Yes, and all who desire to live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution. <sup>13</sup>But evil men and impostors will grow worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived. <sup>14</sup>But you must continue in the things which you have learned and been assured of, knowing from whom you have learned them, <sup>15</sup>and that from childhood you have known the Holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

<sup>16</sup>All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, <sup>17</sup>that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work.

Preach the Word

4 <sup>1</sup>I charge you therefore before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who will judge the living and the dead at<sup>a</sup> His appearing and His kingdom: <sup>2</sup>Preach the word! Be ready in season and out of season. Convince, rebuke, exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching. <sup>3</sup>For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but according to their own desires, because they have itching ears, they will heap up for themselves teachers; <sup>4</sup>and they will turn their ears away from the truth, and be turned aside to fables. <sup>5</sup>But you be watchful in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry.

Paul's Valedictory

<sup>6</sup>For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure is at hand. <sup>7</sup>I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. <sup>8</sup>Finally, there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give to me on that Day, and not to me only but also to all who have loved His appearing.

The Abandoned Apostle

<sup>9</sup>Be diligent to come to me quickly; <sup>10</sup>for Demas has forsaken me, having loved this present world, and has departed for Thessalonica—Crescens for Galatia, Titus for Dalmatia. <sup>11</sup>Only Luke is with me. Get Mark and bring him with you, for he is useful to me for ministry. <sup>12</sup>And Ty-chicus I have sent to Ephesus. <sup>13</sup>Bring the cloak that I left with Carpus at Troas when you come—and the books, especially the parchments.

<sup>14</sup>Alexander the coppersmith did me much harm. May the Lord repay him according to his works. <sup>15</sup>You also must beware of him, for he has greatly resisted our words.

<sup>16</sup>At my first defense no one stood with me, but all forsook me. May it not be charged against them.

The Lord Is Faithful

<sup>17</sup>But the Lord stood with me and strengthened me, so that the message might be preached fully through me, and that all the Gentiles might hear. Also I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. <sup>18</sup>And the Lord will deliver me from every evil work and preserve me for His heavenly kingdom. To Him be glory forever and ever. Amen!

Come Before Winter

The awards given in Greek athletic competition were wreaths, or crowns woven from leaves, or else gold imitations of such crowns. The honor of these awards overshadowed whatever money accompanied them. Aspects of athletic competition, such as the “race” and “crown” (2 Tim. 4:7, 8), were appropriate figures to describe the finish of life as a faithful Christian.

Eubulus greets you, as well as Pudens, Linus, Claudia, and all the brethren.

The First Letter of Peter

If Simon Peter was the author of the letter of 1 Peter, he probably wrote it around A.D. 63 or 64, shortly before the beginning of Nero's persecution of Christians at Rome. The name “Babylon” (1 Pet. 5:13), then, is likely a figurative description of Rome. According to early church tradition, Peter was martyred during the reign of Nero in about A.D. 64. Peter's scribe, Sylvanus (5:12) may have been responsible for much of the letter's style and vocabulary.

Some scholars reject Peter's authorship: the good style and extensive literary vocabulary of the author could not have come from a Galilean fisherman. Moreover, the letter shows the influence of Paul's theology and vocabulary, such as the expression “in Christ.”

If Peter was not the author, the letter could have been written sometime after A.D. 70. The symbolic reference to Rome as “Babylon,” found in several early Christian writings (see Rev. 17:5), probably resulted from Rome's destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70, a tragic event that repeated the conquest by Babylon in 586 B.C. The link between being “a Christian” and criminal offenses (4:14–16) might suggest a date around A.D. 90–95, well after Peter's death. The earliest evidence for an official governmental persecution being enforced on more than a local basis is found during the reign of the emperor Domitian (A.D. 81–96).

The Christians who received this letter lived in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia (1 Pet. 1:1), regions located in Asia Minor. Many of them seem to have been Gentiles (2:10) who were facing persecution from non-Christians around them and perhaps also from government officials. This letter was written primarily to bring them a message of hope and encouragement.

Greeting to the Elect Pilgrims

1 :1 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ,

To the pilgrims of the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, <sup>2</sup>elect

PERSECUTED IN BITHYNIA (1 PET. 1:1)

Bithynia, combined with the nearby territory of Pontus, formed a Roman province in northwest Anatolia. It had been an important kingdom during the Hellenistic period (332–37 B.C.), and a center of Greek language and culture. Although Paul did not evangelize in the region (Acts 16:7), the salutation in 1 Pet. 1:1, addressing Christians in Pontus and Bithynia, shows that Christianity had reached there by other means.

One of the earliest evidences of the Roman awareness of Christianity comes from Bithynia. The letters to the emperor Trajan from Pliny the Younger describe various reasons for the persecution of Christians (Epistulae 10.95–96). Pliny was the provincial governor of Bithynia and Pontus in A.D. 111–113. In his official correspondence he expresses to Trajan his alarm regarding the spread of Christianity.

The correspondence between this governor and his emperor offers one look at how the Romans dealt with the Christian religion in Bithynia and Pontus. According to Pliny, it appears that persecution had trimmed the ranks of Christians in the area. Trajan responds to Pliny that Christians should not actively be sought out. However, he allows that those who refused to perform certain Roman orders were to be punished. The letter of 1 Peter to Christians in Bithynia, Pontus, and other regions, offers encouragement during similar persecutions (1 Pet. 1:6, 7).

according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, for obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ:

Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

A Heavenly Inheritance

<sup>3</sup>Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to His abundant mercy has begotten us again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, <sup>4</sup>to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled and that does not fade away, reserved in heaven for you, <sup>5</sup>who are kept by the power of God through faith for salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

<sup>6</sup>In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, you have been grieved by various trials, <sup>7</sup>that the genuineness of your faith, being much more precious than gold that perishes, though it is tested by fire, may be found to praise, honor, and glory at the revelation of Jesus Christ, <sup>8</sup>whom having not seen<sup>a</sup> you love. Though now you do not see Him, yet believing, you rejoice with joy inexpressible and full of glory, <sup>9</sup>receiving the end of your faith—the salvation of your souls.

<sup>10</sup>Of this salvation the prophets have inquired and searched carefully, who prophesied of the grace that would come to you, <sup>11</sup>searching what, or what manner of time, the Spirit of Christ who was in them was indicating when He testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ and the glories that would follow. <sup>12</sup>To them it was revealed that, not to themselves, but to us<sup>a</sup> they were ministering the things which now have been reported to you through those who have preached the gospel to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven—things which angels desire to look into.

Living Before God Our Father

<sup>13</sup>Therefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and rest your hope fully upon the grace that is to be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ; <sup>14</sup>as obedient children, not conforming yourselves to the former lusts, as in your ignorance; <sup>15</sup>but as He who called you is holy, you also be holy in all your conduct, <sup>16</sup>because it is written, “Be holy, for I am holy.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>17</sup>And if you call on the Father, who without partiality judges according to each one’s work, conduct yourselves throughout the time of your stay here in fear; <sup>18</sup>knowing that you were not redeemed with corruptible things, like silver or gold, from your aimless conduct received by tradition from your fathers, <sup>19</sup>but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot. <sup>20</sup>He indeed was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you <sup>21</sup>who through Him believe in God, who raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory, so that your faith and hope are in God.

The Enduring Word

“All flesh is as grass,

Arts & Literature

Poets commonly compare human life that is fragile and short to the brief life of plants that bloom and die in a single season. By contrast, the king was compared to a tree that bore fruit year after year. Such comparisons of human life to plants are used many times in Scripture with different nuances (1 Pet. 1:24).

And all the glory of man<sup>a</sup> as the flower of the grass.

The grass withers,
And its flower falls away,

<sup>25</sup> But the word of the LORD endures forever.”<sup>a</sup>

Now this is the word which by the gospel was preached to you.

The Chosen Stone and His Chosen People

<sup>4</sup>Coming to Him as to a living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen by God and precious, <sup>5</sup>you also, as living stones, are being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. <sup>6</sup>Therefore it is also contained in the Scripture,

“Behold, I lay in Zion
A chief cornerstone, elect, precious,
And he who believes on Him will by no means be put to shame.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>7</sup>Therefore, to you who believe, He is precious; but to those who are disobedient,<sup>a</sup>

“The stone which the builders rejected
Has become the chief cornerstone,”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>8</sup>and

“A stone of stumbling
And a rock of offense.”<sup>a</sup>

They stumble, being disobedient to the word, to which they also were appointed.

<sup>9</sup>But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people, that you may proclaim the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light; <sup>10</sup>who once were not a people but are now the people of God, who had not obtained mercy but now have obtained mercy.

Living Before the World

<sup>11</sup>Beloved, I beg you as sojourners and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts which war against the soul, <sup>12</sup>having your conduct honorable among the Gentiles, that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may, by your good works which they observe, glorify God in the day of visitation.

Submission to Government

<sup>13</sup>Therefore submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord’s sake, whether to the king as supreme, <sup>14</sup>or to governors, as to those who are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers and for the praise of those who do good. <sup>15</sup>For this is the will of God, that by doing good you may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men— <sup>16</sup>as free, yet not using liberty as a cloak for vice, but as bondservants of God. <sup>17</sup>Honor all people. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.

Submission to Masters

<sup>18</sup>Servants, be submissive to your masters with all fear, not only to the good and gentle, but also to the harsh. <sup>19</sup>For this is commendable, if because of conscience toward God one endures grief, suffering wrongfully. <sup>20</sup>For what credit is it if, when you are beaten for your faults, you take it patiently? But when you do good and suffer, if you take it patiently, this is commendable before God. <sup>21</sup>For to this you were called, because Christ

Nero, the fifth emperor of Rome, is known for his persecution of Christians.

WIVES, HUSBANDS, AND RELIGION (1 PET. 3:1)

In the Roman world, wives were expected to follow their husband's religion. Many women, however, were drawn to other religious groups, like Judaism and Christianity, often provoking their husbands' anger. This marital conflict over religion often caused religious groups to face hostility, and the groups frequently responded by upholding Greek and Roman traditional family values, insofar as they could accommodate them.

The letter of 1 Peter advocates submission to all the authority figures of that day, including kings, governors, slave masters, and husbands (1 Pet. 2:13, 14, 18; 3:1). Similarly, ancient writers who delineated proper societal roles usually included sections on how the male head of the household should rule both wife and slaves.

An emphasis on the adornment of the heart rather than on outward appearance (3:3) was common in ancient speeches and writings. Greek and Roman ideals for wifely behavior included submission, meekness, and quietness. Greek and Roman moralists exhorted wives to a meekness that included avoiding all ostentation, dressing simply rather than drawing attention to oneself. These moralists typically pointed out that women could "adorn" themselves with meekness rather than costly garments.

Moralists often drew on examples from the past, because people generally thought that past matrons had been more obedient than were those of their own day. Jewish readers, as well as Gentiles who had begun learning the Old Testament, would recognize Sarah as an ultimate example of proper behavior. Sarah's address of Abraham as "lord" (3:6) probably reflects the standard Hebrew title of respect for husbands (although her use of this title is most frequent in the apocryphal Testament of Abraham written in Greek).

The letter of 1 Peter exhorts wives whose husbands may have already been distrustful of Christian teaching, suspecting it would subvert their wives' obedience. The model for how to best win over these husbands to Christianity involves adopting the societal norms of a wife's submissiveness and loyalty to her husband.

also suffered for us,<sup>a</sup> leaving us<sup>b</sup> an example, that you should follow His steps:

22 "Who committed no sin,
Nor was deceit found in His mouth";<sup>a</sup>

<sup>23</sup>who, when He was reviled, did not revile in return; when He suffered, He did not threaten, but committed Himself to Him who judges righteously; <sup>24</sup>who Himself bore our sins in His own body on the tree, that we, having died to sins, might live for righteousness—by whose stripes you were healed. <sup>25</sup>For you were like sheep going astray, but have now returned to the Shepherd and Overseer<sup>c</sup> of your souls.

Submission to Husbands

A Word to Husbands

<sup>7</sup>Husbands, likewise, dwell with them with understanding, giving honor to the wife, as to the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life, that your prayers may not be hindered.

Called to Blessing

<sup>8</sup>Finally, all of you be of one mind, having compassion for one another; love as brothers, be tenderhearted, be courteous;<sup>a</sup> <sup>9</sup>not returning evil for evil or reviling for reviling, but on the contrary blessing, knowing that you were called to this, that you may inherit a blessing. <sup>10</sup>For

"He who would love life
And see good days,
Let him refrain his tongue from evil,
And his lips from speaking deceit.
<sup>11</sup> Let him turn away from evil and do good;
Let him seek peace and pursue it.
<sup>12</sup> For the eyes of the LORD are on the righteous,
And His ears are open to their prayers;
But the face of the LORD is against those who do evil."<sup>a</sup>

Culture & Society

The women of the Roman Empire are known for the care they expended on their hairstyles (1 Pet. 3:3). This outward emphasis is apparent in the numerous surviving portrait sculptures which show the exact way the hair was piled up, coiled, and fastened. Roman writers sometimes criticized these excesses when they attacked luxury and recommended the simplicity of the past.

THE PERSECUTION OF THE CHURCH

The letter of 1 Peter was written primarily to bring a message of hope and encouragement to Christians under persecution. Many of them were being persecuted by non-Christians around them, and perhaps also by government officials. Christians faced animosity particularly from several Roman emperors.

Date	Emperor
A.D. 64	Nero (54–68) Nero blamed the Christians for the Great Fire in Rome and punished them cruelly.
A.D. 95	Domitian (81–96) Domitian accused some high-ranking people of atheism. There is some evidence of persecution in the provinces especially.
A.D. 111	Trajan (98–117) Pliny the Younger corresponded with the emperor Trajan. The decision was that Christians should be punished if known, but should not be hunted down.
A.D. 125	Hadrian (117–138) Hadrian continued Trajan's policy; Christians were entitled to due process and should not be hunted down.
A.D. 155	Antoninus Pius (138–161) Polycarp was martyred in Syria for refusal to serve pagan gods. Another possible date for this event is 167–168, during the reign of Marcus Aurelius (161–180).
A.D. 202	Septimius Severus (193–211) Severus made it against the law for anyone to be converted to Judaism or to Christianity.

suffering for Right and Wrong

<sup>13</sup>And who is he who will harm you if you become followers of what is good? <sup>14</sup>But even if you should suffer for righteousness' sake, you are blessed. "And do not be afraid of their threats, nor be troubled." <sup>15</sup>But sanctify the Lord God<sup>a</sup> in your hearts, and always be ready to give a defense to everyone who asks you a reason for the hope that is in you, with meekness and fear; <sup>16</sup>having a good conscience, that when they defame you as evildoers, those who revile your good conduct in Christ may be ashamed. <sup>17</sup>For it is better, if it is the will of God, to suffer for doing good than for doing evil.

Christ's Suffering and Ours

<sup>18</sup>For Christ also suffered once for sins, the just for the unjust, that He might bring us<sup>a</sup> to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive by the Spirit, <sup>19</sup>by whom also He went and preached to the spirits in prison, <sup>20</sup>who formerly were disobedient, when once the Divine longsuffering waited<sup>a</sup> in the days of Noah, while the ark was being prepared, in which a few, that is, eight souls, were saved through water. <sup>21</sup>There is also an antitype which now saves us—baptism (not the removal of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God), through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, <sup>22</sup>who has gone into heaven and is at the right hand of God, angels and authorities and powers having been made subject to Him.

4 <sup>1</sup>Therefore, since Christ suffered for us<sup>a</sup> in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same mind, for he who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, <sup>2</sup>that he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh for the lusts of men, but for the will of God. <sup>3</sup>For we have spent enough of our past lifetime<sup>a</sup> in doing the will of the Gentiles—when we walked in lewdness, lusts, drunkenness, revelries, drinking parties, and abominable idolatries. <sup>4</sup>In regard to these, they think it strange that you do not run with them in the same flood of dissipation, speaking evil of you. <sup>5</sup>They will give an account to Him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. <sup>6</sup>For this reason the gospel was preached also to those who are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

Serving for God's Glory

another, for “love will cover a multitude of sins.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>9</sup>Be hospitable to one another without grumbling. <sup>10</sup>As each one has received a gift, minister it to one another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God. <sup>11</sup>If anyone speaks, let him speak as the oracles of God. If anyone ministers, let him do it as with the ability which God supplies, that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom belong the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

Suffering for God's Glory

<sup>12</sup>Beloved, do not think it strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened to you; <sup>13</sup>but rejoice to the extent that you partake of Christ's sufferings, that when His glory is revealed, you may also be glad with exceeding joy. <sup>14</sup>If you are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are you, for the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you.<sup>a</sup> On their part He is blasphemed, but on your part He is glorified. <sup>15</sup>But let none of you suffer as a murderer, a thief, an evildoer, or as a busybody in other people's matters. <sup>16</sup>Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this matter.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>17</sup>For the time has come for judgment to begin at the house of God; and if it begins with us first, what will be the end of those who do not obey the gospel of God? <sup>18</sup>Now

Where will the ungodly and the sinner appear?”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>19</sup>Therefore let those who suffer according to the will of God commit their souls to Him in doing good, as to a faithful Creator.

Shepherd the Flock

5 <sup>1</sup>The elders who are among you I exhort, I who am a fellow elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that will be revealed: <sup>2</sup>Shepherd the flock of God which is among you, serving as overseers, not by compulsion but willingly,<sup>a</sup> not for dishonest gain but eagerly; <sup>3</sup>nor as being lords over those entrusted to you, but being examples to the flock; <sup>4</sup>and when the Chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the crown of glory that does not fade away.

Submit to God, Resist the Devil

<sup>5</sup>Likewise you younger people, submit yourselves to your elders. Yes, all of you be submissive to one another, and be clothed with humility, for *“God resists the proud,

But gives grace to the humble.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>6</sup>Therefore humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time, <sup>7</sup>casting all your care upon Him, for He cares for you.

Regions of the Dispersion

The letter of 1 Peter is addressed to “the pilgrims of the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia” (1 Pet. 1:1). The author wrote from Rome, as indicated by the code name “Babylon” (1 Pet. 5:13), and encouraged these pilgrims in various areas of Asia Minor to be strong in the faith as they encountered persecutions.

Farewell and Peace

<sup>12</sup>By Silvanus, our faithful brother as I consider him, I have written to you briefly, exhorting and testifying that this is the true grace of God in which you stand.

<sup>13</sup>She who is in Babylon, elect together with you, greets you; and so does Mark my son.

Peace to you all who are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The Letter of Jude

The Jude (or Judas) named as the author of this letter (1:1) is most probably the half brother of Jesus (see Matt. 13:55). He is identified as the “brother of James” (Jude 1:1), another half brother of Jesus. Some scholars have doubted whether Jude actually wrote this letter, raising questions similar to those raised about James’s authorship of the letter bearing his name (see “The Letter of James” at James 1:1). As with the letter of James, however, others accept the book as an authentic letter by Jude himself.

Exactly when Jude wrote the letter depends to some extent on its relationship with the letter of 2 Peter. The marked similarity of wording between Jude 1:4–19 and 2 Peter 2:1–3:3 indicates direct literary dependence. Yet it cannot be proven whether the 2 Peter passage was borrowed from Jude, or Jude borrowed from 2 Peter, or both letters used ideas from a common source that no longer exists. The apparent literary relationship between the two letters might mean that Jude was written at roughly the same time as 2 Peter (see “The Second Letter of Peter” at 2 Pet. 1:1).

Jude wrote this letter to a group of Christians who were being led astray by false teachers. He urges them to fight for the truth (Jude 1:3).

Greeting to the Called

1:1 Jude, a bondservant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James,

To those who are called, sanctified<sup>a</sup> by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup>Mercy, peace, and love be multiplied to you.

Contend for the Faith

<sup>3</sup>Beloved, while I was very diligent to write to you concerning our common salvation, I found it necessary to write to you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered to the saints. <sup>4</sup>For certain men have crept in unnoticed, who long ago were marked out for this condemnation, ungodly men, who turn the grace of our God into lewdness and deny the only Lord God<sup>a</sup> and our Lord Jesus Christ.

Old and New Apostates

<sup>5</sup>But I want to remind you, though you once knew this, that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. <sup>6</sup>And the angels who did not keep their proper domain, but left their own abode, He has reserved in everlasting chains under darkness for the judgment of the great day; <sup>7</sup>as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities around them in a similar manner to these, having given themselves over to sexual immorality and gone after strange flesh, are set forth as an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

<sup>8</sup>Likewise also these dreamers defile the flesh, reject authority, and speak evil of dignitaries. <sup>9</sup>Yet Michael the archangel, in contending with the devil, when he disputed about the body of Moses, dared not bring against him a reviling accusation, but said, “The Lord rebuke you!” <sup>10</sup>But these speak evil of whatever they do not know; and whatever they know naturally, like brute beasts, in these things they corrupt themselves. <sup>11</sup>Woe to them! For they have gone in the way of Cain, have run greedily in the error of Balaam for profit, and perished in the rebellion of Korah.

Apostates Depraved and Doomed

<sup>14</sup>Now Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied about these men also, saying, “Behold, the Lord comes with ten thousands of His saints, <sup>15</sup>to execute judgment on all, to convict all who are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have committed in an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him.”

Apostates Predicted

QUOTATION OF GREEK LITERATURE

The New Testament quotes often from the Septuagint, the Greek translation of the Old Testament, and once from the Jewish apocryphal book of 1 Enoch (see Jude 1:14, 15). New Testament writers also referred to Greek literature, quoting the works of Greek authors dating as far back as 600 B.C.

Quotation: “Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons” (Titus 1:12)

From: De oraculis by Epimenides (about 600 B.C.)

Epimenides was a wandering religious teacher. The quotation in Titus also resembles a line from Hesiod’s Theogony, a better-known poem.

Quotation: “a sow, having washed, to her wallowing in the mire” (2 Pet. 2:22)

From: A fragment of Heraclitus (about 500 B.C.)

Heraclitus was an early philosopher. There is a proverb known from other sources that seems to be closer than Heraclitus’s fragment to what Peter is saying.

Quotation: “It is hard for you to kick against the goads” (Acts 26:14)

From: Bacchae, 794, by Euripides (485–406 B.C.)

The line is a familiar proverb, and the phrase in Acts 26 may not be quoted directly from Euripides.

From: Thais by Menander (343–293 B.C.)

Menander, a writer of dramatic comedy, was from Athens. The quotation was a common proverb by Paul’s time.

Quotation: “For we are also His offspring” (Acts 17:28)

From: Phenomena, 5, by Aratus (314–240 B.C.)

Maintain Your Life with God

<sup>20</sup>But you, beloved, building yourselves up on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit, <sup>21</sup>keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

<sup>22</sup>And on some have compassion, making a distinction;<sup>a</sup> <sup>23</sup>but others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire,<sup>a</sup> hating even the garment defiled by the flesh.

<sup>25</sup> To God our Savior,<sup>a</sup>
 Who alone is wise,<sup>b</sup>
 Be glory and majesty,
 Dominion and power,<sup>c</sup>

1:22 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text reads who are doubting (or making distinctions).

1:23 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text adds and on some have mercy with fear and omits with fear in first clause. 1:24 <sup>a</sup>M-Text reads them.

TRANSITION

The Second Letter of Peter

Two New Testament letters bear the name of Simon Peter (1 Pet. 1:1; 2 Pet. 1:1). The two have little in common with each other, and the differences in style, vocabulary, and theology between 1 and 2 Peter have led some scholars to doubt whether Peter was the author of 2 Peter. Other scholars recognize these differences, but still accept Peter's authorship of the second letter. Differences in style and vocabulary are explained as the result of Peter using a different secretary to write the second letter, and by treating differing subject matter.

The author of the letter refers to "our beloved brother Paul" and to "all his epistles" (2 Pet. 3:15, 16). Some suppose that if Peter wrote the letter he would never have implied that Paul's writings were equal to "the rest of the Scriptures" (3:16). Moreover, it seems unlikely that Paul's letters would have been gathered into a formal collection prior to Peter's and Paul's martyrdoms under Nero. Nevertheless, others point out that the apostles wrote and taught with a consciousness of having divine authority, as Paul did in his earliest letters (1 Cor. 2:13; Gal. 1:1).

Those who accept Peter's authorship believe he probably wrote in the early 60s, not long before his death. Since the letter of 2 Peter apparently acknowledges the existence of 1 Peter (2 Pet. 3:1), it would necessarily have been written after 1 Peter. If an unknown author wrote the letter, its composition might date to the late 1st century or early 2nd century.

The similarities between 2 Peter and Jude do not necessarily determine when 2 Peter may have been written. While 2 Pet. 2:1—3:3 appears to quote word for word from Jude 1:4—19 (see "The Letter of Jude" at Jude 1:1), it is possible that 2 Peter depended on Jude, or that Peter and Jude used a common source, or even that Jude copied Peter.

The letter is written out of pastoral concern to counter false teachings and their influence on the lives of early Christians. Certain teachers, for their own personal gain, were promising that people could be Christians and still live immoral lives. The writer of this letter is concerned that there be a check against this false teaching and immoral living even after he is gone (1:12–15).

• 2 Peter 1:1—3:18

*2 PeterGreeting the Faithful

1 :1 Simon Peter, a bondservant and apostle of Jesus Christ,

To those who have obtained like precious faith with us by the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ:

<sup>2</sup>Grace and peace be multiplied to you in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord, <sup>3</sup>as His divine power has given to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him who called us by glory and virtue, <sup>4</sup>by which have been given to us exceedingly great and precious promises, that through these you may be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

Fruitful Growth in the Faith

<sup>5</sup>But also for this very reason, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue, to virtue knowledge, <sup>6</sup>to knowledge self-control, to self-control perseverance, to perseverance godliness, <sup>7</sup>to godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness love. <sup>8</sup>For if these things are yours and abound, you will be neither barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>9</sup>For he who lacks these things is shortsighted, even to blindness, and has forgotten that he was cleansed from his old sins.

<sup>10</sup>Therefore, brethren, be even more diligent to make your call and election sure, for if you do these things you will never stumble; <sup>11</sup>for so an entrance will be supplied to you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Peter's Approaching Death

<sup>12</sup>For this reason I will not be negligent to remind you always of these things, though you know and are established in the present truth. <sup>13</sup>Yes, I think it is right, as long as I am in this tent, to stir you up by reminding you, <sup>14</sup>knowing that shortly I must put off my tent, just as our Lord Jesus Christ showed me. <sup>15</sup>Moreover I will be careful to ensure that you always have a reminder of these things after my decease.

The Trustworthy Prophetic Word

<sup>16</sup>For we did not follow cunningly devised fables when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of His majesty. <sup>17</sup>For He received from God the Father honor and glory when such a voice came to Him from the Excellent Glory: "This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." <sup>18</sup>And we heard this voice which came

Beliefs & Ideas

The official and unofficial religions practiced in the Roman world included many fables or stories about various gods. It was known that these stories were not historical accounts, and the expression "cunningly devised fables" (2 Pet. 1:16), like the English word "myth," was used as an insult meaning "false." People who heard the gospel knew the difference between myth and history.

from heaven when we were with Him on the holy mountain.

Destructive Doctrines

2 <sup>1</sup>But there were also false prophets among the people, even as there will be false teachers among you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, even denying the Lord who bought them, and bring on themselves swift destruction. <sup>2</sup>And many will follow their destructive ways, because of whom the way of truth will be blasphemed. <sup>3</sup>By covetousness they will exploit you with deceptive words; for a long time their judgment has not been idle, and their destruction does<sup>a</sup> not slumber.

Doom of False Teachers

<sup>4</sup>For if God did not spare the angels who sinned, but cast them down to hell and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved for judgment; <sup>5</sup>and did not spare the ancient world, but saved Noah, one of eight people, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood on the world of the ungodly; <sup>6</sup>and turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them to destruction, making them an example to those who afterward would live ungodly; <sup>7</sup>and delivered righteous Lot, who was oppressed by the filthy conduct of the wicked<sup>8</sup>(for that righteous man, dwelling among them, tormented his righteous soul from day to day by seeing and hearing their lawless deeds)—<sup>9</sup>then the Lord knows how to deliver the godly out of temptations and to reserve the unjust under punishment for the day of judgment, <sup>10</sup>and especially those who walk according to the flesh in the lust of uncleanness and despise authority. They are presumptuous, self-willed. They are not afraid to speak evil of dignitaries, <sup>11</sup>whereas angels, who are greater in power and might, do not bring a reviling accusation against them before the Lord.

Depravity of False Teachers

things they do not understand, and will utterly perish in their own corruption, <sup>13</sup>and will receive the wages of unrighteousness, as those who count it pleasure to carouse in the daytime. They are spots and blemishes, carousing in their own deceptions while they feast with you, <sup>14</sup>having eyes full of adultery and that cannot cease from sin, enticing unstable souls. They have a heart trained in covetous practices, and are accursed children. <sup>15</sup>They have forsaken the right way and gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Beor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness; <sup>16</sup>but he was rebuked for his iniquity: a dumb donkey speaking with a man's voice restrained the madness of the prophet.

<sup>17</sup>These are wells without water, clouds<sup>a</sup> carried by a tempest, for whom is reserved the blackness of darkness forever.<sup>b</sup>

Deceptions of False Teachers

<sup>18</sup>For when they speak great swelling words of emptiness, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through lewdness, the ones who have actually escaped<sup>a</sup> from those who live in error. <sup>19</sup>While they promise them liberty, they themselves are slaves of corruption; for by whom a person is overcome, by him also he is brought into bondage. <sup>20</sup>For if, after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the latter end is worse for them than the beginning. <sup>21</sup>For it would

Sites of the Transfiguration

None of the gospel accounts exactly locate the high mountain on which the transfiguration of Jesus took place (2 Pet. 1:16–18). Matthew and Mark link the event closely to Peter's prior confession of faith made in Caesarea Philippi, thus suggesting Mt. Hermon to the north as a plausible site. The account in Luke ties the event closely to Jesus' departure from Galilee en route to Jerusalem, making Mt. Tabor a credible possibility as well.

have been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than having known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered to them.<sup>22</sup> But it has happened to them according to the true proverb: “A dog returns to his own vomit,”<sup>a</sup> and, “a sow, having washed, to her wallowing in the mire.”

God's Promise Is Not Slack

3<sup>1</sup> Beloved, I now write to you this second epistle (in both of which I stir up your pure minds by way of reminder),<sup>2</sup> that you may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us,<sup>a</sup> the apostles of the Lord and Savior,<sup>3</sup> knowing this first: that scoffers will come in the last days, walking according to their own lusts,<sup>4</sup> and saying, “Where is the promise of His coming? For since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of creation.”<sup>5</sup> For this they willfully forget: that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of water and in the water,<sup>6</sup> by which the world that then existed perished, being flooded with water.<sup>7</sup> But the heavens and the earth which are now preserved by the same word, are reserved for fire until the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

<sup>8</sup> But, beloved, do not forget this one thing, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.<sup>9</sup> The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some count slackness, but is longsuffering toward us,<sup>a</sup> not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance.

The Day of the Lord

<sup>10</sup> But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements will melt with fervent heat; both the earth and the works that are in it will be burned up.<sup>a</sup> <sup>11</sup> Therefore, since all these things will be dissolved, what manner of persons ought you to be in holy conduct and godliness,<sup>12</sup> looking for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be dissolved, being on fire, and the elements will melt with fervent heat?<sup>13</sup> Nevertheless we, according to His promise, look for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells.

Be Steadfast

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, beloved, looking forward to these things, be diligent to be found by Him in peace, without spot and blameless;<sup>15</sup> and consider that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation—as also our beloved brother Paul, according to the wisdom given to him, has written to you,<sup>16</sup> as also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things, in which are some things hard to understand, which untaught and unstable people twist to their own destruction, as they do also the rest of the Scriptures.

<sup>17</sup> You therefore, beloved, since you know this beforehand, beware lest you also fall from your own steadfastness, being led away with the error of the wicked;<sup>18</sup> but grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

To Him be the glory both now and forever. Amen.

The Letter to the Hebrews

Unlike the letters recognized as written by Paul, the letter to the Hebrews is not signed by its author, nor are the addressees named. It is not a circular letter to be read in several churches. The many exhortations remind us of a sermon. Hebrews deals with Christ's priesthood and sacrifice much more thoroughly than any other New Testament book.

Even the early church fathers were uncertain who wrote this letter. The mention of Timothy (Heb. 13:23) has led some to think that Paul or one of his associates wrote the letter. Apollos has been suggested because the style and content of Hebrews reflect a Jew versed in Greek learning and literary style (see Acts 18:24–28). Other suggestions include Barnabas, Luke, Silas, Aquila, or Priscilla as possible authors. But after considering all the evidence, many scholars agree that the authorship of this letter remains unknown.

Hebrews was certainly written during the last half of the 1st century. It is quoted at length in a letter written about A.D. 95 to the church at Corinth by Clement, a leader in the church at Rome. If not written during the lifetime of Paul, Hebrews was most likely written during the lifetime of Paul's younger associate, Timothy (13:23).

Almost all of Hebrews is exposition of Old Testament passages. The author uses Jewish methods of interpretation common in the synagogues of his day. He differs from Jewish interpreters, however, in that he sees Christ as the fulfillment of the Old Testament. The letter is a masterful description of the salvation obtained by Christ's priesthood and sacrifice interwoven with exhortation for Christians to persevere in the benefits of this salvation.

• Hebrews 1:1—13:25

*HebrewsGod's Supreme Revelation

1 :1 God, who at various times and in various ways spoke in time past to the fathers by the prophets, <sup>2</sup>has in these last days spoken to us by His Son, whom He has appointed heir of all things, through whom also He made the worlds; <sup>3</sup>who being the brightness of His glory and the express image of His person, and upholding all things by the word of His power, when He had by Himself<sup>a</sup> purged our<sup>b</sup> sins, sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, <sup>4</sup>having become so much better than the angels, as He has by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

The Son Exalted Above Angels

<sup>5</sup>For to which of the angels did He ever say:

*"You are My Son,
Today I have begotten You" ?<sup>a</sup>*

And again:

*"I will be to Him a Father,
And He shall be to Me a Son" ?<sup>b</sup>*

<sup>6</sup>But when He again brings the firstborn into the world, He says:

"Let all the angels of God worship Him." <sup>a</sup>

<sup>7</sup>And of the angels He says:

*"Who makes His angels spirits

<sup>8</sup>But to the Son He says:

*"Your throne, O God, is forever and ever;
A scepter of righteousness is the scepter of Your kingdom.*

<sup>9</sup> *You have loved righteousness and hated lawlessness;
Therefore God, Your God, has anointed You
With the oil of gladness more than Your companions." <sup>a</sup>*

<sup>10</sup>And:

*"You, LORD, in the beginning laid the foundation of the earth,
And the heavens are the work of Your hands.*

<sup>11</sup> *They will perish, but You remain;
And they will all grow old like a garment;*

<sup>12</sup> *Like a cloak You will fold them up,
And they will be changed.*

*But You are the same,
And Your years will not fail." <sup>a</sup>*

<sup>13</sup>But to which of the angels has He ever said:

"Sit at My right hand, Till I make Your enemies Your footstool" ?<sup>a</sup>

<sup>14</sup>Are they not all ministering spirits sent forth to minister for those who will inherit salvation?

Do Not Neglect Salvation

2 <sup>1</sup>Therefore we must give the more earnest heed to the things we have heard, lest we drift away. <sup>2</sup>For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just reward, <sup>3</sup>how shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation, which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed to us by those who heard Him, <sup>4</sup>God also bearing witness both with signs and wonders, with various miracles, and gifts of the Holy Spirit, according to His own will?

Religion & Worship

Angels apparently played some role when Moses received the law on Mount Sinai (Gal. 3:19). The Old Testament already described the presence of a heavenly army of angels at Sinai (Ps. 68:17 and probably Deut. 33:2, if “saints” refers to angels). Jewish tradition outside the Bible further developed the idea of “the word spoken through angels” (Heb. 2:2).

The Son Made Lower than Angels

<sup>5</sup>For He has not put the world to come, of which we speak, in subjection to angels. <sup>6</sup>But one testified in a certain place, saying:

“What is man that You are mindful of him,
Or the son of man that You take care of him?”
<sup>7</sup> You have made him a little lower than the angels;
You have crowned him with glory and honor,<sup>a</sup>
And set him over the works of Your hands.
<sup>8</sup> You have put all things in subjection under his feet.”<sup>a</sup>

For in that He put all in subjection under him, He left nothing that is not put under him. But now we do not yet see all things put under him. <sup>9</sup>But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, for the suffering of death crowned with glory and honor, that He, by the grace of God, might taste death for everyone.

Bringing Many Sons to Glory

<sup>10</sup>For it was fitting for Him, for whom are all things and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings. <sup>11</sup>For both He who sanctifies and those who are being sanctified are all of one, for which reason He is not ashamed to call them brethren, <sup>12</sup>saying:

“I will declare Your name to My brethren;
In the midst of the assembly I will sing praise to You.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>13</sup>And again:

“I will put My trust in Him.”<sup>a</sup>

And again:

“Here am I and the children whom God has given Me.”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>14</sup>Inasmuch then as the children have partaken of flesh and blood, He Himself likewise shared in the same, that through death He might destroy him who had the power of death, that is, the devil, <sup>15</sup>and release those who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. <sup>16</sup>For indeed He does not give aid to angels, but He does give aid to the seed of Abraham. <sup>17</sup>Therefore, in all things He had to be made like His brethren, that He might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. <sup>18</sup>For in that He Himself has suffered, being tempted, He is able to aid those who are tempted.

The Son Was Faithful

3 <sup>1</sup>Therefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, Christ Jesus, <sup>2</sup>who was faithful to Him who appointed Him, as Moses also was faithful in all His house. <sup>3</sup>For this One has been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as He who built the house has more honor than the house. <sup>4</sup>For every house is built by someone, but He who built all things is God. <sup>5</sup>And Moses indeed was faithful in all His house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which would be spoken afterward, <sup>6</sup>but Christ as a Son over His own house, whose house we are if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm to the end.<sup>a</sup>

Be Faithful

<sup>7</sup>Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says:

“Today, if you will hear His voice,
<sup>8</sup> Do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion,
In the day of trial in the wilderness,
<sup>9</sup> Where your fathers tested Me, tried Me,
And saw My works forty years.
<sup>10</sup> Therefore I was angry with that generation,
And said, ‘They always go astray in their heart,
And they have not known My ways.’
<sup>11</sup> So I swore in My wrath,
‘They shall not enter My rest.’”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>12</sup>Beware, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief in departing from the living God; <sup>13</sup>but exhort one another daily, while it is called “Today,” lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin. <sup>14</sup>For we have become partakers of Christ if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast to the end,<sup>15</sup>while it is said:

3:11 <sup>a</sup>Psalm 95:7–11

*“Today, if you will hear His voice,
Do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion.”<sup>a</sup>*

Failure of the Wilderness Wanderers

<sup>16</sup>For who, having heard, rebelled? Indeed, was it not all who came out of Egypt, led by Moses? <sup>17</sup>Now with whom was He angry forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose corpses fell in the wilderness? <sup>18</sup>And to whom did He swear that they would not enter His rest, but to those who did not obey? <sup>19</sup>So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

The Promise of Rest

4 <sup>1</sup>Therefore, since a promise remains of entering His rest, let us fear lest any of you seem to have come short of it. <sup>2</sup>For indeed the gospel was preached to us as well as to them; but the word which they heard did not profit them,<sup>a</sup> not being mixed with faith in those who heard it. <sup>3</sup>For we who have believed do enter that rest, as He has said:

*“So I swore in My wrath,
‘They shall not enter My rest.’”<sup>a</sup>*

although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. <sup>4</sup>For He has spoken in a certain place of the seventh day in this way: “And God rested on the seventh day from all His works”,<sup>a</sup> and again in this place: “They shall not enter My rest.”<sup>a</sup>

3:15 <sup>a</sup>Psalm 95:7, 8    4:2 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text read profit them, since they were not united by faith with those who heeded it.

<sup>6</sup>Since therefore it remains that some must enter it, and those to whom it was first preached did not enter because of disobedience, <sup>7</sup>again He designates a certain day, saying in David, “Today,” after such a long time, as it has been said:

Do not harden your hearts.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>8</sup>For if Joshua had given them rest, then He would not afterward have spoken of another day. <sup>9</sup>There remains therefore a rest for the people of God. <sup>10</sup>For he who has entered His rest has himself also ceased from his works as God did from His.

The Word Discovers Our Condition

<sup>11</sup>Let us therefore be diligent to enter that rest, lest anyone fall according to the same example of disobedience. <sup>12</sup>For the word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. <sup>13</sup>And there is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are naked and open to the eyes of Him to whom we must give account.

Our Compassionate High Priest

<sup>14</sup>Seeing then that we have a great High Priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession. <sup>15</sup>For we do not have a High Priest who cannot sympathize with our weaknesses, but was in all points tempted as we are, yet without sin. <sup>16</sup>Let us therefore come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need.

Qualifications for High Priesthood

5 <sup>1</sup>For every high priest taken from among men is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins. <sup>2</sup>He can have compassion on those who are ignorant and going astray, since he himself is also subject to weakness. <sup>3</sup>Because of this he is required as for the people, so also for himself, to offer sacrifices for sins. <sup>4</sup>And no man takes this honor to himself, but he who is called by God, just as Aaron was.

A Priest Forever

<sup>5</sup>So also Christ did not glorify Himself to become High Priest, but it was He who said to Him:

*“You are My Son,
Today I have begotten You.”<sup>a</sup>*

MELCHIZEDEK IN JEWISH TRADITION (HEB. 5:8–10)

The author of Hebrews uses the figure of Melchizedek to clarify the nature of the priesthood of Christ. Melchizedek, whose name means “king of righteousness” (Heb. 7:2), appears briefly in Genesis as the king of Salem (Gen. 14:18–20). Despite being mentioned only in Genesis and one psalm (Ps. 110:4), the mystery of Melchizedek’s figure inspired much interpretive activity in Judaism during the second temple period.

Such intrigue was not lost on serious interpreters of the Old Testament in antiquity. Melchizedek emerges as the central figure in a fragmentary document found at Qumran. This document, entitled “11QMelchizedek,” consists largely of interpretive comments on Old Testament passages, and presents Melchizedek as an important figure in God’s judgment upon the earth in the end times.

Another fragmentary text, called “Melchizedek,” was found at Nag Hammadi in Egypt. It seemingly contains much older traditions from a group of Jews who found the origins of their theology in the person of Seth, the son of Adam born after Cain killed Abel (Gen. 4:25). In this tradition Melchizedek, “priest of God Most High,” receives special revelations concerning Jesus from heavenly messengers. In a second group of revelations Melchizedek himself becomes Jesus, and is both crucified and raised as savior! Such ideas make Jesus the new appearance of Melchizedek.

The author of Hebrews reads the Melchizedek tradition in a restrained manner compared to the speculations current at that time. Ultimately, he is not so much interested in Melchizedek, as in Christ, who was the High Priest “according to the order of Melchizedek” (Heb. 5:8–10). Christ’s heavenly priesthood surpasses any earthly priesthood, even the priesthood of the king of Salem (Heb. 7:15–17).

According to the order of Melchizedek”;<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>7</sup>who, in the days of His flesh, when He had offered up prayers and supplications, with vehement cries and tears to Him who was able to save Him from death, and was heard because of His godly fear, <sup>8</sup>though He was a Son, yet He learned obedience by the things which He suffered. <sup>9</sup>And having been perfected, He became the author of eternal salvation to all who obey Him, <sup>10</sup>called by God as High Priest “according to the order of Melchizedek,” <sup>11</sup>of whom we have much to say, and hard to explain, since you have become dull of hearing.

Spiritual Immaturity

<sup>12</sup>For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the first principles of the oracles of God; and you have come to need milk and not solid food. <sup>13</sup>For everyone who partakes only of milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, for he is a babe. <sup>14</sup>But solid food belongs to those who are of full age, that is, those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

The Peril of Not Progressing

6 <sup>1</sup>Therefore, leaving the discussion of the elementary principles of Christ, let us go on to perfection, not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works and of faith toward God, <sup>2</sup>of the doctrine of baptisms, of laying on of hands, of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment. <sup>3</sup>And this we will<sup>a</sup> do if God permits.

<sup>4</sup>For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted the heavenly gift, and have become partakers of the Holy Spirit, <sup>5</sup>and have tasted the good word of God and the powers of the age to come, <sup>6</sup>if they fall away,<sup>a</sup> to renew them again to repentance, since they crucify again for themselves the Son of God, and put Him to an open shame.

<sup>7</sup>For the earth which drinks in the rain that often comes upon it, and bears herbs useful for those by whom it is cultivated, receives blessing from God; <sup>8</sup>but if it bears thorns and briars, it is rejected and near to being cursed, whose end is to be burned.

A Better Estimate

<sup>9</sup>But, beloved, we are confident of better things concerning you, yes, things that accompany salvation, though we speak in this manner. <sup>10</sup>For God is not unjust to forget your work and labor of<sup>a</sup> love which you have shown toward His name, in that you have ministered to the saints, and do minister. <sup>11</sup>And we desire that each one of you show the same diligence to the full assurance of hope until the end, <sup>12</sup>that you do not become sluggish, but imitate those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

God’s Infallible Purpose in Christ

<sup>13</sup>For when God made a promise to Abraham, because He could swear by no one greater, He swore by Himself, <sup>14</sup>saying, “Surely blessing I will bless you, and multiplying I will multiply you.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>15</sup>And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise. <sup>16</sup>For men indeed swear by the greater, and an oath for confirmation is for them an end of all dispute. <sup>17</sup>Thus God, determining to show more abundantly to the heirs of promise the immutability of His counsel, confirmed it by an oath,<sup>18</sup> that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we might<sup>a</sup> have strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope set before us.

<sup>19</sup>This hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which enters the Presence behind the veil,<sup>20</sup> where the forerunner has entered for us, even Jesus, having become High Priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek.

The King of Righteousness

7 <sup>1</sup>For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of the Most High God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him,<sup>2</sup> to whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all, first being translated “king of righteousness,” and then also king of Salem, meaning “king of peace,”<sup>3</sup> without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like the Son of God, remains a priest continually.

<sup>4</sup>Now consider how great this man was, to whom even the patriarch Abraham gave a tenth of the spoils.<sup>5</sup> And indeed those who are of the sons of Levi, who receive the priesthood, have a commandment to receive tithes from the people according to the law, that is, from their brethren, though they have come from the loins of Abraham;<sup>6</sup> but he whose genealogy is not derived from them received tithes from Abraham and blessed him who had the promises.<sup>7</sup> Now beyond all contradiction the lesser is blessed by the better.<sup>8</sup> Here mortal men receive tithes, but there he receives them, of whom it is witnessed that he lives.<sup>9</sup> Even Levi, who receives tithes, paid tithes through Abraham, so to speak,<sup>10</sup> for he was still in the loins of his father when Melchizedek met him.

Need for a New Priesthood

<sup>11</sup>Therefore, if perfection were through the Levitical priesthood (for under it the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should rise according to the order of Melchizedek, and not be called according to the order of Aaron?<sup>12</sup> For the priesthood being changed, of necessity there is also a change of the law.<sup>13</sup> For He of whom these things are spoken belongs to another tribe, from which no man has officiated at the altar.

if, in the likeness of Melchizedek, there arises another priest<sup>16</sup> who has come, not according to the law of a fleshly commandment, but according to the power of an endless life.<sup>17</sup> For He testifies:<sup>a</sup>

According to the order of Melchizedek.”<sup>b</sup>*

<sup>18</sup>For on the one hand there is an annulling of the former commandment because of its weakness and unprofitableness,<sup>19</sup> for the law made nothing perfect; on the other hand, there is the bringing in of a better hope, through which we draw near to God.

Greatness of the New Priest

<sup>20</sup>And inasmuch as He was not made priest without an oath<sup>21</sup> (for they have become priests without an oath, but He with an oath by Him who said to Him:

*“The LORD has sworn
And will not relent,
‘You are a priest forever<sup>a</sup>
According to the order of Melchizedek’ ”*),<sup>b</sup>

<sup>22</sup>by so much more Jesus has become a surety of a better covenant.

<sup>23</sup>Also there were many priests, because they were prevented by death from continuing.<sup>24</sup> But He, because He continues forever, has an unchangeable priesthood.<sup>25</sup> Therefore He is also able to save to the uttermost those who come to God through Him, since He always lives to make intercession for them.

<sup>26</sup>For such a High Priest was fitting for us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and has become higher than the heavens;<sup>27</sup> who does not need daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for His own sins and then for the people’s, for this He did once for all when He offered up Himself.<sup>28</sup> For the law appoints as high priests men who have weakness, but the word of the oath, which came after the law, appoints the Son who has been perfected forever.

Religion & Worship

Jewish priests offered sacrifices at only one location—the temple in Jerusalem (Heb. 7:27; 10:11). Every morning and every night a lamb was sacrificed, as required by the Law of Moses (Ex. 29:38–42). The body was divided without breaking the bones and then burned on the altar. On Sabbaths and holidays other sacrifices were scheduled, and individuals and families could bring sacrifices of their own.

THE FALL OF JERUSALEM

The New Priestly Service

8 Now this is the main point of the things we are saying: We have such a High Priest, who is seated at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens,<sup>2a</sup> a Minister of the sanctuary and of the true tabernacle which the Lord erected, and not man.

<sup>3</sup>For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices. Therefore it is necessary that this One also have something to offer. <sup>4</sup>For if He were on earth, He would not be a priest, since there are priests who offer the gifts according to the law; <sup>5</sup>who serve the copy and shadow of the heavenly things, as Moses was divinely instructed when he was about to make the tabernacle. For He said, “See that you make all things according to the pattern shown you on the mountain.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>6</sup>But now He has obtained a more excellent ministry, inasmuch as He is also Mediator of a better covenant, which was established on better promises.

A New Covenant

<sup>7</sup>For if that first covenant had been faultless, then no place would have been sought for a second. <sup>8</sup>Because finding fault with them, He says: “Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah—<sup>9</sup>not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they did not continue in My covenant, and I disregarded them, says the LORD. <sup>10</sup>For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD: I will put My laws in their mind and write them on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. <sup>11</sup>None of them shall teach his neighbor, and none his brother, saying, ‘Know the LORD,’ for all shall know Me, from the least of them to the greatest of them. <sup>12</sup>For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their lawless deeds<sup>a</sup> I will remember no more.”<sup>b</sup>

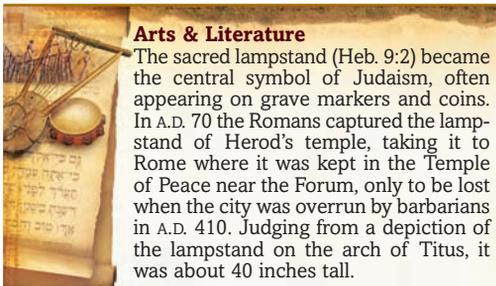

<sup>13</sup>In that He says, “A new covenant,” He has made the first obsolete. Now what is becoming obsolete and growing old is ready to vanish away.

The Earthly Sanctuary

Limitations of the Earthly Service

<sup>6</sup>Now when these things had been thus prepared, the priests always went into the first part of the tabernacle, performing the services. <sup>7</sup>But into the second part the high priest went alone once a year, not without blood, which he offered for himself and for the people’s sins committed in ignorance; <sup>8</sup>the Holy Spirit indicating this, that the way into the Holiest of All was not yet made manifest while the first tabernacle was still standing. <sup>9</sup>It was symbolic for the present time in

Arts & Literature

The sacred lampstand (Heb. 9:2) became the central symbol of Judaism, often appearing on grave markers and coins. In A.D. 70 the Romans captured the lampstand of Herod’s temple, taking it to Rome where it was kept in the Temple of Peace near the Forum, only to be lost when the city was overrun by barbarians in A.D. 410. Judging from a depiction of the lampstand on the arch of Titus, it was about 40 inches tall.

8:5 <sup>a</sup>Exodus 25:40    8:12 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits and their lawless deeds.    <sup>b</sup>Jeremiah 31:31–34 which both gifts and sacrifices are offered which cannot make him who performed the service perfect in regard to the conscience—<sup>10</sup>concerned only with foods and drinks, various washings, and fleshly ordinances imposed until the time of reformation.

The Heavenly Sanctuary

<sup>11</sup>But Christ came as High Priest of the good things to come,<sup>a</sup> with the greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hands, that is, not of this creation. <sup>12</sup>Not with the blood of goats and calves, but with His own blood He entered the Most Holy Place once for all, having obtained eternal redemption. <sup>13</sup>For if the blood of bulls and goats and the ashes of a heifer, sprinkling the unclean, sanctifies for the purifying of the flesh, <sup>14</sup>how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered Himself without spot to God, cleanse your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? <sup>15</sup>And for this reason He is the Mediator of the new covenant, by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions under the first covenant, that those who are called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance.

The Mediator's Death Necessary

<sup>16</sup>For where there is a testament, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. <sup>17</sup>For a testament is in force after men are dead, since it has no power at all while the testator lives. <sup>18</sup>Therefore not even the first covenant was dedicated without blood. <sup>19</sup>For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and goats, with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, <sup>20</sup>saying, “This is the blood of the covenant which God has commanded you.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>21</sup>Then likewise he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry. <sup>22</sup>And according to the law almost all things are purified with blood, and without shedding of blood there is no remission.

Greatness of Christ's Sacrifice

<sup>23</sup>Therefore it was necessary that the copies of the things in the heavens should be purified with these, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. <sup>24</sup>For Christ has not entered the holy places made with hands, which are copies of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us; <sup>25</sup>not that He should offer Himself often, as the high priest enters the Most Holy Place every year with blood of another—<sup>26</sup>He then would have had to suffer often since the foundation of the world; but now, once at the end of the ages, He has appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself. <sup>27</sup>And as it is appointed for men to die once, but after this the judgment,<sup>28</sup>so Christ was offered once to bear the sins of many. To those who eagerly wait for Him He will appear a second time, apart from sin, for salvation.

Animal Sacrifices Insufficient

10 <sup>1</sup>For the law, having a shadow of the good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with these same sacrifices, which they offer continually year by year, make those who approach perfect. <sup>2</sup>For then would they not have ceased to be offered? For the worshipers, once purified, would have had no more consciousness of sins. <sup>3</sup>But in those sacrifices there is a reminder of sins every year. <sup>4</sup>For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and goats could take away sins.

Christ's Death Fulfills God's Will

<sup>5</sup>Therefore, when He came into the world, He said:

“Sacrifice and offering You did not desire,
But a body You have prepared for Me.
<sup>6</sup> In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin
You had no pleasure.
<sup>7</sup> Then I said, ‘Behold, I have come—In the volume of the book it is written of Me—

HOLDING FAST THE CONFESSION (HEB. 10:23–25)

The writer of Hebrews addresses Christians faced with persecution from a Roman society that threatened the church's morale. To prevent the church from disintegrating from within, the writer encourages these Christians: "hold fast the confession of our hope" (Heb. 10:23–25). A series of letters between the Roman governor Pliny and the emperor Trajan offers the Roman perspective on the process whereby Christians were examined in times of persecution.

Pliny writes the emperor for advice on how to treat Christians. It seems that local merchants were upset because Christians refused to participate in the civic religious rites, thus cutting down the meat sales at festivals. Pliny states, "I have never been present at an examination of Christians. Consequently, I do not know the nature or the extent of the punishments usually meted out to them, nor the grounds for starting an investigation and how far it should be pressed" (Epistulae 96).

Trajan's reply provides some insight into the nature of a Christian's examination. The emperor made the practice of Christianity illegal, responding that when Christians "are brought before you and the charge against them is proved, they must be punished, but in the case of anyone who denies that he is a Christian, and makes it clear that he is not by offering prayers to our gods, he is to be pardoned" (Epistulae 10.97).

Apparently, a person accused of being a Christian was brought into court before the governor. Asked if he or she was a Christian, the accused could offer a quick public prayer to the Roman gods, quite possibly to the emperor himself. Refusal to do so meant execution. For Christians to "hold fast the confession," publicly confessing Jesus Christ as Lord, was tantamount to signing their own death warrant.

<sup>8</sup>Previously saying, "Sacrifice and offering, burnt offerings, and offerings for sin You did not desire, nor had pleasure in them" (which are offered according to the law),<sup>9</sup> then He said, "Behold, I have come to do Your will, O God."<sup>a</sup> He takes away the first that He may establish the second.<sup>10</sup> By that will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

Christ's Death Perfects the Sanctified

<sup>15</sup>But the Holy Spirit also witnesses to us; for after He had said before,

<sup>16</sup>"This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, says the LORD: I will put My laws into their hearts, and in their minds I will write them,"<sup>a</sup> <sup>17</sup>then He adds, "Their sins and their lawless deeds I will remember no more."<sup>a</sup>

<sup>18</sup>Now where there is remission of these, there is no longer an offering for sin.

Hold Fast Your Confession

<sup>24</sup>And let us consider one another in order to stir up love and good works,<sup>25</sup> not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as is the manner of some, but exhorting one another, and so much the more as you see the Day approaching.

The Just Live by Faith

<sup>26</sup>For if we sin willfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins,<sup>27</sup> but a certain fearful expectation of judgment, and fiery indignation which will devour the adversaries.<sup>28</sup> Anyone who has rejected Moses' law dies without mercy on the testimony of two or three witnesses.<sup>29</sup> Of how much worse punishment, do you suppose, will he be thought worthy who has trampled the Son of God underfoot, counted the blood of the covenant by which he was sanctified a common thing, and insulted the Spirit of grace?<sup>30</sup> For we know Him who said, "Vengeance is Mine, I will repay,"<sup>a</sup> says the Lord.<sup>b</sup> And again, "The LORD will judge His people."<sup>c</sup> <sup>31</sup>It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

<sup>32</sup>But recall the former days in which, after you were illuminated, you endured a great struggle with sufferings:<sup>33</sup> partly while you were made a spectacle both by reproaches and tribulations, and partly while you became companions of those who were so treated;<sup>34</sup> for you had compassion on me<sup>d</sup> in my chains, and joyfully accepted the plundering of your goods, knowing that you have a better and an enduring possession for yourselves in heaven.<sup>b</sup> <sup>35</sup>Therefore do not cast away your confidence, which has great reward.

<sup>36</sup>For you have need of endurance, so that after you have done the will of God, you may receive the promise:

- <sup>37</sup> “For yet a little while,
And He <sup>a</sup> who is coming will come and will not tarry.
<sup>38</sup> Now the <sup>a</sup> just shall live by faith;
But if anyone draws back,
My soul has no pleasure in him.” <sup>b</sup>

By Faith We Understand

11 <sup>1</sup>Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. <sup>2</sup>For by it the elders obtained a good testimony.

<sup>3</sup>By faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that the things which are seen were not made of things which are visible.

Faith at the Dawn of History

<sup>4</sup>By faith Abel offered to God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts; and through it he being dead still speaks.

<sup>5</sup>By faith Enoch was taken away so that he did not see death, “and was not found, because God had taken him”;<sup>a</sup> for before he was taken he had this testimony, that he pleased God. <sup>6</sup>But without faith it is impossible to please Him, for he who comes to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of those who diligently seek Him.

Faithful Abraham

<sup>8</sup>By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to the place which he would receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. <sup>9</sup>By faith he dwelt in the land of promise as in a foreign country, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise; <sup>10</sup>for he waited for the city which has foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

<sup>11</sup>By faith Sarah herself also received strength to conceive seed, and she bore a child<sup>a</sup> when she was past the age, because she judged Him faithful who had promised. <sup>12</sup>Therefore from one man, and him as good as dead, were born as many as the stars of the sky in multitude—innumerable as the sand which is by the seashore.

The Heavenly Hope

The Faith of the Patriarchs

<sup>17</sup>By faith Abraham, when he was tested, offered up Isaac, and he who had received the promises offered up his only begotten son, <sup>18</sup>of

THE TORTURED “OTHERS” (HEB. 11:35–38)

The author of Hebrews provides a long list of characters whose faithfulness to God was exemplary for the author's audience (Heb. 11:4–35). Yet also listed vaguely are unnamed “others” who were tortured, refusing to deny their faith (11:35, 36).

The Greek word translated “tortured” (11:35) refers to a means of execution in which a prisoner was stretched out on a rack or a wheel and beaten to death. Such was the case with a certain Eleazar, a Jewish martyr of the Maccabean period. This priest refused to violate Jewish law by eating pork, and, “welcoming death with honor rather than life with pollution, went up to the rack on his own accord, spitting out the flesh” (2 Macc. 6:19).

The types of persecutions that some faithful had endured are frightening: scourging, chains, imprisonment, stoning, being sawn in two, wandering in deserts, mountains, and caves (Heb. 11:36–38). An early Christian story called the Acts of Thekla details such a situation. Through the miraculous intervention of God, Thekla, a female convert under Paul's teaching, survived two civil proceedings that threatened to take her life. In the end, though, there was no place for her as an unwed Christian woman in the city. She thus “dwelt in a cave seventy-two years, living upon herbs and water. And she enlightened many by the word of God.”

These various tortures may also represent possible situations that the recipients of the letter to the Hebrews themselves had to face. The author of Hebrews himself was put into chains (Heb. 10:34), and the community to which he wrote had already endured persecution “with sufferings” (10:32), even having their goods confiscated (10:34). If they remained faithful, they would be spiritual heirs of the tortured “others.”

whom it was said, “In Isaac your seed shall be called,”<sup>a</sup> <sup>19</sup>concluding that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead, from which he also received him in a figurative sense.

<sup>22</sup>By faith Joseph, when he was dying, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel, and gave instructions concerning his bones.

The Faith of Moses

<sup>23</sup>By faith Moses, when he was born, was hidden three months by his parents, because they saw he was a beautiful child; and they were not afraid of the king's command.

<sup>27</sup>By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he endured as seeing Him who is invisible. <sup>28</sup>By faith he kept the Passover and the sprinkling of blood, lest he who destroyed the firstborn should touch them.

Beliefs & Ideas

The Hebrews thought it very important how and where a person was buried. Abraham's negotiations for a burial plot are carefully recorded (Gen. 23:3–9). Joseph's dying words include instructions about his burial (Gen. 50:25), as the New Testament itself notices (Heb. 11:22). It was a calamity for a person's body to be left in the open or in some other way disgraced.

<sup>29</sup>By faith they passed through the Red Sea as by dry land, whereas the Egyptians, attempting to do so, were drowned.

By Faith They Overcame

<sup>30</sup>By faith the walls of Jericho fell down after they were encircled for seven days. <sup>31</sup>By faith the harlot Rahab did not perish with those who did not believe, when she had received the spies with peace.

<sup>32</sup>And what more shall I say? For the time would fail me to tell of Gideon and Barak and Samson and Jephthah, also of David and Samuel and the prophets: <sup>33</sup>who through faith subdued kingdoms, worked righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, <sup>34</sup>quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, became valiant in battle, turned to flight the armies of the aliens. <sup>35</sup>Women received their dead raised to life again.

Others were tortured, not accepting deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection. <sup>36</sup>Still others had trial of mockings and scourgings, yes, and of chains and imprisonment. <sup>37</sup>They were stoned, they were sawn in two, were tempted,<sup>a</sup> were slain with the sword. They wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented—<sup>38</sup>of whom the world was not worthy. They wandered in deserts and mountains, in dens and caves of the earth.

The Race of Faith

12 <sup>1</sup>Therefore we also, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which so easily ensnares us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, <sup>2</sup>looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

The Discipline of God

<sup>3</sup>For consider Him who endured such hostility from sinners against Himself, lest you become weary and discouraged in your souls. <sup>4</sup>You have not yet resisted to bloodshed, striving against sin. <sup>5</sup>And you have forgotten the exhortation which speaks to you as to sons:

*“My son, do not despise the chastening of the LORD,
Nor be discouraged when you are rebuked by Him;*

<sup>6</sup> *For whom the LORD loves He chastens,
And scourges every son whom He receives.”<sup>a</sup>*

<sup>7</sup>If <sup>a</sup> you endure chastening, God deals with you as with sons; for what son is there whom a father does not chasten? <sup>8</sup>But if you are without chastening, of which all have become partakers, then you are illegitimate and not sons. <sup>9</sup>Furthermore, we have had human fathers who corrected us, and we paid them respect. Shall we not much more readily be in subjection to the Father of spirits and live? <sup>10</sup>For they indeed for a few days chastened us as seemed best to them, but He for our profit, that we may be partakers of His holiness. <sup>11</sup>Now no chastening seems to be joyful for the present, but painful; nevertheless, afterward it yields the peaceable fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it.

Renew Your Spiritual Vitality

<sup>12</sup>Therefore strengthen the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees, <sup>13</sup>and make straight paths for your feet, so that what is lame may not be dislocated, but rather be healed.

<sup>14</sup>Pursue peace with all people, and holiness, without which no one will see the Lord: <sup>15</sup>looking carefully lest anyone fall short of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up cause trouble, and by this many become defiled; <sup>16</sup>lest there be any fornicator or profane person like Esau, who for one morsel of food sold his birthright. <sup>17</sup>For you know that afterward, when he wanted to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no place for repentance, though he sought it diligently with tears.

The Glorious Company

<sup>18</sup>For you have not come to the mountain that<sup>a</sup> may be touched and that burned with fire, and to blackness and darkness<sup>b</sup> and tempest, <sup>19</sup>and the sound of a trumpet and the voice of words, so that those who heard it begged that the word should not be spoken to them anymore. <sup>20</sup>(For they could not endure what was commanded: “And if so much as a beast touches the mountain, it shall be stoned<sup>a</sup> or shot with an arrow.”<sup>b</sup>)

<sup>21</sup>And so terrifying was the sight that Moses said, “I am exceedingly afraid and trembling.”<sup>a</sup>)

<sup>22</sup>But you have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, to an innumerable company of angels, <sup>23</sup>to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are registered in heaven, to God the Judge of all, to the spirits of just men made perfect, <sup>24</sup>to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaks better things than that of Abel.

Hear the Heavenly Voice

<sup>25</sup>See that you do not refuse Him who speaks. For if they did not escape who refused Him who spoke on earth, much more shall we not escape if we turn away from Him who speaks from heaven, <sup>26</sup>whose voice then shook the earth; but now He has promised, saying, “Yet once more I shake<sup>a</sup> not only the earth, but also heaven.”<sup>b</sup> <sup>27</sup>Now this, “Yet once more,” indicates the removal of those things that are being shaken, as of things that are made, that the things which cannot be shaken may remain.

<sup>28</sup>Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us have grace, by which we may<sup>a</sup> serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear. <sup>29</sup>For our God is a consuming fire.

Concluding Moral Directions

13 <sup>1</sup>Let brotherly love continue. <sup>2</sup>Do not forget to entertain strangers, for by so doing some have unwittingly entertained angels. <sup>3</sup>Remember the prisoners as if chained with them—those who are mistreated—since you yourselves are in the body also.

<sup>5</sup>Let your conduct be without covetousness; be content with such things as you have. For He Himself has said, "I will never leave you nor forsake you."<sup>a</sup> <sup>6</sup>So we may boldly say:

"The LORD is my helper;
I will not fear.
What can man do to me?"<sup>a</sup>

Politics & Government

Imprisonment involved physical suffering, but in addition it exposed the prisoner to extreme shame. The legal system incorporated disgrace and the destruction of personal dignity (Mark 14:65) into the punishments that were imposed. As a result, prisoners were usually deserted by all but the truest friends (2 Tim. 4:10, 11). Yet Christians were advised to sympathize with those who so suffered (Heb. 13:3).

Concluding Religious Directions

<sup>7</sup>Remember those who rule over you, who have spoken the word of God to you, whose faith follow, considering the outcome of their conduct. <sup>8</sup>Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever. <sup>9</sup>Do not be carried about<sup>a</sup> with various and strange doctrines. For it is good that the heart be established by grace, not with foods which have not profited those who have been occupied with them.

<sup>10</sup>We have an altar from which those who serve the tabernacle have no right to eat. <sup>11</sup>For the bodies of those animals, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned outside the camp. <sup>12</sup>Therefore Jesus also, that He might sanctify the people with His own blood, suffered outside the gate. <sup>13</sup>Therefore let us go forth to Him, outside the camp, bearing His reproach. <sup>14</sup>For here we have no continuing city, but we seek the one to come. <sup>15</sup>Therefore by Him let us continually offer the sacrifice of praise to God, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to His name. <sup>16</sup>But do not forget to do good and to share, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

<sup>17</sup>Obey those who rule over you, and be submissive, for they watch out for your souls, as those who must give account. Let them do so with joy and not with grief, for that would be unprofitable for you.

Prayer Requested

<sup>18</sup>Pray for us; for we are confident that we have a good conscience, in all things desiring to live honorably. <sup>19</sup>But I especially urge you to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

Benediction, Final Exhortation, Farewell

<sup>20</sup>Now may the God of peace who brought up our Lord Jesus from the dead, that great

Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, <sup>21</sup>make you complete in every good work to do His will, working in you<sup>a</sup> what is well pleasing in His sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>22</sup>And I appeal to you, brethren, bear with the word of exhortation, for I have written to you in few words. <sup>23</sup>Know that our brother Timothy has been set free, with whom I shall see you if he comes shortly.

The First Letter of John

The writer of 1 John does not mention his own name or his position in the church, as does the author of 2 and 3 John who identifies himself as "the Elder" (2 John 1:1; 3 John 1:1). Early church tradition held that 1 John, like the Gospel of John, was written by the apostle John, son of Zebedee. Irenaeus, a 2nd-century church father, quoted John's disciple, Polycarp, to confirm John's authorship of this letter.

There have been debates about the authorship of the Johannine letters going back to the 2nd century. One view is that John the apostle wrote all the New Testament books that bear his name. Another view is that the Gospel and 1 John were written by the same author (who may or may not have been John the apostle), while 2 and 3 John were written by another "Elder" of the churches around Ephesus. Such was the view already of Jerome and possibly also Origen. Finally, some believe all three letters (1, 2, and 3 John) to be by the same author, but not the author who wrote the Gospel.

Many scholars suppose that the Johannine letters were written in the general sequence indicated by their arrangement in the New Testament. Thus, after the Gospel of John, 1 John was the first letter written and was followed later by the roughly contemporaneous letters 2 and 3 John. Those who accept authorship by John, the son of Zebedee, for the Gospel, letters, and Revelation (see "The Revelation to John" at Rev. 1:1) place the letters before his exile to Patmos, where he wrote the Book of the Revelation. John lived until about A.D. 100, and the letter of 1 John is often dated between A.D. 85 and 95.

This letter was probably sent to a group of Christians living in Asia Minor who were troubled by false teachers. Although these teachers had left the church, they were trying to persuade Christians to follow their false teaching. John writes to show that no true knowledge of God is possible without commitment to the divine-human Son of God (1 John 5:13). Fellowship with God will be evidenced by faith in Christ, obedience to His commands, and love for others.

1 John

What Was Heard, Seen, and Touched

1:1 That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, concerning the Word of life—<sup>2</sup>the life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare to you that eternal life which was with the Father and was manifested to us—<sup>3</sup>that which we have seen and heard we declare to you, that you also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ.<sup>4</sup> And these things we write to you that your<sup>a</sup> joy may be full.

Fellowship with Him and One Another

<sup>5</sup>This is the message which we have heard from Him and declare to you, that God is light and in Him is no darkness at all.<sup>6</sup> If we say that we have fellowship with Him, and walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth.<sup>7</sup> But if we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanses us from all sin.

<sup>8</sup>If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.<sup>9</sup> If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.<sup>10</sup> If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar, and His word is not in us.

2 My little children, these things I write to you, so that you may not sin. And if anyone sins, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous.<sup>2</sup> And He Himself is the propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the whole world.

The Test of Knowing Him

<sup>3</sup>Now by this we know that we know Him, if we keep His commandments.<sup>4</sup> He who says, “I know Him,” and does not keep His commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.<sup>5</sup> But whoever keeps His word, truly the love of God is perfected in him. By this we know that we are in Him.<sup>6</sup> He who says he abides in Him ought himself also to walk just as He walked.

<sup>8</sup>Again, a new commandment I write to you, which thing is true in Him and in you, because the darkness is passing away, and the true light is already shining.

<sup>9</sup>He who says he is in the light, and hates his brother, is in darkness until now.<sup>10</sup> He who loves his brother abides in the light, and there is no cause for stumbling in him.<sup>11</sup> But he who hates his brother is in darkness and walks in darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

Their Spiritual State

<sup>12</sup> I write to you, little children, Because your sins are forgiven you for His name's sake.

<sup>13</sup> I write to you, fathers,
Because you have known Him who is
from the beginning.

I write to you, young men,
Because you have overcome the wicked one.

I write to you, little children,
Because you have known the Father.

<sup>14</sup> I have written to you, fathers,
Because you have known Him who is
from the beginning.

I have written to you, young men,
Because you are strong, and the word of God abides in you,

And you have overcome the wicked one.

Do Not Love the World

<sup>15</sup>Do not love the world or the things in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him.<sup>16</sup> For all that is in the world—the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life—is not of the Father but is of the world.<sup>17</sup> And the world is passing away, and the lust of it; but he who does the will of God abides forever.

Deceptions of the Last Hour

<sup>18</sup>Little children, it is the last hour; and as you have heard that the<sup>a</sup> Antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have come, by which we know that it is the last hour.<sup>19</sup> They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would have continued with us; but they went out that they might be made manifest, that none of them were of us.

<sup>20</sup>But you have an anointing from the Holy One, and you know all things.<sup>a</sup> <sup>21</sup>I have not written to you because you do not know the truth, but because you know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

<sup>22</sup>Who is a liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist who denies the Father and the Son. <sup>23</sup>Whoever denies the Son does not have the Father either; he who acknowledges the Son has the Father also.

Let Truth Abide in You

<sup>24</sup>Therefore let that abide in you which you heard from the beginning. If what you heard from the beginning abides in you, you also will abide in the Son and in the Father. <sup>25</sup>And this is the promise that He has promised us—eternal life.

<sup>26</sup>These things I have written to you concerning those who try to deceive you. <sup>27</sup>But the anointing which you have received from Him abides in you, and you do not need that anyone teach you; but as the same anointing teaches you concerning all things, and is true, and is not a lie, and just as it has taught you, you will<sup>a</sup> abide in Him.

The Children of God

<sup>28</sup>And now, little children, abide in Him, that when<sup>a</sup> He appears, we may have confidence and not be ashamed before Him at His coming. <sup>29</sup>If you know that He is righteous, you know that everyone who practices righteousness is born of Him. 3 <sup>1</sup>Behold what manner of love the Father has bestowed on us, that we should be called children of God!<sup>a</sup> Therefore the world does not know us,<sup>b</sup> because it did not know Him. <sup>2</sup>Beloved, now we are children of God; and it has not yet been revealed what we shall be, but we know that when He is revealed, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is. <sup>3</sup>And everyone who has this hope in Him purifies himself, just as He is pure.

Sin and the Child of God

<sup>4</sup>Whoever commits sin also commits lawlessness, and sin is lawlessness. <sup>5</sup>And you know that He was manifested to take away our sins, and in Him there is no sin. <sup>6</sup>Whoever abides in Him does not sin. Whoever sins has neither seen Him nor known Him.

<sup>7</sup>Little children, let no one deceive you. He who practices righteousness is righteous, just as He is righteous. <sup>8</sup>He who sins is of the devil, for the devil has sinned from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil. <sup>9</sup>Whoever has been born of God does not sin, for His seed remains in him; and he cannot sin, because he has been born of God.

The Imperative of Love

<sup>10</sup>In this the children of God and the children of the devil are manifest: Whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is he who does not love his brother. <sup>11</sup>For this is the message that you heard from the beginning, that we should love one another, <sup>12</sup>not as Cain who was of the wicked one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his works were evil and his brother's righteous.

<sup>13</sup>Do not marvel, my brethren, if the world hates you. <sup>14</sup>We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. He who does not love his brother<sup>a</sup> abides in death. <sup>15</sup>Whoever hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life abiding in him.

The Outworking of Love

<sup>16</sup>By this we know love, because He laid down His life for us. And we also ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. <sup>17</sup>But whoever has this world's goods, and sees his brother in need, and shuts up his heart from him, how does the love of God abide in him?

<sup>18</sup>My little children, let us not love in word or in tongue, but in deed and in truth. <sup>19</sup>And by this we know<sup>a</sup> that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before Him. <sup>20</sup>For if our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and knows all things. <sup>21</sup>Beloved, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence toward God. <sup>22</sup>And whatever we ask we receive from Him, because we keep His commandments and do those things that are pleasing in His sight. <sup>23</sup>And this is His commandment: that we should believe on the name of His Son Jesus Christ and love one another, as He gave us<sup>a</sup> commandment.

The Spirit of Truth and the Spirit of Error

<sup>24</sup>Now he who keeps His commandments abides in Him, and He in him. And by this we know that He abides in us, by the Spirit whom He has given us.

4 <sup>1</sup>Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits, whether they are of God; because many false prophets have gone out into the world. <sup>2</sup>By this you know the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is of God, <sup>3</sup>and every spirit that does not confess that<sup>a</sup> Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is not of God. And this is the spirit of the Antichrist, which you have heard was coming, and is now already in the world.

<sup>4</sup>You are of God, little children, and have overcome them, because He who is in you is greater than he who is in the world. <sup>5</sup>They are of the world. Therefore they speak as of the world, and the world hears them. <sup>6</sup>We are of God. He who knows God hears us; he who is not of God does not hear us. By this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error.

Beliefs & Ideas

From the earliest days the Christian church was plagued by proponents of false teaching. The New Testament does not describe any systems of false doctrine, but false teachers arose from within the congregations and appeared as visitors (Acts 20:29). John's advice was that the truth has one origin, God. Though having many disguises, the false teachers were consistent in their denial of Christ (1 John 4:2, 3).

Knowing God Through Love

<sup>7</sup>Beloved, let us love one another, for love is of God; and everyone who loves is born of God and knows God. <sup>8</sup>He who does not love does not know God, for God is love. <sup>9</sup>In this the love of God was manifested toward us, that God has sent His only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through Him. <sup>10</sup>In this is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins. <sup>11</sup>Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

Seeing God Through Love

<sup>12</sup>No one has seen God at any time. If we love one another, God abides in us, and His love has been perfected in us. <sup>13</sup>By this we know that we abide in Him, and He in us, because He has given us of His Spirit. <sup>14</sup>And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent the Son as Savior of the world. <sup>15</sup>Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God abides in him, and he in God. <sup>16</sup>And we have known and believed the love that God has for us. God is love, and he who abides in love abides in God, and God in him.

The Consummation of Love

<sup>17</sup>Love has been perfected among us in this: that we may have boldness in the day of judgment; because as He is, so are we in this world. <sup>18</sup>There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear, because fear involves torment. But he who fears has not been made perfect in love. <sup>19</sup>We love Him<sup>a</sup> because He first loved us.

Obedience by Faith

<sup>20</sup>If someone says, "I love God," and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen, how can<sup>a</sup> he love God whom he has not seen? <sup>21</sup>And this commandment we have from Him: that he who loves God must love his brother also.

5 <sup>1</sup>Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ is born of God, and everyone who loves Him who begot also loves him who is begotten of Him. <sup>2</sup>By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep His commandments. <sup>3</sup>For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments. And His commandments are not burdensome. <sup>4</sup>For whatever is born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world—our<sup>a</sup> faith. <sup>5</sup>Who is he who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?

The Certainty of God's Witness

<sup>6</sup>This is He who came by water and blood—Jesus Christ; not only by water, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit who bears witness, because the Spirit is truth. <sup>7</sup>For there are three that bear witness in heaven: the Father, the Word, and the Holy Spirit; and these three are one. <sup>8</sup>And there are three that bear witness on earth:<sup>a</sup> the Spirit, the water, and the blood; and these three agree as one.

<sup>9</sup>If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater; for this is the witness of God which<sup>a</sup> He has testified of His Son. <sup>10</sup>He who believes in the Son of God has the witness in himself; he who does not believe God has made Him a liar, because he has not believed the testimony that God has given of His Son. <sup>11</sup>And this is the testimony: that God has given us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. <sup>12</sup>He who has the Son has life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have life. <sup>13</sup>These things I have written to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, that you may know that you have eternal life,<sup>a</sup> and that you may continue to believe in the name of the Son of God.

4:3 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits that and Christ has come in the flesh.

4:19 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits Him. 4:20 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text reads he cannot.

5:4 <sup>a</sup>M-Text reads your. 5:8 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text omit the words from in heaven (verse 7) through on earth (verse 8). Only four or five very late manuscripts contain these words in Greek.

5:9 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text reads God, that. 5:13 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text omits the rest of this verse.

Confidence and Compassion in Prayer

<sup>14</sup>Now this is the confidence that we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us. <sup>15</sup>And if we know that He hears us, whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we have asked of Him.

<sup>16</sup>If anyone sees his brother sinning a sin which does not lead to death, he will ask, and He will give him life for those who commit sin not leading to death. There is sin leading to death. I do not say that he should pray about that. <sup>17</sup>All unrighteousness is sin, and there is sin not leading to death.

Knowing the True—Rejecting the False

<sup>18</sup>We know that whoever is born of God does not sin; but he who has been born of God keeps himself,<sup>a</sup> and the wicked one does not touch him.

<sup>19</sup>We know that we are of God, and the whole world lies under the sway of the wicked one.

<sup>20</sup>And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us an understanding, that we may know Him who is true; and we are in Him who is true, in His Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God and eternal life.

The Second Letter of John

According to early church tradition, the letter of 2 John was written by the apostle John, the same person who wrote 1 John. Yet the author does not refer to himself as an apostle, but rather as “the Elder” (2 John 1:1). “Elder” was a term of respect used by both Jews and Christians for venerated religious teachers, and could have been used of John later in his life (see 1 Pet. 5:1). Some scholars suppose that the elder John who wrote this letter may have been a disciple of the apostle John (see “The First Letter of John” at 1 John 1:1).

The letter of 2 John was probably written in the final decade of the 1st century. It has the form and size of a normal personal letter of the 1st century. The address—“To the elect lady and her children” (2 John 1:1)—may well have been a figurative way of referring to a local church and its members, probably in Asia Minor.

The false teachers threatening this church held the same error as those confronted in 1 John. This letter is an earnest plea to continue to love one another and so obey Christ’s commandment. The other side of the admonition is to reject the subtle deceivers who deny that Jesus Christ truly became a human being.

Greeting the Elect Lady

1:1 The Elder,

To the elect lady and her children, whom I love in truth, and not only I, but also all those who have known the truth, <sup>2</sup>because of the truth which abides in us and will be with us forever:

<sup>3</sup>Grace, mercy, and peace will be with you<sup>a</sup> from God the Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

Walk in Christ’s Commandments

<sup>4</sup>I rejoiced greatly that I have found some of your children walking in truth, as we received commandment from the Father. <sup>5</sup>And now I plead with you, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment to you, but that which we have had from the beginning: that we love one another. <sup>6</sup>This is love, that we walk according to His commandments. This is the commandment, that as you have heard from the beginning, you should walk in it.

Beware of Antichrist Deceivers

<sup>7</sup>For many deceivers have gone out into the world who do not confess Jesus Christ as coming in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist. <sup>8</sup>Look to yourselves, that we<sup>a</sup> do not lose those things we worked for, but that we<sup>b</sup> may receive a full reward.

<sup>9</sup>Whoever transgresses<sup>a</sup> and does not abide in the doctrine of Christ does not have God. He who abides in the doctrine of Christ has both the Father and the Son. <sup>10</sup>If anyone comes to you and does not bring this doctrine, do not receive him into your house nor greet him; <sup>11</sup>for he who greets him shares in his evil deeds.

John’s Farewell Greeting

<sup>12</sup>Having many things to write to you, I did not wish to do so with paper and ink; but I hope

Trade & Economics

The paper (2 John 1:12) of the 1st century was made of papyrus, a tall reed found abundantly in Egypt, which still grows further south along the Nile. Making this paper was an important industry, and the Egyptians exported it all over the Mediterranean world. Tens of thousands of original papyrus documents have survived, including numerous personal letters (though none of the New Testament).

The Third Letter of John

The letter of 3 John was probably written by the author of 1 and 2 John sometime in the last decade of the first century (see “The First Letter of John” at 1 John 1:1). The subjects discussed are less doctrinal and more administrative than in 1 and 2 John, applying Christian principles to church life. The letter addresses an individual named Gaius, who probably attended a church in a city of Asia Minor, and reflects a time when Christian evangelists traveled from town to town preaching the gospel. These missionaries depended on the hospitality of local Christians.

It is apparent that Diotrefes had gained control of the church, and in his arrogance had rejected the leadership of “the Elder” and his representatives. Gaius is commended for continuing to walk in Christian truth, showing generosity to local church members, and aiding traveling evangelists. Diotrefes is condemned for his prideful rejection of the apostle, domination of the local church, and refusal to give hospitality. Finally, Demetrius, a fellow Christian and perhaps the bearer of this letter, is recommended to the confidence of the church.

• 3 John 1:1–14

Greeting to Gaius

1 :1 The Elder,

To the beloved Gaius, whom I love in truth:

<sup>2</sup>Beloved, I pray that you may prosper in all things and be in health, just as your soul prospers. <sup>3</sup>For I rejoiced greatly when brethren came and testified of the truth that is in you, just as you walk in the truth. <sup>4</sup>I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.<sup>a</sup>

Gaius Commended for Generosity

nothing from the Gentiles. <sup>8</sup>We therefore ought to receive<sup>o</sup> such, that we may become fellow workers for the truth.

Diotrefes and Demetrius

<sup>9</sup>I wrote to the church, but Diotrefes, who loves to have the preeminence among them, does not receive us. <sup>10</sup>Therefore, if I come, I will call to mind his deeds which he does, prating against us with malicious words. And not content with that, he himself does not receive the brethren, and forbids those who wish to, putting them out of the church.

<sup>11</sup>Beloved, do not imitate what is evil, but what is good. He who does good is of God, but<sup>a</sup> he who does evil has not seen God.

<sup>12</sup>Demetrius has a good testimony from all, and from the truth itself. And we also bear witness, and you know that our testimony is true.

Culture & Society

It was customary for some teachers to travel about, being supported by their students in the towns they visited. Christian teachers as well as pagan philosophers did this. The system was open to abuse, because travelers could easily conceal their background. The New Testament advises the aiding of traveling evangelists (3 John 1:6–8), while warning of people who use religion for private ends (2 John 1:10).

Farewell Greeting

<sup>13</sup>I had many things to write, but I do not wish to write to you with pen and ink; <sup>14</sup>but I hope to see you shortly, and we shall speak face to face.

Peace to you. Our friends greet you. Greet the friends by name.

APOCALYPTIC WRITINGS AND THE END TIME

Several of the later prophets, especially Ezekiel, Daniel, and Zechariah, share certain literary characteristics which are also found in the Olivet Discourse (Mark 13) and the Book of Revelation. Some of these characteristics are the use of fantastic imagery, vivid colors, and numbers with symbolic significance. In the view of some interpreters, these writings also seem to give more attention to explaining the upheavals which will attend the end of time than to contemporary events. Because they explain these otherwise mysterious events, the writings are often called “apocalyptic” from the Greek word apokalypō, meaning “to disclose, uncover.”

There is also a body of nonbiblical Jewish literature which falls into the category known as apocalyptic. These writings share several common themes: (1) a pessimism over the present; (2) a belief that God will miraculously intervene at the end of time to save His own; (3) the belief that God has secretly disclosed to a chosen few the secrets of the end time; (4) the conviction that these secrets are hidden from the common people in special visions which include secret numbers, strange images, and key phrases. The biblical writings classified as apocalyptic share in the literary features of this noncanonical apocalyptic literature.

Throughout history apocalyptic literature has been most popular when current conditions have turned chaotic. At such times there has been a tendency to find remarkable similarities between one’s own situation and the biblical prophecies. This tendency should be resisted. Biblical prophecy was not given in order that we might create a timetable for future events. Rather its authors intended to stimulate obedience to and confidence in God, who remained firmly in control of both contemporary events and the future.

Biblical prophecy was not given in order that we might create a timetable for future events.

The Revelation to John

The tradition that John the apostle wrote Revelation was widely held during the 2nd century. While the author often names himself as “John,” the term “apostle” is never added, although he appears to be a man of stature in the churches (Rev. 1:1, 4, 9). He never claims to have been an eyewitness of Jesus.

There are significant differences between the Greek style of the Revelation and that of the Gospel and letters of John. In the 3rd century these variations of the original language prompted scholars to question the apostle John’s authorship of the Revelation. A debate still continues over whether the John who wrote this book is to be identified with John the apostle, John the Elder (see “The First Letter of John” at 1 John 1:1), or an otherwise unknown John.

Dating the composition of Revelation is complicated, but Nero (A.D. 54–68) and Domitian (A.D. 81–96) are the Roman emperors whose reigns correspond most closely with the persecutions reflected in the book. The intensity of these persecutions fits better in Domitian’s reign than in Nero’s.

Four broad schools of interpretation have been applied to the visions and symbolism of Rev. 4–22. (1) “Preterists” view these chapters as referring only to the period of the Roman Empire during John’s lifetime and immediately after. (2) “Historicists” view them as describing events that would occur throughout the church age from the ascension of Jesus to His Second Coming. (3) “Futurists” maintain that chs. 4–22 deal chiefly with events of the end times that surround Christ’s Second Coming. (4) “Idealists” maintain that these chapters do not prophesy actual events, but paint a symbolic picture of the cosmic conflict between the kingdom of God and the forces of evil.

Elements from all of these views are helpful in understanding the Revelation. This book certainly had relevance to the situation that surrounded its first readers. Yet its primary focus seems to be on events associated with the return of Christ. Also the conflict between God and Satan is often reflected by different symbolic pictures throughout the book. The differing interpretations come closer to each other when we remember that the events of the end time are often an intensification of what Christians have faced throughout the church age.

Introduction and Benediction

1:1 The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave Him to show His servants—things which must shortly take place. And He sent and signified it by His angel to His servant John,<sup>2</sup> who bore witness to the word of God, and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, to all things that he saw.<sup>3</sup> Blessed is he who reads and those who hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written in it; for the time is near.

Greeting the Seven Churches

Grace to you and peace from Him who is and who was and who is to come, and from the seven Spirits who are before His throne, <sup>5</sup>and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the first-born from the dead, and the ruler over the kings of the earth.

To Him who loved us and washed<sup>a</sup> us from our sins in His own blood, <sup>6</sup>and has made us kings<sup>a</sup> and priests to His God and Father, to Him be glory and dominion forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>7</sup>Behold, He is coming with clouds, and every eye will see Him, even they who pierced Him. And all the tribes of the earth will mourn because of Him. Even so, Amen.

Vision of the Son of Man

<sup>9</sup>I, John, both<sup>a</sup> your brother and companion in the tribulation and kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was on the island that is called Patmos for the word of God and for the testimony of Jesus Christ. <sup>10</sup>I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day, and I heard behind me a loud voice, as of a trumpet, <sup>11</sup>saying, "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last,"<sup>a</sup> and, "What you see, write in a book and send it to the seven churches which are in Asia:<sup>b</sup> to Ephesus, to Smyrna, to Pergamos, to Thyatira, to Sardis, to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea."

<sup>12</sup>Then I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. And having turned I saw seven golden lampstands, <sup>13</sup>and in the midst of the seven lampstands One like the Son of Man, clothed with a garment down to the feet and girded about the chest with a golden band. <sup>14</sup>His head and hair were white like wool, as white as snow, and His eyes like a flame of fire; <sup>15</sup>His feet were like fine brass, as if refined in a furnace, and His voice as the sound of many waters; <sup>16</sup>He had in His right hand seven stars, out of His mouth went a sharp two-edged sword, and His countenance was like the sun shining in its strength. <sup>17</sup>And when I saw Him, I fell at His feet as dead. But He laid His right hand on me, saying to me,<sup>a</sup> "Do not be afraid; I am the First and the Last. <sup>18</sup>I am He who lives, and was dead, and behold, I am alive forevermore. Amen. And I have the keys of Hades and of Death. <sup>19</sup>Write<sup>a</sup> the things which you have seen, and the things which are, and the things which will take place after this. <sup>20</sup>The mystery of the seven stars which you saw in My right hand, and the seven golden lampstands: The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven lampstands which you saw<sup>a</sup> are the seven churches.

And you have tested those who say they are apostles and are not, and have found them liars; <sup>3</sup>and you have persevered and have patience, and have labored for My name's sake and have not become weary. <sup>4</sup>Nevertheless I have this against you, that you

The Seven Churches of Revelation

The churches of seven cities (Rev. 1:11) were recipients of an apocalyptic letter from God, which John was called to write while exiled on the island of Patmos. By commendation, rebuke, and warning, the people of God were exhorted to remain faithful in adversity. These churches held significant roles in the Christian experience of Asia Minor as a result of their location within a transportation network linking different parts of the region.

have left your first love. <sup>5</sup>Remember therefore from where you have fallen; repent and do the first works, or else I will come to you quickly and remove your lampstand from its place—unless you repent. <sup>6</sup>But this you have, that you hate the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

<sup>7</sup>“He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes I will give to eat from the tree of life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God.”

The Persecuted Church

<sup>8</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write,

“These things says the First and the Last, who was dead, and came to life: <sup>9</sup>“I know your works, tribulation, and poverty (but you are rich); and I know the blasphemy of those who say they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. <sup>10</sup>Do not fear any of those things which you are about to suffer. Indeed, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested, and you will have tribulation ten days. Be faithful until death, and I will give you the crown of life.

<sup>11</sup>“He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. He who overcomes shall not be hurt by the second death.”

The Compromising Church

<sup>12</sup>“And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write,

“These things says He who has the sharp two-edged sword: <sup>13</sup>“I know your works, and where you dwell, where Satan’s throne is. And you hold fast to My name, and did not deny My faith even in the days in which Antipas was My faithful martyr, who was killed among you, where Satan dwells. <sup>14</sup>But I have a few things against you, because you have there those who hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to put a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit sexual immorality. <sup>15</sup>Thus you also have those who hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.” <sup>16</sup>Repent, or else I will come to you quickly and will fight against them with the sword of My mouth.

<sup>17</sup>“He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes I will give some of the hidden manna to eat. And I will give him a white stone, and on the stone a new name written which no one knows except him who receives it.”

The Corrupt Church

“These things says the Son of God, who has eyes like a flame of fire, and His feet like fine brass: <sup>19</sup>“I know your works, love, service, faith,<sup>a</sup> and your patience; and as for your works, the last are more than the first. <sup>20</sup>Nevertheless I have a few things against you, because you allow<sup>a</sup> that woman<sup>b</sup> Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess, to teach and seduce<sup>c</sup> My servants to commit sexual immorality and eat things sacrificed to idols. <sup>21</sup>And I gave her time to repent of her sexual immorality, and she did not repent.” <sup>22</sup>Indeed I will cast her into a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her into great tribulation, unless they repent of their<sup>a</sup> deeds. <sup>23</sup>I will kill her children with death, and all the churches shall know that I am He who searches the minds and hearts. And I will give to each one of you according to your works.

A Revelation of Heaven

The open “door” (Rev. 4:1) gave opportunity for John to see things transpiring in heaven. The vision of God’s throne in chs. 4; 5, revealing the adoration of God the Creator by all the inhabitants of heaven, lays the foundation for the rest of Revelation. The God whom John saw is beyond description, but His throne fills the entire scene giving us an awareness of His power.

The “scroll” (Rev. 5:1) contained God’s plan for His creation as revealed in the remaining chapters of Revelation: judgment on the wicked, deliverance for the righteous, and establishment of His kingdom. In ch. 5 Christ is the Lamb who by His death and resurrection has brought about the salvation of humanity. Thus He alone is worthy to open the scroll of destiny and to share equal praise with God the Father. Because God is both the Creator and Redeemer, the future is secure in His hands.

Revelation

The Throne Room of Heaven

4:1 After these things I looked, and behold, a door standing open in heaven. And the first voice which I heard was like a trumpet speaking with me, saying, “Come up here, and I will show you things which must take place after this.”

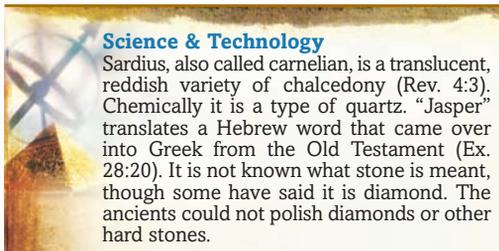

<sup>2</sup>Immediately I was in the Spirit; and behold, a throne set in heaven, and One sat on the throne. <sup>3</sup>And He who sat there was<sup>a</sup> like a jasper and a sardius stone in appearance; and there was a rainbow around the throne, in appearance like an emerald. <sup>4</sup>Around the throne were twenty-four thrones, and on the thrones I saw twenty-four elders sitting, clothed in white robes; and they had crowns<sup>a</sup> of gold on their heads. <sup>5</sup>And from the throne proceeded lightnings, thunderings, and voices.<sup>a</sup> Seven lamps of fire were burning before the throne, which are the<sup>b</sup> seven Spirits of God.

“Holy, holy, holy,<sup>a</sup>
Lord God Almighty,
Who was and is and is to come!”

<sup>9</sup>Whenever the living creatures give glory and honor and thanks to Him who sits on the throne, who lives forever and ever, <sup>10</sup>the twenty-four elders fall down before Him who sits on the throne and worship Him who lives forever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying:

<sup>11</sup> “You are worthy, O Lord,<sup>a</sup>
To receive glory and honor and power;
For You created all things,
And by Your will they exist<sup>b</sup> and were created.”

Science & Technology

Sardius, also called carnelian, is a translucent, reddish variety of chalcidony (Rev. 4:3). Chemically it is a type of quartz. “Jasper” translates a Hebrew word that came over into Greek from the Old Testament (Ex. 28:20). It is not known what stone is meant, though some have said it is diamond. The ancients could not polish diamonds or other hard stones.

The Lamb Takes the Scroll

5<sup>1</sup>And I saw in the right hand of Him who sat on the throne a scroll written inside and on the back, sealed with seven seals. <sup>2</sup>Then I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, “Who is worthy to open the scroll and to loose its seals?” <sup>3</sup>And no one in heaven or on the earth or under the earth was able to open the scroll, or to look at it.

<sup>4</sup>So I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open and read<sup>a</sup> the scroll, or to look at it. <sup>5</sup>But one of the elders said to me, “Do not weep. Behold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has prevailed to open the scroll and to loose<sup>a</sup> its seven seals.”

<sup>6</sup>And I looked, and behold,<sup>a</sup> in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as though it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent out into all the earth. <sup>7</sup>Then He came and took the scroll out of the right hand of Him who sat on the throne.

Trade & Economics

Until after New Testament times, papyrus documents were normally rolled rather than folded. Like a school diploma, they were tied with strings or ribbons. For contracts and wills, the knots could be sealed with wax to keep any unauthorized person from secretly changing the contents. In most cases, papyrus scrolls were not “written inside and on the back” (Rev. 5:1).

Worthy Is the Lamb

<sup>8</sup>Now when He had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each having a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. <sup>9</sup>And they sang a new song, saying:

“You are worthy to take the scroll,
And to open its seals;
For You were slain,
And have redeemed us to God by Your blood
Out of every tribe and tongue and people and nation,

THE HEAVENLY SCROLL (REV. 5:1–5)

The “throne” is an important theological image in the Book of Revelation. The throne is the seat of God, from whence He rules both heaven and earth. God rules, not merely over souls, but over all aspects of His creation. In this royal setting appears the image of the heavenly scroll containing God’s plan for His creation. Seven seals prevent any created being from opening the scroll (Rev. 5:1–5).

In the ancient Near East, sealed scrolls were the means by which royal authority was exercised over a king’s domain. A royal official would inscribe the king’s will onto a scroll. The king would seal the scroll with a ring pressed into a wax seal. The scroll would remain bound until it was unsealed and read by the properly designated royal official. Then the king’s will could be carried out in the kingdom.

In the ancient Near East this administrative method was transferred to the divine realm. The high god was imaged as possessing heavenly books, sealed shut. It was believed that the future of the world was inscribed on these books, and, at the proper time, the designated heavenly figure would unseal a book, releasing the events recorded in it to take place upon the earth.

The vision of John utilizes the scroll metaphor to depict the unfolding of the will of God on earth. Yet without any properly authorized person to open the scroll, God’s will remained merely inscribed in the scroll, and not actualized on earth. Unchecked by the divine will, injustice could continue to reign upon the earth. Thus John wept, for no one was found worthy to unseal the scroll (Rev. 5:4).

Yet One was found who is worthy—the “Lion of the tribe of Judah” appearing as a Lamb standing “as though it had been slain” (5:5, 6). The Lion-Lamb, the one who conquers through death, was worthy to open the seals. Through Him the will of God could unfold upon the earth. As the seals are opened, God’s judgment springs forth that ultimately leads to the new, purified, just creation. “Worthy is the Lamb who was slain!” (5:12).

10 And have made us<sup>a</sup> kings<sup>b</sup> and priests to our God; And we<sup>c</sup> shall reign on the earth.”

11 Then I looked, and I heard the voice of many angels around the throne, the living creatures, and the elders; and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands, 12 saying with a loud voice:

“Worthy is the Lamb who was slain To receive power and riches and wisdom, And strength and honor and glory and blessing!”

13 And every creature which is in heaven and on the earth and under the earth and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, I heard saying:

“Blessing and honor and glory and power Be to Him who sits on the throne, And to the Lamb, forever and ever!”<sup>a</sup>

14 Then the four living creatures said, “Amen!” And the twenty-four<sup>a</sup> elders fell down and worshiped Him who lives forever and ever.<sup>b</sup>

The Sevenfold Plagues

Three series of sevenfold plagues (seven seals, seven trumpets, seven bowls) form the center of John’s vision. Some believe the seven seals (Rev. 6:1–8:5) represent the suffering of the world throughout church history, leading up to the end time. The seven trumpets (8:6–9:21; 11:15–19) and the seven bowls (15:1–16:21) would represent the intensified sufferings that immediately precede the return of Christ. Others think the seals, trumpets, and bowls all describe with increasing intensity the suffering immediately before Christ returns. For still others, the seals, trumpets, and bowls do not form a chronological sequence, but rather symbolize the intensity of evil and chaos experienced by John and his readers. In any case, the sufferings described differ more in degree than in kind from those some Christians have always experienced.

The plagues are interrupted by two interludes. Following trumpets one through six is an interlude (10:1–11:14) before the seventh trumpet sounds (11:15–19). The angel assures Christians that there will be no further delay; the time of the seventh trumpet is the time of the end (10:5–7). Another interlude (12:1–14:20) separates the seven trumpets and the seven bowls. The purpose of this series of visions (14:1–20) is to give Christians courage, and to assure them of their ultimate triumph. This will be especially needed as they face intense persecution (ch. 13).

• Revelation 6:1—16:21

SEALED JUDGMENTS (REV. 6:5, 6)

People in the 1st-century Mediterranean world tied shut legal documents with strings, which then were fixed in place by having hot wax seals (often seven) stamped over them. These seals authenticated the contents of a document. To open the document a person had to break the seals; thus unbroken seals affirmed that no one had tampered with the document. In John's vision, the opening of the first four seals revealed God's judgment on the world (Rev. 6:1–8).

Opening the third seal resulted in severe famine (6:5, 6). The “pair of scales” (6:5) probably implies rationing of wheat and barley, which constituted the basic staples of a common person's diet. The low supply of wheat had driven its price ten times its average: a quart of wheat was only a day's worth of food, yet it cost a denarius, a day's wage (6:6). Thus heads of families would have to buy the cheaper barley instead, so their families could eat as well. Still, even the three quarts of barley (that also cost a denarius) would barely feed the whole family. Families were often large, and in conditions such as these some children in peasant families would die.

People regularly used oil and wine. They used oil for washing and anointing, as well as for lighting lamps. They mixed wine with (on average) two parts water to drink with many meals. Still, oil and wine were not necessities for life like the wheat and barley, and their availability may have underscored the reality of God's judgment on some crops but not others. The food shortages were not caused by mere drought conditions; God Himself was responsible.

Revelation

First Seal: The Conqueror

6:1 Now I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals;<sup>a</sup> and I heard one of the four living creatures saying with a voice like thunder, “Come and see.”<sup>2</sup> And I looked, and behold, a white horse. He who sat on it had a bow; and a crown was given to him, and he went out conquering and to conquer.

Second Seal: Conflict on Earth

<sup>3</sup>When He opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, “Come and see.”<sup>a</sup> <sup>4</sup>Another horse, fiery red, went out. And it was granted to the one who sat on it to take peace from the earth, and that people should kill one another; and there was given to him a great sword.

Third Seal: Scarcity on Earth

<sup>5</sup>When He opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come and see.” So I looked, and behold, a black horse, and he who sat on it had a pair of scales in his hand. <sup>6</sup>And I heard a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, “A quart<sup>a</sup> of wheat for a denarius,<sup>b</sup> and three quarts of barley for a denarius; and do not harm the oil and the wine.”

Fourth Seal: Widespread Death on Earth

<sup>7</sup>When He opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature saying, “Come and see.”<sup>8</sup> So I looked, and behold, a pale horse. And the name of him who sat on it was Death, and Hades followed with him. And power was given to them over a fourth of the earth, to kill with sword, with hunger, with death, and by the beasts of the earth.

Fifth Seal: The Cry of the Martyrs

<sup>9</sup>When He opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain for the word of God and for the testimony which they held. <sup>10</sup>And they cried with a loud voice, saying, “How long, O Lord, holy and true, until You judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?” <sup>11</sup>Then a white robe was given to each of them; and it was said to them that they should rest a little while longer, until both the number of their fellow servants and their brethren, who would be killed as they were, was completed.

Sixth Seal: Cosmic Disturbances

<sup>12</sup>I looked when He opened the sixth seal, and behold,<sup>a</sup> there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon<sup>b</sup> became like blood. <sup>13</sup>And the stars of heaven fell to the earth, as a fig tree drops its late figs when it is shaken by a mighty wind. <sup>14</sup>Then the sky receded as a scroll when it is rolled up, and every mountain and island was moved out of its place. <sup>15</sup>And the kings of the earth, the great men, the rich men, the commanders,<sup>a</sup> the mighty men, every slave and every free man, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains, <sup>16</sup>and said to the mountains and rocks, “Fall on us and hide us from the face of Him who sits on the throne and from the wrath of the Lamb! <sup>17</sup>For the great day of His wrath has come, and who is able to stand?”

The Sealed of Israel

7<sup>1</sup>After these things I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, on the sea, or on any tree.

<sup>2</sup>Then I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God. And he cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it was granted to harm the earth and the sea, <sup>3</sup>saying, “Do not harm the earth, the sea, or the trees till we have sealed the servants of our God on their foreheads.” <sup>4</sup>And I heard the number of those who were sealed. One hundred and forty-four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel were sealed:

- <sup>5</sup> of the tribe of Judah twelve thousand were sealed;<sup>a</sup> of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand were sealed;
of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand were sealed;
<sup>6</sup> of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand were sealed;
of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand were sealed;
of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand were sealed;
<sup>7</sup> of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand were sealed;
of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand were sealed;
of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand were sealed;
<sup>8</sup> of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand were sealed;
of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand were sealed;
of the tribe of Benjamin twelve thousand were sealed.

A Multitude from the Great Tribulation

<sup>9</sup>After these things I looked, and behold, a great multitude which no one could number, of all nations, tribes, peoples, and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, with palm branches in their hands, <sup>10</sup>and crying out with a loud voice, saying, “Salvation belongs to our God who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb!” <sup>11</sup>All the angels stood around the throne and the elders and the four living creatures, and fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, <sup>12</sup>saying:

“Amen! Blessing and glory and wisdom, Thanksgiving and honor and power and might,

7:5 <sup>a</sup>In NU-Text and M-Text were sealed is stated only in verses 5a and 8c; the words are understood in the remainder of the passage. 7:14 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text read My lord.

7:17 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text read to fountains of the waters of life. 8:7 <sup>a</sup>NU-Text and M-Text add and a third of the earth was burned up.

Be to our God forever and ever.
Amen.”

<sup>13</sup>Then one of the elders answered, saying to me, “Who are these arrayed in white robes, and where did they come from?”

So he said to me, “These are the ones who come out of the great tribulation, and washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. <sup>15</sup>Therefore they are before the throne of God, and serve Him day and night in His temple. And He who sits on the throne will dwell among them. <sup>16</sup>They shall neither hunger anymore nor thirst anymore; the sun shall not strike them, nor any heat; <sup>17</sup>for the Lamb who is in the midst of the throne will shepherd them and lead them to living fountains of waters.<sup>a</sup> And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.”

Seventh Seal: Prelude to the Seven Trumpets

8 <sup>1</sup>When He opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour. <sup>2</sup>And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and to them were given seven trumpets. <sup>3</sup>Then another angel, having a golden censer, came and stood at the altar. He was given much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. <sup>4</sup>And the smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, ascended before God from the angel's hand. <sup>5</sup>Then the angel took the censer, filled it with fire from the altar, and threw it to the earth. And there were noises, thunderings, lightnings, and an earthquake.

First Trumpet: Vegetation Struck

<sup>7</sup>The first angel sounded: And hail and fire followed, mingled with blood, and they were thrown to the earth.<sup>a</sup> And a third of the trees were burned up, and all green grass was burned up.

TIME CAPSULE

A.D. 96 to 107

96	Domitian is assassinated by his closest associates
98	Trajan becomes emperor
100	The Alexandrians have a synagogue in Jerusalem
107	Ignatius, early Christian writer, is executed in Rome
107	Trajan sponsors 123 days of games with 10,000 gladiators

Second Trumpet: The Seas Struck

<sup>8</sup>Then the second angel sounded: And something like a great mountain burning with fire was thrown into the sea, and a third of the sea became blood. <sup>9</sup>And a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

Third Trumpet: The Waters Struck

<sup>10</sup>Then the third angel sounded: And a great star fell from heaven, burning like a torch, and it fell on a third of the rivers and on the springs of water. <sup>11</sup>The name of the star is Wormwood. A third of the waters became wormwood, and many men died from the water, because it was made bitter.

Fourth Trumpet: The Heavens Struck

<sup>12</sup>Then the fourth angel sounded: And a third of the sun was struck, a third of the moon, and a third of the stars, so that a third of them were darkened. A third of the day did not shine, and likewise the night.

<sup>13</sup>And I looked, and I heard an angel<sup>a</sup> flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, “Woe, woe, woe to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the remaining blasts of the trumpet of the three angels who are about to sound!”

Fifth Trumpet: The Locusts from the Bottomless Pit

9 <sup>1</sup>Then the fifth angel sounded: And I saw a star fallen from heaven to the earth. To him was given the key to the bottomless pit. <sup>2</sup>And he opened the bottomless pit, and smoke arose out of the pit like the smoke of a great furnace. So the sun and the air were darkened because of the smoke of the pit. <sup>3</sup>Then out of the smoke locusts came upon the earth. And to them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power. <sup>4</sup>They were commanded not to harm the grass of the earth, or any green thing, or any tree, but only those men who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>And they were not given authority to kill them, but to torment them for five months. Their torment was like the torment of a scorpion when it strikes a man. <sup>6</sup>In those days men will seek death and will not find it; they will desire to die, and death will flee from them.

<sup>7</sup>The shape of the locusts was like horses prepared for battle. On their heads were crowns of something like gold, and their faces were like the faces of men. <sup>8</sup>They had hair like women’s hair, and their teeth were like lions’ teeth. <sup>9</sup>And they had breastplates like breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings was like the sound of chariots with many horses running into battle. <sup>10</sup>They had tails like scorpions, and there were stings in their tails. Their power was to hurt men five months. <sup>11</sup>And they had as king over them the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon, but in Greek he has the name Apollyon.

Sixth Trumpet: The Angels from the Euphrates

<sup>13</sup>Then the sixth angel sounded: And I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, <sup>14</sup>saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, “Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates.” <sup>15</sup>So the four angels, who had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, were released to kill a third of mankind. <sup>16</sup>Now the number of the army of the horsemen was two hundred million; I heard the number of them. <sup>17</sup>And thus I saw the horses in the vision: those who sat on them had breastplates of fiery red, hyacinth blue, and sulfur yellow; and the heads of the horses were like the heads of lions; and out of their mouths

THE FATE OF JERUSALEM

Jerusalem, as the capital of Palestine, faced attack from various armies, contending for control of the territory surrounding the sacred city. Eventually the Roman Empire reduced Jerusalem to a city-state under Roman domination.

Date	Event
332 B.C.	Palestine is conquered by Alexander the Great.
167 B.C.	Antiochus IV dedicates the Jerusalem temple to Zeus, the Greek god of Olympus. The Maccabean revolt begins.
164 B.C.	The Maccabees rededicate the temple to God.
142 B.C.	Simon Maccabeus is made high priest. Palestine is independent until 63.
63 B.C.	The Roman general Pompey takes advantage of a struggle between the Jewish rulers of Palestine and captures Jerusalem for Rome.
40 B.C.	The Romans return Herod the Great to Judea as a king under Roman authority.
A.D. 6	The Romans grow tired of unrest in Palestine and make Judea, Samaria, and Idumea (Edom) into the Roman province of Judea.
A.D. 39	The emperor Gaius Caligula tries to erect a statue of himself in the temple.
A.D. 66	The Jews rebel against Roman authority.
A.D. 70	The Romans defeat Jerusalem, destroy the temple, and begin to gather the temple tax as a Roman government tax.
A.D. 115–118	Fierce Jewish rebellion occurs in the provinces outside Palestine, but is put down by the Romans.
A.D. 132	Bar Kochba leads a Jewish revolt in Palestine. “Kochba” means “star” (Num. 24:17).
A.D. 135	The Bar Kochba rebellion is defeated. Jerusalem is renamed “Aelia Capitolina” as a Roman colony and Jews are forbidden to live there.

came fire, smoke, and brimstone. <sup>18</sup>By these three plagues a third of mankind was killed—by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone which came out of their mouths. <sup>19</sup>For their power<sup>a</sup> is in their mouth and in their tails; for their tails are like serpents, having heads; and with them they do harm.

<sup>20</sup>But the rest of mankind, who were not killed by these plagues, did not repent of the works of their hands, that they should not worship demons, and idols of gold, silver, brass, stone, and wood, which can neither see nor hear nor walk. <sup>21</sup>And they did not repent of their murders or their sorceries<sup>a</sup> or their sexual immorality or their thefts.

The Mighty Angel with the Little Book

10 <sup>1</sup>I saw still another mighty angel coming down from heaven, clothed with a cloud. And a rainbow was on his head, his face was like the sun, and his feet like pillars of fire. <sup>2</sup>He had a little book open in his hand. And he set his right foot on the sea and his left foot on the land, <sup>3</sup>and cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roars. When he cried out, seven thunders uttered their voices. <sup>4</sup>Now when the seven thunders uttered their voices,<sup>a</sup> I was about to write; but I heard a voice from heaven saying to me,<sup>b</sup> “Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and do not write them.”

<sup>5</sup>The angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land raised up his hand<sup>a</sup> to heaven <sup>6</sup>and swore by Him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and the things that are in it, the earth and the things that are in it, and the sea and the things that are in it, that there should be delay no longer, <sup>7</sup>but in the days of the sounding of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, the mystery of God would be finished, as He declared to His servants the prophets.

John Eats the Little Book

<sup>8</sup>Then the voice which I heard from heaven spoke to me again and said, “Go, take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel who stands on the sea and on the earth.”

And he said to me, “Take and eat it; and it will make your stomach bitter, but it will be as sweet as honey in your mouth.”

<sup>10</sup>Then I took the little book out of the angel’s hand and ate it, and it was as sweet as honey in my mouth. But when I had eaten it, my stomach became bitter. <sup>11</sup>And he<sup>a</sup> said to me, “You must prophesy again about many peoples, nations, tongues, and kings.”

The Two Witnesses

11 <sup>1</sup>Then I was given a reed like a measuring rod. And the angel stood,<sup>a</sup> saying, “Rise and measure the temple of God, the altar, and those who worship there. <sup>2</sup>But leave out the court which is outside the temple, and do not measure it, for it has been given to the Gentiles. And they will tread the holy city underfoot for forty-two months. <sup>3</sup>And I will give power to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy one thousand two hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth.”

<sup>4</sup>These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands standing before the God<sup>a</sup> of the earth. <sup>5</sup>And if anyone wants to harm them, fire proceeds from their mouth and devours their enemies. And if anyone wants to harm them, he must be killed in this manner. <sup>6</sup>These have power to shut heaven, so that no rain falls in the days of their prophecy; and they have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to strike the earth with all plagues, as often as they desire.

The Witnesses Killed

The Witnesses Resurrected

<sup>11</sup>Now after the three-and-a-half days the breath of life from God entered them, and they stood on their feet, and great fear fell on those who saw them. <sup>12</sup>And they<sup>a</sup> heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” And they ascended to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies saw them. <sup>13</sup>In the same hour there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell. In the earthquake seven thousand people were killed, and the rest were afraid and gave glory to the God of heaven.

Seventh Trumpet: The Kingdom Proclaimed

<sup>15</sup>Then the seventh angel sounded: And there were loud voices in heaven, saying, “The kingdoms<sup>a</sup> of this world have become the kingdoms of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever!” <sup>16</sup>And the twenty-four elders who sat before God on their thrones fell on their faces and worshiped God, <sup>17</sup>saying:

“We give You thanks, O Lord God Almighty, The One who is and who was and who is to come,<sup>a</sup>

Because You have taken Your great power and reigned.

<sup>18</sup> The nations were angry, and Your wrath has come,

And the time of the dead, that they should be judged,

And that You should reward Your servants the prophets and the saints,

And those who fear Your name, small and great,

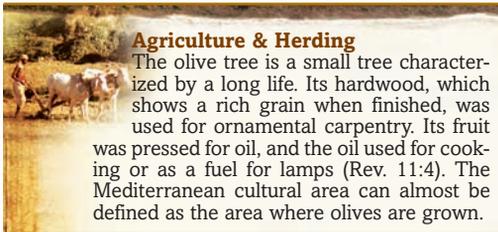

And should destroy those who destroy the earth.”

The Woman, the Child, and the Dragon

<sup>3</sup>And another sign appeared in heaven: behold, a great, fiery red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and seven diadems on his heads. <sup>4</sup>His tail drew a third of the stars of heaven and threw them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was ready

Agriculture & Herding

The olive tree is a small tree characterized by a long life. Its hardwood, which shows a rich grain when finished, was used for ornamental carpentry. Its fruit was pressed for oil, and the oil used for cooking or as a fuel for lamps (Rev. 11:4). The Mediterranean cultural area can almost be defined as the area where olives are grown.

SYMBOLIC PICTURES OF HEAVENLY CONFLICT (REV. 12:1)

The Book of Revelation frequently uses visions, symbols, and images that the first readers would have understood. The vision of the woman clothed with the sun, moon, and stars (Rev. 12) portrays the salvation struggle between good and evil.

Throughout the Greco-Roman world people told stories of divine deliverers destined to defeat evil dragons. The dragon tried to slay the newborn deliverer, but the deliverer miraculously survived, grew up, and returned to slay the dragon. In one version of the story, the emperor seems to have claimed to be the dragon-slayer. In Revelation, the wicked emperor is himself a pawn of the dragon, and the true ruler, the Child Jesus, is the One who will triumph over all the world's kingdoms (Rev. 12:5).

The writer of Revelation has interwoven echoes from the Old Testament. The woman with sun, moon, and twelve stars can be interpreted as Israel (see Gen. 37:9), as in some later Jewish traditions about twelve stars. The Old Testament portrays the faithful remnant of Israel as God's virgin bride, in contrast to a portrayal of unfaithful Israel as a prostitute. The Old Testament and the Dead Sea Scrolls portray the righteous remnant of Israel laboring and giving birth to a child, symbolizing the future restoration of God's people (Is. 66:7–10; Mic. 5:3).

In Revelation, the woman's first Child (Rev. 12:2–5) is often interpreted as Jesus and her other "offspring" as Christian believers (12:17). As John wrote to 1st-century churches in Asia (Rev. 1:4, 11), his imagery of a woman birthing her Child and of conflict with the dragon would have been familiar to his readers.

to give birth, to devour her Child as soon as it was born. <sup>5</sup>She bore a male Child who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron. And her Child was caught up to God and His throne. <sup>6</sup>Then the woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, that they should feed her there one thousand two hundred and sixty days.

Satan Thrown Out of Heaven

<sup>7</sup>And war broke out in heaven: Michael and his angels fought with the dragon; and the dragon and his angels fought, <sup>8</sup>but they did not prevail, nor was a place found for them<sup>a</sup> in heaven any longer. <sup>9</sup>So the great dragon was cast out, that serpent of old, called the Devil and Satan, who deceives the whole world; he was cast to the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

<sup>10</sup>Then I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, "Now salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of His Christ have come, for the accuser of our brethren, who accused them before our God day and night, has been cast down. <sup>11</sup>And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony, and they did not love their lives to the death. <sup>12</sup>Therefore rejoice, O heavens, and you who dwell in them! Woe to the inhabitants of the earth and the sea! For the devil has come down to you, having great wrath, because he knows that he has a short time."

The Woman Persecuted

<sup>13</sup>Now when the dragon saw that he had been cast to the earth, he persecuted the woman who gave birth to the male Child. <sup>14</sup>But the woman was given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness to her place, where she is nourished for a time and times and half a time, from the presence of the serpent. <sup>15</sup>So the serpent spewed water out of his mouth like a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away by the flood. <sup>16</sup>But the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed up the flood which the dragon had spewed out of his mouth. <sup>17</sup>And the dragon was enraged with the woman, and he went to make war with the rest of her offspring, who keep the commandments of God and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.<sup>a</sup>

The Beast from the Sea

Beliefs & Ideas

Some teachers said it was necessary to know the names of angels in order to gain access to the heavens (see Col. 2:18). By contrast, the names of only two angels appear in the Bible: Michael (Dan. 10:13; Rev. 12:7) and Gabriel (Dan. 8:16; Luke 1:19). A third angel, Raphael, appears in the apocryphal book Tobit. According to Tobit, Raphael is one of seven angels that stand before God (Tob. 12:15).

IS NERO'S NUMBER 666? (REV. 13:18)

How did ancients “calculate the number” of a person (Rev. 13:18)? There is a well-known system for both Hebrew and Greek in which the letters of the alphabet are used for numbers. The first letter of the alphabet is the number “one,” the second letter is “two,” and so forth. In this system the letters of a name are changed to numbers, and the numbers are then added to arrive at a total.

No one knows the identity of the man or beast whose number is 666 (Rev. 13:18); however, one candidate is Nero. When the Hebrew consonants of “Nero Caesar” are calculated, the total is 666. These consonants, NRWN QSR, have been discovered written just this way in a manuscript, dated about A.D. 55–56, found 15 miles southeast of Jerusalem.

Like the beast, Nero was also a persecutor of the church. He was born in A.D. 37 and became emperor in A.D. 54, when he was only 17 years old. After a few years in office he began to use his powers to put to death anyone he wanted out of the way.

In A.D. 64 a terrible fire burned down about half of the city of Rome. Nero was rumored to have started this fire himself, but afterward he said the Christians were to blame for it. Reports say that Nero used Christians as lamps, burning them to death in his garden.

Nero killed his closest advisors and members of his own family. Eventually, other politicians rose against him; he was deserted, had to flee Rome, and committed suicide in A.D. 68, not quite 30 years old. After he died, there were persistent rumors that he would return from the grave (see Rev. 13:3, 12, 14 where the first beast lived again). All this does not prove that Nero is the man of Rev. 13:18; however, it is possible that the number 666 was associated with his name by the time Revelation was written.

ten crowns, and on his heads a blasphemous name. <sup>2</sup>Now the beast which I saw was like a leopard, his feet were like the feet of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. The dragon gave him his power, his throne, and great authority. <sup>3</sup>And I saw one of his heads as if it had been mortally wounded, and his deadly wound was healed. And all the world marveled and followed the beast. <sup>4</sup>So they worshiped the dragon who gave authority to the beast; and they worshiped the beast, saying, “Who is like the beast? Who is able to make war with him?”

<sup>5</sup>And he was given a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies, and he was given authority to continue<sup>a</sup> for forty-two months. <sup>6</sup>Then he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme His name, His tabernacle, and those who dwell in heaven. <sup>7</sup>It was granted to him to make war with the saints and to overcome them. And authority was given him over every tribe,<sup>a</sup> tongue, and nation. <sup>8</sup>All who dwell on the earth will worship him, whose names have not been written in the Book of Life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

<sup>9</sup>If anyone has an ear, let him hear. <sup>10</sup>He who leads into captivity shall go into captivity; he who kills with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

The Beast from the Earth

<sup>11</sup>Then I saw another beast coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb and spoke like a dragon. <sup>12</sup>And he exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence, and causes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. <sup>13</sup>He performs great signs, so that he even makes fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men. <sup>14</sup>And he deceives those<sup>a</sup> who dwell on the earth by those signs which he was granted to do in the sight of the beast, telling those who dwell on the earth to make an image to the beast who was wounded by the sword and lived. <sup>15</sup>He was granted power to give breath to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak and cause as many as would not worship the image of the beast to be killed. <sup>16</sup>He causes all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hand or on their foreheads, <sup>17</sup>and that no one may buy or sell except one who has the mark or<sup>a</sup> the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

<sup>18</sup>Here is wisdom. Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man: His number is 666.

The Lamb and the 144,000

These are the ones who follow the Lamb wherever He goes. These were redeemed<sup>a</sup> from among men, being firstfruits to God and to the Lamb.<sup>5</sup> And in their mouth was found no deceit,<sup>a</sup> for they are without fault before the throne of God.<sup>b</sup>

The Proclamations of Three Angels

<sup>6</sup>Then I saw another angel flying in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach to those who dwell on the earth—to every nation, tribe, tongue, and people—<sup>7</sup>saying with a loud voice, “Fear God and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment has come; and worship Him who made heaven and earth, the sea and springs of water.”

Reaping the Earth’s Harvest

<sup>14</sup>Then I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and on the cloud sat One like the Son of Man, having on His head a golden crown, and in His hand a sharp sickle. <sup>15</sup>And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to Him who sat on the cloud, “Thrust in Your sickle and reap, for the time has come for You<sup>a</sup> to reap, for the harvest of the earth is ripe.” <sup>16</sup>So He who sat on the cloud thrust in His sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

Reaping the Grapes of Wrath

<sup>17</sup>Then another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

<sup>18</sup>And another angel came out from the altar, who had power over fire, and he cried with a loud cry to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, “Thrust in your sharp sickle and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe.” <sup>19</sup>So the angel thrust his sickle into the earth and gathered the vine of the earth, and threw it into the great winepress of the wrath of God. <sup>20</sup>And the winepress was trampled outside the city, and blood came out of the winepress, up to the horses’ bridles, for one thousand six hundred furlongs.

Prelude to the Bowl Judgments

15 <sup>1</sup>Then I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvelous: seven angels having the seven last plagues, for in them the wrath of God is complete.

<sup>2</sup>And I saw something like a sea of glass mingled with fire, and those who have the victory over the beast, over his image and over his mark<sup>a</sup> and over the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, having harps of God. <sup>3</sup>They sing the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying:

“Great and marvelous are Your works,
Lord God Almighty!
Just and true are Your ways,
O King of the saints!<sup>a</sup>

<sup>4</sup> Who shall not fear You, O Lord, and glorify Your name?
For You alone are holy.
For all nations shall come and worship before You,
For Your judgments have been manifested.”

<sup>5</sup>After these things I looked, and behold,<sup>a</sup> the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened. <sup>6</sup>And out of the temple came the seven angels having the seven plagues, clothed in pure bright linen, and having their chests girded with golden bands. <sup>7</sup>Then one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God who lives forever and ever. <sup>8</sup>The temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from His power, and no one was able to enter the temple till the seven plagues of the seven angels were completed.

First Bowl: Loathsome Sores

<sup>2</sup>So the first went and poured out his bowl upon the earth, and a foul and loathsome sore came upon the men who had the mark of the beast and those who worshiped his image.

Second Bowl: The Sea Turns to Blood

<sup>3</sup>Then the second angel poured out his bowl on the sea, and it became blood as of a dead man; and every living creature in the sea died.

Third Bowl: The Waters Turn to Blood

“You are righteous, O Lord,<sup>a</sup>
The One who is and who was and who is to be,<sup>b</sup>
Because You have judged these things.
<sup>6</sup> For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets,
And You have given them blood to drink.

116		Trajan reaches the Persian Gulf, but does not go to India
117		Hadrian becomes emperor
122		Hadrian's Wall becomes the Roman border in Britain
129		Hadrian is in Antioch, Syria
130		A triumphal arch is dedicated to Hadrian in Arabia
130		Hadrian plans a temple to Jupiter at Jerusalem
130		Hadrian is in Egypt

Fourth Bowl: Men Are Scorched

<sup>8</sup>Then the fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun, and power was given to him to scorch men with fire. <sup>9</sup>And men were scorched with great heat, and they blasphemed the name of God who has power over these plagues; and they did not repent and give Him glory.

Fifth Bowl: Darkness and Pain

<sup>10</sup>Then the fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and his kingdom became full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues because of the pain. <sup>11</sup>They blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and did not repent of their deeds.

Sixth Bowl: Euphrates Dried Up

<sup>12</sup>Then the sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates, and its water was dried up, so that the way of the kings from the east might be prepared. <sup>13</sup>And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs coming out of the mouth of the dragon, out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet. <sup>14</sup>For they are spirits of demons, performing signs, which go out to the kings of the earth and<sup>a</sup> of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

Seventh Bowl: The Earth Utterly Shaken

<sup>17</sup>Then the seventh angel poured out his bowl into the air, and a loud voice came out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, “It is done!” <sup>18</sup>And there were noises and thunderings and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such a mighty and great earthquake as had not occurred since men were on the earth. <sup>19</sup>Now the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. And great Babylon was remembered before God, to give her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of His wrath. <sup>20</sup>Then every island fled away, and the mountains were

TRANSITION

The Sinful City and the Antichrist

The great harlot, identified with Babylon (Rev. 17:5), is a powerful and wealthy center of human civilization that leads the kings and all the earth in rebellion against God. As ancient Babylon led people away from God and into idolatry and wickedness, so the harlot sets the nations against Him. Rome in the 1st century may have been one manifestation of the harlot; the “seven mountains” (17:9) could recall the original city of Rome that was built on seven hills.

Other societies and governments in human history have also seemed to be in open rebellion against God. This great harlot is empowered by the beast, the Antichrist. The church, by contrast, is likened to a wife united with her Husband, Christ, at His return (19:7, 8). John’s vision continues as the beast and his armies prepare for a battle that cannot be won. Christ has already secured the victory. The beast and his prophet are captured, and his armies are destroyed by the sword from Christ’s mouth (19:15).

Revelation

The Scarlet Woman and the Scarlet Beast

17:1 Then one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and talked with me, saying to me,<sup>a</sup> “Come, I will show you the judgment of the great harlot who sits on many waters,<sup>2</sup> with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth were made drunk with the wine of her fornication.”

Geography & Environment

The city of Rome was famous for being built on seven hills (Rev. 17:9). At the time of Cicero, these hills were known as the Palatine, Capitoline, Caelian, Aventine, Esquiline, Viminal, and Quirinal. In 378 B.C. all of the hills except the Esquiline were enclosed by the Wall of Servius. The Palatine was the location of the Roman emperor’s residence, from which he did official business.

<sup>3</sup>So he carried me away in the Spirit into the wilderness. And I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast which was full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.<sup>4</sup>The woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and adorned with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the filthiness of her fornication.<sup>a</sup> <sup>5</sup>And on her forehead a name was written:

MYSTERY,
BABYLON THE GREAT,
THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS
AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS
OF THE EARTH.

<sup>6</sup>I saw the woman, drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I marveled with great amazement.

The Meaning of the Woman and the Beast

<sup>7</sup>But the angel said to me, “Why did you marvel? I will tell you the mystery of the woman and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns.<sup>8</sup>The beast that you saw was, and is not, and will ascend out of the bottomless pit and go to perdition. And those who dwell on the earth will marvel, whose names are not written in the Book of Life from the foundation of the world, when they see the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>9</sup>“Here is the mind which has wisdom: The seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman sits.<sup>10</sup>There are also seven kings. Five have fallen, one is, and the other has not yet come. And when he comes, he must continue a short time.<sup>11</sup>The beast that was, and is not, is himself also the eighth, and is of the seven, and is going to perdition.

<sup>15</sup>Then he said to me, “The waters which you saw, where the harlot sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations, and tongues.<sup>16</sup>And the ten horns which you saw on<sup>a</sup> the beast, these will hate the harlot, make her desolate and naked, eat her flesh and burn her with fire.<sup>17</sup>For God has put it into their hearts to fulfill His purpose, to be of one mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God are fulfilled.<sup>18</sup>And the

SEVEN KINGS AND SEVEN MOUNTAINS (REV. 17:9–11)

John is shown a vision of a woman on a scarlet beast, a beast described as “having seven heads” (Rev. 17:3). The first interpretation, which identifies the seven heads as seven mountains (17:9), is obvious enough: ancients called Rome the “city on seven hills.” Rome annually celebrated a festival recalling its origin on “seven mountains,” and this was the city that was currently reigning over the nations (17:18). Without question, in John’s day the epitome of the world system was Rome.

The second interpretation, identifying the seven heads with seven kings (17:10, 11), is more complicated. The sixth king is announced as reigning at that time (“one is,” 17:10). If the Book of Revelation was written during the reign of the emperor Domitian, it would be possible to count back from Domitian and determine which ruler might qualify to be the one that was to return and “continue a short time” (17:10). One such calculation points to Nero.

Once Vespasian’s dynasty (which included his sons Titus and Domitian) had been established, few people would have considered the three brief usurpers who followed Nero (Galba, Otho, Vitellius) as true kings. Some calculations skip these three emperors, thus allowing the six kings to include both Nero and Domitian. Many people anticipated Nero’s return even well into Domitian’s reign. Indeed, shortly before the Book of Revelation was written, a Nero impostor even tricked the Parthian armies into following him into the Roman Empire (though he was quickly proved an impostor).

Many scholars do not identify the seven kings precisely with seven specific Roman emperors. More importantly, John’s interpretation of seven kings does not imply that in writing Revelation he supposed that Nero would literally return from the dead. Rather, he probably uses the popular image of a new “Nero” to communicate a message: “If you thought Nero was bad, wait till you see the final evil ruler.” Besides claiming to be a god, Nero was the first emperor to actively martyr Christians. He is a fitting model for other evil rulers of history, especially the final one often known as the Antichrist (1 John 2:18).

woman whom you saw is that great city which reigns over the kings of the earth.”

The Fall of Babylon the Great

18 <sup>1</sup>After these things I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great authority, and the earth was illuminated with his glory. <sup>2</sup>And he cried mightily<sup>a</sup> with a loud voice, saying, “Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and has become a dwelling place of demons, a prison for every foul spirit, and a cage for every unclean and hated bird! <sup>3</sup>For all the nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth have become rich through the abundance of her luxury.”

<sup>4</sup>And I heard another voice from heaven saying, “Come out of her, my people, lest you share in her sins, and lest you receive of her plagues. <sup>5</sup>For her sins have reached<sup>a</sup> to heaven, and God has remembered her iniquities. <sup>6</sup>Render to her just as she rendered to you,<sup>a</sup> and repay her double according to her works; in the cup which she has mixed, mix double for her. <sup>7</sup>In the measure that she glorified herself and lived luxuriously, in the same measure give her torment and sorrow; for she says in her heart, ‘I sit as queen, and am no widow, and will not see sorrow.’ <sup>8</sup>Therefore her plagues will come in one day—death and mourning and famine. And she will be utterly burned with fire, for strong is the Lord God who judges<sup>a</sup> her.

The World Mourns Babylon’s Fall

<sup>9</sup>“The kings of the earth who committed fornication and lived luxuriously with her will weep and lament for her, when they see the smoke of her burning, <sup>10</sup>standing at a distance for fear of her torment, saying, ‘Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city! For in one hour your judgment has come.’

A TRAGIC LOSS OF BUSINESS! (REV. 18:12)

John received a series of visions revealing the fall of the evil kingdom. The woes of the coming judgments are echoed in various dirges, one given by merchants (Rev. 18:11–18). These merchants mourn because their financial profit from the wicked city has come to an end: “no one buys their merchandise anymore” (18:11).

The items described in Rev. 18:12 represent many of the luxurious products that were imported by Rome and other cities in John’s day. One product, purple dye, recalls the city of Thyatira, in Asia Minor, which was known as an industrial center and manufacturer of the dye. The few inscriptions found there show a thriving civic and social life for about 5 centuries until the 3rd century A.D. Not only was Thyatira known for its purple dye, it was a major center of wool trade.

Josephus describes a Jewish colony in Thyatira. Thus, it is not surprising that Paul could encounter a Jewish “seller of purple” who hailed from Thyatira (Acts 16:11). Lydia was a wealthy woman who engaged in the trade of the purple dye, and owned her own home, emphasizing her financial independence. In fact, she hosted a gathering of Jesus’ followers at her home (Acts 16:40), typical of many Jewish women at that time who were benefactors of synagogues.

Merchants, such as Lydia, became rich by trading luxuries, like purple dye, that could be afforded only by a few. The wicked city in John’s vision represented a great trading center, and the loss of business from such a place would indeed provoke the merchants’ demonstration of grief and mourning (Rev. 18:19).

that great city, in which all who had ships on the sea became rich by her wealth! For in one hour she is made desolate.<sup>7</sup>

Finality of Babylon’s Fall

<sup>21</sup>Then a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone and threw it into the sea, saying, “Thus with violence the great city Babylon shall be thrown down, and shall not be found anymore. <sup>22</sup>The sound of harpists, musicians, flutists, and trumpeters shall not be heard in you anymore. No craftsman of any craft shall be found in you anymore, and the sound of a millstone shall not be heard in you anymore. <sup>23</sup>The light of a lamp shall not shine in you anymore, and the voice of bridegroom and bride shall not be heard in you anymore. For your merchants were the great men of the earth, for by your sorcery all the nations were deceived. <sup>24</sup>And in her was found the blood of prophets and saints, and of all who were slain on the earth.”

Heaven Exults over Babylon

19 <sup>1</sup>After these things I heard<sup>a</sup> a loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, “Alleluia! Salvation and glory and honor and power belong to the Lord<sup>b</sup> our God! <sup>2</sup>For true and righteous are His judgments, because He has judged the great harlot who corrupted the earth with her fornication; and He has avenged on her the blood of His servants shed by her.” <sup>3</sup>Again they said, “Alleluia! Her smoke rises up forever and ever!” <sup>4</sup>And the twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God who sat on the throne, saying, “Amen! Alleluia!” <sup>5</sup>Then a voice came from the throne, saying, “Praise our God, all you His servants and those who fear Him, both<sup>c</sup> small and great!”

<sup>6</sup>And I heard, as it were, the voice of a great multitude, as the sound of many waters and as the sound of mighty thunderings, saying, “Alleluia! For the<sup>d</sup> Lord God Omnipotent reigns! <sup>7</sup>Let us be glad and rejoice and give Him glory, for the marriage of the Lamb has come, and His wife has made herself ready.” <sup>8</sup>And to her it was granted to be arrayed in fine linen, clean and bright, for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints.

<sup>9</sup>Then he said to me, “Write: ‘Blessed are those who are called to the marriage supper of the Lamb!’” And he said to me, “These are the true sayings of God.” <sup>10</sup>And I fell at his feet to worship him. But he said to me, “See that you do not do that! I am your fellow servant, and of your brethren who have the testimony of Jesus. Worship God! For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.”

Christ on a White Horse

<sup>11</sup>Now I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse. And He who sat on him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness He judges and makes war. <sup>12</sup>His eyes were like a flame of fire, and on His head were many crowns.

Science & Technology

Linen is a cloth made from fibers of the flax plant. The Egyptians could make linen cloth so fine (Rev. 19:8) it was practically transparent, as well as coarse and thick like canvas. The techniques for preparing and weaving linen were known from the earliest recorded times in Egypt, as evidenced by wall paintings in tombs.

The Beast and His Armies Defeated

<sup>17</sup>Then I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in the midst of heaven, "Come and gather together for the supper of the great God,<sup>a</sup> <sup>18</sup>that you may eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of captains, the flesh of mighty men, the flesh of horses and of those who sit on them, and the flesh of all people, free<sup>a</sup> and slave, both small and great."

<sup>19</sup>And I saw the beast, the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against Him who sat on the horse and against His army. <sup>20</sup>Then the beast was captured, and with him the false prophet who worked signs in his presence, by which he deceived those who received the mark of the beast and those who worshiped his image. These two were cast alive into the lake of fire burning with brimstone. <sup>21</sup>And the rest were killed with the sword which proceeded from the mouth of Him who sat on the horse. And all the birds were filled with their flesh.

The Millennium

The term "millennium," coming from the Latin mille, "one thousand," is used to identify the 1,000-year rule of Christ with His saints (Rev. 20:4–7). This is the only place in the New Testament where such a period is described. Christians are divided over how to interpret the 1,000-year reign and the events surrounding it.

Some believe that the binding of Satan represents Christ's victory on the cross. The 1,000 years is, then, symbolic of the church age during which the saints will rule spiritually with Christ. Satan's rebellion at the end of the 1,000 years is his final desperate attempt to challenge God before the return of Christ to judge the world. This view is called amillennialism because it does not believe in a millennial period separate from the church age.

Others believe that the victories of Christ (19:1–21) and the binding of Satan (20:1–3) represent the gradual triumph of the gospel throughout the church age. The millennium is, then, symbolic of an indeterminate time of earthly harmony after the progress of the gospel has resulted in the kingdom of God on earth. Only after this time will Christ return to finally defeat Satan (20:7–10) and judge the world (20:11–15). This view is known as postmillennialism because it teaches that Christ will not return until after the millennium.

Other Christians believe that 19:1–21 depicts Christ's Second Coming which will culminate in the binding of Satan (20:1–3), after which the saints will be raised and rule with Christ on earth for a period symbolized by 1,000 years (20:4–6). At the end of this period Satan will be released for one last rebellion and will be destroyed (20:7–10). Then the unrighteous will be raised and all will be judged (20:11–15). This position is called premillennialism since it teaches the return of Christ before the millennium.

Satan Bound 1,000 Years

20 :1 Then I saw an angel coming down from heaven, having the key to the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand. <sup>2</sup>He laid hold of the dragon, that serpent of old, who is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years; <sup>3</sup>and he cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal on him, so that he should deceive the nations no more till the thousand years were finished. But after these things he must be released for a little while.

The Saints Reign with Christ 1,000 Years

<sup>4</sup>And I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgment was committed to them. Then I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for their witness to Jesus and for the word of God, who had not worshiped the beast or his image, and had not received his mark on their foreheads or on their hands. And they lived and reigned with Christ for a<sup>a</sup> thousand years. <sup>5</sup>But the rest of the dead did not live again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection. <sup>6</sup>Blessed and holy is he who has part in the first resurrection. Over such the second death has no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with Him a thousand years.

Satanic Rebellion Crushed

<sup>7</sup>Now when the thousand years have expired, Satan will be released from his prison <sup>8</sup>and will go out to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle, whose number is as the sand of the sea. <sup>9</sup>They went up on the breadth of the earth and surrounded the camp of the saints and the beloved city. And fire came down from God out of heaven and devoured them. <sup>10</sup>The devil, who deceived them, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone where<sup>a</sup> the beast and the false prophet are. And they will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

And there was found no place for them. <sup>12</sup>And I saw the dead, small and great, standing before God,<sup>a</sup> and books were opened. And another book was opened, which is the Book of Life. And the dead were judged according to their works, by the things which were written in the books. <sup>13</sup>The sea gave up the dead who were in it, and Death and Hades delivered up the dead who were in them. And they were judged, each one according to his works. <sup>14</sup>Then Death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. A New Heaven and a New Earth

The dominant theme of Rev. 6—20 is tribulation and death. A new mood is set in chs. 21; 22 that moves from time into eternity and provides a description of the eternal blessedness of God's people in the renewed creation. John's first vision depicts this blessedness in general (21:1–8). When God dwells with humanity, He Himself will tenderly remove every "sorrow" and "pain" just as He promised (21:4, 5; see 7:17).

The second vision describes the New Jerusalem (21:9–21) and life in it (21:22—22:5). The description of this city as made of shining "precious stones" and translucent "gold" suggests a glory and beauty that surpass human experience and imagination—realities for which there are no human words (21:18–21). God's splendor will be fully revealed. It will be the source of joy and light. Life in the New Jerusalem will surpass the blessings of the Garden of Eden.

In all this John's message is that God's victory has already been won. The Lamb is "King of kings and Lord of lords."

• Revelation 21:1—22:21

*RevelationAll Things Made New

21:1 Now I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away. Also there was no more sea. <sup>2</sup>Then I, John,<sup>a</sup> saw the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. <sup>3</sup>And I heard a loud voice from heaven saying, "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people. God Himself will be with them and be their God. <sup>4</sup>And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes; there shall be no more death, nor sorrow, nor crying. There shall be no more pain, for the former things have passed away."

<sup>5</sup>Then He who sat on the throne said, "Behold, I make all things new." And He said to me,<sup>a</sup> "Write, for these words are true and faithful."

<sup>6</sup>And He said to me, "It is done!<sup>a</sup> I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. I will give of the fountain of the water of life freely to him who thirsts. <sup>7</sup>He who overcomes shall inherit all things,<sup>a</sup> and I will be his God and he shall be My son. <sup>8</sup>But the cowardly, unbelieving,<sup>a</sup> abominable, murderers, sexually immoral, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death."

The New Jerusalem

came to me<sup>a</sup> and talked with me, saying, "Come, I will show you the bride, the Lamb's wife."<sup>b</sup> <sup>10</sup>And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the great city, the holy<sup>a</sup> Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God, <sup>11</sup>having the glory of God. Her light was like a most precious stone, like a jasper stone, clear as crystal. <sup>12</sup>Also she had a great and high wall with twelve gates, and twelve angels at the gates, and names written on them, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: <sup>13</sup>three gates on the east, three gates on the north, three gates on the south, and three gates on the west.

<sup>14</sup>Now the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were the names<sup>a</sup> of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. <sup>15</sup>And he who talked with me had a gold reed to measure the city, its gates, and its wall. <sup>16</sup>The city is laid out as a square; its length is as great as its breadth. And he measured the city with the reed: twelve thousand furlongs. Its length, breadth, and height are equal. <sup>17</sup>Then he measured its wall: one hundred and forty-four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of an angel. <sup>18</sup>The construction of its wall was of jasper; and the city was pure gold, like clear glass. <sup>19</sup>The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all kinds of precious stones: the first foundation was jasper, the second sapphire, the third chalcedony, the fourth emerald, <sup>20</sup>the fifth sardonyx, the sixth sardius, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh jacinth, and the twelfth amethyst. <sup>21</sup>The twelve gates were twelve pearls: each individual gate was of one pearl. And the street of the city was pure gold, like transparent glass.

The Glory of the New Jerusalem

THE RETURN TO PARADISE (REV. 22:1–5)

No book in the New Testament depends upon imagery supplied from the Old Testament for its message as does the Book of Revelation. Perhaps this characteristic appears in no more dramatic fashion in the book than in the description of the new creation (Rev. 22:1–5), and particularly in the imagery of the tree of life.

The tree of life appears in the midst of the New Jerusalem, growing on both sides of the river that flows from the throne (22:2). Fruit from the tree is available for all the citizenry to eat, making life in the New Jerusalem full, abundant, and eternal. This tree brings about the “healing of the nations” (22:2).

The tree of life first appeared in the Old Testament story of Eden, the garden that God planted for the first humans (Gen. 2). According to the Genesis account, the tree was “in the midst of the garden” (Gen. 2:9), and openly accessible to humanity before sin entered the world. After the Fall, however, God banned the humans from the garden, precisely to keep them away from the tree of life (Gen. 3:22). The tree of life thus belonged to humanity before sin entered the world, when all creation reflected the goodness in which God had created it.

The location for the tree of life is linked to paradise. Traditionally, the word “Eden” has been viewed as meaning “delight” or “luxury.” This view is reflected in the Septuagint, where the Greek translation for “garden of Eden” is “paradise of Delight.” Again in the First Book of Enoch the tree of life appears in paradise. Enoch journeys to God’s mountain paradise where the tree of life is kept. The tree’s fruit will be given to the righteous when the tree is planted in the New Jerusalem (1 Enoch 24:2–25:7).

John’s vision repeats these allusions. Fruit from the tree of life, located in the “Paradise of God,” is promised to “him who overcomes” (Rev. 2:7). The inexpressible abundance of the tree is symbolized in its yield being available “every month” (22:7).

<sup>27</sup>But there shall by no means enter it anything that defiles, or causes<sup>a</sup> an abomination or a lie, but only those who are written in the Lamb’s Book of Life.

The River of Life

22 <sup>1</sup>And he showed me a pure<sup>a</sup> river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding from the throne of God and of the Lamb. <sup>2</sup>In the middle of its street, and on either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bore twelve fruits, each tree yielding its fruit every month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. <sup>3</sup>And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His servants shall serve Him. <sup>4</sup>They shall see His face, and His name shall be on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>There shall be no night there: They need no lamp nor light of the sun, for the Lord God gives them light. And they shall reign forever and ever.

The Time Is Near

<sup>6</sup>Then he said to me, “These words are faithful and true.” And the Lord God of the holy<sup>a</sup> prophets sent His angel to show His servants the things which must shortly take place.

<sup>7</sup>“Behold, I am coming quickly! Blessed is he who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book.”

<sup>8</sup>Now I, John, saw and heard<sup>a</sup> these things. And when I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel who showed me these things.

<sup>9</sup>Then he said to me, “See that you do not do that. For<sup>a</sup> I am your fellow servant, and of your brethren the prophets, and of those who keep the words of this book. Worship God.” <sup>10</sup>And he said to me, “Do not seal the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is at hand. <sup>11</sup>He who is unjust, let him be unjust still; he who is filthy, let him be filthy still; he who is righteous, let him be righteous<sup>a</sup> still; he who is holy, let him be holy still.”

Jesus Testifies to the Churches

<sup>12</sup>“And behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward is with Me, to give to every one according to his work. <sup>13</sup>I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End, the First and the Last.”<sup>a</sup>

<sup>14</sup>Blessed are those who do His commandments,<sup>a</sup> that they may have the right to the tree of life, and may enter through the gates into the city. <sup>15</sup>But<sup>a</sup> outside are dogs and sorcerers and sexually immoral and murderers and idolaters, and whoever loves and practices a lie.

<sup>16</sup>“I, Jesus, have sent My angel to testify to you these things in the churches. I am the Root and the Offspring of David, the Bright and Morning Star.”

<sup>17</sup>And the Spirit and the bride say, “Come!” And let him who hears say, “Come!” And let him who thirsts come. Whoever desires, let him take the water of life freely.

A Warning

<sup>18</sup>For<sup>a</sup> I testify to everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book: If anyone adds to these things, God will add<sup>b</sup> to him the plagues that are written in this book; <sup>19</sup>and if anyone takes away from the words of the book

CHRONOLOGICAL STUDY BIBLE GLOSSARY

When we read about the life and times of ancient biblical peoples, we encounter many names, places, and things that are unfamiliar to us today. The Glossary describes and explains many of the subjects mentioned in the notes of The Chronological Study Bible.

- ACCAD A city in Mesopotamia that Sargon the Great (c. 2350 B.C.) made the capital of his empire; also spelled Agade. Sargon's dynasty controlled Mesopotamia for two centuries, until Accad fell, to be succeeded by Ur.
- ACCADIAN The language of Accad, a Semitic language that continued in use and influence long after the fall of Accad in about 2100 B.C. It used the Sumerian writing system.
- ACHAEMENID The dynasty ruling the Persian Empire founded by Cyrus the Great when he conquered Babylon, 559 B.C. Darius, Xerxes, and Ahasuerus belong to this dynasty. It was finally overthrown by Alexander the Great in 330 B.C.
- ACHAIA The Roman province corresponding to modern Greece, south of Macedonia.
- ADAD Along with Shamash, an Assyrian deity in charge of omens. See SHAMASH.
- ADAD-NIRARI I
Ruler of Assyria 1308–1274 B.C.
- ADAD-NIRARI III
Ruler of Assyria 810–783 B.C.
- ADAPA Character in an Accadian myth who must remain outside heaven.
- ADAR The 12th month of the Babylonian calendar. Adar begins in March of the modern calendar.
- ADONIS Originally a Phoenician god of vegetation and fertility worshiped at Byblos (near modern Beirut, Lebanon) and introduced to the Greeks probably via Cyprus. Adonis spends part of the year with Aphrodite and another part in Hades.
- ADRAMMELECH The name of a son of Sennacherib; also, a deity worshiped by Syrians in Samaria after the Assyrian conquest of 722 B.C.
- AEGEAN The Aegean Sea is 150 miles wide, lying between Greece and Asia Minor (modern Turkey); Macedonia and Thrace are to its north and Crete to the south. There are many islands in the Aegean.
- AGADE See ACCAD.
- AGORA The Greek word for marketplace.
- AGRIPPA I, II See HEROD AGRIPPA I, II.
- AHASUERUS Or Xerxes I, the son of Darius I the Great and the ruler of Persia 486–465 B.C. Xerxes's navy was defeated by Athens at the battle of Salamis, 479 B.C.
- AHURA MAZDA The Persian God, proclaimed by Zoroaster, and represented by a solar disk with wings. As the force of light he fights against darkness. The king of Persia was his representative.
- AKHENATEN See AMENHOTEP IV.
- ALALAKH A city located on the Orontes river 20 miles east of Antioch, in northern Syria. Alalakh was conquered by the Hittites about 1370 B.C., and abandoned after the invasion of the Sea Peoples in 1194 B.C.
- ALTAR A platform or table for religious offerings, typically animal sacrifices.
- AMALEKITES Nomadic people who lived south of Israel and toward Egypt; descendants of Esau. They were traditional enemies of Israel.
- AMARNA A city on the Nile, 200 miles south of Cairo; founded by Amenhotep IV (1352–1336 B.C.). In 1887 several hundred clay tablets were discovered there, consisting of correspondence between Egypt and other countries.
- AMASIS See HOPHRA.
- AMENEMHET I Ruler of Egypt 1963–1934 B.C., first pharaoh of the twelfth dynasty; this dynasty promoted irrigation and mining, and was in power for more than two hundred years.

- AMENHOTEP III Ruler of Egypt 1390–1352 B.C. Amenhotep's reign was peaceful and prosperous. His diplomatic correspondence is extensively recorded in the Amarna letters.
- AMENHOTEP IV Also called Akhenaten; ruler of Egypt 1352–1336 B.C. His wife was Nefertiti. Akhenaten instituted exclusive worship of the sun god Aten, but his reforms did not survive him. He built a new capital at Amarna.
- AMMONITES A people reportedly descended from Lot. The Ammonites lived east of the Jordan and were traditional enemies of Israel.
- AMON The god of the Egyptian city of Thebes, and the primary god of the Egyptians. Akhenaten tried to replace Amon with Aten, the sun god, but his reforms were reversed by his son Tutankhamun.
- AMORITES Ancient inhabitants of northern Mesopotamia and the area to the west as far as Syria and Palestine. They were at Ugarit by 1900 B.C. and at Byblos by 1800 B.C. Hammurabi of Babylon (1792–1750 B.C.) was an Amorite; many texts relating to the Amorites were discovered at Mari.
- AN The chief deity of Uruk and head of the Sumerian pantheon.
- ANAMMELECH A deity who, like Adramelech, was worshiped in Samaria after the Assyrian conquest of 722 B.C. See ADRAMMELECH.
- ANATH A goddess of war worshiped in Palestine, also regarded as the sister or spouse of the storm god Baal.
- ANATOLIA Asia Minor; the large peninsula separating the eastern Mediterranean from the Black Sea; this is today eastern Turkey.
- ANNALS History written year by year; a continuous account of current events.
- ANTIOCH An important city of the ancient world, located in northern Syria near the Mediterranean coast. Antioch was comparable in size to Rome and Alexandria. Pisidian Antioch is another city, much smaller, 300 miles to the west in Anatolia.
- ANTIOCHUS IV EPIPHANES Ruler of Syria 175–164 B.C., one of the Seleucid kings. He desecrated the Jerusalem temple and made Judaism unlawful, precipitating the Maccabean revolt. See JUDAS MACCABEUS.
- APOCALYPTIC Writings about what has been revealed concerning the end of the age, with its associated upheavals and changes, and the divine interventions.
- APOCRYPHA Several books often included in Bibles along with the 27 books of the Old Testament; also called Deuterocanonicals.
- APSU One of the two original gods in the Babylonian creation story; Apsu and Tiamat were gods of fresh and salt water.
- AQUEDUCT A pipe or channel for water supply, especially those built by the Romans going cross-country on arches.
- ARABIA The world's largest peninsula, between Africa, Mesopotamia, and Persia. The southwest boundary is the Red Sea, and beyond it lie Egypt and Sudan.
- ARACHNE A young woman in Greek mythology who challenges the goddess Athena to a contest of weaving. The goddess drives Arachne to suicide, and then transforms her into a spider that must weave forever.
- ARAD An archaeological site in Judah, about halfway between Masada and Beersheba. There are remains of an ancient city dating from 3000–2700 B.C., and additional remains of a fortified city and a temple dating from 1200 B.C.
- ARAM The Hebrew word aram, often translated Syria, refers to the ancient nation north and east of Israel, in the same area as the modern country of Syria. The capital was Damascus.
- ARAMAIC A Semitic language similar to Hebrew. Aramaic was the common international commercial speech of the ancient Near East throughout the Persian period (559–331 B.C.). It was still the primary language of Palestine in the time of Jesus.
- ARARAT A country made famous by Noah's ark (Gen. 8:4), which came to rest in its mountains. Ararat included parts of modern Iran, Iraq, and southern Russia.
- ARCHANGEL A higher order of heavenly being; the Bible names Gabriel and Michael as archangels, and Raphael is named in the Book of Tobit, in the Apocrypha.

AREOPAGUS The traditional law court of Athens, which originally met on a small hill below the Acropolis. The name means “hill of Ares,” Ares being Mars, the god of war.

ARK OF THE COVENANT A wood and gold chest specially built to hold the two tablets of the law given to Moses. It was kept in the inner part of the tabernacle and was also carried into battle.

ARPAD A province and capital city near Hamath in northern Syria. Arpad was conquered by the Assyrians in 740 B.C. and again in 720 B.C.

ARTAXERXES I Also called Artaxerxes Longimanus; ruler of Persia 465–424 B.C.

ARTEMIS See DIANA.

ARYANS Related groups of nomadic peoples that moved into northwestern India in 1500 B.C. They spread across Mesopotamia, including Media and Persia. Ultimately they migrated to Europe, and are also called Indo-Europeans. See MEDIA; PERSIA.

ASHDOD One of the five main cities of the Philistines, remembered for its part in capturing the ark of the covenant (1 Sam. 5:1–7).

ASHERAH Goddess of ancient Palestine; at Ugarit the wife of El and mother of Baal. The name asherah is also used for the sacred poles or trees that marked the sites where the goddess was worshiped.

ASHIMA A god worshiped by Syrians living in Samaria. The name may refer to Asherah, the Canaanite goddess. See ASHERAH.

ASHKELON One of the five main cities of the Philistines.

ASHTORETH A fertility goddess worshiped in ancient Palestine. She was called Ishtar in Babylon and Astarte in Ugarit. The plural form of Ashtoreth is Ashtaroth.

ASHUR-DAN III Ruler of Assyria who destroyed the city of Haran in 763 B.C.

ASHUR-UBALLIT Ruler of Assyria 1363–1328 B.C. During his reign Nineveh was incorporated into the Assyrian Empire. See NINEVEH.

ASHURNASIRPAL II Ruler of Assyria 883–859 B.C.; father of Shalmaneser III. He conducted successful military campaigns in the west, exacting tribute from the Phoenicians. His capital was at Calah. See CALAH.

ASHURBANIPAL The last powerful king of Assyria, c. 668–627 B.C. He conquered Memphis and Thebes. The large library that he established at Nineveh was discovered in 1853.

ASIA MINOR Anatolia. See ANATOLIA.

ASSHUR The first capital of Assyria, located 56 miles south of ancient Nineveh. Asshur is also the name of the main god of Assyria, and as such appears in many Assyrian names.

ASSYRIA Ancient empire in Mesopotamia, north of Babylonia. The main cities were Asshur, Calah, and Nineveh. Notable kings were Shalmaneser I, Tiglath-Pileser I, and Ashurbanipal. The empire ended with the fall of Nineveh in 612 B.C.

ASSYRIAN KING LIST An ancient list of the kings of Assyria with the lengths of their reigns, covering about 1,000 years.

- EXODUS The name of the second book of the Old Testament, from the Greek for “going out.” Also, the miraculous departure of Israel from Egypt.
- FRANKINCENSE The resin of trees from north India and Arabia producing a hard, fragrant yellow gum.
- GAD Like Meni, a god of fortune or luck worshiped in Judah after the Babylonian exile. See MENI.
- GALATIA A region in middle Anatolia (modern Turkey). The name refers specifically to the Roman province Galatia, or else to an undefined area north of it, where Galatian people lived.
- GALBANUM A gum extracted from an herb that grows in Palestine. The hardened gum gives a strong but pleasant scent when burned.
- GALLIO Brother of the Roman writer Seneca. Gallio was proconsul in Greece and heard Paul’s case, A.D. 51 (Acts 18:12).
- GAMES The ancient Greeks held organized athletic contests at four main locations; these were the Isthmian, Nemean, Olympian, and Pythian games. There was also a contest at Athens (the Panathenaia), as well as other lesser ones.
- GATEKEEPERS Officials at the Jerusalem temple who controlled offerings and pay for the priests, and were a security force to guarantee a smooth transition of power when a ruler died.
- GATH One of the five main cities of the Philistines; its inhabitants were called “Gittites.”

- GAZA The most important of the five main cities of the Philistines, on the Mediterranean coast 50 miles from Jerusalem. Gaza was the capital of Canaan for several centuries (1550–1150 B.C.).
- GEDALIAH Appointed governor of Judah by Nebuchadnezzar II and assassinated after 2 months in office.
- GENTILE Any person who is not a Jew.
- GESHEM THE ARAB One of the three opponents of Nehemiah's program to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.
- GIHON SPRING The main source of water for Jerusalem in Old Testament times. In 701 B.C. Hezekiah built the Siloam tunnel to bring its waters into the city.
- GILEADITES Israelites who lived on the east side of the Jordan River. There was also an Israelite tribe called Gilead.
- GILGAL The first camp established by Joshua after crossing the Jordan. Gilgal became a town close to the northern border of Judah.
- GILGAMESH EPIC A Sumerian poem 3,000 lines long describing the legendary deeds of Gilgamesh, king of Uruk. This popular epic dates from as early as 2000 B.C. and contains a flood story.
- GUDEA Ruler of the Sumerians about 2000 B.C. He was guided by a dream to build a temple to the god Ningirsu at Lagash, north of Ur.
- GULF OF AQABA The northeastern extension of the Red Sea, between the Sinai Peninsula and Arabia. Ezion Geber is at the north end of the gulf.
- HABIRU Or "Hapiru"; bandits, migrants, or refugees noticed all over the Middle East from about 2000 to 1000 B.C. It has been suggested that the Hebrews were Habiru.
- HADAD Another name for Baal.
- HALLEL A Hebrew word meaning "praise," referring to Psalms 113–118.
- HAMATH A Syrian city on the Orontes River about 125 miles north of Damascus. Hamath became the capital of a small Hittite kingdom, but was finally subjugated by Assyria.
- HAMMURABI Ammorite king of Babylon (1792–1750 B.C.), who made Babylon a great city. His law code inscribed on a column of hard stone (diorite) was discovered in 1901 and is now in the Louvre.
- HARAN A city in northwestern Mesopotamia, 60 miles east of Carchemish; located on important trade routes; home of Laban (Gen. 27:43).
- HASMONEAN A name given to the Jewish dynasty founded by Judas Maccabeus in 167 B.C. See JUDAS MACCABEUS.
- HAZAEI Ruled Aram (also called Syria) about 842–800 B.C. Hazael made northern Israel a vassal of Aram. Southern Israel (Judah) also paid tribute to Aram during Hazael's reign.
- HAZOR An ancient city about 9 miles north of the Sea of Galilee. Hazor was destroyed by the Hebrews in the 13th century B.C. (Josh. 11:10, 11) and was rebuilt during Solomon's reign.
- HELLENISTIC Influenced by the international Greek culture that developed outside Greece itself following the conquests of Alexander the Great.
- HELLENISTS In the New Testament, those Jews who spoke Greek rather than Aramaic or Hebrew.

sometimes referred to as Shinar. A considerable amount of Sumerian literature survives; the language continued to be used for long after the political end of Sumer.

SUZERAIN A person or state exercising rule over other less powerful persons or states, called vassals.

SYNAGOGUE A Greek term meaning “congregation,” normally referring to the regular meetings and meeting places of the Jews.

SYRIA An important Roman province, whose boundaries fluctuated but typically included what is today Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, and Syria. In the Old Testament Syria is a translation of the Hebrew word aram. See ARAM.

SYRIAC Syriac is a Semitic language and a branch of Aramaic. The Syriac versions are early translations of the Bible, both Old and New Testaments, made between about the 2nd and 6th centuries A.D.

SYRO-PHOENICIAN From the area including Syria and Phoenicia, or the eastern Mediterranean coast and interior.

TABERNACLE A tent or shelter. In the Bible the term refers to the movable structure housing the ark, and to the temporary shelters used for the Feast of Tabernacles.

TALMUD The written record of Jewish traditions concerning the Bible, law, ethics, and many other subjects, essentially completed by A.D. 500.

TAMARISK A small tree common in the Middle East.

TAMMUZ A deity in Sumerian myth, the husband and brother of Ishtar. His yearly return from the underworld was said to restore the earth’s fertility.

TARGUM Ancient Aramaic translations of the Hebrew Bible.

TARTAN Commander or commander in chief in the Assyrian army (2 Kin. 18:17; Is. 20:1).

TELL A mound (tell in Arabic) covering the remains of an ancient city. Successive populations built their buildings on the ruins of what went before them, resulting in a hill with the earliest buildings at the lowest levels. Such tells are often the sites of modern towns.

TEMA An oasis in northern Arabia; the name derives from the Hebrew word meaning “south country.”

TETRARCH A name used by the Romans for a local king ruling with their help.

THEBES A city 400 miles south of Cairo; second largest city of ancient Egypt. Flourished during the 16th to 11th centuries B.C. In Hebrew called No Amon (Nah. 3:8).

THEODICY An argument that defends God’s justice, especially one that explains why there is evil in nature and society.

THEOPHANY An appearance of God, for example, at the burning bush or on Mount Sinai.

THUTMOSE I Ruler of Egypt 1504–1492 B.C. He expanded Egypt to the south, and in the East his armies reached the Euphrates. He was the first ruler to be buried in what became the Valley of the Kings.

THUTMOSE III Ruler of Egypt 1479–1425 B.C. He succeeded Hatshepsut to the throne, and then in a series of campaigns conquered Palestine and Syria as far as Carchemish and the Euphrates. His rule made Egypt powerful and prosperous.

TIAMAT Ruler of the chaotic waters who is defeated by Marduk, in the Gilgamesh Epic.

TIGLATH-PILESER I Ruler of Assyria 1114–1076 B.C. He wanted to establish a world empire, but his reign was followed by several centuries of national weakness.

TIGLATH-PILESER III Ruler of Assyria 744–727 B.C., a successful commander whose conquests reached as far as Egypt.

TIGRIS A river flowing from the region of Lake Van in Armenia southeast to the Persian Gulf. Mesopotamia is the area between the Tigris and the Euphrates.

TIRHAKAH Pharaoh of Egypt 690–664 B.C.; he was from Ethiopia (that is, Cush, or southern Egypt and Sudan).

- TIRZAH The capital of northern Israel in the early 9th century B.C.
- TISHBITE From Tishbe, a place evidently in Gilead, east of the Jordan.
- TITHE Literally, a “tenth,” a conventional assessment of taxes.
- TOBIAH One of the three opponents of Nehemiah’s rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem.
- TOPHET Or “Topheth,” a place in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom (2 Kin. 23:10) where the god Molech was worshiped by sacrificing children in fire. This valley is on the south side of Jerusalem and is called Gehenna in the New Testament.
- TORAH The Law, that is, the five books of Moses: Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy.
- TRANSJORDAN The territory across the Jordan River, that is, on the east bank.
- TRIBUTE A tax that those who are defeated are forced to pay to the victor.
- TUKULTI-NINURTA I Ruler of Assyria c. 1243–1207 B.C.; conquered Babylon.
- TUTANKHAMUN Ruler of Egypt 1336–1327 B.C. His tomb, practically intact and containing fabulous wealth, was discovered by Lord Carnarvon and Howard Carter in 1922.
- TYCHE The Greek word for fortune, or fate, often personified as a goddess.
- TYRE A Phoenician port on a small island off the Mediterranean coast north of Israel. Tyre repelled all foreign invaders until 332 B.C., when Alexander the Great built a causeway to the island and conquered it.
- UGARIT An ancient seaport in north Syria, occupied from 6000 B.C. to 1180 B.C.; today called Ras Shamra. Ugarit traded widely with other ancient nations. Excavation there has yielded the oldest example of the alphabet written down in order, and other important cuneiform documents.
- ULAI A river near the fortified city of Shushan (Susa) in Persia. The Uлай may have been an artificial canal.
- UNLEAVENED Made without yeast, or leaven, like crackers and tortillas.
- UR An important Sumerian city on the Euphrates River, 150 miles southeast of Babylon; the original home of Abraham. Excavations at Ur uncovered rich royal tombs containing remains of servants buried with their king.
- URARTU A small nation north of ancient Assyria that had threatened Assyria with conquest but was ultimately conquered during the reign of Tiglath-Pileser III.
- URUK Biblical “Erech” (Gen. 10:10; Ezra 4:9). Ancient city 40 miles southeast of Ur, occupied from before 3500 B.C. The earliest known ziggurat is here, as also the earliest written documents, clay tablets with Sumerian inscriptions.
- USSHER, JAMES Archbishop of Armagh (Ireland), who prepared a chronology of the Bible. He died in A.D. 1656.
- UTNAPISHTIM The survivor of the flood in the Gilgamesh Epic.
- VALLEY OF HINNOM A valley below Jerusalem where children were sacrificed by fire to Baal, Chemosh, or Molech. The valley is called Gehenna in the New Testament.

- VICE-REGENT A person who rules for and in the place of another.
- VULGATE The standard Latin translation of the Bible prepared by Jerome, who died about A.D. 420.
- WILDERNESS A term used in the Bible for the uninhabited areas of the Middle East, typically desert or near-desert.
- YAHWEH The probable pronunciation of the personal name of God, recorded in Hebrew as four consonants without vowels (YHWH). Translations usually write “LORD” instead of Yahweh.

YAREAH A moon god of Ugarit.

ZERUBBABEL Appointed by the Persian king to be governor of the Jews returning to Judah from Babylon. Zerubbabel began the rebuilding of the Jerusalem temple around 537 or 536 B.C.

ZIGGURAT A pyramidlike tower, built in step formation with stairways to the top. More than two dozen ziggurats are known to have existed in ancient Mesopotamia. The gods were thought to dwell at the tops of these buildings.

ZODIAC The constellations of stars through which the sun, moon, and planets seem to pass during the year as seen from the earth. Twelve prominent constellations on this path yield the twelve signs of the zodiac.

ZOROASTRIANISM The religion of Persia, founded by Zoroaster in the 6th century or possibly the 10th century B.C. This prophet, also called Zarathustra, taught that there were two gods, one good and one evil, fighting for universal control. In the end the good god, Ahura Mazda, would prevail.

CONCORDANCE

This Concordance is designed to help you locate important occurrences of significant words, phrases, and proper names found in the Bible. Words and phrases are referenced with Scripture quotations, in which the first letter of the word or phrase, italicized, stands for the entire word or phrase. Phrases are cross-referenced under every major word of the phrase except the first. When looking up a word, be sure to check for related forms of the word and for phrases beginning with that word.

Proper names are defined by descriptive phrases and Scripture references. If a name applies to more than one person, place, or group (see ABIJAH, below), the different identities are distinguished by the dash ("—").
